

Thomas Speer McNair (1824-1901) invented the zinc mine lamp, the inclined standard mine transit, and replaceable tips for surveying rods. From 1891 to 1893 he was chief engineer of the Jeddo Mine Drainage Tunnel, considered at the time an “Engineering Marvel”

