Series: North Carolina State leads 17-8

Last Meeting: NC State def. South Carolina 53-41 on Nov. 29, 2006 in Raleigh

Last Time Out

En route to a career-high 31 points, South Carolina freshman Jordan Jones broke the WNIT record and tied the school record with nine 3-pointers as the Gamecocks overpowered North Carolina A&T 102-74 at the Colonial Center. After a slow start, the Gamecocks rolled off a 10-2 run to go up by three with 12:34 left on the clock. The Aggies put together a rally of their own with a 16-6 surge that narrowed the margin to three with just two minutes left in the half. After pushing the halftime lead up to 10, South Carolina took command of the game with a 23-2 start in the first six minutes of the second period to put the game out of reach.

Series Notes

North Carolina State leads the series 17-8 and has won the last five meetings. The teams last played on Nov. 29, 2006 when the Wolfpack delivered a 53-41 victory in Raleigh. South Carolina last win over NC State was an 84-71 decision on Dec. 3, 1993, in the Arizona State Invitational. The Gamecocks are just 3-7 against NC State in Raleigh with their last road win over the Wolfpack coming on Feb. 15, 1989, by a score of 67-62.

Gamecocks in the Women's NIT

South Carolina is 5-2 all-time in the Women's NIT and won the tournament championship in 1979 when it was called the National Women's Invitational. The Gamecocks have been in the WNIT the last three seasons, including a run into the third round of play last season. After drawing a first-round bye, South Carolina hosted Hartford in the second round, collecting a decisive 81-40 victory. Hofstra knocked off the Gamecocks in the third round, however, with a 64-59 win.

led South Carolina to two NCAA Tournament, including an NCAA Elite Eight appearance in 2001-02, and now three WNITs. Her players have also excelled in the classroom. In 2006-07, 10 Gamecocks appeared on the SEC Winter Sports Academic Honor Roll. In the last four years, South Carolina has placed more student-athletes on that list than any other school. Walvius has an 18-year career mark of 263-260.

A South Carolina Win Would ...

- Be the Gamecocks' first over NC State in five tries.
- Improve Susan Walvius' WNIT record to 3-2.
- Be the Gamecocks' third victory over an ACC team this season.
- Assure the Gamecocks of finishing over .500 for the third-straight season.

The Envelope, Please

Prior to the SEC Tournament, South Carolina junior Demetress Adams collected multiple accolades from the league's coaches, earning spots on the All-Conference second team and the All-Defensive team. Leading into the WNIT, Adams also was named second-team All-SEC by the Associated Press.

Eight Is Enough

The WNIT selection committee believed South Carolina's last eight regular-season games were enough to show that it could have fared much better this season if the injury bug had not bitten so often. The Gamecocks were 4-4 in their last eight regular-season games, including wins over Mississippi, Florida and Kentucky – all teams ranked ahead of them in the SEC standings. After losing the projected starting point guard (Ashlie Billinglea) before the season and the resulting starting point guard (Courtney Newton) five games into the season, South Carolina suffered through a five-game stretch without Brionna Dickerson, who was averaging 15.5 points at the time, due to a foot injury. The final, and perhaps most damaging, blow came when the Gamecocks started the SEC slate without senior forward Lakesha Tolliver, who then missed seven games with exertional headaches. Tolliver's first game back after getting in some practice time was a South Carolina win over Arkansas, the team's first since beginning league play.

Centennial Celebration

With 102 points against North Carolina A&T on Mar. 21, the Gamecocks crossed the century mark for the first time since hitting 117 against North Carolina A&T on Nov. 17, 2006. South Carolina has reached the 100-point plateau 21 times in school history, including six times in the Susan Walvius era. The Gamecocks netted 100+ points five times in the 1978-79 season alone, including a record 137 points against Wheeling College on Jan. 13.

In Colonial Times

South Carolina put on one of the best performances in Colonial Center history against North Carolina A&T on Mar. 21. The team's 102 points were the second-most scored since the building opened for the 2002-03 season. Also ranking second in arena history are the Gamecocks' 43 field goals and 58.9 percent field-goal shooting. The Colonial Center record for field-goal percentage is 61.8 percent, which came against Hartford in the second round of the 2007 WNIT. The team's 12 3-pointers tied the Colonial Center record, matching the Gamecocks' output against Mississippi on Feb. 5, 2004.

20/20 Vision

Against North Carolina A&T on Mar. 21, Jordan Jones and Brionna Dickerson became the first Gamecock duo to score 20 or more points each since Lauren Simms and Stacy Booker netted 25 and 28 points, respectively, against Clemson on Dec. 3, 2004. Both Jones and Dickerson hit 11 field goals with Jones leading the team with 31 points and Dickerson following behind at 25.

This is a Recording

Freshman Jordan Jones set the WNIT record and tied the South Carolina record with nine 3-pointers against North Carolina A&T on Mar. 21. Her long-range total was the second-highest in SEC history as well. Jones shot 17 3-pointers to set the Colonial Center record, which is the second-most in school history. Her 31 points in the game were the fifth-highest output in Colonial Center history.

Youth Served

With 31 points on Mar. 21 against North Carolina A&T, Jordan Jones scored the third-most points by a Gamecock freshman in school history. She broke the freshman records for field goal attempts (23) and 3-point field goal attempts (17). Her 11 made field goals were the second-most by a Gamecock freshman as well.

Dropping Dimes

With 10 assists at Florida on Feb. 24, Samone Kennedy became the first Gamecock freshman in more than 20 years to post double-digit helpers. The top four freshman performances in school history are held by Martha Parker, who dished the record 14 against Charlotte on Jan. 18, 1986. She posted three other double-digit assist games, the last coming against Central Florida on Feb. 17, 1986, when she collected 11. Kennedy completed her first double-double of the season with that effort at Florida, adding 10 points to her final stat line.

Glass Ceiling?

Junior Demetress Adams grabbed a school record 26 rebounds against Arkansas on Feb. 3, breaking Denise Nanny's 33-year-old record of 24. The first Gamecock since 1993 to bring down 20 or more rebounds in a game, Adams tied Mississippi State's Sophie Ratliff's 26 against Shorter in 1988 as the most by an SEC player since the league began officially sponsoring women's basketball in 1982-83. Of her 26 boards, a school-record 17 came on the defensive end. Among her record-breaking 26 rebounds was the 500th of her career. Through games of Mar. 2, Adams' 26 boards are the most by any player in the country this season.

Triple Threat

After a 2006-07 season that ended with no Gamecocks averaging double-figure points, three players are currently at the mark this season. Freshman Jordan Jones leads the way with 12.1 ppg, while junior forward Demetress Adams is second at 10.9 ppg. Junior guard Brionna Dickerson rounds out the group at 10.4 ppg.

Dropping Dimes

Freshman Samone Kennedy has handed out 3.54 assists per game this season to rank sixth in the SEC, and she has accomplished the feat as the only player in the league's top 10 averaging less than 25 minutes per game. In fact, Kennedy, who has played 18.6 minutes per game, hands out an assist every 5.26 minutes she is on the floor, which is the best number among the group. The next closest is the league's assist/game leader, Shantell Black, who picks up an assist every 5.87 minutes she plays. Kennedy is also among the league's top 10 in assist-to-turnover ratio, ranking seventh with a 1.44:1 mark.

A Leader in the Board Room

Junior Demetress Adams' record-setting performance against Arkansas helped move her into fourth place in the SEC with 9.0 rebounds per game. She has spent the entire season among the league's top 10 and, through games of Mar. 16, ranked 45th in the nation in the category. Adams has posted double-digit rebounds in 11 games this season, including four of the last eight outings.

Stop! Thief!

Through games of Mar. 16, junior Demetress Adams was ninth in the SEC with 2.10 steals per game. Hovering around the league's elite in the category, she has picked an opponent's pocket four or more times in six games this season, including a career-high six steals at Clemson on Dec. 22. Vanderbilt's Jennifer Risper leads the SEC at 2.81 steals per game. With 64 steals this season, Adams has already surpassed her previous career-best of 52, which she collected last season. She needs 12 more to crack the program's single-season top 10 as both Annie Lester (1997-98) and Martha Parker (1986-87) round out that list with 76 swipes.

It's a Block Party!

Through games of Mar. 16, South Carolina was 21st in the nation with 4.97 blocked shots per game, a number that was second in the SEC to Tennessee's 6.06 per game. Both teams trail North Carolina's NCAA-best 7.1 blocks per game. Individually, junior Demetress Adams leads the team with 54 blocks this season, ranking her sixth in the SEC (1.70 per game) and tied for third in school history.

Single-Season Blocked Shots

1. 60 by Lakesha Tolliver (2006-07)
2. 58 by Teresa Geter (2000-01)
3. 54 by Demetress Adams (2007-08); 54 by Melanie Johnson (2004-05)

Long Distance Plan

Through games of Mar. 16, freshman Jordan Jones was 14th in the nation with an SEC-best 2.70 3-pointers per game. Sade Logan of Robert Morris has hit an NCAA-best 3.9 per game from beyond the arc. With nine 3-pointers against North Carolina A&T, Jones now averages 2.9 3-pointers per game. She has broken the South Carolina freshman record for single-season 3-pointers with 90 this season, a number that also ranks second in school history. Karen Middleton holds the school record of 115 3-pointers, which she hit in the 1990-91 season.

From Way Downtown – Bang!

Through games of Mar. 16, freshman Jordan Jones was fourth in the SEC in 3-point shooting percentage. Vanderbilt's Christina Wirth led the SEC shooting 41.3 percent from 3-point range. After a 9-of-17 outing against N.C. A&T, Jones is currently shooting 38.5 percent from behind the arc. Karen Middleton holds the South Carolina record for 3-point field goal percentage by a freshman after hitting 43.4 percent (75-of-163) in 1987-88. Middleton holds the four best 3-point percentages in school history, including the record 46.9 percent (76-of-162), which she set as a junior in 1989-90.

Records Broken This Season

Single-Game Records

- Jordan Jones hit nine 3-pointers against N.C. A&T on Mar. 21 to tie Shannon Johnson's school record and break the WNIT record of eight set by Missouri State's Jenny Llingor against Iowa in 2005.
- Jordan Jones' 17 3-point attempts against N.C. A&T on Mar. 21 broke the Colonial Center record of 14, last accomplished by Angela Hunter against Seton Hall on Dec. 30, 2004. It is also the new South Carolina freshman record.
- Demetress Adams grabbed a school-record 26 rebounds against Arkansas on Feb. 3, breaking Denise Nanney's mark of 24 against Anderson on Jan. 28, 1975. Adams' total was also the most ever by an SEC player in a league game. Of her total, a school record 17 game on the defensive end.
- Lakesha Tolliver blocked seven shots against UNC Wilmington on Dec. 1 to break the school record of six, last accomplished by Teresa Geter at Alabama on Jan. 14, 2001.

Single-Season Records

- Jordan Jones hits her 90th 3-pointer of the season against N.C. A&T on Mar. 21 to break Christy Timmons' South Carolina freshman record of 84 (1991-92).

Career Records

- Lakesha Tolliver blocker her school-record 149th career shot against Charleston Southern on Dec. 4.

Prime Time Players

South Carolina has played four teams ranked in the top 10 in the nation. While the Gamecocks lost all four contests, senior Ilona Burgrova and junior Demetress Adams showed they can match up with the best. The duo accounted for 87 of the team's 187 points (46.5 percent) against the top-10 foes with each including a double-double among her accomplishments. Burgrova, who scored 15 or more points in two contests, has scored 11.5 points per game on 58.6 percent shooting against the top-10 foes. Adams has averaged 10.3 points and 7.0 rebounds.

Definitive Demetress

Junior Demetress Adams has recorded 12 career double-doubles, including eight this season, and the Gamecocks are 11-1 in those games, taking their first loss at No. 8 LSU on Jan. 31. South Carolina is undefeated in Adams' three career games with five or more blocked shots, including two this season.

Lies, Lies and Statistics

South Carolina both out-shot and out-rebounded No. 2 Tennessee on Jan. 13, but could not overcome 30 turnovers to take the loss. It was the first time this season that the Gamecocks lost a game when either out-shooting or out-rebounding a team. In 2006-07, South Carolina was 17-2 when out-shooting its opponent. Prior to the Tennessee game, the Gamecocks last dropped a game while out-shooting its opponent on Feb. 4, 2007 when No. 7 LSU mustered a 49-46 victory despite shooting 27.6 percent to South Carolina's 39.6 percent accuracy. The other game the Gamecocks lost when out-shooting their opponent last season was a 67-66 comeback by No. 14 Vanderbilt on Jan. 11, 2007. In that game, South Carolina both out-shot the Commodores 46.6 percent to 44.1 percent and out-rebounded them 44-30.

Balancing Act

After a 2006-07 campaign that saw the Gamecock frontcourt carrying the load, South Carolina's offense this season has been more of a balance between inside and outside play. The inside quartet of Demetress Adams (343 pts), Ilona Burgrova (284 pts), Jewel May (93 pts) and Lakesha Tolliver (234 pts) has provided 30.8 of the team's 65.5 points per game (46.9%). Last season, the frontcourt accounted for 39.5 of the team's 68.6 ppg (57.8%).

Like a Broken Record

One game after etching her name in as the school record holder for blocked shots in a game with seven against UNC Wilmington on Dec. 1, senior Lakesha Tolliver completed her trifecta of blocked shot records by becoming the South Carolina career record holder with five swats against Charleston Southern on Dec. 4. Just nine games into her senior season, Tolliver's 177 career blocks has eclipsed the Michelle Murray's previous record of 148. Tolliver set the school record for single-season blocked shots in 2006-07 with 60. She has 47 so far this season.

Career Blocked Shots

1. 177 by Lakesha Tolliver (2004-present)
2. 148 by Michelle Murray (1989-93)
3. 116 by Petra Ujhelyi (2000-03)
4. 117 by Demetress Adams (2005-present)

The Game On the Line

As a team, the Gamecocks have struggled from the free-throw line this season, hitting just 67.2 percent of their attempts to rank sixth in the SEC. But, when the game is on the line (quite literally), South Carolina has been able to sink them, hitting 72.8 percent in the last five minutes, including 77.2 percent in the final two minutes of games. The five regular starters (J. Jones, Adams, Dickerson, Burgrova and Tolliver) have missed just 11 free throws in 53 attempts in the game's final two minutes and have hit 70-of-95 (73.7 percent) at the under five-minute mark. (See box on Page 4 for player-by-player breakdown.) Overall, that starting group is hitting just 66.9 (265-of-396) on the season.

50 First Dates – Well, Really Six

There are six first-time opponents on the Gamecocks' non-conference schedule this season and have posted a 4-2 record against the group with wins over Saint Francis (Pa.), Buffalo, Jackson State and Alabama A&M. Illinois and No. 2 Connecticut handed South Carolina its only losses from the group.

Heads Held High

South Carolina posted an 11-4 regular-season non-conference record, the program's best since the 2003-04 team went 12-1 en route to an NCAA Tournament berth. The four non-SEC teams that defeated the Gamecocks – Penn State, Illinois, Connecticut and Oklahoma – are a combined 85-41 (.675) this season.

Losing Pace

Junior transfer C.J. Pace has been declared academically ineligible for the spring semester. Prior to the start of classes this term, Pace played in 16 games, including two starts, and added 3.4 points and 2.4 rebounds per game. She enjoyed a breakout game on Jan. 3 against UNC Asheville in which she scored a season-best 15 points.

The Adams Family

Junior Demetress Adams (Bishopville, S.C./Lee Central) was named to the All-SEC second team, by both the league's coaches and the Associated Press, and to the All-Defensive team ... leads the Gamecocks and ranks fourth in the SEC with 9.0 rebounds per game ... is second on the team at 11.1 ppg ... has been the team's leading scorer seven times and the leading rebounder in 21 games ... has reached double figures in points in 21 games and recorded eight double-doubles ... tied her career high with eight field goals en route to 18 points and added nine rebounds in just 23 minutes against North Carolina A&T in the first round of the WNIT ... just missed a double-double with nine point and a team-high nine rebounds against Florida in the SEC Tournament ... added nine points and eight rebounds at Kentucky ... snagged a team-high seven

The Signees

South Carolina head women's basketball coach Susan Walvius added five players in the fall signing period, headlined by four stars from Georgia and one of the top players in Pennsylvania.

Charenee Stephens (Decatur, Ga./Southwest DeKalb) headlines the quartet out of Georgia. Ranked the fifth-best forward in the nation by Scout.com, the 6-foot-1 Stephens was a first-team Class AAAA all-state selection last season and will vie for player of the year honors as a senior. Averaging 18 ppg and 11.6 rpg for the Panthers last season, she is tabbed the nation's 33rd-best player in the class of 2008 by Hoopgurlz.com. Stephens also played on the Georgia Metros team that included current Gamecocks Ashlie Billingslea and Courtney Newton and won the AAU national championship last season.

A 5-foot-11 guard, Becky Burke (Clarks Summit, Pa./Abington Heights) was the only underclassman on the 2006-07 Pennsylvania AAAA all-state first team. She posted 20 or more points in 17 of her 25 games last season en route to her second-straight Scranton Times-Tribune Player of the Year award. A three-time all-region selection, Burke enters her senior season already ranked fifth on the Abington Heights High all-time scoring list with 1,463 career points. She led the Lady Comets to a 23-3 record in 2006-07, including a perfect 14-0 league mark, with 21 points and 8.5 rebounds per game. With a Lackawanna League Division I championship last season, Abington Heights fell just short of a district title for the second-straight year, losing to Scranton in the championship game.

Taylor Dalrymple (Atlanta, Ga./Collins Hill) is a 6-foot-2 forward who was a standout at Collins Hill High School before transferring to Patterson School in North Carolina for her senior season. A former teammate of current Gamecock Jordan Jones, Dalrymple was part of the nation's top-ranked high school team, according to USA Today. She helped the Lady Eagles to their third-consecutive Georgia Class AAAA state championship. No stranger to championship basketball or current Gamecocks, Dalrymple joined fellow-signee Stephens on the AAU national champion Georgia Metros. She was a first-team all-region selection in 2006 and was rated as high as the No. 11 power forward in the nation by Hoopgurlz.com.

Out of nearby Gainesville, Ga., Sada Wheeler (Gainesville, Ga./East Hall) (pronounced shaw-DAY) was the 2007 Gainesville Times Area Player of the Year after leading the Lady Vikings to the Georgia Class AAA state championship. The 6-foot-4 center averaged 13 points and seven rebounds last season and was an all-state honorable mention. East Hall was 31-1 last season and ended the season on a 13-game winning streak.

Considered among the top players in Middle Georgia, 6-foot-1 guard Tonia Williams (Warner Robbins, Ga./Houston County) (pronounced tuh-NEE-uh) averaged 20 points and 14 rebounds en route to Class AAAA first-team all-state honors from the Georgia Writers Association. In the Georgia State AAAA playoffs, she netted 37 points against highly-regarded Stephenson High.
