South Carolina fought hard in its first match of the season, but Arizona State was just a little tougher, as the Sun Devils got a 3-0 victory in the first session of the ASU Sheraton Classic on Friday afternoon at Wells-Fargo Arena.

Ivana Kujundzic led the Gamecocks with nine kills, while libero Sarah Cline had a team-best 12 digs. Sarah Reaves led the Sun Devils with 16 kills and 16 digs, while Sara Todorovich compiled a .615 (9-1-13) hitting percentage in the contest. Sarah Johnson had 13 digs, while Margie Giordano added 10 digs. Paige Mittelstaedt led both teams with four blocks.

In the first set, Arizona State got out to an 8-4 lead before the Gamecocks captured five of the next six points to tie up the match. A Megan Laughlin ace and a Belita Salters spike after an overpass by the Sun Devils helped South Carolina make the run. But the tie did not last, as ASU answered with five of six, including two kills and a block by Todorovich, to get the 14-10 lead. The Garnet got within two on a back-row kill by Hannah Lawing. The teams swapped sideouts until 19-17, when the Sun Devils got a three-point run to stretch their lead to five. The Gamecocks closed to within three before kills by Mittelstaedt and Reaves got ASU to set point. Kujundzic extended the frame with her kill, but Sonja Markanovich closed it out at 25-20 with her smash. Reaves had seven kills and three digs to lead the Sun Devils, while Todorovich was a perfect 4-for-4.

The Sun Devils ran away with a 25-17 win in the second set. A five-point run by Arizona State opened up the gap to 11-5, while later three-point swings made it 17-8 and 22-12. After ASU got to set point, the Carolina Gamecocks kept the frame going with back-to-back kills by Megan Laughlin, but Todorovich ended the set with her third kill of the frame. Giordano was the defensive hero for the Sun Devils, making five digs and adding a solo block in the frame. Laughlin and setter Bridget Denson-Dorman combined to hit .777 in the second, but the team managed just a .083 mark in the frame, hurt by nine attack errors. Cline had 10 digs in the second set alone.

Arizona State got an early 8-4 advantage on a revamped Gamecock lineup after consecutive kills by Mittelstaedt, but the Gamecocks cut the lead to one at 12-11 after a block by Laughlin and redshirt freshman Tory Anderson. Reaves would go on a run of her own, getting the next four points on three kills and a block to make it 16-11. A hitting error by South Carolina made it 17-11, but the team would rebound. Kills by Kujundzic and Moorhead and a block by Anderson and Moorhead closed the gap to 17-14. After a Sun Devil block, Moorhead got a kill and combined with Anderson on a block to get within two. After an Arizona State error and timeout, the Gamecocks had a service error and a set error ahead of Mittelstaedt's kill to push the ASU lead to 21-17. After the squads swapped sideouts, South Carolina went on a three-point run to make the score 22-21, thanks to a Salters kill and a block by Salters and Laughlin. But a Sun Devil kill, a Gamecock hitting error and a Marina Mercer spike gave the Sun Devils a 25-21 set three win.

The Gamecock volleyball team came back in its second match of the ASU Sheraton Classic to get a 3-1 victory over defending Atlantic-10 champion Dayton.

Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic had her first double-double of the season with 14 kills and 12 digs while also making three solo blocks. Sophomore middle blocker Megan Laughlin added 15 kills while hitting .407, while senior middle blocker Belita Salters had 11 kills and three blocks. Senior libero Dinelia Concepcion had 20 digs to lead Carolina, while sophomore Hannah Lawing contributed 14. Setter Bridget Denson-Dorman got her first double-double in the Garnet and Black, setting 37 kills and digging 15 balls. Nicole Bateman led the Flyers with 17 kills and 22 digs. Bethany Akerhielm added 15 kills.

The Gamecocks immediately got into a 4-0 hole in the first set before starting to work out of it. They got to 7-5 behind a pair of kills by Salters and a block by the senior and Denson-Dorman. A pair of South Carolina hitting errors caused head coach Ben Somera to call a timeout at 10-6, and the squad responded with Kujundzic's first kill. The teams traded sideouts until a pair of Flyer kills preceded a block by Bethany Akerhielm and Becky Novacek to give Dayton the 15-9 advantage. The Garnet responded with six of the next seven points, including a perfect dump by the setter Denson-Dorman. Another pair of points were capped by a Denson-Dorman kill, putting Carolina down by one, 17-16. An Annie Thomas solo block brought the Gamecocks within one again at 22-21. A Dayton hitting error tied it up, but a Garnet blocking error and a Bateman kill gave the Flyers set point. The Gamecocks responded, capturing four straight points to take the set, 26-24. Kujundzic had a kill to tie it up, while a Tory Anderson solo block clinched the win. Three solo blocks for the Carolina Gamecocks were the difference in the first set.

Dayton ran out to an 8-3 lead in the second set. Four different Flyers had kills in a four-point stretch. That lead eventually grew to 21-12, with the final three points coming on different South Carolina errors. The Gamecocks made it 22-15 after a pair of blocks by Denson-Dorman, first in tandem with Laughlin followed by a solo. The teams would trade sideouts from there, with Dayton clinching the set two win at 25-17 on Bateman's cross-court smash. The Flyers hit .304 (19-5-46).

The Carolina Gamecocks came out and dominated the third frame, taking leads at 5-2, 12-6, and 20-13. The last score came after a three-point run on a Laughlin kill and ace and a Salters tip that fell to the floor. Dayton got it back to 20-16 after a pair of kills and a South Carolina handling error. Denson-Dorman followed with a let-helped ace to make it 23-16. A Dayton error put the Garnet at set point, but it would not end until five points later, when Kujundzic ended a four-point Flyer run with a cross-court smash to close out the third, 25-20. The Gamecocks hit a match-best .250 (12-3-36) in the third.

South Carolina fought out of an early 7-4 deficit to take a 14-10 advantage after getting seven out of eight points, bookended by Salters kills. The lead stretched to 17-12 after kills by Meredith Moorhead and Thomas. The lead grew to 21-14 on kills by Laughlin and Salters. Bateman brought the Flyers back to 22-18 with a kill and a solo block. Two Gamecock errors cut the lead to 22-20, but Kujundzic stopped the run with a kill. A Thomas kill gave South Carolina set point, but Bateman extended the match with her shot down the line. Thomas would close out the match with her third kill of the contest. Laughlin had five kills in the final frame.

Redshirt senior middle blocker Belita Salters set new career bests with 21 kills and a .543 hitting percentage as South Carolina won its final match in the ASU Sheraton Classic against UNLV, 3-2, on Saturday afternoon at Wells Fargo Arena.

Salters' hitting percentage is the third-best output all-time in a five-set match for Carolina, while her 21 kills set a career best. Salters also added six blocks. Junior Ivana Kujundzic collected a double-double with 13 kills and 12 digs, while sophomore Megan Laughlin nearly had her first career double-double with 13 kills and nine digs. Sophomore Annie Thomas tallied 10 kills, while junior Bridget Denson-Dorman got her second-consecutive double-double with 52 assists and 12 digs. Senior libero Dinelia Concepcion had 12 digs in three games. For the Rebels, Erin Greenwood led the way with 20 kills, while Jessica Walters had 16. Libero Camille Cunningham had 24 digs and a match-best four aces.

Three early Gamecock errors in the first set gave UNLV a 5-1 lead, but Salters and Laughlin and junior outside hitter Meredith Moorhead had consecutive kills to force the Rebels to call a timeout at 5-4. A Moorhead solo block knotted up the frame at 5-5. Back-to-back aces by Cunningham helped UNLV take a 15-12 lead. South Carolina tied it up at 18-18 after Laughlin perfectly placed a shot across the net and the Rebels made a hitting error. The Gamecocks got ahead again at 20-19, but the Rebels got the next six points to capture the set, 25-20.

Salters led the way in the early part of the second set, getting four of South Carolina's five kills that helped the squad take a 7-4 advantage. A Laughlin kill, block with Denson-Dorman and ace put the Gamecocks up, 12-7. A pair of Thomas kills around a Concepcion ace led to a 17-11 Garnet advantage. A block and two kills by Greenwood plus a kill by Monika Karney nearly tied up the frame, but Laughlin stopped the five-point run with a kill to return the Gamecock lead to two. A four-point run that started on a block by Laughlin and Thomas that also contained a Thomas kill and a Laughlin smash made it 22-16. Samantha Richard brought UNLV back to within four, but a Denson-Dorman dump, a Lawing ace and a UNLV hitting error wrapped up the set, 25-18.

A kill by Walters and an ace by Cunningham put the Rebels on top, 12-9, in the third set. Walters wrapped up the set at 25-16 by spiking an overpass. Walters had six kills to top the Rebels, while Noland hit .833 (5-0-6) in the frame.

South Carolina came out looking inspired in the fourth set, running out to a 6-2 lead thanks in part to a pair of blocks by Salters and Moorhead. After the Rebels came back to within two, the Garnet pushed the lead back out to 19-14 behind kills by Laughlin and Kujundzic and an ace by Hannah Lawing. Salters wrapped up the frame with her fifth kill, leading South Carolina to a 25-20 win. The redshirt senior also had three blocks in the fourth.

Before the Rebels realized it, it was 6-1 in the fifth for South Carolina, with Kujundzic and Salters both getting a pair of kills in the early going. Back-to-back kills by Thomas and Moorhead put the Gamecocks back up by four, 8-4. A block by Moorhead and Salters put the Garnet at match point, where Kujundzic put it away with a shot down the line. Kujundzic had four kills to lead the victors.

South Carolina used a dominating offense to take a 3-0 sweep over Boston College, 25-10, 25-16, 25-15, in the first match on Friday in the Art Carmichael Classic in Keaney Gymnasium.

Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic nearly had her third double-double, making 11 digs and eight kills in the match. She also set a career high with five service aces. Senior middle blocker Belita Salters and sophomores Annie Thomas and Megan Laughlin all had seven kills and hit above .400. Thomas led that group with a .583 percentage. Junior Sarah Cline and sophomore Hannah Lawing both contributed six digs. Jordan Meredith led Boston College with 11 kills.

South Carolina dominated the first set, getting runs of seven, five and four at different points in the 25-10 win. Laughlin had three kills, two aces and two block assists in the frame to lead the Gamecocks. Kujundzic was a perfect 2-for-2 while also getting six digs and a service ace. As a team, the Garnet and Black hit .381 and had three aces and four blocks.

The second set was much like the first, as the Gamecocks were credited with hitting .357 (14-4-28) in the 25-16 triumph. South Carolina broke the game open after being down, 8-7. They took seven of the next eight points, with aces from sophomore setter Jordan Bradosky and Kujundzic coming in the stretch. Thomas had three kills, one solo and one assisted block in the set, while Kujundzic had four kills to go with an ace.

In the third, the Carolina Gamecocks got out to leads of 5-1 and 18-11 before closing out with a 25-15 victory. The Gamecocks shared the ball while hitting .500 in the frame, as five different players had two kills each. Kujundzic had three aces, three digs and two kills in the final frame. Lawing and Cline also had three digs in the final set.

Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic tallied match highs in both kills and digs as South Carolina came back from down, 2-1, to capture a five-set thriller from Rhode Island, 25-18, 22-25, 23-25, 25-18, 15-10, on Friday night at Keaney Gymnasium.

Kujundzic had 20 kills and 18 digs in the big victory, and she was helped by redshirt senior middle blocker Belita Salters' 17 kills on a .536 hitting percentage. That percentage is the fourth best in a five-set match in Gamecock history, just behind her .543 level from last weekend. Sophomore middle blocker Megan Laughlin had 15 kills, while sophomore outside hitter Annie Thomas added 12. Junior libero Sarah Cline had 17 digs in three sets, while senior Dinelia Concepcion had 12. Sophomore Hannah Lawing added 11 digs, while senior Petra Lorenzi had 10. Junior setter Bridget Denson-Dorman just missed a double-double with 46 sets and nine digs. For the Rams, both Caitlyn Welsh (13 kills, 14 digs) and Stacey Yohannes (12 kills, 12 digs) had double-doubles.

South Carolina got its initial lead in the first set at 7-5 after a solo block by Thomas and a pair of kills by Laughlin. That lead grew to 16-11 after three kills in four points by Thomas. Salters got a trio of kills to move the Gamecocks' advantage to 22-15. A blocking error by the Rams gave South Carolina the set, 25-18. The Gamecocks had 18 kills and hit .326 as a team in the frame.

After falling behind early in the second thanks to two service errors, the Gamecocks fought back to tie at 7-7, 8-8 and 10-10 before finally taking a lead at 14-13. A guided tip by Kujundzic gave the Garnet and Black a three-point advantage at 19-16, but Rhode Island answered immediately, getting back within one. After trading sideouts, the Rams went on a six-point run to close out the set, 25-22. Kayla Wilson did most of the damage, getting all three of her set two kills in the sequence. Kayla Newberg also had two, including the final blow. Yohannes tallied five kills in the frame.

The Gamecocks got an early 7-3 lead in the third set, partly thanks to Salters' two early kills. URI tied it up at 11 after kills by Newberg and Welsh, but a Thomas smash put South Carolina back up by two, 14-12. The Rams would take back the lead at 16-15 after Lauren McIntosh spiked a Carolina overpass. The Gamecocks responded with five-consecutive points, including two straight from Laughlin, which forced Rhode Island to use a timeout. Three-straight points by the Rams caused the Gamecocks to use a timeout at 20-19, but that wouldn't stop URI from tying up the match at 20. Two kills from Kujundzic put South Carolina up by two, 22-20 but a Welsh kill and a Lytle dump after the teams swapped sideouts tied it up at 23-23. Two South Carolina errors ended the set in Rhode Island's favor, 25-23. Two service aces for the Rams seem to have been the difference, as the Carolina Gamecocks actually out-hit the Rams, .293-.268.

At 7-6 for South Carolina in the fourth set, the Gamecocks got 10 of the next 13 points to take a 17-9 lead. Rhode Island would get within four at 17-13 after a Ram block and two attack errors by the Garnet and again at 22-18, but URI would get no closer. A Kujundzic kill down the line ended the frame, 25-18. The Carolina Gamecocks held Rhode Island to eight kills in the fourth. Cline had six digs and an ace in the frame to lead the Gamecocks.

A Lawing ace started the Gamecocks off right in set five, eventually getting a 5-0 advantage. A pair of setting errors stretched the Garnet's lead to 9-3. A pair of Kujundzic kills, including one from the back row, moved Carolina ahead, 11-4. Lytle and Welsh would single-handedly keep the Rams alive, getting four kills in five points to stave off elimination. But a Ram attack error ended the set at 15-10 and the match in favor of the Gamecocks.

South Carolina dispatched Stony Brook in a 3-0 sweep, 25-18, 25-18, 25-10, to clinch the Art Carmichael Classic title with a 3-0 record at Keaney Gymnasium on Saturday afternoon.

Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic tallied 11 kills, nine digs and four blocks in the win for South Carolina. Sophomore middle blocker Megan Laughlin had nine kills, while senior Belita Salters and sophomore Annie Thomas both contributed seven. Junior Meredith Moorhead had six kills as well. Sophomore Hannah Lawing had 12 digs in the contest, while senior Dinelia Concepcion added 10. Sophomore setter Jordan Bradosky had 33 assists in the contest. Gulce Nazil Dikecligil and Alicia Nelson led the Seawolves with seven kills each, while Dikecligil added nine digs.

After falling behind early, 8-6, the Gamecocks got 10 of the next 11 points to take a 16-9 advantage. Three different Gamecocks had a kill, while five Seawolf errors, including a rotation error, contributed to the run. Stony Brook got to within three at 18-15 after capturing five of six points. A Kujundzic back-row kill capped a three-point swing, putting South Carolina back up by six, 21-15. A Lawing ace ended the frame at 25-18. Laughlin had four kills and a solo block in the frame.

The Gamecocks ran out to a 9-2 lead before Stony Brook clawed back into the match, tying it at 13-13 with a solo block by Lindsey Gordon. After trading sideouts, the Carolina Gamecocks took six of seven points to grow the lead to 20-15. Lawing had an ace to close the run. Moorhead closed out the set with a smash right down the middle. Salters had four kills in the frame, while three other Gamecocks had three. Lawing added five digs to her ace.

The third set saw South Carolina start off fast again, getting an 8-2 lead. Stony Brook got within three at 8-5 after a pair of aces from Lisa Doremus, but the Gamecocks would make it 17-7 before long, getting a six-point run together at one point. Four different Gamecocks had kills, while Bradosky added an ace in that stretch. A block by Thomas and Laughlin ended the run. The Garnet ended the match with the final six points, as Salters got two kills including the capper in the final stretch. Kujundzic had five kills and four digs in the final frame, while the team hit .500 with just one attack error in the 25-10 win.

The Gamecocks dominated the College of Charleston, taking a 3-0 sweep, 25-13, 25-16, 25-22, in the first match of the Carolina Challenge.

Sophomore middle blocker Megan Laughlin had 15 kills on a .652 hitting percentage. That's the fifth-best output in a three-game sweep in South Carolina history. Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic collected her fourth double-double of the season with 13 kills and a match-high 12 digs. Redshirt senior Belita Salters added 12 kills, while junior outside hitter Annie Thomas contributed eight. Junior Sarah Cline added 11 digs, while senior Dinella Concepcion had nine. Junior setter Bridget Denson-Dorman dished out 50 assists, made seven digs and had a match-best four blocks. Whitney Russell led the Cougars with her 11 kills.

The Gamecocks took the first set, 25-13, behind a quadruplet of attackers with four kills. Kujundzic, Laughlin, Moorhead and Salters all made that mark, while sophomore Hannah Lawing had four digs. South Carolina had four blocks as well, compared to none for the Cougars.

South Carolina ran out to a 9-4 lead in the second set, getting two kills each early on from Kujundzic, Laughlin and Salters. The lead grew to 18-9 and 20-10 before the Cougars started fighting back. A ball-handling error and kills by Dawley and Darty brought College of Charleston within seven. Laughlin, however, would help end the frame, getting two straight kills out of a timeout. Moorhead wrapped up the set with a smash. Both Kujundzic and Salters had five kills in the second, while Laughlin ended up with six. Both Cline and Concepcion had six digs each in the frame.

The Cougars got a 2-0 lead early in set three thanks to two Gamecock attack errors. South Carolina would rebound to take a 16-11 lead, as Laughlin had two kills sandwiched around a Cougar handling error. Charleston made a five-point run to make it 18-17, with two handling errors by the Garnet and Black and an Emily Sawin ace contributing to that. The Gamecocks would go up by three, 21-18, when Denson-Dorman made a kill. The Cougars would tie it up at 22 getting kills from Russell and Sawin. A service error would end Charleston's momentum, and a Kujundzic kill put the Gamecocks at match point. Denson-Dorman would get that last point, blocking a Cougar attack to give South Carolina the 25-22 set win. Kujundzic had six digs in the final frame.

Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic and the South Carolina Gamecocks pulled off a stunning, 3-2 victory over in-state rival Clemson, 19-25, 25-14, 25-18, 22-25, 18-16, on Friday night at the Volleyball Competition Facility in front of 1,032 fans and a statewide television audience on SC ETV. The victory clinched at least a share of the Carolina Challenge title.

Kujundzic put together her second straight double-double in the tournament, getting 22 kills and 15 digs in the outing, hitting .347 to lead the Gamecocks while also adding two blocks. Junior setter Bridget Denson-Dorman doubled up as well, making 52 assists and 13 digs. Redshirt senior middle blocker Belita Salters had 18 kills, while sophomore outside hitter Annie Thomas added 13. Junior outside hitter Meredith Moorhead hit .320 en route to a 10-kill night. Junior libero Sarah Cline led South Carolina with 19 digs, while sophomore Hannah Lawing added 14. Senior Petra Lorenzi also had 12 digs. Lia Proctor and Danielle Hepburn, who both had 16 kills, led the Tigers. Hepburn added six blocks, tying teammate Kelsey Murphy in that category. Murphy also had 44 assists and 11 digs. Didem Ege added 25 digs, tops among all players, while Jeannette Abbott contributed 11 kills.

Play in the fifth set was nip and tuck all the way till the end. Clemson went on a three-point run, capped by a Murphy smash, to get to match point at 14-12. Kujundzic got a kill to get the Gamecocks back on serve, where Cline served up an ace to tie up the match at 14-14. The teams swapped sideouts until Kujundzic made two consecutive kills, the first from the back row, to give the Gamecocks the chance to win. Thomas stepped up and drilled the final set from Denson-Dorman, handing South Carolina the 18-16 set-five win. Kujundzic had six kills, while Salters added four in the frame. Cline made five of her digs in that final set, while Denson-Dorman dished out 13 assists.

Clemson got out to a 14-8 advantage in the fourth before the Gamecocks started to turn things around. They would fight back to 21-18 after a pair of Tiger attack errors, but Clemson got back to set point at 24-20 on a Hepburn kill. South Carolina got within two after a Kujundzic kill and a Tiger error, but Abbott would end the frame with her fifth kill of the set. She also had eight digs in the fourth set alone.

After battling back and forth in the early going of the third set, the Gamecocks took control at 12-6 thanks to a four-point run that included kills by sophomore Megan Laughlin, Thomas and Moorhead. Another four-point run would put the lead at 22-15, getting two kills from Laughlin and Kujundzic's second ace of the frame. The Gamecocks would capture the frame at 25-18 after a Clemson attack error. Laughlin and Salters both had five kills in the third, while the Gamecocks hit .343.

South Carolina dominated the second set, winning it, 25-14. Kujundzic had eight kills alone in the second set, hitting .538 in the process. Lawing played outstanding defense as well, making eight digs in the frame. Salters also hit well in the second, compiling a .571 average (4-0-7). As a team, South Carolina hit .324 in the second.

The first set was back-and-forth until the Tigers put together a four-point run to take a 12-9 lead. Hepburn and Abbott both had kills in the stretch, while Proctor capped it with an ace. The squads never got more than four points apart the rest of the frame until the end, when the Tigers got the final four points thanks to a pair of Murphy aces and two Brittany Fennell block assists.

The South Carolina Gamecocks swept through their final match in the Carolina Challenge over Winthrop, 25-22, 25-17, 25-11, behind a stellar performance from junior outside hitter Meredith Moorhead.

Moorhead had 12 kills and hit .632 in the contest, not making an attack error in 19 tries. She also had a block assist and two set assists. Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic led all players with 13 kills while she also had seven digs. Redshirt senior Belita Salters had 10 kills on a .529 hitting percentage and a match-high five blocks. Junior libero Sarah Cline tied her Winthrop counterpart Janice Rivera with 11 digs for match high. Junior setter Bridget Denson-Dorman had 34 set assists, seven digs and four blocks. For Winthrop, Shannon Sitzmann had 12 kills, while Kaley Viola added 10.

In the match, the Gamecocks hit .453, making only two attacking errors in the process. That is just outside of the top five in program history in a three-set affair. South Carolina also made eight blocks in the match, compared to none by Winthrop.

Winthrop had control of the first set, taking leads of 11-5 and 16-10 before the Gamecocks stormed back. South Carolina took its first lead in the match at 20-19 after a four-point run that included two kills from Kujundzic. After it was tied at 22-22, the Gamecocks got the final three points, started by a Salters smash and ended by a block from Salters and Denson-Dorman. Denson-Dorman had all seven of her digs in the set.

The Garnet and Black ran out to a 12-8 lead thanks to a series of kills by Moorhead, sophomore Annie Thomas and Salters. The lead was extended to 18-11 after a pair of blocks by the Gamecocks. An attack error by the Eagles wrapped up the second set, 25-17. Moorhead was a perfect 5-for-5 in the second set, while Carolina had four blocks.

The Carolina Gamecocks ran away with the third set early, as Winthrop used both of their timeouts in an 11-point skien that put South Carolina on top, 14-3. Kujundzic had four kills in the stretch. The lead grew to as much as 23-9 after another three-point run. An Eagle service error wrapped up the set, 25-11, and the match. The Gamecocks hit .583 in the final frame, compared to just .028 by the Eagles. Kujundzic had six of her kills in the final frame, while Cline made seven digs.

In the final match, Clemson swept the College of Charleston, 25-19, 28-26, 25-18. Danielle Hepburn had 15 kills to lead the Tigers.

Kujundzic was named the Carolina Challenge Most Valuable Performer, while Cline was chosen the Most Outstanding Libero. Denson-Dorman and Salters made the all-tournament team for South Carolina. Clemson's Hepburn and Lia Proctor, the Cougars' Whitney Russell and the Eagles' Sitzmann also were named to the all-tournament team.

South Carolina, behind junior Ivana Kujundzic's 14 kills, defeated defending Southeastern Conference Western Division champion LSU, 25-14, 26-24, 25-19, on Friday evening at the Volleyball Competition Facility. The victory extended the Gamecocks' winning streak to nine matches.

Kujundzic added a match-best three aces and one block, hitting .394 for the match. The Gamecocks, who made just seven attacking errors all night, hit .302 as a team, with freshman middle blocker Teresa Stenlund leading the way with a .643 clip. The Irvine, Calif., native, playing in her first collegiate match, added nine kills and three blocks. Redshirt freshman middle blocker Tory Anderson added seven kills and two blocks. Junior libero Sarah Cline collected a match-high 13 digs, while senior Petra Lorenzi added 11. Junior setter Bridget Denson-Dorman had 28 assists and eight digs. For LSU, Lauren DeGirolamo had nine kills, while setter Samantha Dabbs made 28 assists and 12 digs. Libero Elena Martinez made 10 digs.

In the first set, the Gamecocks got the lead at 9-6 after a pair of LSU errors and a kill by sophomore Annie Thomas. LSU would not tie it up after that, as South Carolina ran out to a 19-12 advantage on a five-point run aided by two Gamecock blocks. Sophomore Hannah Lawing wrapped up the set at 25-14 with a back-row kill. Kujundzic had four kills in the frame, while the Tigers hit just .030.

The second set proved to be a nail-biter. The teams swapped leads back and forth throughout the set. South Carolina looked to finally have taken control after a seven-point run put the squad up, 20-16. Stenlund had three kills in that stretch alone. The lead evaporated when LSU streaked with four consecutive points to tie the set at 22-22, started by a Dabbs dump and ended by a Kyna Washington kill. Kujundzic stopped the run with her kill, and, after the teams traded side outs, gave the Gamecocks the chance to win it with her smash at 25-24. Stenlund wrapped up the frame with her sixth kill. Kujundzic matched Stenlund's six kills in the second while also getting two aces in the set.

The Gamecocks came back from 9-5 and 13-7 deficits in the final set, getting 18 of the final 24 points to take the frame, 25-19. A six-point South Carolina skien that included two kills and a block assist by Kujundzic knotted up the match at 13-13. A Lorenzi ace and a Kujundzic kill put Carolina up by three, 20-17. After LSU got the next two points after their final timeout, the Gamecocks put the match away by capturing the final five points. Denson-Dorman started the run with a kill, while Lawing put South Carolina at match point with her ace. A Denson-Dorman solo block ended the contest. Lorenzi made eight digs in the frame, while Cline added six of her own, helping to hold LSU to a .093 hitting percentage in the final set.

The win is South Carolina's fifth over a team that made last year's NCAA Tournament.

Behind a dominating offensive performance, South Carolina swept Georgia, 25-11, 25-16, 25-17, on Sunday afternoon in front of 583 fans at the Volleyball Competition Facility. The Gamecocks stretch their winning streak to 10.

The Gamecocks hit .438 as a team, the second-best output of the season behind a .453 showing against Winthrop last weekend in the Carolina Challenge. Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic led the way again, getting 15 kills and four digs in the match. Middle blockers Megan Laughlin and Belita Salters both had eight kills, while sophomore outside hitter Annie Thomas added seven. All four hit over .400 on the day, with Salters topping the quartet with a .636 percentage. Junior libero Sarah Cline contributed 14 digs and a pair of service aces, while junior setter Bridget Denson-Dorman had 39 assists, two aces, two digs and two blocks. The Gamecock defense was stellar as well, holding the Bulldogs to a .111 hitting percentage overall and keeping the SEC's leading attacker, Maria Taylor, to just three kills and a .000 hitting percentage. Erika Clark and Valentina Gonzalez led Georgia with eight kills each. Taylor did have a team-high seven digs and two aces.

Georgia had more attack errors (6) than kills (5) in the first set, leading to the Gamecocks' 25-11 final advantage. Cline had a part in that, making four digs and getting both of her aces in the frame. Kujundzic had five kills in the first frame, while the Gamecocks hit .565 as a team. South Carolina got out to a 10-2 lead and ended the set by taking 11 of the final 14 points.

The second set saw the Garnet and Black race out to an 8-2 advantage behind two Salters kills and back-to-back aces by Denson-Dorman. Georgia would get back within three at 10-7 and 11-8 before South Carolina would run again, getting an 18-11 advantage moments later. Cline ended the frame when her pass found the floor, handing the Gamecocks the 25-16 set victory. Kujundzic had five more kills in the set.

Georgia got its first lead of the match in set three, getting 2-0 and 3-2 advantages before the Gamecocks responded with a five-point skein to make it 7-3. Georgia got within two at 12-10 before a four-point run, which included a Hannah Lawing ace and a Denson-Dorman block, made it 16-10. Kills by Kujundzic and Laughlin ended the frame and the match. The Gamecocks hit .423 in the set, led again by Kujundzic's five kills. Senior Petra Lorenzi had four digs in the frame as well.

The Gamecocks had the advantage in all statistical categories besides blocks, as Georgia was credited with 4.5, compared to South Carolina's 4.0.

The South Carolina winning streak ended at 10, as Mississippi took a 3-1 victory, 25-17, 25-21, 13-25, 25-19, over the Gamecocks in the Gillom Sports Center on Friday afternoon.

Redshirt senior Belita Salters had 12 kills to lead the Gamecocks. Junior Bridget Denson-Dorman added her fourth double-double of the year with 42 assists and 11 digs. Junior Ivana Kujundzic also had a double-double with 11 kills and 15 digs. Sophomore Hannah Lawing also contributed 10 digs.

The Gamecocks never found their offensive rhythm in the first set, making 10 kills and nine errors for a .026 hitting percentage. The Rebels ran away with the frame, 25-17, behind four kills by Weiss. South Carolina came back from an early deficit to tie up the match at 6-6, but Mississippi would eventually get the lead back out to 15-10. The Garnet and Black responded with kills by Moorhead and Thomas to bring them back to within three at 19-16. Weiss would help the Rebels take over from there, getting three kills as Mississippi took six of the final seven points for the 25-17 set win.

South Carolina had an early 4-3 lead in the second set before the Rebels got five of the next six points to take an 8-5 advantage. A five-point run by Mississippi, four of those coming on Carolina errors, forced the Gamecocks to call timeout at 14-7. The black-clad visitors chipped away at the lead, getting to within one at 18-17 after a block by Moorhead and Laughlin and a kill by Thomas. Two straight Rebel kills caused another Carolina timeout. The Gamecocks would get within one twice, the final time after a Salters smash to make it 22-21. But Mississippi got the final three points, two from Norris to close out the set, 25-21. Norris and Weiss both had four kills in the frame to lead the Rebels, which thwarted Salters' attempts to tie up the match.

After the break, the Gamecocks came out focused for the third set, running out to a 6-1 advantage. Three consecutive Thomas kills made it 9-2. A Salters kill and block bookended a four-point skein that put South Carolina ahead, 15-5. The Rebels captured six of the next seven points to get within five at 16-11. South Carolina took six of the next seven points, two coming on kills by junior Meredith Moorhead, to take a 22-12 lead. Two more Rebel errors pushed the Gamecocks to set point, and Kujundzic would close it out at 25-13 with a back-row kill.

Mississippi got the first advantage in the fourth set with a four-point run that put the squad up, 12-9. Another three-point swing moved the Rebels' lead out to 17-12. The Gamecocks got back to within two at 17-15, but a Rebel three-point run gave them a five-point advantage again, 21-16. A pair of solo blocks by Kujundzic and sophomore Megan Laughlin brought South Carolina back within three, but kills by Norris and Emily Jones pushed the lead back to five again. Weiss' 15th kill of the match put Mississippi to match point, and a Gamecock hitting error ended it, 25-19.

Redshirt senior Belita Salters led the Gamecocks to a five-set victory over Arkansas, 25-22, 22-25, 25-21, 23-25, 15-11, on Sunday afternoon in Barnhill Arena.

The Gamecocks fell behind early, 9-4, in the first set before a four-point run put them down one, 9-8, capped by a Cline ace. The Hogs got a three-point skein to push the lead back to 13-9, where South Carolina called its final timeout of the frame. The Arkansas advantage grew to 17-12 before the Gamecocks responded with a five-point string to knot up the match at 17-17. Junior Meredith Moorhead, sophomore Jordan Bradosky and Annie Thomas all had kills in the run. Heather Royal put the Razorbacks up by two with a kill and an ace, but her team would give the advantage right back, as a service and a blocking error tied up the contest again, 21-21. A Carolina blocking error briefly gave the Hogs the lead, but four-straight Gamecock points ended the frame at 25-22. Ivana Kujundzic had two kills in that last stretch, including a back-row attack that put the squad to set point.

Both teams put together three-point runs to start the second, but the Razorbacks followed with a four-point string to force the Gamecocks to use a timeout at 7-3. That string went to six before a Megan Laughlin kill stopped it at 9-4. Salters' first kill closed the gap to 10-8. Consecutive blocks by Arkansas stretched its lead to 14-10, but two kills by Laughlin and an error by the Hogs got the Gamecocks back to within one at 14-13. Arkansas went back up by three at 18-15 before Salters made two consecutive kills to make it a one-point match again and cause a Razorback timeout. A Royal kill followed by a South Carolina attack error pushed the Arkansas advantage to 20-17. Salters and Kujundzic made kills to bring Carolina back to within one. After a Kristin Seaton kill, Laughlin and Hannah Lawing tied up the set for the first time since 3-3 with kills to make it 22-22. The Razorbacks would get the final three points, however, to take the set, 25-22. Kelli Stipanovich got a back-row kill to close out the set.

South Carolina came out and was hot early in the third set. Consecutive Gamecock blocks put the squad up 8-4, while a Kujundzic solo block capped the group's third three-point run of the frame to make it 17-11. The Razorbacks tied up the match at 20-20 thanks to a block by Caira Dortch and Seaton, but kills by Laughlin and Salters put the Gamecocks back up by two, 22-20. A pair of Arkansas hitting error followed a block by Salters and redshirt freshman Tory Anderson to give South Carolina the 25-21 set victory.

After falling behind, 9-7, the Gamecocks came back to take a 15-14 lead in the fourth set on a block by Moorhead and Laughlin. After the squads traded side outs, Arkansas got the lead back after two Stipanovich kills came around two Gamecock hitting errors made the score 19-16. A pair of aces by Laughlin put the Gamecocks back on top, 20-19. But three straight Razorback kills, including two by Christina Lawrence, put the hosts back up by two at 22-20. Carolina tied it up at 22-22 after a Salters smash and an Arkansas error. The Hogs would get to set point first, however, thanks to a Gamecock hitting error.

Thomas led the Gamecocks to an early 5-1 lead in the fifth, making a kill and a solo block early. Salters made her second kill of the frame after the Arkansas timeout, and a Hog handling error pushed the South Carolina advantage to 7-1. The Razorbacks got five of the next six points to get within two at 8-6. The squads traded side outs until a Stipanovich kill and a block by Lawrence and Seaton cut the South Carolina lead to 13-11. Salters got her 18th kill of the contest to push the Gamecocks to match point, and a Razorback hitting error gave South Carolina the 15-11 win.

Behind a stellar performance from junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic, the South Carolina Gamecocks swept Mississippi State, 25-19, 25-13, 25-23, on Friday evening in the Newell-Grissom Building.

Kujundzic had a match-high 15 kills while tying her career high with five aces. The junior also had seven digs. Junior libero Sarah Cline led a trio of Gamecocks with double-figure digs, making 14 while adding a season-best four set assists. Senior Dinelia Concepcion and sophomore Hannah Lawing both had 10 digs. Redshirt senior middle blocker Belita Salters tallied a season-high tying five blocks while also making nine kills. Junior outside hitter Meredith Moorhead had six kills on a .455 hitting percentage. Ioana Demian, who had 10 kills, led Mississippi State. Dorey Gray had 22 assists and 15 digs in the contest.

After falling behind, 3-1, early in the first set, the Gamecocks came back to take a 9-5 advantage. Kujundzic had four kills in that stretch. The Bulldogs clawed their way back into the match, tying it up at 13-13 after a South Carolina handling error. A kill and three aces by Kujundzic pushed the Gamecock advantage back to four at 19-15, causing the Bulldogs to use their final timeout. After a pair of Mississippi State points, South Carolina got five of the next six points to move to set point. A Gamecock service error prolonged the set, but just a point as sophomore Annie Thomas hit one down the line to close out the frame, 25-19. Kujundzic led South Carolina with six kills and three aces, while the Gamecocks got four blocks compared to just one by the Bulldogs.

The Gamecocks ran out to a 6-2 lead in the second behind a pair of blocks assisted by Salters. Four Mississippi State errors helped South Carolina stretch its lead to 16-9, while Kujundzic and Salters had kills to stretch that to 18-9. On Kujundzic's serve, the Gamecocks captured the set with five-straight points. An ace by the junior and kills by sophomore Megan Laughlin and Moorhead closed out the set in the Gamecocks' favor, 25-13. Kujundzic had seven kills in the frame, while Cline added six digs.

A 9-7 South Carolina lead turned into a 10-9 Mississippi State lead after consecutive aces by Gray. But the Gamecocks would respond, taking three-consecutive points, including a Kujundzic kill and a Salters and junior Bridget Denson-Dorman block, to put South Carolina back on top, 13-11. Another three-point string pushed the lead up to 16-12. The Carolina Gamecock lead got to 23-18 before the Bulldogs would stage a stand. Kills from Grace Hoyt, Gray and Ashley Newsome brought Mississippi State within two at 23-21, forcing a timeout from South Carolina. Out of the timeout, Salters spiked a ball to put the Gamecocks to set point, but a service error and a back-row attack error kept the match going. Kujundzic ended it at 25-23 with her 15th kill of the contest. Moorhead and Salters both four kills in the final set, with Moorhead not making an attacking error in the frame.

Hitting .320 as a team, the South Carolina Gamecocks swept Alabama, 25-21, 25-17, 25-19, on Sunday afternoon at the Coleman Auxiliary Volleyball Extension. The victory gave the Gamecocks their first road weekend sweep in Southeastern Conference play since 2004.

Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic and sophomore middle blocker Megan Laughlin both had 11 kills. Kujundzic collected her eighth double-double of the year with 13 digs, while Laughlin led the team with a .500 hitting percentage and two aces. Redshirt senior middle blocker Belita Salters added nine kills on a .471 hitting percentage. Junior libero Sarah Cline collected 11 digs, while sophomore Hannah Lawing contributed 10 digs. Junior setter Bridget Denson-Dorman had 43 assists, five digs, one kill and one ace. For Alabama, Brooks Webster led the squad with 13 kills. Libero Amy Pauly had 10 digs, while Calli Johnson had a match-best four aces.

After the squads traded side outs to start the contest, the Crimson Tide went on a four-point run to take a 9-5 lead. Two Gamecock errors started the string, while a Stephanie Riley ace capped it. Alabama stretched the lead to 12-7 before the Gamecocks started to work back into the match. Alabama service and blocking errors closed the gap to four, and kills by sophomore Annie Thomas and junior Meredith Moorhead bookended a four-point swing that brought South Carolina to within one at 14-13. The Gamecocks took the advantage away from the Tide after getting seven of nine points for a 21-18 lead. Salters had two kills in the stretch, while Kujundzic had a kill and a solo block for the Garnet and Black. Alabama would get within one at 21-20 after a Pauly ace, but the Gamecocks would close out the set by capturing four of its final five points. Laughlin had two kills to go with a Kujundzic ace. Salters wrapped up the frame with a spike on an overpass, her fifth kill of the set. The Gamecocks hit .400 in the frame and made 19 digs, compared to .257 and 13 for the Crimson Tide.

South Carolina rolled through most of the second set, putting together two four-point runs and a pair of three-point strings. The lead was largest at 23-11 after a pair of Kujundzic kills. But Alabama would not go out quietly, getting six of the next seven points to make it 24-17. Johnson had consecutive aces in that stretch. But Laughlin would wrap up the frame with her sixth kill. Kujundzic added five kills in the set as well, as the Gamecocks held the Tide to a .067 hitting percentage.

The third set went back and forth until Alabama got four points in a five-point stretch to take a 10-8 lead. The Gamecocks answered immediately with a Laughlin solo block, a Denson-Dorman ace and a Kujundzic kill to take an 11-10 advantage. A Laughlin ace followed a Moorhead kill to move the lead to 14-12, while Salters and Denson-Dorman got consecutive kills to stretch it out to three at 16-13. A three-point skein by South Carolina gave the squad a 22-17 advantage, while a Thomas kill and a Laughlin ace put the Gamecocks to match point. Ashley Frazier kept the match alive for Alabama with a kill, but an attacking error for the Tide ended their comeback bid, 25-19. Salters and Moorhead both had three kills in the final frame.

Behind junior setter Bridget Denson-Dorman's double-double, South Carolina swept Tennessee, 25-22, 25-14, 25-23, on Friday night at the Volleyball Competition Facility.

Denson-Dorman dished out 37 assists and made 12 digs while also adding four kills, two aces and a block. Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic topped the squad with 18 kills and contributed eight digs and three blocks. Sophomore middle blocker Megan Laughlin finished with a .583 hitting percentage on nine kills, while sophomore outside hitter Hannah Lawing added eight kills. Junior libero Sarah Cline had a match-best 15 digs and two aces. Nikki Fowler led UT with eight kills, while Milan Clarke and Kylie Marshall added seven. Libero Chloe Goldman added 10 digs.

The Carolina Gamecocks ran out to a 4-0 lead to start the match before Tennessee fought back to take a 10-9 advantage. The squads stayed within two points of each other until the end, when South Carolina took the final four points of the set. Kujundzic started the closing run with a kill and added another to put the Gamecocks at set point. Laughlin ended it at 25-22 with her fourth kill of the frame. Redshirt senior middle blocker Salters also had four kills in the set.

South Carolina controlled the second set from the beginning, taking 5-1 and 11-5 leads early. Kujundzic kills bookended the first four-point run, while the six-point skein that followed included two Denson-Dorman aces. Another five-point swing pushed the Garnet and Black's lead to 22-10, as four different Gamecocks had kills in the run. Kujundzic capped the 25-14 set win with her seventh kill of the frame. Laughlin was a perfect 4-for-4 in the second, while South Carolina combined to hit .394.

The third set was a spirited back-and-forth affair, as neither team took more than a two-point advantage until the Gamecocks put together a four-point run to take a 23-19 lead. Lawing started the string with a kill, with Cline following with an ace. Kujundzic came up with a kill as well before combining with redshirt freshman Tory Anderson for a block. Tennessee fought back to within one at 23-22 after a kill by Farren Powe and a block by Powe and Kayla Jeter. But the duo of Anderson and Kujundzic got another block to put South Carolina to match point. A Jeter kill extended the match, but a Tennessee attack went long to hand the frame and match to the Gamecocks, 25-23. Denson-Dorman had six digs in the final set alone.

The Gamecocks out-hit the Lady Volunteers, .310 to .215, while they also out-set, out-served and out-dug the visitors. Tennessee, the league's leading team in digs during SEC play, finished with five less digs per set than their average in its previous six SEC outings. Tennessee did out-block Carolina.

Despite great efforts from redshirt senior Belita Salters and junior Meredith Moorhead, the Gamecocks could not overcome 25th-ranked Kentucky in a 25-22, 25-18, 25-22 loss at the Volleyball Competition Facility on Sunday afternoon.

Salters led all players with 13 kills while hitting .565 in the contest. Moorhead topped everyone with her .667 hitting percentage on eight kills. Junior Ivana Kujundzic had nine kills, while redshirt freshman Tory Anderson, making just her fourth career start due to an injury to sophomore Megan Laughlin, added seven kills. Senior Dinelia Concepcion had a team-high nine digs. Sarah Mendoza led Kentucky with 12 kills and added 12 digs, while Queen Nzenwa and Lauren Rapp added 11 and 10 kills, respectively. UK libero BriAnne Sauer finished with a match-high 13 digs.

Kentucky had leads of 7-4, 10-7 and 14-11 early in the first set, but the Gamecocks would tie the match at 16-16 after three-consecutive Wildcat attacking errors. The squads kept trading points until Rapp got her third and final kill of the frame to put Kentucky up by one at 22-21. That started a three-point UK run that saw Nzenwa collect two-straight kills, the first on an overpass by South Carolina, to put the visitors to set point. Anderson kept the frame alive with a kill, but Nzenwa answered with a spike to end the frame. An uncharacteristic three service errors doomed the Gamecocks.

After getting down 5-1 in the second set, South Carolina would rebound to take a 10-9 lead after consecutive Kentucky attacking errors. The Big Blue got the advantage back at 14-12 after a Mendoza kill and a block from Nzenwa and Rapp. That lead grew to 18-13 after a four-point string that was bookended by Rapp kills. Kentucky closed out the frame with a block from Becky Pavan and Rapp. The Gamecocks had just seven digs in the frame and hit a match-worst .129.

South Carolina came out of the break looking energized and took a 3-0 lead behind kills from Moorhead and Salters and a block by Salters and junior Bridget Denson-Dorman. The Gamecocks kept the advantage until a three-point swing, when Rapp got two kills and a solo block to put the Wildcats back on top, 12-10. The Garnet and Black would get the advantage again late at 20-19 thanks to another Denson-Dorman and Salters block. But Kentucky would not be denied, getting to match point after a kill by setter Sarah Rumely, a block by Rumely and Nzenwa and a Rapp ace. Kujundzic kept the match alive one more point, but Nzenwa closed the match with her fifth kill of the set. Kentucky hit .394 in the final frame.

The Wildcats held the advantage in kills, hitting percentage, assists, aces, digs and blocks over the Gamecocks.

The South Carolina volleyball team dropped its second-consecutive contest to a ranked team this season, falling 25-22, 25-17, 25-15 to eighth-ranked Florida on Wednesday evening in the Stephen C. O'Connell Center.

Junior outside hitter Meredith Moorhead topped the Gamecocks with nine kills while hitting at a .471 clip. Redshirt senior middle blocker Belita Salters had eight kills. Junior libero Sarah Cline had 11 digs, leading all players. For the Gators, Kelly Murphy had 13 kills and 22 assists, while Colleen Ward added 10 kills. Callie Rivers collected nine, while Kelsey Bowers added eight on a match-best .636 hitting percentage. Elyse Cusack led Florida with 10 digs, while Cindy Bathelt added 21 assists.

The squads went back and forth in the first set, with the Gamecocks hanging within three points of the Gators till the end of the frame. After falling behind, 7-4, South Carolina got an ace and a back-row kill from junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic to knot up the frame. Florida got a 17-14 advantage when Murphy had three kills inside of four points, but Carolina got within one after a Moorhead kill and a Florida attack error. After trading side-outs, the Gators took four points in a five-point stretch to get to set point. South Carolina did not go quietly, forcing an attacking error and getting a block from Moorhead and Tory Anderson to cause Florida to call a timeout at 24-22. On the next point, the Gators got a block from Murphy and Kristina Johnson to close out the frame. Five service errors in the first set, matching South Carolina's total in three matches this year, spoiled a .276 hitting percentage by the squad.

The Gators came out on fire in the second set, getting 10 out of 11 points in one stretch, including a seven-point string, to take an 11-3 lead. The Gamecocks would twice get within seven points, the final time at 20-13 after kills by Moorhead and Anderson. After that, the squads traded sideouts till Ward ended the frame, 25-17, with a cross-court smash. Murphy had eight kills in 10 tries in the second, leading the Gators to a .366 hitting percentage.

The Gamecocks came back from an early 5-2 deficit to tie up the third frame at 6-6. Four-consecutive Gator points, including kills from Rivers, Bowers and Murphy, put the Florida lead to 10-6. That advantage grew to 16-9 after a three-point skein that included a block from Ward and Cassandra Anderson. Back-to-back kills by Kujundzic got the Gamecocks within five at 16-11, but that would be as close as they got. Florida got six of the next seven points to get a 22-12 lead. The squads swapped side-outs till the end, when Bowers powered down a shot to close out the frame, 25-15. Rivers tallied six kills in the final set, while the Gators hit .500 in the frame.

Florida had advantages in every category, including out-hitting South Carolina, .381 to .186.

Behind double-doubles by Bridget Denson-Dorman, Ivana Kujundzic and Hannah Lawing, South Carolina ended a two-match losing streak with a 3-1 victory at Auburn, 25-11, 13-25, 25-18, 25-17, on Sunday afternoon in the Student Activities Center.

Kujundzic led Carolina in digs with 13 and added 11 kills, while Lawing put together her first double-double of the season with 10 kills and 12 digs. Denson-Dorman had 39 assists and 10 digs. Sophomore Megan Laughlin had a match-best 14 kills, three aces and .393 hitting percentage. Both Kujundzic and Denson-Dorman added three blocks on the day. Junior Sarah Cline had 11 digs and two aces. For Auburn, Kelly Fidero had 11 kills, while Jessica Glover added 10. Sara Shanks had 30 assists, nine digs and four kills, while Milena Bukinac added nine kills and 11 digs.

The Gamecocks got the early first-set advantage at 8-4 after a Lawing kill and two blocks, first by Salters and Denson-Dorman with the second a Kujundzic solo stop. The lead mushroomed out 18-7 after a nine-point string by South Carolina that included three kills by Kujundzic. The Garnet and Black closed out the set at 25-11 with five-consecutive points, started by a Moorhead smash and ended by the second Laughlin ace of the run. The Gamecocks hit .357 in the first set and had three aces. Cline led the way defensively with six digs in the first frame alone.

The second set was all Auburn. The Tigers got five blocks and hit .600 in the set to take a 25-13 victory. Fidero had five kills in the frame, while Glover added three and two solo blocks. South Carolina made just four digs in the frame. After suffering their worst set loss of the season, the Tigers came back in second to take their biggest victory in a frame this year.

South Carolina broke out to leads of 4-1 and 7-3 in the third set, with Laughlin and Denson-Dorman both collecting two kills in the early going. The advantage grew to 12-8 after a Kujundzic smash down the line and another Denson-Dorman dump. After two-straight Auburn points, Carolina got four in a row to force the Tigers to use their final timeout. Cline enclosed the timeout with a pair of aces, stretching the lead to 17-10. Moorhead and Laughlin kills put the Gamecocks ahead, 21-12. But Auburn kept fighting, as Glover and Shanks both had kills to help the Tigers get within six at 21-15. The fourth Denson-Dorman kill of the frame wrapped up the set at 25-18. Laughlin added six kills, while Kujundzic contributed five digs, part of 17 in the third game for South Carolina.

In the fourth set, the Carolina Gamecocks got out to 5-1 and 12-6 leads, the last coming after taking six of seven points. The advantage was stretched to 16-7 after Kujundzic's second back-row kill of the frame, a Salters smash and a Denson-Dorman solo block. Auburn worked its way back into the frame by taking seven of nine points to close to 18-14. But the Gamecocks would finish out the frame, as a block by Denson-Dorman and Salters set up match point with a block, and the Tigers' final attack landed long to hand South Carolina the 25-17 victory. The Gamecocks held the Tigers to a .079 hitting percentage in the final set.

In the first meeting between the in-state schools, the Carolina Gamecocks dispatched of South Carolina State, 25-15, 25-9, 25-9, on Thursday evening in front of 247 fans at the Volleyball Competition Facility. The victory guaranteed South Carolina of its first winning season in six years.

South Carolina set a new team record with a .587 hitting percentage on the evening, bettering the old mark of .561 against Liberty on Sept. 1, 2000. Sophomore middle blocker Megan Laughlin also etched her name in the record books, hitting at a .733 clip on 11 kills to tie for second all-time for a single match. Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic made 14 kills and served up four aces to lead both squads. Junior setter Bridget Denson-Dorman dished out 38 assists and had four kills and a match-high six digs. Sophomore outside hitter Hannah Lawing added eight kills and three aces, while redshirt senior Belita Salters added seven spikes. Jarne Gleaton had five kills for the Bulldogs.

The Gamecocks took the first set, 25-15, behind six kills from Kujundzic. South Carolina put together runs of seven, six and five points during the frame, holding a lead as large as 21-8 at one point. The Bulldogs did have a three-point run late, but an attacking error by SCSU ended the frame.

In the second set, the Carolina Gamecocks got out to a 7-0 lead and never looked back. Salters was perfect on four attacks, helping the squad hit .654 in the frame. Lawing added two of her aces in the 25-9 Gamecock set win.

Two Kujundzic aces capped a five-point run that put South Carolina up, 10-2, in the third set. The lead grew to 19-7 after another five-point string bookended by Kujundzic kills. And the Subotica, Serbia, junior closed out the frame at 25-9 with her final ace of the match.

South Carolina's defense held the Bulldogs to a .079 hitting percentage and handed the visitors their worst set losses of the season, as the final two sets were the only times South Carolina State has been held to single digits.

In a back-and-forth affair at the Ramsey Student Center, the Carolina Gamecocks came out on the short end of the five-set match against host Georgia, 17-25, 25-20, 25-23, 22-25, 15-8.

The Gamecocks ran out to a 9-5 lead in the first set behind three kills and an ace from Megan Laughlin. The lead grew to 16-10 after a three-point run that included a Laughlin kill and a block by Laughlin and redshirt freshman Tory Anderson. A late four-point run on Laughlin's serve pushed the South Carolina advantage to 22-15. The Bulldogs got consecutive kills from Ann Dylla, but the Gamecocks closed out the frame at 25-17 with back-to-back kills by Hannah Lawing and a smash by Belita Salters. Laughlin had 6.5 points in the frame to lead South Carolina, while the squad hit .317 overall.

Georgia got a 10-5 lead in the second set after a four-point run that contained three Gamecocks errors, including one blocking error. The Bulldogs extended the advantage to 17-10 after getting seven out of nine points. South Carolina put together a three-point run to close to within four at 21-17. But the squads traded side outs from there, with Maria Taylor ending the second at 25-20 with her fifth kill of the frame.

In the third set, Georgia got an 11-5 lead after a pair of dumps by setter Kathleen Gates came around a Gamecock setting error. The Red and Black continually grew the lead throughout the frame, making it 21-12 after another Gates kill capped a three-point skien. South Carolina tried to make a stand there, putting together a four-point string around a pair of Laughlin kills. Consecutive kills by Ivana Kujundzic, including one from the back row, got the Gamecocks within four. After a set error, South Carolina tied up the match with a five-point run that included two block assists by Salters, first with Lawing, then with Anderson. After using its final timeout, Georgia got to set point after a Lindsay Gehan kill. Taylor then wrapped up the frame, 25-23, with her shot off the block, her fifth kill of the frame.

In the fourth, the Bulldogs got out to a 5-2 advantage before the Gamecocks came back behind three Lawing kills to take a 7-6 lead. That would be short-lived, as Georgia took four-straight points to garner a 10-7 lead. That stretched to 12-8 before the Gamecocks closed the gap to one at 13-12. A Taylor smash and a Bulldog block pushed the Georgia lead back to three at 15-12. The advantage grew to 18-14 before a block by freshman Teresa Stenlund and a Georgia error got the Gamecocks to within two. After a service error, South Carolina tied up the frame at 19-19 on kills by Salters and Lawing and a Bulldog hitting error. The Garnet and Black took its second lead in the fourth at 21-20 after a Salters kill and a Georgia setting error, forcing Georgia to use a timeout. But it did not stop Carolina, as the Gamecocks got two more points, including a Lawing ace, to get it to 23-20. After a Gates dump, Kujundzic collected her third kill of the frame to put the Garnet and Black to set point. Valentina Gonzalez extended the set, but just by a point as Kujundzic smashed another ball to give the Gamecocks the 25-22 set win. Sarah Cline had five digs, while Lawing added four kills.

Georgia got the first advantage in the final set at 5-2 after kills by Gonzalez and Taylor and a Gamecock error. After the Carolina timeout, Taylor put away another ahead of consecutive kills by Clark to put the Bulldogs up, 8-2. A block by Dylla and Taylor pushed the Bulldog run to seven, but Kujundzic got a kill and an ace to give South Carolina hope at 9-4. But that hope was dashed in the end, as Georgia got to set point on Taylor's final kill. A set error by the Gamecocks ended the set at 15-8 and the match in Georgia's favor. The Bulldogs hit .692 in the final frame.

South Carolina had an edge only in digs over Georgia, who out-hit and out-blocked the Gamecocks.

In a hard-fought contest, South Carolina fell just short in its bid for a road win, falling at LSU, 21-25, 27-25, 17-25, 21-25, 15-13, on Sunday afternoon in the Pete Maravich Assembly Center.

The Gamecocks got out to a 4-1 lead early in the first thanks to three kills by Belita Salters. A pair of Ivana Kujundzic kills, including one from the back row, kept South Carolina to a three-point lead at 8-5. But the Tigers responded with a four-point swing that was bookended by Sam Dabbs dumps. Both teams would get two points in a row before the Gamecocks got four points in a row to get a 16-12 lead. Another three-point run pushed the Garnet and Black lead to 20-15. The Tigers closed the gap to two at 21-19 but the Gamecocks took four of the final six points, which included a Salters solo block, to end it at 25-21.

A five-point string staked South Carolina to an 8-3 lead early in the second set. LSU answered though, getting two consecutive points on solo blocks by Brittnee Cooper and Michele Williams before a three-point swing closed the Gamecock lead to 11-9. Twice, the Tigers got within one, at 13-12 and 16-15, yet the Gamecocks responded with three-straight points to get a 19-15 advantage. That grew to 23-17 after another three-point skien. Four-consecutive Gamecock errors brought the Tigers back to 23-21, and Williams tied it with a kill and a solo block. However, Salters and Bridget Denson-Dorman got a block to put Carolina to set point. A hitting error and a Cooper kill gave LSU the chance to end the frame, but Kujundzic got a kill to tie it up at 25-25. Cooper came back to put the Tigers at set point again, and Dabbs got an ace to end the frame in LSU's favor, 27-25. Brittnee Johnson, Cooper and Williams all had four kills in the second for LSU, while Elena Martinez had 10 digs in the set.

After the Gamecocks took a 6-5 lead in the third, the Tigers came alive, taking the next three points for an 8-6 advantage. A five-point string soon followed to push the LSU advantage to 15-9. A triple block took the Bayou Bengals to an 18-11 lead. Kills by Salters and Kujundzic brought the Gamecocks within five, but that would be as close as they got. Kyna Washington and Williams ended the set at 25-17 with a block, the seventh Tiger block in the frame. LSU also hit .440 in the set.

South Carolina got a 5-4 advantage in the fourth, but LSU responded by taking seven of the next eight points to go up, 11-6. That lead was extended to 13-8 after a Williams kill and Washington's smash on an overpass. After falling behind, 18-12, the Gamecocks started on the comeback trail. First, a three-point run started and ended on Hannah Lawing kills made it a three-point affair before consecutive blocks, both assisted by Salters, forced the Tigers to use a timeout with their lead down to one, 19-18. Out of the timeout, however, the Carolina run continued. Another block assist by Salters, her second in the set with Denson-Dorman, followed by an LSU attack missing long and a Lawing back-row tip finding the floor, put South Carolina up, 21-19. Another LSU timeout did not stop the Gamecocks' momentum, as Kujundzic made it a seven-point run with her kill. Williams ended the run at 22-20, but a Salters solo block and an LSU error got the Garnet and Black to set point. An attacking error by the visitors kept the frame alive, but Kujundzic wrapped it up at 25-21 with her sixth kill of the frame. Sarah Cline had six digs, while Petra Lorenzi added five in the fourth.

In the fifth, LSU took an early 4-1 lead behind two blocks involving Cooper and a net-assisted ace by Williams. The Gamecocks tied it up after two Kujundzic kills and a Tiger error. The Purple and Gold went back up by three after an Angela Bensend kill and consecutive blocks by Johnson and Cooper. After swapping side outs and a Carolina timeout, Laughlin got a solo block ahead of a Meredith Moorhead kill to put the Gamecocks down just one at 9-8. But Williams came back with a kill to set LSU up to just trade side outs the rest of the way. That's what the Tigers did, as Cooper closed the match at 15-13 with a spike.

Returning home seemed to do help out South Carolina, as the Gamecocks bounced back from two tough five-set defeats on the road last weekend to roll over Arkansas, 25-14, 25-18, 25-18, on Friday evening in the Volleyball Competition Facility.

Redshirt senior middle blocker Belita Salters fell one attempt short of qualifying for the record books, recording an .857 hitting percentage on 12 kills. Sophomore outside hitter Hannah Lawing tied Salters for top honors in kills with 12, while she hit a career-best .476. Lawing just missed a double-double, collecting nine digs as well. Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic tied Salters and Lawing for the lead in points, making 10 kills and a match-best three aces, while also getting her fourth-straight double-double in SEC play with 13 digs. Junior libero Sarah Cline tied Kujundzic for high honors with her 13 digs. For Arkansas, Christina Lawrence had nine kills.

South Carolina got out of the gates quickly in the first set, hitting .500 in the 25-14 win. After the set was tied at 8-8, the Gamecocks took 17 of the next 23 points, making two three-point runs and a five-point skunk that put the squad to set point. Lawing was a perfect 5-for-5 in the frame and wrapped it up a kill. The sophomore also made her first solo block of the campaign and a set-best four digs.

The Garnet and Black ran away with nine-consecutive points in the second set to give them a 14-7 advantage. Four different Gamecocks collected a kill during the stretch. Arkansas kept fighting, putting together a three-point string to force a Gamecock timeout at 17-12. But South Carolina would finish the job. Salters punctuated the 25-18 win with the clincher, her fourth kill of the frame. Lawing had five kills in the second set as well.

Coming out of the break, Arkansas looked to get back in the match, taking an early 8-5 advantage. But the Gamecocks responded, as Kujundzic got back-to-back aces to tie up the frame at 8-8. A three-point run on kills by Lawing, Moorhead and Salters put South Carolina on top for good at 12-9. South Carolina continued to stay one step ahead of the Razorbacks, always forcing a side out until a Scanlan dump followed a Lawrence kill to put Arkansas down by just two at 19-17. But Salters stopped the mini-streak with a kill, and senior Dinella Concepcion served up an ace in between Arkansas attacking errors to put Carolina up 23-17. Salters ended the contest with a spike on an overpass, her sixth kill in a perfect third set. Cline had six of her digs in the final set.

The Carolina Gamecocks compiled a .432 hitting percentage on the night while holding the Razorback to .158. South Carolina also had the advantage in assists, digs and aces, while tying Arkansas in blocks.

Behind redshirt senior Belita Salters' 17 kills, the Gamecocks prevailed over the Ole Miss Rebels in four sets, 22-25, 25-19, 30-28, 25-19, on Sunday afternoon in Southeastern Conference action at the Volleyball Competition Facility.

South Carolina (18-6, 9-5 SEC) got double-doubles from juniors Ivana Kujundzic and Bridget Denson-Dorman as well. Kujundzic had 14 kills and 15 digs, while Denson-Dorman added 11 digs to her match-high 50 assists. Sophomore Megan Laughlin contributed 11 kills and a match-best five blocks. Junior libero Sarah Cline made 20 digs, while senior Petra Lorenzi added 12. Salters' .467 hitting percentage just edged out Meredith Moorhead's .400 clip (9-1-20) for top honors in that category.

The Gamecocks and Rebels battled throughout the first set, with neither team getting more than a three-point advantage. After going down, 20-18, South Carolina responded with a three-point string to take a one-point advantage. The teams swapped side outs, putting the Gamecocks up, 22-21, before back-to-back kills by Miranda Kitts swung the momentum and the lead back to the Rebels. Ole Miss captured the final two points on blocks by Kitts and Kieckhafer to take the frame, 25-22. Kitts collected four kills and three blocks in the first set.

South Carolina dominated the second set, running out to a 10-3 lead early on two aces by Lorenzi and three kills by Salters. Mississippi got as close as 12-8 before the Gamecocks stretched the advantage to 17-9 behind two Hannah Lawing kills. Denson-Dorman wrapped it up at 25-19 with a kill. Lorenzi had six digs in the second alone, while Cline had five. The Gamecocks hit .500 in the frame, led by Salters' six kills on seven attempts.

The third set started much like the second for the Garnet and Black, taking an 8-3 lead behind one solo and one assisted block by Laughlin. This time the Rebels responded, coming back to tie up the match at 9-9 behind two Kitts aces. South Carolina finally got the advantage back at 18-15 on a three-point run that included a Laughlin kill. Ole Miss came right back with a four-point string to take a 19-18 lead, getting back-to-back kills from Norris to start the run. The squads traded side outs until Denson-Dorman made a successful dump after setting up a Salters kill to take the advantage back for South Carolina at 27-26. The teams swapped points twice more before Salters knocked down another kill at 29-28. Cline clinched the third set with an ace, giving the Gamecocks a 30-28 win in the longest set played by Carolina this season. Salters' five and Moorhead's four kills trumped the seven put away by Ole Miss' Norris. Kujundzic and Denson-Dorman both had six digs for the Gamecocks.

In the fourth, the Rebels got the first advantage at 11-8 on a four-point run than included a Caitlin Keefe block, a Caitlin Weiss kill and a Springer ace. South Carolina came back immediately with its own five-point streak to take a 13-11 lead. Salters had two kills along with a block by the redshirt senior and Denson-Dorman to help turn the tide. Later, with the Gamecocks up, 17-16, the squad posted a six-point skunk to take a 23-16 advantage. Norris got two more kills ahead of a Kieckhafer ace to bring Ole Miss within four at 23-19, but the Gamecocks' Laughlin got a kill out of the timeout to put the squad to match point. Lawing ended it there with her smash to give South Carolina the 25-19 set four win. Cline had six digs in the final set, while Denson-Dorman, Laughlin and Salters all added two block assists.

South Carolina had advantages in kills, hitting percentage, assists and digs, while Mississippi end the match with more aces and blocks than the Gamecocks. The Gamecock victory stops the Rebels' four-match winning streak in the series.

Behind solid outings by junior Ivana Kujundzic and redshirt senior Belita Salters, South Carolina defeated Auburn in four sets, 26-24, 22-25, 25-19, 25-19, on Friday evening in the Volleyball Competition Facility.

Kujundzic's 13 kills led the Gamecocks (19-6, 10-5 SEC), while Salters added 12. Salters also had a match-high seven blocks, with Kujundzic contributing two solo and two assisted blocks on the night. Sophomore Megan Laughlin had 10 kills, and classmate Hannah Lawing put in nine kills, eight digs and a career-high five aces. Senior Dinelia Concepcion made a match-best 14 digs. Junior Bridget Denson-Dorman added 41 assists and three block assists. Jessica Glover led the Tigers (6-20, 1-14 SEC) with 16 kills, while Kelly Fidero added 13. Setter Sara Shanks had a team-best 13 digs and 34 assists, with Liz Crouch and Jonelle Wallace making 11 and 10 digs, respectively.

Auburn looked to have taken the first set, taking an 8-2 lead early and working back to a 23-17 advantage later. The Gamecocks would tie it up each time, first at 12-12 after taking seven of eight points and again at 23-23 on a six-point run. The second block by Salters and Denson-Dorman in that latter stretch put the Gamecocks at set point with their seventh-consecutive point. But Auburn would tie it again at 24-24 on Melina Bukinac's kill. South Carolina would not let that stand, as Kujundzic put away two balls in a row to close the set at 26-24. Kujundzic had six kills in the first while hitting .500.

The momentum carried the Gamecocks in the second set for a while, as they staked a 10-5 lead thanks in part to two kills and a solo block by Laughlin. But the Tigers came roaring back, capturing eight-consecutive points to take a 13-10 advantage. Glover made two kills in that run. The Garnet and Black briefly took the lead back at 16-15 on a four-point run capped by a Salters and Denson-Dorman block, but the Tigers answered with a four-point string to make it 19-16 for Auburn. The Gamecocks got within one at 21-20, but the Tigers got a block from Shanks and Glover to get to set point. Junior Meredith Moorhead and Salters kept the set alive with a block, but a Gamecock service error ended the frame for Auburn. The Gamecocks made just six digs in the second set.

South Carolina and Auburn stayed close through most of the third set, with the Gamecocks finally taking an advantage at 16-13 after a four-point skein that included kills by Salters, Lawing and Denson-Dorman. Auburn kept making it a one-point difference until Lawing's serve. The sophomore landed two aces around a pair of Salters kills to close out the game at 25-19. Salters had six kills in the third, while Concepcion had seven digs.

The Gamecocks started the fourth set hot, getting a 10-5 advantage on a kill and two aces by Lawing. This time, South Carolina made it stand up. Auburn got within two twice, but the Gamecocks let them get no closer. A Tiger service error ended the match at 25-19. Kujundzic and Laughlin led the Garnet and Black with three kills each in the final frame.

South Carolina out-hit Auburn, .221 to .197, landed seven aces to Auburn's four and made three more team blocks than the Tigers. Auburn had advantages in kills, assists and digs. The seven block assists for Salters pushed her to seventh in both block assists and total blocks on the South Carolina career charts.

Despite a strong effort by redshirt senior Belita Salters, South Carolina could not overcome the 22nd-ranked Kentucky Wildcats in a 25-19, 25-16, 25-18 loss in Memorial Coliseum on Friday evening.

Salters led the Gamecocks (19-7, 10-6 SEC) with a .467 hitting percentage and eight kills. Junior Ivana Kujundzic also had eight kills in the loss. Junior libero Sarah Cline had 12 digs, while sophomore Hannah Lawing added 11. Sarah Mendoza topped the Wildcats (24-4, 15-2) with 12 kills and a match-best 16 digs. Queen Nzenwa added 10 kills on a .471 clip, tops in the match. Becky Pavan had seven kills and seven block assists, while setter Sarah Rumely made seven kills, seven digs, six blocks and 29 assists on the match. Libero BriAnne Sauer had 10 digs.

Four early Kentucky attacking errors and a Lawing kill on an overpass gave South Carolina a 5-0 lead early. But Kentucky came back, eventually taking a 12-10 lead behind five kills by Mendoza. The Gamecocks tied it up at 15-15 after a Salters kill and a Lawing ace. A three-point Wildcat run, which included a block and dump by Rumely, swung the momentum back to UK, forcing South Carolina to use its final timeout at 18-15. A block by Rumely and Pavan pushed the lead to four before Salters stopped it with a thunderous kill. Three-consecutive Kentucky errors brought the Gamecocks to within one at 20-19. Out of the Kentucky timeout, the Wildcats would go on a five-point skein to wrap up the first, 25-19. Pavan and Lauren Rapp both had a kill and combined for the set-clinching block. Mendoza had six kills and seven digs, while Rumely added three kills, four digs and 10 assists in the first.

South Carolina had an 8-5 lead in the second, but the Wildcats erased that on a four-point run to put them up 11-9. The Gamecocks tied it up at 12-12 after kills by Lawing and Kujundzic. Kentucky took four of the next five points, including two on Pavan kills, to take the advantage back at 16-13. A four-point string made it 21-15 for the hosts before sophomore Megan Laughlin got a kill to snap it. But the Wildcats would not be denied as Nzenwa had two kills in the final stretch to give UK the 25-16 set two win. Nzenwa had five kills in the frame on six attacks. For the second-consecutive frame, the Gamecocks hit .000, compared to .387 this frame for the Wildcats.

Three Gamecock blocks helped the squad take a 10-7 advantage in the third set. Kentucky called a timeout to stop a three-point South Carolina run, and it worked. Seven points later, the Wildcats had a 14-10 lead, with two kills and a block assist for Rapp in the stretch. A Laughlin kill and ace made it 14-12, but consecutive Mendoza kills put the UK advantage back to four at 18-14. The Gamecocks got within two again at 18-16, but the Wildcats would take seven of the final nine points, five on blocks, to take the set, 25-18. Seven Kentucky blocks held the Gamecocks under .100 for the third-straight frame.

For the match, South Carolina had more digs than Kentucky, but the Wildcats had more kills, assists, aces and blocks and hit for a better average.

Tennessee took the final two sets in a back-and-forth match to capture a five-set victory over South Carolina, 25-27, 25-22, 26-28, 25-16, 15-10, in Thompson-Boling Arena.

South Carolina got out to a 4-1 lead thanks to four Lady Vol attacking errors. The teams traded side outs till a Laughlin kill sparked a three-point run to put the Gamecocks up 17-12. But the Lady Vols responded, getting four of the next five points to close the gap to 18-16 and cause Carolina to use a timeout. That break did not help the Garnet and Black, as UT fired off three more points to take the 19-18 advantage. Tennessee went up 21-19 before the Gamecocks responded. Annie Thomas sparked a three-point run that put the squad back up, 22-21, and forced UT to call timeout. Another hitting error by UT put the Gamecocks up by two, but Tennessee tied it up at 23-23 after a Fowler kill and a let ace by Goldman. Flynn and Fowler blocked a Gamecock attack to give the Lady Vols a chance to win the first set. But Kujundzic ended that thought with her kill. Denson-Dorman gave South Carolina the chance to end the frame with her second kill, and Kujundzic did that with her shot off the Tennessee block.

The Gamecocks got out to an 11-6 to start the second set. Tennessee responded immediately, taking 11 of the next 12 points to take a 17-11 advantage. Four Lady Vol blocks helped get the Big Orange back on top. Another UT three-point string put the Lady Vols up, 22-15. A Carolina Gamecock service error put Tennessee at set point, but the Gamecocks would make a stand there. Lawing made three kills in a five-point skinn to close the gap to 24-22, but Fowler wrapped it up with her fourth kill of the frame.

The third set started out in Tennessee's favor, as the Lady Vols got out to 5-1 and 9-4 leads. The Gamecocks got it back to 10-7 after kills by Thomas and Lawing, but the Lady Vols got four of the next five points to go back up, 14-8. South Carolina got back to within three at 15-12 after two kills by Kujundzic in a five-point stretch. Two Clarke kills helped Tennessee push the lead out to 19-13. South Carolina would respond after trading side outs till 21-15, getting kills by Thomas and Lawing to close to within three and force a UT timeout. Another Tennessee error made it 21-19, but Flynn had a kill to stop the run at four. The squads swapped points till Tennessee's set-point chance at 24-21, where a Lady Vol service error gave South Carolina new life. A Kujundzic kill made it a one-point frame, and Laughlin followed to tie it up at 24-24. Clarke put UT back to set point with her cross-court smash. Thomas tied it up again with her kill, and a UT blocking error gave South Carolina a set point chance. Clarke stopped that with her kill, but Lawing put the Gamecocks on the precipice again with a kill. A Tennessee error wrapped up the frame for the Garnet and Black at 28-26. Kujundzic and Thomas both had six kills in the third.

Tennessee ran out to a 6-2 lead thanks to four kills by Fowler. A three-point Gamecock run brought South Carolina to within one. But a pair of two-error stretches by the Garnet and Black put Tennessee back up, 11-7, and forced the Gamecocks to use their final timeout. But the Lady Vol run continued till 18-8, after Tennessee took nine of 10 points in a stretch. The Gamecocks got within seven at 21-14, but that would be as close as they could get. Two Fowler kills, including one from the back row, gave Tennessee the 25-16 win.

Behind two Gamecocks errors, the Lady Vols took a 4-0 lead in the fifth set. But Tennessee returned the favor, making three different kind of errors to put South Carolina back in the set at 4-3. A three-point UT run, started by Flynn and Powe's block, gave the Lady Vols a 9-5 advantage. A block by Kujundzic and Tory Anderson started the teams trading points until a Laughlin kill and a UT error made it 12-10 for Tennessee. But a block by Alyssa Hilby and Flynn and a Goldman ace put Tennessee to match point. Powe put away the overpass to give Tennessee the 15-10 set five win.

Behind solid efforts from all seven starters that led to a .355 team hitting percentage, South Carolina swept past Alabama, 25-14, 33-31, 25-21, on Friday evening in the Volleyball Competition Facility.

Junior outside hitter Ivana Kujundzic had a team-best 18.5 points on 16 kills, three blocks and one ace, while also leading the Gamecocks (20-8, 11-7 SEC) with a .433 hitting percentage. Sophomore outside hitter Hannah Lawing added 12 kills, two aces and a solo block, while redshirt senior middle blocker Belita Salters added 10 kills and a .412 hitting percentage. Sophomore middle blocker Megan Laughlin contributed nine kills, an ace and three block assists. Junior libero Sarah Cline had a match-best 18 digs, while senior Petra Lorenzi added 11. Junior setter Bridget Denson-Dorman made 39 assists and a season-best six kills. Brooks Webster had a match-high 17 kills to go with nine digs lead the Tide (15-12, 8-10 SEC). Libero Amy Pauly had 11 digs.

The Gamecocks dominated the first set of play, hitting .435 in the 25-14 win. South Carolina ran out to a 9-2 lead and never let the Tide any closer than six the rest of the way. Lawing had five kills on seven swings in the first frame alone. The Crimson Tide did not help their own cause, making eight attack errors to ring up a -.077 hitting percentage in the first.

The second set was much closer after Alabama rebounded from an early 7-3 deficit. A four-point run tied up the match at 7-7, and more than two points never separated the two teams until late. An Alabama service error and a Kujundzic ace pushed the Gamecocks advantage to 23-20, but the Gamecocks gave the points right back on a service error and an Ashley Frazier ace to bring the Crimson Tide back to within one, causing the Gamecocks to use their first timeout. A Webster kill followed by a Buteyn smash gave Alabama the first opportunity to win the set, but South Carolina head coach Ben Somera used his final timeout to try to stop the momentum. It worked, as Lawing's cross-court shot found the floor to tie things up at 24-24. Alabama would get two more shots at set point, first after a Webster kill and later after a South Carolina hitting error. But a service error and a Salters kill dashed the Crimson Tide's hopes. The Gamecocks would then get five tries at set point before coming through, as Lawing rejected a shot to end the frame at 33-31 in favor of the Garnet and Black. Both teams hit extremely well in the frame, with South Carolina just edging past Alabama, .373 to .362.

In the third frame, South Carolina used a three-point run to take an 11-7 advantage. Kujundzic and Denson-Dorman both had kills in the stretch. Alabama came right back with three points of their own, but a service error kept the Tide from tying up the set. South Carolina stayed one step ahead until a Webster kill and a Gamecock attack error knotted up the frame at 19-19. After trading side outs, the Gamecocks pulled it together, getting kills from Kujundzic and Denson-Dorman in a four-point stretch to get to set point. A Carolina service error extended the match a point, but Alabama gave it right back with a service error of its own to end the final frame, 25-21. Kujundzic had six kills, while Cline had six digs and Lorenzi five for the Gamecocks in the final set.

South Carolina held advantages in hitting percentage, assists, kills and digs, while the Crimson Tide had more aces and blocks than the Gamecocks. With the win, South Carolina earned its first season sweep over Alabama since 2002.

GAMECOCKS CAPTURE SEC COACHES BEACH VOLLEYBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

South Carolina took home the Commissioner's Trophy from the second SEC Coaches Beach Volleyball Championship, held on Siesta Key near Sarasota, Fla.

The Gamecocks boasted of finalists in the top two brackets, including the winners in the silver bracket, Bridget Denson-Dorman and Ivana Kujundzic. They swept through pool play before blasting their way to the finals with wins of 21-8, 21-12 and 21-8. In the finals, the seniors defeated Georgia's duo of Kathleen Gates and Valentina Gonzalez, 21-19. Also in the silver bracket, Megan Laughlin and Lindsey Roy made the semifinals after going 4-2 in their pool to finish second. The pairing won their first-round match in the silver bracket by four and the second-round encounter by six before meeting the buzzsaw of Denson-Dorman and Kujundzic.

Last year's top pair from South Carolina, Jordan Bradosky and Hannah Lawing, nearly captured the gold division title. They tied for first in their pool, going 6-2, good enough to earn a bye into the quarterfinals. They trounced Georgia's Carla Tietz and Erika Clark, 21-12 to move on to the semifinals, where they dropped Kentucky's Sarah Rumely and Sarah Mendoza, 21-15. In the finals, the Gamecock pairing had an advantage late, but Tennessee's Kylie Marshall and Nikki Fowler came from behind to gain a 21-19 win and claim the gold title.

The freshman grouping of Olivia Ryder and Teresa Stenlund had a tough day on Siesta Key, winning their first set, 21-18 over an LSU team, but they fell the rest of their pool matches. In the bronze bracket, the pairing fell to the eventual champ, Ann Dylla and Briana Bahr of Georgia, in the quarterfinals.

The event also featured a few teams from outside the SEC in the Collegiate Beach Volleyball Challenge. Players from the University of South Florida won the gold and bronze brackets, while the University of Central Florida had a pairing claim the silver championship.

This was the second SEC Coaches Beach Volleyball event, following the 2008 offering in Gainesville, Fla. The Gamecocks ranked second in the first event, coming in just behind Georgia. The event is among the many sand events across the country held for collegiate teams.

The NCAA will vote this academic year on whether to make sand volleyball part of their emerging sports list for women. If approved, the national organization will codify rules for play and participation, with the chance of the sport becoming a fully-sanctioned sport with a national championship like women's rowing or women's bowling if enough teams participate.

VOLLEYBALL NAMED LIFE SKILLS TEAM OF THE YEAR

The South Carolina volleyball team was recognized at the second annual Gamecock Gala as the CHAMPS/Life Skills Team of the Year on April 20, 2009.

During the year, the student-athletes put in more than 300 community service hours on the year, helping with food drives and hosting free clinics to area youth. The squad also hosted a Dig for the Cure match for the second consecutive season, taking donations for breast cancer research to go to the Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure Foundation.

The squad took the crown for the second time since the award's inception in 2004. Volleyball became just the second program to earn it twice, following equestrian. A full slate of winners are listed above.
