SEASON IN REVIEW

Sweet Success

South Carolina made its ninth NCAA Tournament appearance in 2011-12, reaching the Sweet 16 for the fourth time in that span. It was the program's first bid since 2003 and the deepest into the event the Gamecocks have played since the 2001-02 squad advanced to the Elite Eight.

Head coach Dawn Staley reached her first Sweet 16 as a coach behind her team's dominating performances at Purdue. As the No. 5 seed in the Fresno Region, the Gamecocks opened the NCAA Tournament with their highest-scoring game of the season for an 80-48 win over Eastern Michigan. Taking on host Purdue, which was ranked No. 13 in the nation and the fourth seed in the region, South Carolina shot the ball well and applied its stifling defense to upend the Boilmakers 72-61 on their home court.

Through their first two NCAA Tournament games in nearly a decade, South Carolina ranked among the tournament's elite, ranking third in field goal percentage (.513) and sixth in field goal percentage defense (.328) at the event. The Gamecocks averaged 76.0 points in the first weekend of the tournament after entering the event scoring 60.3 points per game. On the defensive end, South Carolina held the nation's second-high scorer, Eastern Michigan's Tavelyn James, to just 11 points, less than half her 24.2 season average. Against Purdue, the Gamecocks locked down Courtney Moses, who drained nine 3s in the first round, allowing her to take just two shots from beyond the arc, neither of which she made.

In the regional semifinals, South Carolina took on No. 2 Stanford. The Gamecocks out-rebounded the larger Cardinal, but Stanford used its height to hit 52.8 percent from the field and capitalized on 25 free throw attempts to earn a 76-60 victory. Freshman Aleighsa Welch did yeoman's work in the post against the vaunted Cardinal frontline, pulling in a career-high 12 rebounds, including eight offensive, and scoring eight points in 22 minutes on the court.

"I thought we played as well as we could play," Staley said after the game. "My hat goes off to our players who fought so hard and gave every ounce they had. Our seniors left a legacy for us to emulate."

Senior Sendoff

The Gamecocks leaned heavily on the backs of five seniors, three of whom started their careers with Staley and, brick by brick, laid the foundation of the program. Going 10-18 their first season, the group doubled their win total four years later and put together the best four-year SEC win total since South Carolina joined the league.

Courtney Newton lost her freshman year to a knee injury and endured several other surgeries throughout the subsequent three seasons. Determined to finish what she started with Staley, she chose to come back for a fifth year after having earned her bachelor's degree in 2010. Even with modest stats, Newton was critical to the Gamecocks' success, starting more than half the games she played in her career.

Charenee Stephens is one of just 25 players in Gamecock history to pull down 500 career rebounds and ranks third in school history in percentage of offensive rebounds as nearly half her boards came off the offensive glass. A strong and physical post presence, she is also one of nine players to turn in a perfect shooting night in 10 seasons at Colonial Life Arena.

La'Keisha Sutton etched her name into the South Carolina record books as one of the program's elite guards. She is just the 11th Gamecock to record 300 assists while also scoring at least 1,000 career points. She is one of 11 players in school history to start 100 career games and holds the school record for SEC starts at 62 – every one of her career.

Ebony Wilson joined the Gamecocks as a sophomore and played in all but a handful of games since then. Her defensive effort made her a Staley favorite off the bench, for which she rewarded her team by playing a key role in several second-half comebacks.

Markeshia Grant donned the Garnet and Black for two seasons, leading the team into the postseason both times. After finding her stroke late in her junior year, her offensive exploded as a senior, leading the team with 11.1 points per game and earning Second-Team All-SEC honors. She is sixth in school history in career 3-point field goal percentage (.334) and holds a share of the school record for 3s made in an SEC game with her seven at No. 8/8 Tennessee (2/2/12).

Awards Season

South Carolina saw a program-record three players earn spots on the All-SEC teams in 2011-12 as senior guards Grant and Sutton and junior Ieasia Walker grabbed spots on the second team, as selected by the league's coaches. Sutton was also named to the All-Defensive Team, and Welch was on the All-Freshman team. It was the first season that three Gamecocks have been honored by the SEC and just the second appearance by a Gamecock on the league's All-Defensive Team.

SEC Tournament Flashback

The Gamecocks advanced to the semifinals of the SEC Tournament for the first time since joining the league for the 1991-92 season. After finishing the season tied for fourth in the conference, South Carolina was the tournament's No. 6 seed. The Gamecocks cruised through the first round, defeating Alabama for the third time of the season. South Carolina faced Georgia in the second round for the second-straight year, and the Gamecocks avenged both the previous season's SEC Tournament loss and a narrow Lady Bulldog victory earlier in the season with a 59-55 win in Nashville. It was a total team effort for South Carolina as only one Gamecock reached double-figure points. The game featured six ties and six lead changes before South Carolina clinched the win with six straight free throws down the stretch. Playing their third game in three days, the Gamecocks ran out of steam in the semifinals against Tennessee.

Sutton led the team offensively with 11.0 points per game at the event, while freshman guard Tina Roy was the surprise standout, adding 8.7 points per game. In her first games back after missing the last two regular-season games due to an injury, Welch was the team's top rebounder at 4.7 boards per game. Walker was second in the category with 4.3 rebounds per outing while tying for team-high honors with five assists.
