RUTQVIST SET FOR NCAA WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIPS

Junior Amanda Rutqvist will represent South Carolina at the 2013 NCAA Women's Swimming and Diving Championships, which will be held this Thursday through Saturday at the IU Natatorium in Indianapolis, Ind. Rutqvist, who is making her third straight appearance, is slated to swim in the 100 and 200 breaststroke events. Preliminaries will begin each day at 11 a.m., with finals taking place each night at 7.

CAROLINA AT THE NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS

The Gamecocks have now sent at least one student-athlete to 12 straight NCAA Championships and 28 overall. Carolina's best finish was a 10th-place showing at the 1989 national championships. The program has produced six top-25 finishes since joining the SEC in 1992, including an 11th-place finish in 2004. Former Gamecock diver Allison Brennan is the only Carolina individual national champion as she won the one-meter title in 2004.

2012 NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS RECAP

South Carolina came up just short of a top-25 finish as it placed 29th with 18 points. Diver Courtney Forcucci led the way, earning two All-America honors and falling just shy of a third top-16 finish. Forcucci finished fifth on the three-meter springboard, 15th on the one-meter and 19th on the platform. Amanda Rutqvist earned her third career All-America honor with an 11th-place finish in the 200 breaststroke. She also swam the 100 breaststroke and finished 33rd. For the second straight year, Rachael Schaffer just missed earning All-America honors after finishing 17th in the 400 IM. She also swam in the 200 IM (38th) and 200 breaststroke (44th).

THE BIGGER THE STAGE, THE BETTER

Amanda Rutqvist has proven time and time again that her best performances come during the biggest meets of the season. Rutqvist earned All-America honors in both the 100 breaststroke and 200 breaststroke at the 2011 NCAA Championships as a freshman. Earlier that year she became the first Gamecock women's swimmer to win a SEC title by claiming first in the 200 breaststroke with a then-SEC record of 2:08.56. She won silver in the 200 breaststroke at the 2012 SEC Championships and later earned her third career All-America honor at the NCAA Championships with an 11th-place finish in the 200 breaststroke.

REPPING THE SEC

The SEC has eight swimmers in the top 20 seeds in the 200 breaststroke at the NCAA Championships, including Amanda Rutqvist at No. 20. SEC Champion and Olympic medalist Breeja Larson (Texas A&M) enters the week as the No. 1 seed with a time of 2:04.48. Georgia's Annie Zhu is the fourth seed, while Texas A&M's Ashley McGregor (No. 6), Auburn's Micah Lawrence (No. 11), Georgia's Melanie Margalis (No. 13), Tennessee's Molly Hannis (No. 14) and Auburn's Lauren Norberg (No. 17) will also represent the SEC.

2013 SEC CHAMPIONSHIPS RECAP

The Gamecocks had a solid week at the 2013 SEC Championships, finishing eighth on the men's side and 11th on the women's. On the week Carolina won two medals, broke six school records and swam two NCAA automatic qualifying times. Junior Michael Flach made it to the championship final in three events (500 freestyle, 200 freestyle, 200 butterfly). He won silver in the 500 freestyle with a school-record and NCAA A cut time of 4:15.32.

However, the Gamecocks were unable to pull off an upset of the 13th-ranked Florida State men, the 21st-ranked Florida State women and the 18th-ranked Arkansas women. On the men's side, the Gamecocks dropped a 180.5-117.5 decision to the Seminoles. In the women's action, South Carolina fell to the Seminoles, 190-109, and lost to the Razorbacks, 223-77.

The victory was the fourth straight over Duke for the Gamecock men and the second straight for the women's team. McGee Moody

Head Swimming Coach Sixth Year at South Carolina

A proven leader in the coaching profession, McGee Moody is in his sixth season as the head swimming coach at the University of South Carolina. He and his staff continue to build the South Carolina program and strive toward the elite level of the sport through effective training methods and tireless recruiting efforts.

In his five previous seasons at the helm, Moody has overseen a successful stretch for the Carolina swimming and diving program. Last season the Gamecock women went 7-3, which was one of the best records in program history. The winning season gave Carolina back-to-back winning seasons for the first time since 1994-95. On the men's side, the Gamecocks went 5-4 to achieve back-to-back winning seasons for the first time since 1993-94.

Individually, Carolina had an extremely successful 2011-12 led by diver Courtney Forcucci. Forcucci earned All-America honors on both the one and three-meter springboards at the NCAA Championships. She won gold on the three-meter board at the SEC Championships, setting a SEC and school record. Forcucci also claimed bronze on the one-meter board. Amanda Rutqvist captured silver in the 200 breaststroke at the SEC Championships and earned All-America honors in the event at the NCAA Championships. Michael Flach, who took an Olympic redshirt, made the 200 butterfly finals at the U.S. Olympic Trials and finished eighth overall. Flach was the first Gamecock to make the finals at the U.S. Trials since 1988.

During the 2010-11 season, the Gamecock men equaled the school record for wins in a single season, finishing with a 10-1 dual-meet record. The Carolina women also finished with a winning record for the first time since 2002, posting a 7-6 dual-meet mark.

His first three seasons saw gradual improvements. The 2009-10 season was a bit of a rebuilding year, but highlights included freshman Michael Flach's bronze-medal performance in the 500 freestyle at the SEC Championships.

In 2008-09, the Gamecock women finished with a .500 dual meet record for the first time since 2005 and won five meets for the first time since 2002. The women also earned their highest SEC Championships finish in three years. The Carolina men, meanwhile, sent two swimmers - Nick Walkotten and Kyle Cormier - to the NCAA Championships and earned a 29th-place national finish, the best for a Carolina squad since 2005. Combined, the Carolina men and women turned in 23 NCAA provisional qualifying times and broke 14 school records.

It wasn't an easy beginning for the East Carolina graduate, but Moody made great strides with the South Carolina program in his initial season on the Horse-shoe. Despite arriving on campus only a month before the start of the 2007-08 season, Moody oversaw a successful transition as Carolina sent three swimmers to the NCAA Championships. Walkotten and Dominique Lendjel represented the Gamecock men while Christy Williams swam for the women.

Aside from NCAA competition, Moody saw even more success as nine Gamecock swimmers competed in the Olympic Trials. One swimmer, then-sophomore Shantelle McLean, represented her home country of Trinidad & Tobago in the 2008 Summer Olympics in Beijing. In addition, then-rising senior Nicholas Walkotten competed at the Short Course World Championships.

Moody spent three years at William & Mary, where his teams achieved 559 lifetime best swims, 301 all-time Tribe top-10 performances, 46 school records and 18 gold medals at the Colonial Athletic Association Championships. The Tribe swimming program also excelled academically. The women received Academic All-America honors in each semester under Moody's tutelage.

In 2007, Moody earned the conference's Coach of the Year honor after leading his women's team (8-4, 6-2 CAA) to the first Colonial Athletic Association Championship in the program's 80-year history with a record-tying 12 gold medals. In doing so, the squad swept the conference awards by winning Performer of the Meet, Swimmer of the Year and Rookie of the Year. The men's program finished with a winning record (6-3-1, 5-2-1 CAA) for the first time since 1998-99, and finished fourth at the conference meet behind a pair of runner-up performances and a host of bronze medals.

In 2005-06, the Tribe women's team improved upon its fourth-place conference finish in 2005 by taking second, passing George Mason on the final day of the CAA Championships. During the season, the women were even more impressive, posting a 10-4 ledger (8-1 CAA), to set the school record for conference wins in a season. In the conference, their only blemish was against eventual champion UNC Wilmington. The men also experienced improvement, achieving five dual-meet wins for the first time since 1999 and posting a .500 mark (4-4) in the conference. They also improved on their result at the conference championship, riding a bevy of personal records in the last two days to a fifth-place finish.

Moody spent four seasons as an assistant men's swimming coach at the United States Naval Academy. During his tenure at Navy, Moody coached the Midshipmen's first NCAA automatic qualifier since 1996 in addition to guiding numerous NCAA, Senior National and Olympic Trial qualifiers. His 200 and 400 freestyle relay teams finished the season ranked in the top 25 of the world. Moody also made an impact in the Navy record book, with his athletes setting all of the top-10 fastest times in school history in both the 50 and 100 freestyles. Building his athletes into academic success stories as well, Navy's men's swimming team was awarded Academic All-America honors all three seasons from 2001-2004 under Moody's direction.

Moody got his coaching start at his alma mater, East Carolina University. He was the top assistant swim coach for both men and women for the Pirates from 1996-2000. While working in nearly every facet of the program at East Carolina, Moody coached over 25 varsity record holders.

A 1998 graduate of East Carolina, Moody swam on the Pirates' varsity squad for four seasons, setting several freshman records and captaining the team his junior and senior years. Moody was also an Olympic Trials qualifier in the 200 freestyle in 1992.

Moody, who earned both a bachelor's degree in psychology and master's in sports administration from ECU, is an active professional in the swimming community. He also served in the United States Navy, attaining the rank of Lieutenant. A member of both the American Swimming Coaches Association and the College Swimming Coaches Association of America, he has served as the chair of the latter's Media Relations Committee since 2001. He and his wife, Monica, have four daughters: Sydney, Olivia, Lily and Whitney.
