"Gina told me to give them a little bit of daylight and I probably took it a little bit too seriously. We went out in the first 400 and I was planning to sit with them but then I got myself right in the front and no one was willing to go by me so I figured I might as well just take it."

On what mental toughness training helped her to prepare for leading 2/3 of the race During the race I dug down deep and was remembering all those hard workouts alone on the track with nobody around. I knew there were some really great kickers in the race, and I needed to get away.

Athlete - Northern HS

On what it took to win the girls high school mile

I feel like I've had a lot of heartbreak in running, but I just love this sport so much. I was surprised how fast it started out, and that threw me off a tiny bit. I am not very happy with the time, but I'm still just very thankful for the chance to run here.
