THE STANDARD OF EXCELLENCE

The Southeastern Conference, with its storied 74-year history of athletic achievements and academic excellence, has built perhaps the greatest tradition of intercollegiate competition of any league in the country.

The 2005-06 academic year was another memorable season for the SEC, as conference teams captured six national titles and six national runner-up finishes. Since 1990, the league has won 113 national team championships for an average of more than six per year.

Arkansas won the conference's first NCAA title of the year in men's indoor track and field. Auburn won both the men's and women's swimming and diving titles, and Florida won the NCAA men's basketball championship. Georgia claimed the NCAA title in women's gymnastics, and Auburn earned the women's outdoor track and field championship.

Overall, the SEC finished in the top two in 10 of its 20 sponsored sports and in the top five in 16 of the 20 sports. Six SEC teams participated in football postseason bowls with Alabama, Florida and LSU winning the Cotton, Outback and Peach Bowls, respectively. Six men's basketball teams were invited to the NCAA Tournament with Florida winning its first NCAA Men's Basketball Championship and LSU advancing to the Men's Final Four. Six women's basketball teams were also invited to the NCAA Tournament with LSU advancing to the Women's Final Four. An NCAA-high eight teams advanced to postseason play in baseball with Georgia advancing to the College World Series. With 159 teams advancing to NCAA postseason competition, the SEC continued to solidify its place as the nation's premier conference.

In addition to the six team championships, 71 SEC student-athletes garnered individual national championships, while 460 were awarded first-team All-America honors. Student-athletes around the league continued to excel in the classroom as well with 1,631 earning recognition on the SEC Academic Honor Roll.

On the national all-sport level, the SEC placed nine teams in the top 50 of the U.S Sports Academy Directors' Cup rankings. Florida led the league with a fifth-place finish. Georgia placed ninth, while Tennessee was 14th, LSU 20th, Alabama 21st, Auburn 25th, Arkansas 28th, Kentucky 33rd and South Carolina 43rd. Vanderbilt (64) and Mississippi (75) also finished in the top 100 of the standings.

VOLLEYBALL IN THE SEC

Year after year, the Southeastern Conference shows why it is considered one of the premier volleyball conferences in the nation, and the 2005 season was certainly no exception.

Florida captured its 12th SEC Tournament championship and made its 15th NCAA Tournament appearance while advancing to the quarterfinals. Tennessee made its eighth trip to the NCAA Tournament, falling to eventual national champion Washington in the national semis. Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky and LSU also made the NCAA field of 64.

In the decade of the 1990s, the SEC made stellar contributions in volleyball. The conference has sent at least two SEC teams to the NCAA Tournament in every season the past 16 years. An SEC team has reached the Final Four seven of 10 seasons in the '90s with the league having a team advance to a regional final nine of those 10 years.

Since the inaugural SEC volleyball championship in 1979, many changes have occurred in the conference with volleyball. The addition of Arkansas and South Carolina to the league in 1991 brought the divisional format to the sport with five teams competing in the Eastern Division and six teams in the Western Division. In 1999, the tournament format was changed to include only the top eight teams from the regular-season standings. The 2006 campaign marks another dramatic change for SEC volleyball, as a post-season tournament will not be played for the first time in 27 years.

Along with the popularity growth throughout the country, women's volleyball has also grown in the SEC. A benchmark in the growth came in 1995 when SEC volleyball was first broadcasted on SEC TV (FOX Sports Net South, FOX Sports Net Southwest and Sunshine Network) on a tape-delayed basis. For the past seven seasons, the coverage has grown to live telecasts of several regular-season matches. SEC volleyball will continue to enjoy live coverage in 2006 on SEC TV to the tune of almost 22 million subscribers in the conference's nine-state region.

Sophomore setter Petra Lorenzi played in all 16 of USC's conference matches in 2005. SEC teams will play 20 matches this season, as the league abolished its conference tournament.

VOLLEYBALL COMPETITION FACILITY

Large crowds can be found at the Volleyball Competition Facility on game days. The largest throng in history came Sept. 21, 2001, when the Gamecocks hosted Florida in front of 1,793 fans.

South Carolina's Volleyball Competition Facility opened for the 1996 season. It was completed at a cost of $4.6 million and features a seating capacity of 2,000. The building also houses the volleyball staff.

SHONDA COLE & USA VOLLEYBALL

Shonda Cole became the first South Carolina player to train with USA Volleyball in summer 2005 as a member of the National A2 Team. She did likewise in 2006, playing in the Pan American Cup in Dominican Republic against Barbados and Jamaica. Only 12 players comprise the A2 Team, making Cole one of the elites in college volleyball.
