South Carolina Notables

- South Carolina is in its 44th season of women's basketball tonight and its 10th under the tutelage of head coach Dawn Staley. The reigning national champion Gamecocks have won four straight SEC regular-season titles, three consecutive SEC Tournament crowns and played in five of the last six NCAA Sweet 16s.
- In the Dawn Staley era, the Gamecocks are 51-46 against nationally ranked opponents, though the number is skewed somewhat by her early "building seasons" in Columbia. Since the start of the 2014-15 seasons, South Carolina is 36-7 against ranked foes, including a 35-4 mark when toting a better ranking than its opponent.
- South Carolina has answered the critics who feared the Gamecocks would struggle to rebound with the graduation of Alaina Coates. Out-rebounding opponents by 10.9 boards per game, the Gamecocks lead the SEC and rank 25th in the nation in that category.
- The Gamecocks' offense has been built around constant ball movement throughout the possession. As South Carolina embraces the Staley philosophy that the ball will find who should shoot it, the Gamecocks average 17.1 assists per game on 31.6 made field goals per game. The movement has created the most efficient offense of the Staley era as South Carolina is shooting an SEC-best 51.1 percent from the field to rank fifth in the nation.
- Senior forward A'ja Wilson, espnW Preseason National Player of the Year, has long played her best against the best competition, and this season is no different. In 43 career games against ranked opponents, she averages 17.3 points, 8.4 rebounds and 3.1 blocks. In the Gamecocks' two games against ranked foes this season, she has 33.0 points, 10.5 rebounds and 3.5 blocks per game.
- The Gamecocks have been without senior guard Bianca Cuevas-Moore (knee sprain) so far this season, but the setback has allowed freshman Bianca Jackson more playing time. The daughter of two college basketball coaches, Jackson has added a steady 5.4 points, 2.8 rebounds and 2.5 assists per game to the Gamecocks' effort.

Duke Series Notes

The Gamecocks are 3-2 all-time against the Blue Devils with three of those game featuring both teams ranked in the AP top 15, as they are today. South Carolina won the only previous meeting between the two in Columbia with a 66-55 decision on Dec. 6, 2015, when the Gamecocks were ranked No. 2 and Duke was No. 14 in the AP Poll.

Duke claimed the most recent matchup, as the unranked Blue Devils upset third-ranked South Carolina 74-63 in Durham as the Gamecocks suffered a pair of tough-shooting second and third quarters.

The more iconic matchup in the Dawn Staley era of the series was the Gamecocks' previous visit to Durham on Dec. 7, 2014. Ranked No. 1 in the nation, South Carolina needed late-game heroics to hold off No. 9 Duke in a low-scoring affair. After trailing by four at halftime, the Gamecocks surged ahead early in the second half. The Blue Devils reclaimed held a 50-46 lead with 42 seconds to play. Tiffany Mitchell hit a tough 3 from the top of the arc with 19 seconds on the clock. The Gamecocks aggressively trapped Rebecca Greenwell on the sideline on the in-bounds play, stripping the then-freshman and calling timeout with 11 seconds to go. With four seconds on the clock, Mitchell drove for a layup that missed, but then-freshman A'ja Wilson reeled in the miss and quickly went back up for the short jumper that delivered the 51-50 victory.

Holding Home Court

The Gamecocks are 425-155 all-time on their home court, including a 183-60 mark in Colonial Life Arena. South Carolina is 118-27 at home during the Dawn Staley era and has lost just twice in its last 70 home games, including undefeated home seasons in 2013-14 and 2014-15. The Gamecocks have won 33 of their last 34 SEC regular-season home games dating back to the 2012-13 season.

Ranked Readings

Under head coach Dawn Staley, South Carolina is 51-46 against nationally ranked opponents, although that record is skewed by the early seasons of her tenure as the Gamecocks are 36-7 versus ranked foes since the start of the 2014-15 campaign. South Carolina is 17-5 against top-10 opponents during that time.

Staley's Gamecocks are 18-18 against ranked opponents in Colonial Life Arena after 14 of the last 15 such contests dating back to the start of the 2013-14 season.

Staying Power

South Carolina head coach Dawn Staley is in her 10th season at the helm after guiding the Gamecocks into the postseason seven times in her first nine seasons in Columbia, including the 2017 National Championship and five other Sweet 16 berths.

With a .713 (400-161) winning percentage over her 18 seasons as a head coach, Staley is 23rd among active NCAA Div. I head coaches with at least 10 years of experience and is the best among SEC head coaches.

Staley is the third-longest tenured coach currently in the SEC, and her 10.8 league wins per season is best among the group. During the Gamecocks' current four-year run as SEC champion, the program averaged 14.8 conference wins per season.

Rankings Review

South Carolina is ranked fifth in this week's Associated Press Poll, making it the 71st consecutive week the Gamecocks have ranked among the nation's top 10 teams. Dawn Staley's team is one of just three teams to have stayed among the nation's top 10 every week since the start of the 2014-15 season (61 weeks).

In that 61 weeks, South Carolina has spent 54 of them in the top five, trailing UConn's 61 such weeks and leading Notre Dame's 49 top-five entries.

Tough Road Ahead

South Carolina's 2017-18 schedule includes 12 guaranteed games against teams either ranked in this week's AP and/or USA Today Coaches Poll or ranked at the time of their game.

Gamecock non-conference opponents currently ranked are: Connecticut (1/1), Notre Dame (6/6 when played), Duke (14/16) and Maryland (15/13 when played).

Including the Gamecocks at No. 3/2, the SEC boasts five teams in this week's rankings – Mississippi State (6/3), Tennessee (12/13), Texas A&M (18/21), Missouri (19/18) and Kentucky (20/22). South Carolina will play Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri twice this season.

Drive for Five

The Gamecocks enter the 2017-18 season as the four-time reigning SEC regular-season champion, becoming just the second program to win four straight titles. South Carolina joined Tennessee, which claimed its fourth straight in 2001 en route to the league-record seven consecutive titles (1999-2004).

All-Around A'ja

Few players in the country are more versatile than South Carolina senior forward A'ja Wilson. Averaging 24.5 points, 11.1 rebounds and 3.4 blocks, she ranks third, 23rd and seventh in the nation in those categories, respectively.

Wilson is one of two players ranked among the nation's top 25 scorers and rebounders (Megan Gustafson, Iowa), and she is one of two players in the nation ranked among the nation's top 50 in points, rebounds and blocked shots (Bella Alarie, Princeton). Only five players in the country are among the top 50 entries in points and rebounds.

Unquestionably the team's "go-to" player at crunch time, Wilson strikes the on-court balance of being star and teammate with her court vision and unselfishness. She is the team's top scorer for the third-straight season, but never at the expense of the best shot on the floor. This season, as more rebounding has been needed, she has answered the call as well.

Wilson has also responded to her head coach's challenge to expand her skill set, working hard in the

SEC's active leader in double-doubles (36), rebounds (893) and blocked shots (285), ranks second in points (1,338)

Chance to become just the third Gamecock to reach 2,000 career points and the second to do it with 1,000 career rebounds

Scored in double figures in 98 of her career 113 games and been team's top scorer in 55 games

Career averages of 16.3 points and 7.9 rebounds, which rise to 17.3 points and 8.4 rebounds in her 43 career games against nationally ranked opponents

Holds school record for career blocked shots (285), setting the mark in just the fourth game of her junior season

What They're Saying...

"A'ja Wilson is going to be a beast. When I first saw her, I was actually taken aback by her size; I didn't realize she was going to be that tall. Then, immediately I noticed how agile she was, her ability to move at that size.

Obviously she's a good basketball player. She can put the ball in the hoop and all that good stuff, but her athleticism – that was very impressive." – Sue Bird, Guard, Seattle Storm and USA Basketball

"She's a woman amongst girls. She should be in the pros. She's just that talented." – Brenda Frese, Maryland Head Coach

"She's their money player, so we knew they wanted to get it to her. We just couldn't defend her, get the ball out of her hands. She's a great player." – Sophie Brunner, Arizona State Forward (in 2017 NCAA Tournament) off-season on ball-handling to allow her to rebound and immediately start the fast break and even run the offense from the point guard position at times. The growth in her game helps both the Gamecocks, as opponents will have a more difficult time locating her for double-teaming, and Wilson's preparedness for the next step in her basketball career.

Blocking Scheme

South Carolina ranks 11th in the nation with 6.3 blocked shots per game, which is best in the SEC. While the Gamecocks have been atop this category over the last few seasons, the formula this season is slightly different.

Instead of being dominated by two Gamecocks, eight different members of the team have recorded at least one blocked shot this season.

Senior forward A'ja Wilson leads a pair of Gamecocks ranked among the top 15 shot blockers in the SEC. Her 3.4 blocks per game rank seventh in the nation and lead the SEC.

Behind Wilson, sophomore Mikiah Herbert Harrigan is 15th in the SEC with 1.0 blocks per game.

They're Free, Take Two!

Built around an inside presence for the last three seasons, South Carolina retains its annual spot among the top teams in free throws made and attempted this season.

The Gamecocks are second in the nation in both free throws made (142) and attempted (201). They trail just Kent State's totals of 148 and 204, respectively.

Sophomore Surge

Preseason All-SEC Second-Team selection Tyasha Harris is looking for a sophomore surge, not a slump, in her second season with the Gamecocks. Challenged by her head coach to expand her game now that "the novelty has worn off," Harris aims at blending more of the scoring prowess she showed in high school (23.5 ppg) with the unselfish court vision she displayed last season when she was 14th in the SEC with 3.2 assists per game.

So far so good for Harris' goals. She averages 9.6 points and is fourth in the league in assists at 5.3 per game. Against #15/13 Maryland (Nov. 13), she narrowly missed her first career double-double with career highs in points (20) and assists (9). Six games later, she accomplished the feat, handing out 10 assists and scoring 10 points against Western Carolina (Nov. 30). Harris is the first Gamecock to post a double-double with assists since Samone Kennedy posted 10 points and 10 assists at Florida on Feb. 24, 2008. She became the first Gamecock to hand out 10 or more assists since Tina Roy hit that mark on Dec. 14, 2014.

Harris has also stepped up her game defensively, ranking leading the SEC with 2.9 steals per game. She has swiped four or more in three of the last four games, including her career-high six against Western Carolina (Nov. 30).

Land of the Three

Senior transfer Lindsey Spann brings solid experience and leadership to the Gamecocks' young roster, but the biggest impact the 1,000-point scorer from Penn State will have will likely be from 3-point range.

Claiming eighth place on the Lady Lions' career made 3s list, the 5-foot-6 guard is off to a quick start from long range, leading the SEC in 3-point field goal percentage (.550) and ranking second in the league in made 3s per gam (3.1). Those numbers rank 11th and 40th in the nation, respectively.

The Gamecocks have also benefitted from her unselfishness as Spann is willing to move the ball to find the best shot for the offense, not necessarily herself. She is also not glued to the 3-point line, shooting 55.0 percent overall, which ranks seventh in the SEC. She is second on the team at 13.6 points per game (18th in the SEC) and has scored in double figures in six of the seven games she has played this season.

Into the Light

examples of Dawn Staley's message to "trust the process." The 6-foot Newark, N.J., product redshirted her first season on campus, only allowed to practice with the team in the second semester. The next season (2015-16), a preseason hand injury kept her off the court until SEC play began. Still, Cliney worked and absorbed everything she could about Staley's offense and defense.

In 2016-17, she was finally able to participate in the full preseason, and her game was growing. The Gamecocks already had two stars at her position, but Cliney did not let that affect her competitive fire. She figured out what the team needed beyond just points, and she committed to excelling at those things. In any given game, she would provide timely points, rebounds, steals, assists – whatever the Gamecocks needed to reclaim momentum.

Now a junior, Cliney has stepped into the starting lineup, and the spotlight has only amplified how much more she is prepared to contribute. Staley has marked her as a "stat stuffer" because her versatility and athleticism allow her to impact the game in so many ways. Any single number may not jump off the box score, but she will contribute to nearly all of them.

So far this season, Cliney averages 8.8 points, 4.0 rebounds, 2.6 assists and 1.6 steals. She has three double-figure scoring games and four games of three or more assists.

Just Jennings

Junior transfer Alexis Jennings has strengthened the Gamecocks' frontcourt, providing a steady, physical presence in the lane. After averaging 8.9 points and 5.4 rebounds in her two seasons at Kentucky, the powerful post has elevated her play this season.

Jennings is third in the SEC in field goal percentage

(.655) and 20th in rebounding (6.6 rpg). Both her scoring and rebounding were on display early against the historically strong rebounding Maryland team as she picked up her first double-double in a Gamecock uniform with 12 points and a team-high 13 boards. She has four other double-figure scoring games this season, including a 25-point outing against St. John's (Nov. 25).

Steady Start

The daughter of two NCAA Div. I basketball coaches, freshman guard Bianca Jackson has shown all the poise and development attributed to such progeny. With that approach, the first-year guard has earned 23.5 minutes per game on the court early in her college career and assumed the starting position open with the injury to Lindsey Spann.

Jackson got her head coach's attention because of her ability to deliver solid play and contribute what the team needs when it is needed. She opened her career against her mother's team, Alabama State, with eight points, six rebounds, three assists and two blocks. Jackson was steady in a hostile environment at #15/13 Maryland (Nov. 13) and handed out seven assists in the rivalry game at Clemson (Nov. 16). In her first career start, she was equally balanced with seven points, four rebounds and three assists against just one turnover.

The Montgomery, Ala., native is averaging 5.4 points and 2.5 assists through eight games this season.

This is 30

With a career-high 34 points against No. 6/6 Notre Dame (Nov. 26) following a 32-point outing at No. 15/13 Maryland (Nov. 13), A'ja Wilson became the first Gamecock to record three 30-point games against nationally ranked opponents. The most recent outing against the Fighting Irish broke her tie with Shannon Johnson, who is the only other Gamecock to record more than one such game against ranked opponents.

With just 10 such games in program history, Wilson and Kaela Davis each recorded one last season, the first new additions to the list since Feb. 15, 2006. Those two games along with Wilson's first entry this season are the only road games on the list. Davis' 37-point showing at No. 7/6 Ohio State is the highest-scoring game against a ranked opponent in program history.

Here's a list of the Gamecocks' individual 30-point

games against a ranked opponent:

Great Gamecock Fans

With over 10,000 season-ticket holders for the third-straight season, South Carolina continues to lead the nation in average attendance at 13,723 and is the only program drawing at least 10,000 fans per game.

The Gamecocks have posted the highest average attendance in the nation at the end of the last three seasons, averaging at least 12,000 fans in each of those seasons, during which they boast two sellouts of 18,000-seat Colonial Life Arena.

Dawn Staley

Head Coach

10th Season at South Carolina Virginia, 1992

When three-time Olympic gold medalist Dawn Staley took the reins of the University of South Carolina women's basketball program on May 10, 2008, the Gamecocks' stature immediately rose not just in the Southeastern Conference but on the national stage as well. Nine seasons later, Staley delivered on those expectations with the program's first NCAA National Championship in 2017. South Carolina is one of seven programs in the nation to be ranked in every Associated Press Top 25 poll since the start of the 2013-14 season, and the Gamecocks boast six straight 25-win seasons, which include four SEC regular-season championships, three SEC Tournament titles, two NCAA Final Four appearances and three other Sweet 16 seasons, the program's first ever No. 1 national ranking and a school-record 34 wins in 2014-15. Staley's success has united every demographic in the state of South Carolina as the Gamecocks' fan base tripled over a span of three seasons, and three times led the nation in home attendance.

While her coaching career is blossoming, Staley is still recognized for her body of work as a one of the most decorated participants in United States women's basketball history. The Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame solidified her legacy with her enshrinement as part of the Class of 2013. The Phoenix Club of Philadelphia established the Dawn Staley Award recognizing the nation's top guard in women's Division I basketball in 2013 as well. Staley was inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame as part of the Class of 2012 and was one of the final nominees for induction to the U.S. Olympic Hall of Fame the same year. In the summer of 2011, the WNBA recognized her as one of the league's "Top 15," honoring the most influential players in the league's history.

In her 18th season as a head coach, Staley has amassed a 400-161 (.713) record, including her 228-81 (.738) slate in her 10th season at South Carolina. She has led her teams to eight 25-win seasons, a total of 13 postseason appearances and 69 weeks in the Associated Press top 10, including 12 in the No. 1 spot. Also a force in USA Basketball, she was named the U.S. Women's National Team head coach for 2017-20 after leading three other U.S. teams to gold medals – 2015 FIBA U19 World Cup, 2014 FIBA U18 Americas Cup, 2007 Pan Am Games – and serving as an assistant on the Senior National Team 2006-08 and again 2014-16, during which the U.S. claimed gold in the 2014 FIBA World Cup and the 2008 and 2016 Olympic Games.

At the helm of the Gamecocks over the last nine seasons, Staley has been named National Coach of the Year, a Naismith National Coach of the Year Finalist three times, SEC Coach of the Year three times and BCA Female Coach of the Year. She became the fastest coach to 200 wins in program history, needing just 277 games at South Carolina to do it.

Under Staley's leadership, four Gamecocks have collected eight All-America selections, two have picked up four SEC Player of the Year honors, two have earned SEC Defensive Player of the Year recognition, one has been the SEC 6th Player of the Year and three were named SEC Freshman of the Year. She has coached 10 Gamecocks who earned All-SEC honors 21 times, including 11 first-team selections, and five Gamecocks have been selected in the WNBA Draft, including Alaina Coates who, as the No. 2 pick in 2017, became the highest pick in program history, and three others who earned WNBA All-Rookie Team honors.

On Staley's watch, the Gamecocks are enjoying the most sustained success in program history. After posting back-to-back 25-win seasons in 2011-12 and 2012-13 for the first time in more than 30 years, the 2014-15 team broke the school record with 34 wins. South Carolina won more SEC games than the season before in each of Staley's first seven seasons, culminating in the 2015-16 team recording just the second 16-0 conference record in league history. Staley's 97 SEC wins are more than any other Gamecock coach, accounting for 60.2 percent of the program's total 161 wins over its 26 seasons in the league. She has delivered the only SEC championships in program history, lifting that trophy four times in as many seasons, and she has helped the Gamecocks to six of the program's seven top-four finishes in the SEC. Off the court, Staley's Gamecocks have been active in the community and thriving in the classroom. Every student-athlete who completed her eligibility under Staley at South Carolina has graduated or is on track to graduate, and the team GPA has been over 3.0 for seven of the last eight semesters.
