MAXCY GREGG TENNIS CENTER

A vital part of Columbia-area tennis for over a quarter-century, Maxcy Gregg Tennis Center has served as the outdoor home of the Gamecock women's tennis team since 1974. The 2011 season marks the 38th and final season for the women at the facility. A new tennis complex for both the men's and women's teams will be ready in time for the 2011-12 season as part of the athletics department's master plan for facilities.

Previously a city-owned, clay court facility, Maxcy Gregg was turned over to Carolina for its sole use. Maxcy Gregg features a team locker room, players' lounge, athletic training room, office space and seating for up to 700 fans. The women's tennis team also has access to four courts at the USC Field House over the winter months and during inclement weather throughout the fall and spring.

Maxcy Gregg has served as the venue for several major tournaments through the years. The Gamecocks hosted NCAA Regionals in 1996, 1999 and 2002. South Carolina also hosted the 2002 SEC Tournament. In the fall, the Gamecocks have typically hosted the Southern Intercollegiate Championships that on average feature players from over 20 schools in the region.

The Gamecocks' home courts have proven to be a crucial advantage during dual matches. Since joining the Southeastern Conference for the 1991-92 academic year, South Carolina has posted a 167-61 record at home, good for a .732 winning percentage. In SEC matches, the Gamecocks are 65-40 (.619). In 2007, Carolina posted an 11-0 mark at home and went undefeated in home league matches for the first time in school history.

NEW TENNIS STADIUM

In 2011, the Gamecocks will open a brand new tennis stadium located in the heart of the Athletics Village at the Roost. The Gamecocks' new tennis stadium features 12 courts with lights and scoreboards on each one. Seating is available for 750 fans with room to spare for standing room. The stadium has 400 square feet of court-side storage and 900 square feet of dedicated restroom facilities.
