LEAGUE COACHES PREDICT SOUTH CAROLINA TO WIN SEC

South Carolina has been predicted to win the SEC Championship in the 2014 SEC Preseason Baseball Coaches' Poll that was released on Tuesday, Feb. 11. South Carolina received five first place votes to win the title as well as nine first place votes to win the Eastern Division. The Gamecocks have won three league championships (2000, 2002, 2011), six Eastern Division titles (1999, 2000, 2002, 2003, 2011, 2012) and one SEC Tournament crown (2004) in school history.

Carolina has finished in the top three places of the SEC Eastern Division 17 of 22 seasons since joining the league. The 2014 season begins on Friday, February 14 as the Gamecocks host a three-game series with Bucknell at Carolina Stadium. The Gamecocks are nationally ranked as high as No. 7 in the country by Baseball America.

PRESEASON ALL-AMERICA HONORS

Junior catcher Grayson Greiner and junior infielder Joey Pankake earned Preseason All-America honors from multiple publications. Collegiate Baseball tabbed both to their second team with Baseball America tabbing them to their third team. Pankake also received honors from the NCBWA with Perfect Game naming Greiner.

Greiner played this past summer for Team USA and was a 2013 second-team All-SEC selection. Baseball America ranks Greiner the No. 24 best college prospect for the 2014 MLB Draft as well as the No. 2 best catching prospect in the country. He hit .298 with four homers and 38 RBI. Greiner also was the team's top hitter in SEC games as he hit .310 (31-for-100) in 27 league contests last year.

Pankake is one of the top returning hitters in the SEC and the country. A participant in last year's Home Run Derby at TD Ameritrade Park in Omaha, Pankake raised his average to .311 last year to go along with 11 homers and 42 RBI and a slugging percentage of .496. Perfect Game USA ranks him No. 30 on the list of top college draft-eligible players for the 2014 MLB Draft with Baseball America listing him No. 40 in the nation.

A LOOK CLOSER

Excitement and optimism fills the air as head coach Chad Holbrook and the Gamecocks enter the 2014 season. South Carolina returns an experienced group that features seven position starters, nine pitchers and 18 letterwinners from last year's NCAA Super Regional team. An ensemble of players with stripes on their shoulders coupled with a stout collection of newcomers is a recipe for what can be another successful season.

"We had a good fall," stated head coach Chad Holbrook. "I don't know if we answered all the questions that we wanted to have answered. We saw some really good play from some position players, some of our young pitchers were very impressive and I think some of our older guys improved."

Talent will be on display at Carolina Stadium again this year. Junior infielder Joey Pankake returns and is a second-team Preseason All-America selection by Collegiate Baseball and the NCBWA. Junior catcher Grayson Greiner played this past summer for Team USA, earned second-team All-SEC honors and Baseball America ranks him as the No. 24 best college prospect for the 2014 MLB Draft. Junior southpaw Jordan Montgomery is back in the fold as well after a solid sophomore campaign. Montgomery's 1.48 ERA in 2013 ranked second best among SEC pitchers and No. 11 in the nation. Montgomery was 6-1 in 79.0 innings pitched. Opponents hit just .222 against the left-hander. Junior outfielder Tanner English and junior first baseman Kyle Martin bring a wealth of experience and were at the top of their games last year near the end of the season as both were named to the 2013 NCAA Regional All-Tournament team. A pair of sophomore standouts also saw extensive action last year in the form of second baseman Max Schrock and left-hander Jack Wynkoop, both Freshman All-America recipients.

"I think offensively we have a chance to have a very good team," said Holbrook. "Max Schrock, Joey Pankake, Tanner English, Grayson Greiner, Connor Bright, those type of guys, Kyle Martin had a great fall, we feel very good where we are offensively as a team. From a pure talent stand point and ability, we have a chance to have a strong offensive club."

All those players figured prominently in last year's road to the super regional. The Gamecocks hit .316 (68-for-215) as a team in the postseason last year, fifth best among all 64 postseason squads and reached base at a .409 clip with a .442 slugging percentage, both those marks fourth best in the country as well.

Still, Coach Holbrook has indicated that defense and pitching is a key part of the equation to making a run at the College World Series and competing for a national title. As the staff knows from the 2010 and 2011 national championships teams, it is imperative to have success on the mound and in the field.

"The success of our season is going to be determined with how we pitch and how we play defense," stated Holbrook. "If we pitch and play defense, regardless if we hit to our potential, we can have a great year. That is my main concern. Can we play defense the way we have played defense around here in the past and can we develop some of the young pitchers and can they handle some prominent roles that they will be subject to?"

Position Players

Pankake and Schrock were mainstays in the heart of the lineup last year and figure to both hit near the top and in the middle of the lineup.

Pankake is making the move to third base this year and could see time in either of the corner outfield spots. Last season he hit .311 with 11 homers and 42 RBI and a .496 slugging percentage. One of the top power hitters in the country, he also competed in the Home Run Derby at TD Ameritrade Park in Omaha last year. Schrock came on late in the year to raise his season average to .282. He added six homers and 39 RBI as well and stole a team-high 14 bases. He will start the year at second base.

Joining both in the infield will be junior Kyle Martin, who is expected to start the year at first base. Martin was the NCAA Regional MVP last June and one of the top players of this past fall. A left-handed hitter with a left-handed glove, Martin looks to be in store for a big 2014 and could hit in the middle of the lineup throughout the year.

Coach Holbrook and the staff are excited with the team's options at shortstop as well this year. Sophomores DC Arendas and Marcus Mooney will see action early in the year and freshman Jordan Gore has shown promise as well. Mooney comes to South Carolina after a year at Palm Beach State College. He is the brother of former Gamecock shortstop Peter Mooney. Both he and Arendas have been stellar defensively and displayed confidence at the plate.

"(Our) defensive play did get better in the fall," said Holbrook. "We played great defense (in the Garnet & Black World Series) and we turned a number of double plays. Marcus [Mooney] can really handle the ball, DC [Arendas] made some nice plays. DC was close to leading our team in hitting for the fall. Jordan Gore has really played his rear end off, he's shown polish, he's made all the plays, he's on base all the time and he's swung the bat well. What I'm going to tell our middle infielders is be prepared to play all three spots, meaning second, short and third. I want them to be very comfortable at all three."

Comfort for Coach Holbrook also comes at the catcher's position as junior Grayson Greiner returns. A member of the U.S. National Team this past summer, Greiner is one of the top catchers in nation and a potential All-American behind the plate. He will handle the bulk of the work this year and should hit in the middle after showing improvement with the bat in the fall.

"Grayson is an extremely important guy," noted Holbrook. "We have to make sure we keep him healthy and fresh. There is no way there's a better catcher in the country at the college level than Grayson Greiner."

Equally impressive from a defensive standpoint up the middle for the Gamecocks is junior center fielder Tanner English. His diving catch at North Carolina in last year's super regional was the No. 2 best play of the day on ESPN's SportsCenter, one of many defensive highlights he had last season. Now in his third season with the program, Coach Holbrook indicated he is encouraged with the improvement English has made at the plate. That improvement at the plate could lead to him being the leadoff hitter for 2014.

"Tanner English had a nice fall," said Holbrook. "He walked 13 times, which is new for him. He tends to be very aggressive at the plate, as we all know, so he's learning how to be a little bit more patient. "I don't think there is a better center fielder in the country than Tanner English. The way he goes to the ball, the plays he makes, he is very gifted."

Joining English in the outfield is another junior, Connor Bright. Versatile as any player on the team, he will primarily play right field but can move to the other corner spot and play some infield as well. Junior college transfer Elliott Caldwell has fit right in from day one stepping on campus and is expected to be in left field. Caldwell had a tremendous 2013 season at Spartanburg Methodist College as he helped lead the team to the NJCAA World Series. He could also see action at third base.

"I think Elliott can have a big offensive year for us," indicated Holbrook. "He is a good all-around player that does a lot of things well."

Holbrook also has mentioned the sturdy play of freshman Gene Cone, who brings a spark defensively and will factor in, especially near the end of games with his plus throwing arm and decent speed.

Brison Celek is back for his senior year and is among the candidates at the designated hitter spot. Celek as well as freshmen Taylor Widener and Weber Pike will get some cracks at it.

"I like the mix of returning players and newcomers" said Holbrook.

Pitchers

The ace is back as junior left-hander Jordan Montgomery is expected to toe the rubber on Opening Day. Montgomery has a proven track record with 12 wins in two seasons of action as well as an impressive 4-0 career postseason record and an impeccable 0.59 ERA in those appearances. His finest hour came in his last 2013 start, a four-hit shutout in an 8-0 win at North Carolina in game two of the NCAA Super Regional.

"Jordan is one of the top pitchers in the country," stated Holbrook. "What he shows is you don't have to throw the hardest to be an All-American. On the mound he shows extremely important traits. The way he carries himself on the mound, the way he competes, the confidence he has. He leads through work ethic and the way he goes about his craft and in the weight room and in the days he is not on the mounds, the young pitchers have to see all the work and preparation he puts into it."

Also anticipated to rejoin Montgomery in the rotation again this year is sophomore left-hander Jack Wynkoop. Wynkoop won seven games as a freshman including a pair of outstanding back-to-back performances in mid-late April in victories vs. Kentucky and at LSU that garnered him SEC Freshman of the Week honors.

It is quite possible that a newcomer could join the two lefties on the weekend in the third starting role. Baseball America this past fall ranked South Carolina's recruiting class third in the nation, with the contingent of new arms being at the forefront of that class. Right-hander Wil Crowe turned down potential seven-figure offers to come to campus; he was the 2013 Gatorade Player of the Year in the state of Tennessee and a High School All-American. Crowe won a state title his senior year, so too did freshman left-hander Josh Reagan, who also picked up High School All-American accolades from Collegiate Baseball.

"As far as the third starter, there's a lot of competition going on there and that's going to continue to go on," said Holbrook. "Josh Reagan can make a case that he's been our most consistent pitcher all fall. He threw 20 innings and had a 1.35 ERA and walked one, so he has an idea of how to pitch. Wil Crowe was impressive as well, John Parke was impressive and Taylor Widener threw the ball very well in his first extended outing. We've still got some competition going on their and we probably won't definitely know who that third starter is until Thursday, Feb. 13."

Many of the questions with the pitching staff center around the bullpen as South Carolina must replace All-American closer Tyler Webb as well as veteran Adam Westmoreland.

"Last year our bullpen roles were pretty set," noted Holbrook. "This year they are not as we go into the season. That doesn't mean we don't have options. We love the makeup of the pitching staff, the depth of the pitching staff. The inexperience is a little bit concerning. How some react to prominent roles will ultimately determine the type of year we have."

Two veterans that will get a crack at innings are juniors Evan Beal and Joel Seddon. Both right-handers had a successful summer in the Cape Cod Baseball League with Cotuit. Sophomore right-hander Curt Britt returns as well, he should be a candidate for innings out of the bullpen. Redshirt sophomore Vince Fiori caught the eyes of the staff in the fall. Fiori and Kyle Martin are potential left-handed arms that the Gamecocks can use in some left-on-left spots. Parke, Reagan and Widener may also be asked to come on in relief for some important innings.

Several freshman right-handers will also be valuable options. Matthew Vogel may have the best velocity on the staff. He was a 2013 MLB Draft selection as well and decided to come to school. Tyler Haswell and Reed Scott had positive outings in the preseason and will factor in. Senior Hunter Privette is back and with the addition of junior college transfer Trey McNickle, the Gamecocks have a pair of sidearmers in the mold of former Gamecocks John Taylor and Jose Mata.

Junior college transfer Cody Mincey is one name that came up in any questions about the closer role. Also a product of Spartanburg Methodist College, Mincey was a big part of the success for the Pioneers and the team's run to the 2013 NJCAA World Series.

"If you base it off the (Garnet & Black World Series), Cody Mincey was extremely impressive at the end of the game," said Holbrook. "He came in with the bases loaded and nobody out and didn't allow a run to cross. He had a swing-and-miss slider and he competed. He showed a sense of maturity that we hadn't seen early in the fall. His last three or four outings (were) extremely impressive. It might be a little bit of a bullpen by committee as we get cranked up and we'll see who kind of takes the bull by the horn."

OPENING DAY FESTIVITIES PLANNED

The weekend festivities will kickoff on Saturday with a ceremony dedicating the home bullpen to former Gamecock All-American Michael Roth. Athletics Director Ray Tanner and Cocky along with Billy Moore, a long-time supporter of South Carolina athletics, and his family will unveil a plaque beside the home bullpen officially naming it after Roth. At approximately 11:40 a.m. a pregame presentation will take place and fans will get to see a special message from Roth.

Roth pitched for South Carolina from 2009-2012 and was a member of the 2010 and 2011 National Championship teams. Roth was selected by the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim in the 2012 MLB Draft.

Moore, originally from Bennettsville, S.C. graduated from the University of South Carolina in 1980. A member of both the Gamecock Club and the Garnet Way Cabinet, Moore and his family have generously given to the Garnet Way Campaign.

Moore will throw out a ceremonial first pitch and his daughter, Mary English, a new recording artist with MTV, will sing the National Anthem as well.

The weekend festivities continue before the start of the second game when the Athletics Department will dedicate the new playground at Carolina Stadium to Hay Fant Sparks. Athletics Director Ray Tanner and Cocky along with Sparks and his family will take part in a ribbon cutting ceremony.

A graduate of the College of Engineering and Computing, Sparks is a life-long Gamecock fan and, along with his family, has made a generous donation to South Carolina Athletics.

During a pregame presentation, the dedication ceremony will be shown on the video board.

Head Coach Chad Holbrook

Chad Holbrook led South Carolina to a 43-20 record and the school's 11th NCAA Super Regional appearance in the last 14 years in his first season as head coach. Holbrook directed the 2013 squad to a final national ranking of No. 12 in the USA Today Baseball Coaches Poll along with No. 13 by Collegiate Baseball and Perfect Game and No. 14 by Baseball America. It was the school's 14th consecutive appearance in the NCAA Tournament.

Among the 2013 highlights was a series victory against in-state rival Clemson, the seventh consecutive season the Gamecocks have won more games than the Tigers on the baseball diamond. Holbrook's team would sweep four SEC squads and claim six SEC series victories including a pair of wins at LSU, the only team to go into Baton Rouge in 2013 and claim a three-game set. South Carolina hosted a NCAA Regional for the fourth straight year with the Gamecocks going undefeated in three games and continuing a run of 27 straight postseason wins at home including a 16-0 mark at Carolina Stadium. Gamecock Nation flocked to Carolina Stadium as South Carolina set a school record with 5,835 season tickets sold. South Carolina ended the 2013 season with a total attendance of 260,605, third highest in the country.

The 2013 team raised its season batting average 19 batting points to .284 with a .375 on-base percentage and a .419 slugging clip. South Carolina led the SEC and ranked 18th in the nation with 52 homers. The 2013 pitching staff was among the best in the nation with a 3.02 earned run average to go along with a strikeout-to-walk ratio of 3.3 that ranked third best in the nation. South Carolina pitchers averaged 7.8 strikeouts per nine innings while walking just 2.36 batters per contest.

Among the top players on the 2013 squad was third-team All-America designated hitter LB Dantzler. The senior ranked third in the SEC in homers (15) slugging percentage (.617) and walks (42) as well as fifth in total bases (132) sixth in on-base percentage (.444). Dantzler led Carolina in hitting with a .322 average (69-for-214) and was drafted by the Toronto Blue Jays. Senior left-hander Tyler Webb, earned third-team All-America honors from Collegiate Baseball and the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association and second-team All-SEC honors after anchoring a bullpen with 17 saves. That mark is fifth highest in school history and ranked second in the league and seventh in the nation. Webb struck out 60 batters in 43.0 innings and pitched in 32 games on his way to setting a school record for career appearances with 110 on the mound with the Garnet & Black. Webb was selected in the 10th round by the New York Yankees. Sophomore catcher Grayson Greiner was tabbed second-team All-SEC at catcher and made USA Baseball's Collegiate National Team. He hit .298 (61-for-205) with 10 doubles and 38 RBI. Sophomore shortstop Joey Pankake continued his rise with a .311 average (69-for-214) with 11 homers and 42 RBI. Two Gamecock newcomers recruited by Holbrook garnered Freshman All-America honors. Max Schrock started 61 games at second base and hit .282 with six homers and 49 RBI with 36 walks to just 23 strikeouts and was second-team choice by Baseball America, the NCBWA and Perfect Game. Jack Wynkoop went 7-3 with a 3.09 ERA in 64.0 innings pitched on his way to recognition by Collegiate Baseball.

Holbrook's team succeeded off the field logging its highest cumulative GPA in school history with a 3.201 in the Fall 2012 semester. The Gamecocks maintained a high mark in the Spring of 2013 with a 3.050 GPA. The baseball team had 16 players named to the 2013 SEC Spring Academic Honor Roll. Among those were Dantzler, who was named 2013 CoSIDA Baseball Academic All-American of the Year. Dantzler was a finalist for the Senior CLASS Award. Senior right-hander Patrick Sullivan was South Carolina's male nominee for the 2012-13 Brad Davis SEC Community Service Scholarship.

Chad Holbrook was named head baseball coach for the University of South Carolina on July 16, 2012. Holbrook was promoted to the top spot by athletics director Ray Tanner after four seasons as associate head coach and recruiting coordinator for the Gamecocks. Holbrook came to South Carolina in July 2008 as associate head coach. Along with his recruiting coordinator duties, he served as hitting instructor, overseeing the Gamecock offense, including base running and the short game and was the third base coach. He also worked with the outfielders. Holbrook came to the Gamecock program after serving 15 seasons as a member of the University of North Carolina coaching staff. Holbrook was the 2011 ABCA/Baseball America Assistant Coach of the Year after the Gamecocks won a second consecutive national championship.

A tremendous evaluator of talent, Holbrook was named the No. 10 best recruiter in all of college sports by ESPNU & ESPN The Magazine in the publication's 2011 January edition. The list was put together in conjunction with three-dozen experts who were asked the question: Who are the top 20 recruiters in college sports? Holbrook was the only baseball coach on the list.

Holbrook's offensive prowess made an immediate impact on the South Carolina baseball program in his first four seasons. His guidance was instrumental in helping the Gamecocks to back-to-back national championships in 2010 and 2011 at the College World Series as well as a national runner-up finish in 2012.

Holbrook helped in the development of two-time All-America Christian Walker, who led the Gamecocks in all three Triple Crown categories in 2011 and 2012. He finished 2012 hitting .321 (77-for-240) with 11 homers and 55 RBI as well as a .450 on-base percentage and a .525 slugging percentage. Walker was a fourth round selection by the Baltimore Orioles in the 2012 MLB Draft. Walker was named to the CWS All-Tournament team for a third time. He tied a CWS record for hits also in a career as he notched 28 that put him alongside Dustin Ackley of North Carolina (2007-09), ironically also a player that Holbrook recruited and coached while in Chapel Hill.

Holbrook worked to bridge together a new crop of Gamecocks in the 2012 season as he molded newcomers Tanner English, Grayson Greiner and Joey Pankake into SEC All-Freshman honorees. All three would factor into Carolina's successful season. The group of newcomers was also rated the top recruiting class in the country in 2011 by Collegiate Baseball and No. 6 in the nation by Baseball America.

Holbrook played a key role in 2011 MLB supplemental draft selection Jackie Bradley Jr.'s Gamecock career. In 2010 Bradley was a All-SEC selection and College World Series Most Outstanding Player. That season, Holbrook helped to oversee an offense that peaked in the postseason with a .309 batting average in 12 postseason contests. Evan Marzilli was the team's top postseason hitter with a .419 average (18-for-43) with Walker right behind him at .389 (21-for-54) and Bradley hitting .348 with four HR and 17 RBI. Carolina finished the season with a .300 team batting average as well as a .392 on-base percentage. The squad's 734 hits were second highest in the conference with the team also tallying 298 walks, 14th highest in the country.

In 2009, Holbrook's first season, the Gamecocks finished with a team batting average of .310 on the year, the highest average in over nine seasons, along with an improved on-base percentage of .394 and a .528 slugging percentage. Carolina was fifth in the nation with 109 home runs. Among the players he tutored that first year were Freshman All-America Jackie Bradley Jr. and All-SEC selections, Justin Dalles, Nick Ebert, Bobby Haney and DeAngelo Mack.

Prior to joining the Gamecock program, Holbrook worked for 15 seasons on the North Carolina coaching staff. While at UNC, the Tar Heels made 11 NCAA Tournament appearances including four NCAA Super Regionals and three trips to the College World Series. The 2007 squad also captured an ACC championship, the first in Chapel Hill since 1990 when Holbrook was a freshman player.

Holbrook and his wife, the former Jennifer Hilliard, were married in August of 2000. They have two sons, Reece, who was born on May 4, 2002, and Cooper, who was born on June 14, 2004.
