MARK BERSON

HEAD COACH

33RD SEASON AT SOUTH CAROLINA, 417-168-56

34TH OVERALL, 428-173-56

Mark Berson, one of 11 Division I coaches ever to win 400 matches, begins his 33rd season at the helm of the South Carolina soccer program.

Berson has been at South Carolina from the beginning. He was hired to move the program to varsity status in 1978, and he quickly put Carolina on the map. He has gone on to mold the Gamecocks into consistent winners that compete for championships.

Berson now has a 417-168-56 record at South Carolina. He is second among active NCAA Division I men's soccer coaches by victories (428) and ranks as the No. 8 coach all-time in D-I history by victories.

Before coming to Carolina in 1978, Berson went 11-5-0 in one season at The Citadel, making his overall record 428-173-56, a winning percentage of 69.4 percent. In 2006, Berson became one of five active (at that time) Division I coaches and the 10th all-time to reach the 400-victory milestone when his Gamecocks defeated UAB, 2-0, in a televised contest at Stone Stadium.

Berson has made his mark on the college soccer world by taking the Gamecocks to 18 NCAA Tournaments, including 12 trips during the last 18 years. The Gamecocks have advanced to the second round 10 times and have four quarterfinal and two Final Four appearances. In 1993, the Gamecocks advanced to the NCAA Championship game.

Though Carolina has been independent during the majority of the program's tenure, the Gamecocks have captured a pair of conference titles under Berson's leadership. Carolina won the 1993 Metro Conference Championship in one of its two years competing in the conference. The Gamecocks joined Conference USA in 2005 and promptly claimed the league's tournament championship and automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament.

Besides making an impact in collegiate soccer, Berson's presence is also felt within the professional ranks. Former Gamecock Josh Wolff (1995-97) competed on the United States World Cup team for the second time during the summer of 2006 and was also an Olympic team member in 2000. Clint Mathis, a teammate of Josh Wolff during his time at Carolina, also enjoyed a celebrated professional career that spanned 11 seasons in Major League Soccer. Mathis was a member of the 2002 U.S. World Cup squad and helped his MLS team, Real Salt Lake, capture the MLS Cup in 2009. Mathis announced his retirement from professional soccer in August of 2010.

During the summer of 2002, Wolff and Clint Mathis (1994-97) represented the United States in the World Cup. Mathis also graced the cover of Sports Illustrated in May prior to the World Cup, marking the third Gamecock athlete, in any sport, to be featured on the prestigious magazine.

In January 2005, former Gamecock Brad Guzan (2003-04) made MLS history when he was the No. 2 overall pick in the MLS SuperDraft, selected by CD Chivas USA. Guzan became the highest goalkeeper ever drafted into the league. In the fall of 2007, Guzan was selected as the 2007 Panasonic MLS Goalkeeper of the Year. He received his first invitation to the U.S. National Team Camp in January 2006 and was selected to the 2008 U.S. Olympic Team that competed in Beijing as the starting goalkeeper. Guzan was also honored during the summer of 2010 with a roster spot on the U.S. Men's National Team for the 2010 FIFA World Cup in South Africa.

College Education: Bachelor of Arts in Journalism from the University of North Carolina, 1975. Master's of Education in Sport Administration from Ohio University, 1977.

High School: All-state (1970) at Summit High. Earned letters in soccer and track.

College Soccer: Letterman at North Carolina, playing one year at midfielder and three years in goal. Received UNC Educational Foundation Award. Academic ACC Honor Roll, 1972-74.

Coaching Career: Assistant Coach, The Citadel, 1976; Head Coach, The Citadel, 1977; Head Coach, South Carolina, 1978-present.

Family: Wife: Shauna (Hopkins) of Columbia. Children: Erin Rhea (23), Luke William (19).

In 2004, goalkeeper Henry Ring enjoyed a breakout season representing the Garnet and Black in the MLS All-Star game and starting in goal for the East.

Currently, two of Berson's pupils at South Carolina are playing in the professional ranks -- Wolf in MLS with the Kansas City Wizards, while Guzan competes with Aston Villa of the Barclays Premier League in England.

Berson led Carolina to a 113-39-12 mark (.726) in the 1990s, which rated the Gamecocks as one of the winningest programs in NCAA Division I soccer. In 1998, Berson earned the inaugural Independent Coach of the Year award after leading Carolina to the best record of all Independent schools.

Berson has also been honored as the National Soccer Coaches Association (NSCAA) Coach of the Year in the South on four occasions (1984, 1985, 1988, 1995).

Under his leadership, 17 Gamecocks have been selected to represent South Carolina in either the MLS Combine, the ISAA Senior Bowl or the UMBRO Select All-Star Classic. Included in that group are Mike Sambursky (2006), Josh Alcala (2005), Brad Guzan (2004), Tim Glowienka (2003), Jordan Quinn (2003), Joey Worthen (2002), Chris Morman (1999), Clint Mathis (1997), Billy Clifford (1995), Andrew Coggins (1991), Tommy Loeber (1990), Charles Arndt (1988), Doug Allison (1987), Bill Hency (1986), Warren Lipka (1985) David Burr, (1982) and Paul Turin (1979). Two of those players, Lipka and Arndt, were honored as National Goalkeeper of the Year in 1985 and 1988, respectively.

Berson's success has ranged beyond the college ranks, as 48 South Carolina players have been drafted into or entered professional soccer since 1978, while Gamecock players have represented the United States on the U.S. Olympic team, the U.S. National team, the National "B" team, the U.S. Under-20 and Under-23 teams, the World University Games squad, and the U.S. Olympic Festival teams. Berson has coached 11 individual NSCAA All-Americans (Doug Allison, Marty Baltzeger, Charles Arndt, Clark Brisson, Tommy Loeber, Chris Faklaris, Rob Smith, Clint Mathis, Henry Ring, Brad Guzan and Greg Reece), nine individual Academic All-Americans (Peter Duitsman, Greg King, Jeff Love (twice), Pat Mihm, Phil Seidenberg, Loeber, Ruben Tufino, Sam Arthur (second team/third team) Jimmy Maurer (second team), and Soccer America's Freshman of the Year (Tufino). Duitsman was also named the Boyd McWhorter SEC Male Scholar Athlete of the Year in 1994.

Berson has been involved in soccer development as a coach, teacher and administrator on many levels. He is a U.S. Soccer National Instructional Staff Coach with an "A" coaching license and formerly served as State Coach for the South Carolina Youth Soccer Association (SCYSA), working in player development and coaching certification. In 1992, he was inducted into the South Carolina Youth Soccer Association Hall of Fame.

Berson also coached the U.S. National U-18 team in the Granatkin/Leningrad Tournament in January 1989, in the Soviet Union. In July 1987, he directed the South team to the gold medal in the U.S. Olympic Festival in Durham, N.C., one year after serving as an assistant coach for the South squad.

Berson has served on the NCAA South Region Advisory Committee for the NCAA Tournament and the Division I Coaches Subcommittee for the National Soccer Coaches Association. He has also served as a scout for U.S. Soccer for the South Region. His Carolina Soccer Camp continues to be one of the country's finest soccer camps for children of all age groups and skill levels.

Berson began his coaching career when he joined the soccer staff at The Citadel in 1976 and served as an assistant coach under Eddie Teague. He took over the Bulldogs' head job the next season and led The Citadel to an 11-5-0 mark and a second-place finish in the Southern Conference.

Berson, who is the dean of the University of South Carolina coaches, came to Columbia to start the varsity program in 1978 and promptly posted a 13-3-1 mark in his inaugural season with the Gamecocks. A year later, South Carolina finished with a 14-5-0 record and reached the NCAA Tournament for the first time. South Carolina has gone on to achieve a winning record in 30 of 32 seasons.

A 1971 graduate of Summit (N.J.) High School, Berson attended the University of North Carolina and received his bachelor of arts degree in journalism in 1975. Berson played on the Tar Heel soccer squad for four years, one as a midfielder and the other three in goal. As a senior, Berson received the UNC Educational Foundation Award and was a member of the Academic ACC Honor Roll. Berson earned his master's of education degree in sport administration from Ohio University in 1977.

Born March 16, 1953, in Hartford, Conn., Berson is married to the former Shauna Hopkins, a South Carolina alum, of Columbia. They have two children, Erin Rhea, and Luke William. Erin graduated from South Carolina in 2009, and Luke is currently a redshirt-sophomore member of the South Carolina men's soccer team.

BERT MOLINARY

ASSISTANT COACH/RECRUITING COORDINATOR
SEVENTH SEASON AT SOUTH CAROLINA

Bert Molinary begins his seventh season as an assistant coach for the South Carolina men's soccer program and his sixth season as the recruiting coordinator.

Molinary's responsibilities span all areas of the program, including scheduling, budget, equipment, alumni relations and academics. He also coordinates recruiting, helping to bring in a top-20 recruiting class in 2006, while in 2007 the South Carolina recruiting class ranked No. 10, the 2008 class ranked No. 14, the 2009 class No. 23 and the 2010 class ranked No. 16 in the nation according to CollegeSoccerNews.com.

The Gamecocks advanced to the NCAA Tournament in Molinary's first two seasons on the staff and captured the Conference USA Tournament Championship in 2005, Carolina's first season competing in the league.

Before joining the Gamecock staff, Molinary spent eight years as the head men's soccer coach at Hampden-Sydney College.

"Bert has experience in all areas as a former head coach," said South Carolina head coach Mark Berson. "He is a tremendous recruiter and a tireless worker, who has been a proven winner at the collegiate level."

During his tenure at Hampden-Sydney, Molinary compiled an impressive list of credentials, including a 94-57-6 (.618) overall record, with his victory total and winning percentage rating as the best in school history. Along with his record number of coaching victories, he guided the Tigers to a national ranking of 22nd in 1997, marking the first-ever appearance by a Hampden-Sydney soccer team in the national poll. Molinary served six seasons as an assistant coach at Hampden-Sydney prior to taking over as the program's head coach.

At Hampden-Sydney, Molinary coached a pair of NSCAA/adidas All-Americans, 25 NSCAA/adidas All-South Region selections and 21 first-team All-ODAC selections.

In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Molinary served as the Chairman of the Old Dominion Athletic Conference Soccer Coaches Committee, as the South Region Chairman of the NSCAA Men's All-America Selection Committee and as a member of the NCAA South Region Advisory Committee.

Throughout his career, Molinary has coached five players that have either been drafted or entered professional soccer. Included in the group are Erik Ozimek, a fourth-round selection by San Jose of the MLS, and Andy Kwon, a member of the U-20 National Pool and a third-round selection by Rochester of the A-League.

Molinary is also involved in coaching the South Carolina Olympic Development program. He served as the head coach for the 1992 age group in 2006-07, the 1994 age group in 2007-08 and the 1996 squad for the 2008-09 season.

Molinary served as head coach of the Columbia Patriots Soccer Club from 1990-94, leading the team to five South Carolina State Cup Championships.

A native of Columbia, S.C., Molinary played two years for former Hampden-Sydney head coach Mike Reilly at Spartanburg Methodist College. In those two years, SMC compiled a 29-5 record and in 1985, reached the Southeast Region Finals of the NJCAA Championships, attaining a final national ranking of seventh.

Molinary is a 1984 graduate of Spring Valley High School, where he played for the highly-respected coach John Boulware.

MIKE BABST

ASSISTANT COACH/GOALKEEPER COACH
FOURTH SEASON AT SOUTH CAROLINA

Mike Babst begins his fourth season as an assistant coach at South Carolina. He joined the Gamecock program in July 2007 following three seasons at Duquesne University.

Babst works primarily with the Gamecock goalkeepers, including All-Conference USA honoree Jimmy Maurer. Under Babst's direction, Maurer has earned numerous awards in net for Carolina, including All-South Region First Team, Conference USA Freshman of the Year (2007), and numerous C-USA Defensive Player of the Week awards.

In Babst's three seasons at Duquesne, the Dukes compiled a 37-18-3 record and earned at least a share of the Atlantic 10 Conference title in both 2004 and 2005. Babst also coached the 2005 Atlantic 10 Conference Defensive Player of the Year, goalkeeper Zach Varga, and the Dukes moved as high as No. 13 in the national polls, the highest in school history, during that season.

Prior to joining the Duquesne staff, Babst coached at Washington and Lee University. In two seasons at W&L, he supervised the goalkeepers, directed the offseason strength and conditioning program and assisted in all areas of collegiate coaching, including recruiting, scouting, researching and organizing visits. The 2003 squad was ODAC runner-up, while Babst helped secure one All-American in each recruiting class while he was there.

Babst played goalkeeper collegiately at Boston College from 1996-1999. He holds his NSCAA Advanced National License and a level two goalkeeper certification. The Pittsburgh, Pa., native owns a bachelor's degree in economics and marketing from Boston College (1999) and law degree from the University of Pittsburgh (2007).
