South Carolina earned its 15th straight trip to the NCAA Regional as the 2014 team finished 44-18 and finished ranked as high as No. 22 by the USA Today coaches' poll. South Carolina went 18-12 in the SEC and is one of only two schools in the conference to finish among the top four teams in the league in both 2013 and 2014 and one of four schools in the SEC to win at least 40 games in both 2013 and 2014. South Carolina is also one of only nine schools in the nation to host a NCAA Regional in 2013 and 2014.

South Carolina won the NCAA Division I Baseball Championship in 2010 and 2011 at the College World Series. South Carolina has 11 College World Series appearances, including six in the last 13 years. The Gamecocks own the second-highest win total in the nation in the last 15 years (2000 to the present) with a 713-289 record. South Carolina is one of five schools to appear in the NCAA Regional every season in the last 15 years, including 11 NCAA Super Regional appearances in that span, one of only two schools to accomplish the feat.

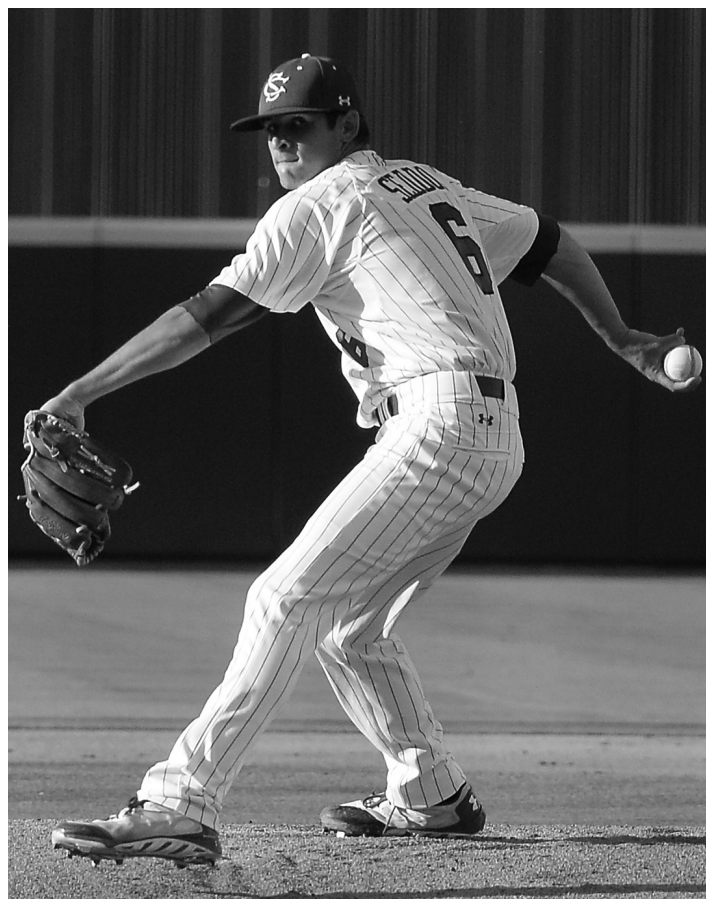

Grayson Greiner earned second-team All-America honors from Baseball America. Greiner, a 3rd round MLB Draft pick by the Detroit Tigers, played in 60 games with 58 starts, hit .311 (66-for-212) with 39 runs scored, 50 RBI, 13 doubles and eight homers, also a .389 on-base percentage and a .486 slugging mark.

Greiner was named the 2013-14 USC Co-Male Student-Athlete of the Year alongside Gamecock football/basketball standout Bruce Ellington. Greiner was recognized in the baseball circles as well as he was a semifinalist for the Johnny Bench Award for the top catcher in college baseball and was on USA Baseball's Midseason Watch List for the Golden Spikes Award. Greiner earned SEC All-Defensive team honors fielding .995 with just two errors. He was also named to the CoSIDA Academic All-America second team.

Greiner hit a team-best .327 (37-for-113) in league games with four homers and 24 RBI vs. SEC teams. Greiner was named SEC Player of the Week on March 31 after his play in the Tennessee series. Greiner hit a walk-off grand slam with two outs in the bottom of the 9th inning to lift South Carolina to a 9-6 win over Tennessee. His play along with Jordan Gore's walk-off homer was No. 1 on ESPN's SportsCenter's Top 10 Plays of the Day.

Greiner's career .994 fielding percentage is the best percentage by a Gamecock catcher in school history (1168 PO, 97 A, 7 E).

Right-handed pitcher Joel Seddon earned second-team All-America honors from the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA).

Seddon, an 11th round MLB Draft pick by the Oakland Athletics, went 3-2 with an SEC-leading 14 saves and a 1.66 ERA in 48.2 innings with 59 strikeouts. He allowed just five runs, four earned, in 26 relief appearances this year. Opponents hit .213 against him.

Right-handed pitcher Wil Crowe picked up Freshman All-America accolades from Baseball America and Collegiate Baseball. In his first season, Crowe went 8-3 in 15 starts with a 2.75 ERA in 91.2 innings pitched.

Crowe allowed just 32 runs, 28 earned, on 76 hits with 19 walks and 59 strikeouts. Crowe was strong in his last start with the Garnet and Black as he pitched four-hit complete game shutout in a 9-0 win vs. Campbell in the NCAA Regional that earned him All-Tournament Team honors. Crowe was also honored by the SEC twice as SEC Pitcher of the Week and SEC Freshman of the Week.

Joey Pankake was selected by the Detroit Tigers in the 7th round of the 2014 MLB Draft. Pankake became the 26th player in school history to tally 200 or more hits. He finished his career with 204 hits in the Garnet & Black.

Pankake started 58 games in 2014 and hit .303 (67-for-221) with a team-high 52 runs scored, 11 doubles, five homers and 31 RBI as well as a .394 on-base percentage with 30 walks to 21 strikeouts. Pankake hit an identical .303 (36-for-119) in SEC games, second-best on the team with 18 RBI and 19 runs scored. Pankake earned SEC All-Defensive team honors at third base as well.

Left-handed pitcher Jordan Montgomery was selected by the New York Yankees in the 4th round of the 2014 MLB Draft. Montgomery was the No. 122 overall selection.

In 2014, Montgomery became one of 22 pitchers in South Carolina history with 20 or more wins as he has posted a 20-7 record in his Gamecock career. He led the way on the pitching staff with a 8-5 record and a 3.42 ERA in a team-high 100 innings pitched. He struck out a team-high 95 batters and opponents batted .244 against him.

Montgomery was very successful in the postseason for the Gamecocks. He compiled a career postseason record of 5-0 with a 0.93 ERA in five postseason starts, surrendering just four runs on 20 hits in 38.2 innings. He allowed just three walks while fanning 35 batters in wins over Clemson and Arkansas in 2012, Liberty and North Carolina in 2013 and Campbell in 2014.

Tanner English was selected by the Minnesota Twins in the 11th round of the 2014 MLB Draft.

English manned the center field position the entire year starting all 62 games. English hit .284 (61-for-215) with 30 runs scored, nine doubles, a triple, a homer and 25 RBI. He owned a .349 on-base percentage and led the team with 21 stolen bases. He was named to the SEC All-Defensive team.

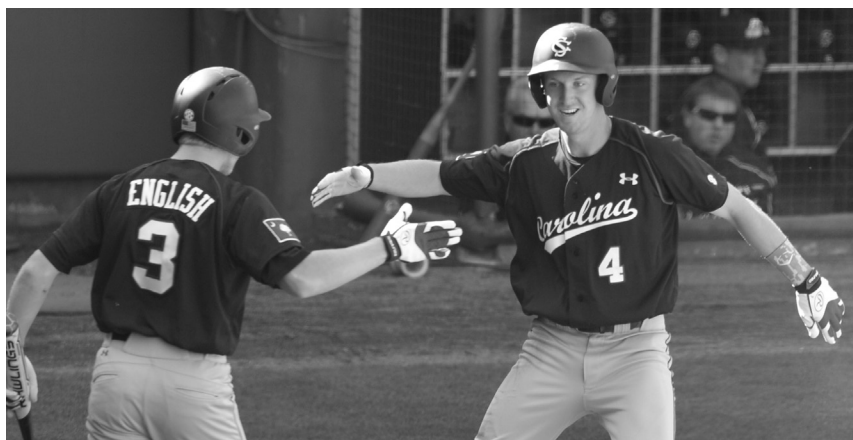

Among the highlights in 2014 included a series sweep of instate rival Clemson. South Carolina has won 23 of the last 31 games between the two schools dating back to the 2007 regular season. The Gamecocks would claim six SEC series including a pair of wins at eventual national champion Vanderbilt as well as a series victory vs. CWS participant Ole Miss.

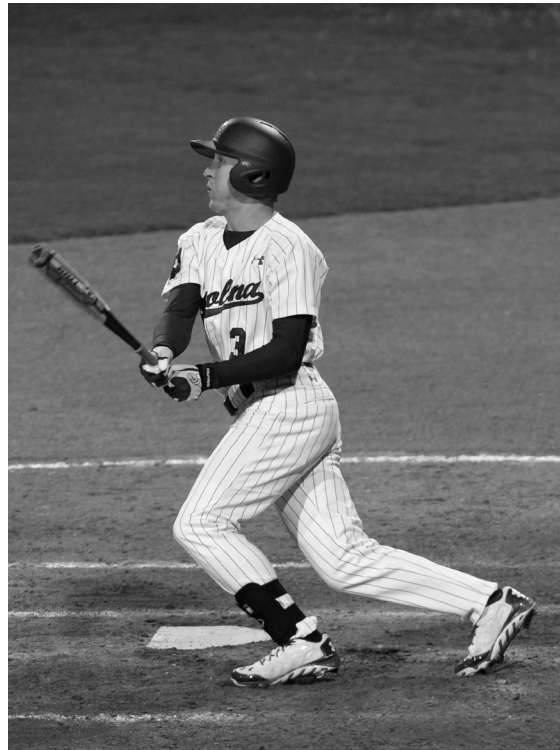

Grayson Greiner won the Tom Price award as the MVP for South Carolina in the weekend series vs. Clemson. Greiner hit .400 (4-for-10) for the weekend with four runs scored. His grand slam homer helped lift South Carolina to a 9-6 win. He had a team-high four walks on the weekend as well

Elliott Caldwell scored a run in the 10-2 win over Clemson at Fluor Field.

Connor Bright and Tanner English celebrate a run in the 10-2 win at Fluor Field.

Tanner English hit a solo home run in the 9-6 win in the series opener over the Tigers. He followed that up with a RBI in the 10-2 win the next day and drove in two runs in the top of the ninth inning with a game-winning double in the 5-3 come-from-behind win over the Tigers to help the Gamecocks sweep the series.

Kyle Martin started all 62 games and was the Gamecocks' leading hitter in 2014 with a .336 average (82-for-244) with 35 runs scored, 11 doubles, five homers and 38 RBI. Martin led the Gamecocks with 24 multi-hit games.

Martin was selected in the 20th round of the MLB Draft by the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim, but elected to return to South Carolina for the 2015 season.

Jack Wynkoop won seven games and posted a 2.86 ERA in 88.0 innings pitched with 58 strikeouts and just 10 walks.

South Carolina swept a doubleheader to take the series against Ole Miss. Carolina rallied from three runs down with two outs in the bottom of the ninth inning of game one to defeat Ole Miss 5-4 in 10 innings. A two-out RBI single by Connor Bright and a two-run homer by pinch hitter Max Schrock tied it in the ninth with pinch hitter Brison Celek winning it for the Gamecocks in the 10th frame with a RBI single.

Tied 4-4, Grayson Greiner led off the bottom of the 10th with a single and a sacrifice bunt by Jordan Gore moved him into scoring position, Celek knocked a RBI single to right field scoring Greiner and sealing the victory.

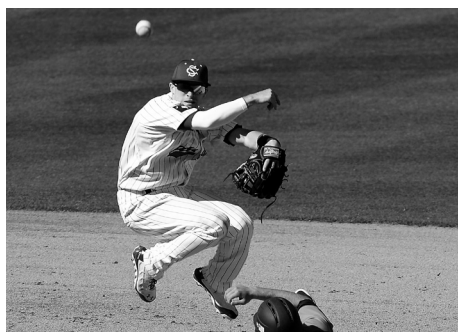

The Gamecocks would defeat Ole Miss 3-1 in the nightcap to take the series.

The 2014 Gamecocks led the SEC with a 2.43 earned run average that ranked ninth in the nation. That ERA was the best by a Gamecock pitching staff in the last 39 seasons. The pitching staff was among the best in the country with 13 shutouts, fifth-highest in the nation, a strikeout-to-walk ratio of 3.03, sixth-best in the country and a 1.12 WHIP that was eighth overall.

Along with Seddon, the Gamecocks had top performances from a bevy of relievers out of the pen. Top arms included (clockwise): Cody Mincey (5-0, 1.04 ERA), Vince Fiori (1-0, 1.37 ERA), Josh Reagan (3-0, 0.36 ERA), Reed Scott (2-0, 1.94 ERA) and Taylor Widener (3-0, 1.79 ERA).

The Gamecock bullpen went 19-1 with a 1.61 ERA for the 2014 season. In 223.0 innings, the staff allowed 46 runs, 40 earned, on 159 hits, opponents batting .201. The relievers had 222 strikeouts to just 77 walks as well.

Despite being limited to action because of injuries, Max Schrock hit .299 (38-for-127) with 5 homers, 5 doubles and 20 RBI in 35 games played.

DC Arendas and Marcus Mooney manned the middle of the infield for a majority of the 2014 season. Arendas hit .271 with Mooney hitting .274 on the year. The duo was solid defensively and helped lead the Gamecocks to a .975 fielding percentage for the season.

Freshman outfielder Gene Cone and freshman infielder Jordan Gore came up big for the Gamecocks in their first season. Gore hit two homers including a walk-off in a 14-inning win over Tennessee with Cone driving in 18 runs and compiling a .371 on-base percentage in 30 starts.

South Carolina hosted a NCAA Regional for the fifth-straight year marking the Gamecocks as one of only two schools in the nation to claim that distinction. Gamecock Nation flocked to Carolina Stadium as South Carolina set a total attendance record at 305,564 in 2014, the first time South Carolina eclipsed the 300,000-plus mark. South Carolina also set a record with 5,957 season tickets sold.

South Carolina went 34-7 in 2014 in home games. Since the opening of Carolina Stadium, the Gamecocks are 189-39 for a .829 winning percentage, the best winning percentage at home among the 14 SEC schools.

Expectations never change at South Carolina and they will be no different as the Gamecocks enter the 2015 season. Six position starters are back from last year's team, the pitching staff returns 29 of the team's 44 wins last year as well as more than 64 percent of innings and the Gamecocks bring in a recruiting class that was ranked No. 5 in the nation by Baseball America. Entering spring practice, head coach Chad Holbrook is optimistic.

"This team has taken on its own identity," stated head coach Chad Holbrook. "It has a new crop of leaders; it has some familiar players, but an awful lot of new faces too. I think they have worked extremely hard, starting with Kyle Martin and Connor Bright, the senior leaders of our team. I think that they have pushed the other guys in the weight room and on the practice field to ensure that we put ourselves in a really good spot."

The 56-game schedule is challenging and each week will present its own test. Holbrook and the players know how difficult the slate can be including the 30-game SEC schedule and will take it one game at a time and step by step.

"You have to do that in the SEC," said Holbrook. "You are going to have some very high moments and some low ones, because of the competition you face, it is one pitch at a time. You can't get too far ahead of yourself in this league or you will find yourself in a not so friendly position. It is a marathon; it's not a sprint. You have to hopefully get off to a good start and play well, but you want to be playing your best baseball late in the year."

ON THE FIELD

A talented group of infielders features a mix of veterans and newcomers, who will compete day in and day out.

"I think the strength of our team right now is defensively," noted Holbrook. "We are deep and talented with the infield. I love the way our infielders have played. We have some guys that really understand how to play from a defensive standpoint."

Senior first baseman Kyle Martin elected to return to school after being drafted by the Angels last June. Martin started all 62 games last year and led the team in hitting with a .336 average along with five homers and 38 RBI. Junior second baseman Max Schrock returns after an injury-riddled sophomore campaign that limited his play in the second half of the season. The team's top two hitters, both Martin and Schrock are expected to hit in the middle of the lineup.

Junior infielders Marcus Mooney and DC Arendas both started 50 or more games last year and return. On-base percentages for both players last year were solid with Mooney at .380 and Arendas with a .373 mark. Both players can play second or short with Arendas seeing a lot of action this past fall at third base.

Sophomore infielder Jordan Gore had a productive summer in the Coastal Plain League with Florence and was impressive in fall scrimmages. The switch-hitter can play second, short or third base and could play a corner outfield spot. Freshman infielder Madison Stokes will also see action. Stokes spurned the MLB Draft and elected to go to school. He can play anywhere in the field.

"I have more than three good infielders, I've got five and you can only play three at a time when you don't count the first baseman," said Holbrook. "Kyle Martin is kind of solidified at first and Max Schrock has had some great moments at second. Jordan Gore is terrific, Marcus Mooney is terrific from a middle infielder standpoint, DC Arendas is very fundamentally sound. We are going to have to move some guys around and those infielders are going to have to be versatile if they want to play consistently. The other good thing about it is we can match up both right and left. We do have some versatility both offensively and defensively and it mainly starts with our infield group."

Power and speed is featured in the outfield. Sophomore Gene Cone was Coastal Plain League Hitter of the Year last summer at Florence and he has raised his game after coming on late for the Gamecocks in his freshman campaign. Cone figures to get the nod at center field and be near the top of the lineup on Opening Day. Senior Connor Bright returns to right field. Bright missed some time last year but hit .311 (50-for-161) in 42 starts. Seniors Elliott Caldwell and Patrick Harrington are competing for a chance in left field. Both players had productive falls and give the Gamecocks a strong right-handed bat near the middle of the order. Freshmen Clark Scolamiero and Jared Williams opened eyes in the fall scrimmages. Zack Madden brings speed and athleticism to the table and expects to bounce back from injuries.

"We will have a few new faces in the outfield with Gene Cone being right now the starting center fielder and some other guys still competing for the corner outfield spots," said Holbrook. "All in all if baseball is judged upon how good defensively you are up the middle, I certainly think we are very gifted in the middle infield and we are very gifted in the outfield, the way Gene Cone plays defense and Clark Scolamiero as well.

The Gamecocks will have to replace All-America catcher Grayson Greiner, who was selected by the Detroit Tigers in the 3rd round of the MLB Draft. Sophomore switch-hitter Logan Koch saw action in 20 games last year and has elevated himself both offensively and defensively. Freshman standout Hunter Taylor and junior college transfers Thatcher Coleman and Jared Martin are competing with Koch.

"We feel good about our catching situation even though Grayson Greiner is not back there," noted Holbrook.

A slew of players could find their way into the designated hitter spot. Alex Destino may be the leading candidate. The left-handed hitting freshman had a good fall and has shown signs that he could hit in the middle of the lineup.

"Destino is a very impressive young hitter," said Holbrook. As I sit here (before spring practice), it will be tough for me to take him out of the lineup."

Destino also pitches and could see time on the mound. Sophomore two-way player Taylor Widener and junior college transfer Collin Steagall have plus power from the left-handed side and will compete for at bats. Matt Williams also brings a solid left-handed bat with Weber Pike as competitive as anyone from the right side.

ON THE MOUND

Sophomore right-hander Wil Crowe and junior left-hander Jack Wynkoop highlight a pitching staff that is coming off a team ERA of 2.43 in 2014. Crowe and Wynkoop appear set to return to the rotation after the duo combined for 18 victories a year ago.

Crowe, a Freshman All-America selection last year, went 8-3 with a 2.75 ERA including a complete game shutout vs. Campbell in his final start of the year in the NCAA Regional and a win over eventual NCAA champion Vanderbilt in the rubber game of the final SEC series of the year. Wynkoop won seven games with a 2.86 ERA in 88.0 innings.

"It is very comforting to have Wil Crowe and Jack Wynkoop lead the weekend off for us," said Holbrook. "Those two guys are showing me that they can beat anybody. Out of those two, you're going to get guys that throw strikes, hold runners, command their off speed pitches and they're not going to beat themselves."

The third weekend spot is still to be determined. With a bevy of arms available, competition will continue into the spring to see who may fit best in that role. Coach Holbrook was quick to note that the third starter role may not be set in stone, even after the first couple of weeks.

Sophomore Taylor Widener could fit into a weekend starter spot, but the power right-hander could also be used in the back of the bullpen in a possible closer role. Widener went 3-0 as a freshman with a 1.79 ERA in 21 appearances with 38 strikeouts in 40.1 innings and opponents hitting just .170 against him, the lowest average by an opponent against a Gamecock pitcher last year.

“As a coaching staff, we are going to have to make decisions that will certainly impact the success we have initially,” stated Holbrook. “Taylor Widener, is he going to be the closer? Or is he going to be one of our weekend starters? Those are important decisions we need to make before Opening Day and that might ultimately determine what type of start we get off to.”

Junior left-hander Vince Fiori and sophomore southpaw Josh Reagan are returning pitchers that may be an option to start. Sophomore right-hander Reed Scott is an option also. All three primarily saw action in the bullpen last year and all were effective. Reagan was 3-0 with a 0.36 ERA in 25.1 innings, Fiori had a 1.37 ERA in 17 appearances and Scott went 2-0 with a 1.94 ERA and pitched 41.2 innings as well.

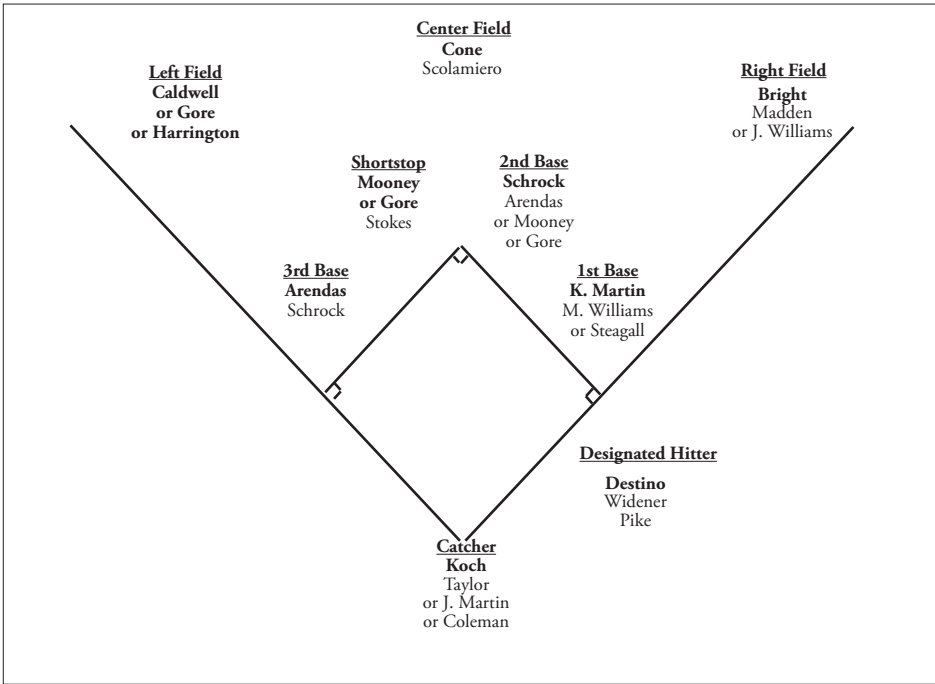

“I like the depth of our pitching staff and the talent of our pitching staff,” said Holbrook. “Some of our roles haven’t been defined, but I don’t think it is because of a lack of talent or lack of arm strength. We are going to ask some guys to take on some roles that they didn’t take on last year.”

Senior right-hander Cody Mincey figures to have a role at the end of a game. Last season, Mincey primarily served as the setup man to closer Joel Seddon. Mincey was as effective as any Gamecock pitcher going 5-0 with a 1.04 ERA in 29 relief appearances and a save. He allowed just four runs on 20 hits in 34.2 innings with 44 strikeouts and opponents hitting .171 against him.

Newcomers Brandon Murray and Clarke Schmidt possess gifted arms. Both right-handers figure to see significant innings in their first seasons donning the Garnet & Black. Freshman right-hander Tyler Johnson pitched quality outings in his first fall with the program.

“We have to make sure we put the right guys in the right spots,” said Holbrook. “Lucky for us, those kids that we are talking about are talented kids and we are going to ask them to pitch in important roles and play in important roles. While it might be new to them, based on what we did from a year ago we feel good about their makeup and we feel good about their talent.”

THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

MISSION STATEMENT

The University's mission is threefold: the education of the state's diverse citizens through teaching, research and creative activity, and service.

The University of South Carolina is home to more than 200 years of history and tradition, rising from a single building in 1805 on what would become the heart of the campus, the Horseshoe.

Today, the 11 buildings that make up the Horseshoe frame a lush lawn that is an irresistible gathering place for students, faculty, staff and alumni and the scene of many important university events.

And while the Horseshoe will always be the symbol of Carolina's proud tradition, the University's presence and reach stretch across the Palmetto State, with baccalaureate universities in Aiken, Spartanburg (Upstate) and the sea islands (Beaufort and the gateway to Hilton Head), and two-year regional campuses in Allendale and Walterboro (Salkehatchie), Sumter, Lancaster and Union. Along with Palmetto College, USC's online degree completion program, the campuses are building economic prosperity; fulfilling the University's mission of teaching, research and service to the state, and preparing future leaders in business, law, education, the arts, tourism, communications, medicine and the health sciences.

- The University of South Carolina's Columbia campus has 324 degree programs through its 14 degree-granting colleges and schools.

- The South Carolina Honors College is ranked the No. 1 public university honors college in the nation based on honors college factors by the guidebook, "A Review of Fifty Public University Honors Programs."

- The Moore School of Business undergraduate and MBA international business programs were ranked No. 1 by U.S. News & World Report in 2014.

- USC launched a new online degree completion program called Palmetto College in 2013. Palmetto College brings together the resources of the entire University of South Carolina system to combine the quality of a USC degree with the flexibility of online learning.

- Students at the University of South Carolina have earned 665 national fellowships and scholarships valued at $19.6 million since 1994. In 2013-14 alone, 52 students earned more than $2.1 million for academic study.

- University of South Carolina faculty generated $220 million in funding for research, training and outreach programs in fiscal year 2013.

UNIVERSITY HISTORY

In 2001, the University celebrated the bicentennial of its charter, but 2005 also marked a watershed anniversary: 200 years since the first classes began at South Carolina College, as it was then known. Carolina has endured the Civil War and Reconstruction, closings, and name changes. Permanently chartered in 1906 as the University of South Carolina, it grew throughout the 20th century and today is building its reputation as a cutting-edge research institution.

- USC is ranked in the top 5 percent of U.S. public universities in the number of national awards its faculty have received.

- The new Darla Moore School of Business building, the front door of the University's research district, and a hub for creativity, research and entrepreneurial activity. The school is pursuing a net zero status and LEED Platinum rating for its cutting-edge new home.

- The USC School of Medicine pioneered the nation's first medical school curriculum that teaches first- through fourth-year students how to use leading ultrasound technologies for bedside diagnosis.

- Twelve USC students received Fulbright grants in 2012 for research, study or teaching abroad, and the Chronicle of Higher Education named USC a "Top Producer of U.S. Fulbright Students." Another six students were awarded National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowships.

- The National Academy of Inventors has named USC as a top generator of patents, ranking USC 68th worldwide.

- USC has been recognized by both Kiplinger's "Best Values in Public Colleges" and Princeton Review's "Best Value Colleges."

- USC is one of only 40 public universities to receive the Carnegie Foundation's top-tier research designation and community engagement designation and is the only university in South Carolina with the Carnegie top-tier designation for "very high research activity."

- USC is one of only 40 public universities to receive the Carnegie Foundation's top-tier research designation and community engagement designation and is the only university in South Carolina with the Carnegie top-tier designation for "very high research activity."

The Gamecock Club, established in 1940, provides financial support to the more than 500 student-athletes representing the University of South Carolina. This aid is in the form of tuition fees, meal costs, housing costs, medical costs, injury assistance, and other educational needs. Gamecock Club membership is open to all alumni and friends of the University.

More than 18,000 South Carolina fans donate to the athletics department through annual Gamecock Club memberships. There are currently 47 local chapters throughout South Carolina and an additional 16 out-of-state chapters that span from Houston, Texas, to New York City.

The Gamecock Club is located at the Rice Athletics Center on 1304 Heyward Street in Columbia and is also online at GamecocksOnline.com/Gamecock-Club.

South Carolina Athletics' mission centers on developing championship-caliber programs in the Southeastern Conference and nationally.

The Garnet Way Capital Campaign is part of the athletics department's commitment to the University's Carolina's Promise campaign, which was publicly announced in November 2011.

Carolina's Promise aims to raise $1 billion, making it the largest capital campaign in the history of the Palmetto State. The campaign aims to sustain the University's educational, research, and outreach efforts and has already achieved more than $900 million of its goal.

To date, more than $219 million in campaign pledges has been raised since July 1, 2006, all of which will be used to improve athletics facilities.

The Gamecock Club can be reached at 803-777-4276 or www.GamecocksOnline.com/GamecockClub.

All numbers are current as of January 21, 2015.

Compliance Information

Dear Alumni, Fans and Friends,

As a University of South Carolina season ticket holder, alumnus, Gamecock Club member or fan, you are, by NCAA definition, a representative of University of South Carolina's athletics interests. Those who actively support Gamecock Athletics are an integral part of our program. Your support enables our student-athletes to train and prepare in quality facilities, compete for championships in the nation's top conference and pursue a college degree. Your level of support is vital to their overall success.

We value your interest and support, but we must remind you that an inappropriate action on your part can jeopardize the eligibility of a student-athlete, prospect and/or the compliance of the University with Southeastern Conference and NCAA regulations.

The NCAA has strictly limited the role you, as a Gamecock fan, may assume with regard to prospects and student-athletes. The following information is intended to provide you with a basic understanding of NCAA rules and regulations that you should know as someone who cares about intercollegiate athletics.

PROSPECTIVE STUDENT-ATHLETES

A prospective student-athlete (prospect) is a student who has:

- Started classes for the ninth grade (seventh grade in the sport of men's basketball), or
- Ever received any financial assistance or other benefit prospective students do not generally receive.

An individual remains a prospect until one of the following occurs (whichever is earlier):

- The individual officially registers and enrolls in a minimum full-time program of studies and attends classes in any term (including summer) of a four-year collegiate institution's regular academic year.
- The individual participates in a regular squad practice or competition at a four-year collegiate institution that occurs before the beginning of any term.

Remember a prospect remains a prospect even after signing a National Letter of Intent with the University of South Carolina.

EXTRA BENEFITS

The NCAA defines an extra benefit as any special arrangement by an institutional employee or a representative of the institution's athletics interests to provide a student-athlete or the student-athlete's relative or friend a benefit not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation. Specifically prohibited financial aid, benefits and arrangements include, but are not limited to, the following:

- An employment arrangement for a prospect's relatives
- A gift of clothing or equipment
- The cosigning of loans
- Providing loans to a prospect's relatives or friends
- Cash or like items
- Any tangible items, including merchandise

EMPLOYMENT

Boosters may contact a prospect to discuss a summer job ONLY after the prospect has signed a National Letter of Intent to attend the University of South Carolina. In addition, boosters MAY NOT employ or arrange employment of a high school prospective student-athlete until the prospect has completed all classes and graduated from high school.

Enrolled student-athletes are permitted to be employed during the regular academic year as well as during official vacation periods. PRIOR TO the student-athlete's employment, he/she must receive written approval from the Office of Compliance Services and complete the required paperwork.

Student-Athletes and/or employers may be asked to provide records related to employment. This information may include, but is not limited to, payroll records, tax documents and benefit statements.

Please note all employers are subject to NCAA regulations and penalties for any violations.

Compliance with NCAA rules is of the highest priority for our athletics program and institution. As a member of the NCAA, University of South Carolina is responsible for the actions of its alumni, supporters and fans. Even the best-intentioned action on your part may be a violation of NCAA rules.

The University of South Carolina appreciates its alumni and friends who strive for the highest level of ethical conduct while supporting the student-athlete's goals for both academic and athletic success.

Please contact the Office of Compliance Services at 803-777-1519 if you have any questions regarding what is permissible. Additional information can be found on the Office of Compliance Services web page at: www.gamecocksonline.com. Remember, "Ask Before You Act!"
