The Tavistock Collegiate Invitational, hosted by Texas Tech and UCF, is one of the premier collegiate golf tournaments in the country. Each year, 15 of the nation's top golf programs are invited to experience college golf's major championship. The Tavistock Collegiate Invitational rotates between Isleworth Golf & Country Club and Tavistock Group's sister property, Lake Nona Golf & Country Club.

The final round of the 2014 Tavistock Collegiate Invitational was a neck-and-neck race between Florida State and Vanderbilt, but in the end, FSU prevailed. The Seminoles combined for five birdies on the final three holes to pull out the victory. Rowin Caron notched four birdies on the back nine to help seal a three-shot win for Florida State. Vanderbilt's Hunter Stewart took home medalist honors by shooting 2-under on the final two holes.

COACH BILL McDONALD On the Tavistock Collegiate Inv.

"It's always a strong field and it's been a few years since we played down there. The golf course, as I remember it, is more of a second-shot-type golf course where the style of play needs to be very precise going into the greens. Typically, you have a little bit of wind in the Orlando area this time of year in the fall, so it usually plays pretty tough.

Most of our guys I don't think have ever seen the golf course, so Saturday's practice round will be very important to make sure we do a good job there preparing. I know the guys are excited about playing and it's going to be some great competition."
