SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE WOMEN'S SOCCER

The 2007 women's soccer season reaffirmed the SEC's prominence in the country. Six teams from the SEC were invited to the NCAA Tournament. Auburn, Florida, Georgia, LSU, South Carolina and Tennessee all made the 64-team field. The six teams combined for a record of 5-5-2 with both the Gators and Lady Vols advancing to the third round. The SEC now has a 41-47-8 (.469) NCAA Tournament record in 50 appearances.

SEC women's soccer began its 16th season in the year of 2008 deeply rooted in the national scene of collegiate soccer. Since the SEC initiated women's soccer as a varsity sport in 1993, the sport's popularity has grown through the country and especially in the Southeast. A defining point in the SEC's women's soccer success came in 1995 when FOX Sports South broadcasted the SEC Tournament Championship match between Alabama and Kentucky on a tape-delayed basis, signifying the first appearance of an SEC women's soccer match on television.

Southeastern Conference women's soccer continued to grow over the next couple of years as the conference made its name for itself nationally. In 1998, the SEC had its breakout season with Florida winning the conference's first NCAA title in women's soccer in just the program's fourth year of existence. The league led the nation with six NCAA Tournament teams that year, an accomplishment that firmly inserted the SEC as one of the major conferences in women's soccer.

The SEC also made bigger strides in its television coverage with three regular season matches and the SEC Tournament championship match shown live on the SEC-TV package. In 2003, the SEC Soccer Tournament moved to a neutral site in Orange Beach, Alabama, signifying the growth of the sports' popularity. In 2006, SEC-TV's women's soccer coverage was increased to four regular-season matches, in addition to the SEC Tournament championship match. That incremental growth, combined with increasing exposure on the national and regional scene, has SEC women's soccer looking to blossom to new heights in the year 2008 and beyond.

SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE NOTES

- The Southeastern Conference has had at least two teams advance to postseason play for 12 of the last 13 years. Ten of the league's teams (Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, LSU, Ole Miss, South Carolina, Tennessee and Vanderbilt) have made at least one NCAA Tournament appearance since 1994. Six teams (Auburn, Florida, Georgia, LSU, South Carolina and Tennessee) advanced to the 2007 NCAA Tournament.

- The SEC placed 17 players on NSCAA All-Region squads. The SEC placed six athletes on first teams, five on second teams and six on a third team. LSU teammates Michelle Makasini and Malorie Rutledge were named to the Central Region first team. Florida teammates Melanie Booth and Lauren Hyde along with Georgia's Carrie Patterson and Tennessee's Jaimel Johnson were all named to the Southeast Region's first team. South Carolina teammates Blakely Mattern and Darcel Mollon were both named to the Southeast Region's second team.

- Florida's Melanie Booth and Georgia's Carrie Patterson were named Second Team All-America by the NSCAA in 2007 and Florida's Lauren Hyde and Tennessee's Jaimel Johnson were selected Third Team NSCAA All-Americans. The SEC placed six athletes on the Soccer Buzz All-America teams. Booth and Patterson were second team members, while Kylee Rossi of Tennessee earned the lone third team honor. Stacy Bishop of Florida, Johnson of Tennessee and Blakely Mattern of South Carolina were fourth team selections.

- The SEC placed five players on the Soccer Buzz Freshman All-America team. Georgia's Kelli Corless was a first team pick. Georgia's Caroline Simpson, LSU's Taryne Boudreau and South Carolina's Brittney Rhoades were third team members. Dani Abelson of Georgia was a fourth team choice. Corless was also a Soccer America First Team All-Freshman Team selection.

- The SEC also had four CoSIDA/ESPN the Magazine Academic All-Americans, 12 Top Drawer National Team of the Season members and three Top Drawer All-Rookie Team selections.
