

2009 SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE WOMEN'S GOLF CHAMPIONSHIPS

April 17-19 • Cobblestone Park • Blythewood, S.C.
Hosted by the University of South Carolina

WELCOME TO SOUTH CAROLINA!

The University of South Carolina is proud to welcome players, coaches, administrators and fans from the 12 member schools of the Southeastern Conference to Blythewood, S.C., and the greater Columbia area for the 2009 SEC Women's Golf Championships at Cobblestone Park. We hope that everyone will have an enjoyable time at the tournament and throughout the weekend as you enjoy everything the Midlands has to offer.

This year marks the second time that South Carolina has played host to the SEC Women's Golf Championship. The previous championship contested at The University Club came in the 1997 season when Georgia captured its seventh league title with a score of 899. That year, the Bulldogs' Shauna Estes won the first of her two SEC individual medals with a score of 215.

Florida is the defending SEC Champion after claiming their eighth team title at Tennessee National Golf Club in Loudon, Tenn. The 2008 championship saw the Gators fire an 874 to run away with the team title, 17 shots ahead of runner-up Arkansas. The Razorbacks' Stacy Lewis won her second individual conference crown with a score of 214 (-2).

Opening in 1995, the University Club at Cobblestone Park is home to the South Carolina men's and women's golf teams. Cobblestone Park is proud to have one of the largest private golf facilities in the South.

Resting on 240 acres of rolling hills, there are three distinct nines, proudly named the Garnet, Black and Gold, in honor of the course's affiliation with USC. (The SEC Championship will be played on the Garnet and Black nines.) The wide landing areas and strategically placed bunkers are lined with majestic oaks and pines. The natural elevation provides some of the highest points in Richland County, offering panoramic views. The large, undulating Tift Eagle Bermuda greens are consistently smooth and fast and are well-protected by bunkers and collection areas.
