Gamecocks Make Headway in SEC Play

South Carolina more than tripled its league victories over 2008-09

South Carolina head coach Dawn Staley had a variety of tools at her disposal in 2009-10, and she used each and every one to give opponents all they could handle throughout the season. From playing overtime in the first two games of the season to putting together several win streaks throughout the year, the Gamecocks turned the corner in Staley's sophomore season at the helm.

Just the Facts

- The 2009-10 season was the program's 36th as a varsity sport, during which South Carolina has amassed a 604-462 record (.567). That ledger includes a 77-17 mark in Metro Conference play (1985-91) and a 73-178 slate in SEC games.
- South Carolina's 7-9 SEC record represented a 29.4 percent increase in winning percentage over the previous season's 2-12 mark. It was the largest one-season jump for the Gamecocks since the 2005-06 Gamecocks turned a 2-12 mark the previous season into a 7-7 league slate.
- The Gamecocks finished the SEC regular season tied for seventh place in the league standings, their best finish since 2005-06 when the team's 7-7 mark was good for seventh place.
- South Carolina had three wins over nationally-ranked teams (San Diego State, Georgia and Vanderbilt) for the first time since the 2002-03 season, during which the Gamecocks were also ranked for most of the season. South Carolina was 4-7 against ranked teams that season. Last season's three wins were the most over nationally-ranked teams by an unranked Gamecock squad since 1990-91.
- The Gamecocks went 9-4 on the season when their starting lineup outscored the opponents' starting group. That record included a 5-3 mark in SEC action.
- South Carolina was most productive last season when it was the most aggressive. The Gamecocks were 12-8 when out-scoring opponents in the paint and 11-4 when scoring more points off turnovers than their opponents.
- Kelsey Bone was named SEC Newcomer of the Year by the Associated Press, becoming the first Gamecock to earn that honor. She earned All-SEC Second Team status from both the AP and the league's coaches, who also made her a unanimous selection to the All-Freshman team. Bone is the first Gamecock freshman to earn All-SEC honors.
- Junior Valerie Nainima joined Bone on the coaches' All-SEC Second Team, making it the first time a pair of Gamecocks have shared all-league honors since 2001-02.
- Kelsey Bone's nine double-doubles were the most by a Gamecock freshman since Sheila Foster posted 13 in 1978-79. In fact, the Gamecocks collectively recorded 13 double-doubles last season (Charenee Stephens accounted for the other four), which were the program's most since the 2003-04 squad also posted 13.
- Sophomore La'Keisha Sutton led the team with 3.1 assists per SEC game and was the third-leading scorer in league games at 9.0 ppg.
- Sophomore Charenee Stephens established herself as a key player off the bench for the Gamecocks, posting career highs of 8.4 points and 7.2 rebounds per game. A candidate for SEC Sixth Woman of the Year, Stephens was among the league's top three in field goal percentage and top 10 in rebounding.
- Freshman Leasia Walker worked her way into the starting lineup for the final two games of the season, during which she posted a 1.75:1 assist-to-turnover ratio while added 11.0 points and 3.5 assists per game.

For the Record

Junior Valerie Nainima put her stamp on South Carolina's 3-point shooting history in just her first season in a Gamecock uniform. As the team's designated sharp shooter, Nainima's 82 3-pointers made were tied for fourth-most in school history, matching Shannon Johnson's output in the 1995-96 season and falling two short of Christi Timmons' 1991-92 production in the third spot. Nainima scored those 82 3s behind 229 attempts, the fifth-most in school history.

Freshman Kelsey Bone etched her name in the Gamecocks' freshman single-season standings as she slotted into the program's top five of eight categories, including records for rebounding average (9.2), offensive rebounds (82) and defensive rebounds (186). Her total defensive rebounds rank her third among all Gamecocks, trailing Beth Hunt's school record of 230 in 1989-90.

Strength of Schedule

At season's end, South Carolina's schedule was ranked as the 11th-toughest in the nation. Only Oklahoma, Connecticut, Texas A&M, Duke, Oklahoma State, Tennessee, Kansas, Stanford and Texas faced a more strident challenge than South Carolina last season, all of which were in the NCAA Tournament.

The Gamecocks played 20 games against teams that qualified for either the NCAA Tournament or the WNIT, including seven non-conference outings. South Carolina was 8-12 against teams that participated in the 2010 postsesason, including three wins against teams that reached the NCAA Sweet 16.

RPI

South Carolina finished the season with an RPI of 55, which ranked seventh in the SEC. Tennessee led the league at No. 3 with Kentucky (19), Vanderbilt (20), Georgia (25), LSU (31) and Mississippi State (50) between the Lady Vols and the Gamecocks.

Valerie Nainima earned second-team All-SEC honors after ranking among the league's best scorers and 3-point shooters.

Gamecock Basketball

Straight Shooting

South Carolina's 53.5 percent field goal shooting in the second half at Vanderbilt was the team's highest accuracy in a half since hitting 55.6 percent in the second half at Alabama. The Gamecocks hit 50.0 percent or better in a half seven times in SEC play in 2009-10, four of which were accounted for in two games – at Alabama and against Kentucky. South Carolina shot a season-high 64.0 percent (16-25) in the first half at Alabama and finished the game with a season-high 59.6 percent.

Inside Three

Nine of the Gamecocks' 29 games in 2009-10 were decided by three points or less, including four SEC outings. South Carolina was 4-5 in those narrowly-decided games, 2-2 in league play. It was the most games decided within that margin the Gamecocks have played in a season since joining the SEC for the 1991-92 campaign. In league action, South Carolina is 6-14 all-time in games decided by three or fewer points.

Under head coach Dawn Staley, South Carolina is 7-6 in games decided by three or fewer points, 2-3 in SEC contests.

Thrice as Nice

The Gamecocks shot 36.1 percent from 3-point range in SEC play to rank third in the league. That accuracy was highlighted by an 8-of-12 showing by the Gamecocks at Alabama, which tied for the best outside shooting accuracy of the Dawn Staley era. For the season, South Carolina hit 34.9 percent of its 3-point attempts (130-372) to rank third in the league and 53rd in the nation.

Inside the Outside Numbers

Junior Valerie Nainima led South Carolina's charge from beyond the arc in terms of volume, ranking fourth in the SEC and 16th in the nation by hitting 2.8 3-pointers per game. She was ninth in the league and 77th in the nation in 3-point field goal percentage, hitting long-range shots at a 35.8 percent clip.

Even Stephens

In the 17 games played after turning the calendar to 2010, sophomore Charenee Stephens reached double figures in either points or rebounds 11 times, including double-doubles against Mississippi State, at Kentucky and against Ole Miss in the SEC Tournament. That production put her among the SEC's best as she ranked ninth in rebounding at 7.2 boards per game and was third the league in field goal percentage (.599).

Walking Tall

Freshman Iesia Walker played her way into the starting lineup in the regular-season finale after back-to-back solid outings at Kentucky and against Georgia, during which she committed just one turnover in a combined 52 minutes on the court. Walker proved she had earned the spot as she turned in a career outing at Vanderbilt with 18 points, including 6-of-8 shooting from the free throw line, five offensive rebounds and four assists in 39 minutes. The young guard showed the most poise when it counted, hitting 3-of-4 free throws in the final 25 seconds to stave off a Commodore comeback.

Charenee Stephens was among the SEC's most dynamic post players off the bench, posting career-high marks of 8.4 points and 7.2 rebounds per game.

Home Sweet Home

South Carolina boasts a .691 all-time winning percentage (324-145) in games played in Columbia. The Gamecocks' best season at home was the 2001-02 campaign with a 17-1 record in the first season in what is now known as Colonial Life Arena. South Carolina is 78-47 (.624) in the building, including a 7-5 mark in 2009-10.

Paint Ball

The Gamecocks inside presence in 2009-10 dramatically increased the team's points in the paint production from 25.9 points per game in 2008-09 to 34.8 per game. In fact, 53.8 percent of the total points the Gamecocks scored (1,874) in 2009-10 came in the paint (1,008).

With the increased inside focus, the stat became one of the most telling for the season. South Carolina was just 2-7 overall when not winning the scoring battle inside (wins at Auburn and at Charlotte). That number included a 1-4 mark in SEC play.

Telling Transition

Another telltale stat for South Carolina was points off turnovers. While the Gamecocks were 11th in the league in turnover margin (-1.0), they managed to overcome the stigma of that stat by limiting the points their opponents generated off those miscues. Foes were most successful when solving the South Carolina transition defense as the Gamecocks were 3-11 overall when opponents recorded an equal number of or more points off turnovers than Carolina, including a 2-7 mark in SEC action. The victories were at Vanderbilt, against Ole Miss and against San Diego State.
