Setting The Standard For Intercollegiate Athletics

The Southeastern Conference, with its storied 73-year history of athletic achievements and academic excellence, has built perhaps the greatest tradition of intercollegiate competition of any league in the country since its inception in 1933.

The 2004-05 academic year was another season to remember for the SEC as conference teams captured seven national titles and eight national runner-up finishes. Since 1990, the SEC has won 107 national team championships for an average of more than six per year.

Auburn and Georgia won the conference's first two NCAA titles of the year, in men's and women's swimming & diving, respectively. Arkansas won both the men's indoor track & field and men's outdoor track & field championships. Tennessee won the women's indoor track & field title, and Georgia also won NCAA titles in women's gymnastics and men's golf. Florida finished first among Southeastern Conference schools and sixth overall in the Sears Trophy final standings.

Overall, the SEC finished in the top two in 10 of its 20 sponsored sports and in the top five in 16 of the 20 sports. Six SEC teams participated in football postseason bowls with Auburn posting an undefeated season and a victory in the Sugar Bowl. Five men's and five women's basketball teams were invited to the NCAA Tournament with LSU and Tennessee advancing to the Women's Final Four. An NCAA record-tying nine teams advanced to postseason play in baseball with two teams (Florida and Tennessee) advancing to the College World Series. With 160 teams, an average of eight per sport, advancing to NCAA postseason competition, the SEC continued to solidify its place as the nation's premier conference.

In addition to the seven team championships, 72 SEC student-athletes garnered individual national championships, while 554 individuals were awarded first-team All-America honors. Student-athletes around the league continued to excel in the classroom as well with 2,052 earning SEC Academic Honor Roll recognition.

On the national all-sport level, the SEC placed nine teams in the top 50 of the Sears/NACDA Director's Cup rankings. Florida led the league with a sixth-place finish. Georgia placed seventh, while Tennessee was eighth, Auburn 17th, LSU 23rd, Arkansas 32nd, South Carolina 34th, Kentucky 35th and Alabama 38th to round out the league's top 50 finishes. All 12 SEC schools finished in the top 100 of the Sears Cup standings. Mississippi State (64), Mississippi (67) and Vanderbilt (71) also made the top 100.

SEC Women's Tennis In 2005

Ten SEC teams advanced to NCAA postseason action with four moving onto the round of 16 at the NCAA Women's Tennis Championships. Florida advanced to the national semifinals. Kentucky won the SEC Championship and Florida took home the SEC Tournament title. Kentucky's Mark Guilbeau earned SEC Coach of the Year honors. Aibika Kalsarieva of Kentucky garnered SEC Player of the Year honors, and Mississippi State's Zsuzsanna Fodor was named SEC Freshman of the Year. Florida's Jennifer Magley and Tennessee's Blakely Griffith were named Co-Scholar-Athletes of the Year.

Young Gamecocks Emerge To Lead Carolina To 11th Consecutive NCAA Berth

The tradition of winning continued for head coach Arlo Elkins and his women's tennis team in 2005. The University of South Carolina women's tennis team posted a 15-9 record during the 2005 season. The Gamecocks went 6-5 in conference play and finished sixth overall in the SEC race. Carolina also finished the season ranked in the top 25 for the first time since the 2003 season.

Carolina opened up the spring season with six consecutive victories before dropping its first match of the season to LSU. After facing LSU, the Gamecocks returned home to begin one of the toughest stretches in all of collegiate tennis. During the stretch, the USC faced No. 24 BYU, No. 3 Kentucky, fifth-ranked Vanderbilt, No. 19 Clemson and No. 23 Alabama.

Carolina dropped the match to BYU 4-1 but challenged Kentucky to the end. The match with the Wildcats came down to UK's Aikeka Kalserieva and Danielle Wiggins at No. 1 singles. The two split sets but Kalserieva clinched the match for the Wildcats to give UK a 4-3 win. After losing three in a row, which was Carolina's longest streak of the season, coach Elkins reached into his back pocket to try something new.

The Gamecocks used three fresh combinations in doubles, which earned them a sweep against Vandy. In singles, Carolina took four of the six singles matches to claim a 5-2 upset against the No. 5 team in the nation.

After knocking off the Commodores, USC dropped its next match to in-state rival Clemson 5-2. South Carolina then played its next eight matches without some of its top players in the lineup because of injuries.

Carolina hosted No. 23 Alabama nine days after falling to Clemson, and it came down to the last match on the court. Christyn Lucas trailed in the first set 5-1 before rallying to force a set tiebreaker, but the Crimson Tide's Ashley Bentley held on to take the first set. Bentley had a 5-2 advantage and a 40-love lead in the eight game in set two, but Lucas responded again to force another tiebreaker, which she went on to win. Lucas and Bentley exchanged games in the third set before the Gamecock eventually pulled away to give her team a 4-3 victory. Two weeks later, Lucas was at it again.

In similar situations, Lucas claimed wins against Mississippi and Mississippi State to give USC a pair of 4-3 triumphs. After facing the two SEC schools from the Magnolia state, Carolina ended the regular season against Florida before traveling to the SEC Tournament.

USC faced Arkansas in the opening round in a match that started around 10:30 p.m. on April 21 and finished at 1 a.m. the next day. The Gamecocks defeated the Razorbacks 4-1, but fell the following afternoon to Florida.

The NCAA Tournament appearance in 2005 was Carolina's 11th straight, which ranks as the 11th longest streak in NCAA Division I women's tennis. USC went to Athens, Christyn Lucas was named the team's Most Valuable Player following the 2005 season.

Miranda Gutierrez went 21-16 overall in singles and finished with a 7-4 mark in SEC play.

Ga., where it faced the Nebraska Cornhuskers in the first round. The Gamecocks snagged their 12th consecutive opening round victory in the NCAA Tournament with a 4-0 win against Nebraska. In the second round, USC faced the No. 8 national seed and regional host Georgia. The Gamecocks fought hard to force three sets in two matches, but the Bulldogs won 4-0 to advance to the round of 16.

USC lost three players on its roster, two of whom were starters in singles. Magda Wojdylo ended her career ranking in the top 15 in career singles and double wins, and overall victories. Fallon Koon, who transferred from Georgia Tech in 2002 and sat out 2003 due to injury, posted a 23-10 record in 2004 and was 15-12 as a senior. Audrey George, a walk-on, was a member of the women's tennis team her entire four years at USC. George participated in the 2003 NCAA Tournament and ended her career with an overall winning percentage over .500.

The underclassmen were led by Miranda Gutierrez and Lucas. Gutierrez played at three and four singles, while Lucas secured the one and two slots. The two players had tremendous sophomore years, finishing in the top three in overall and dual match wins.

Another standout youngster was freshman Megan McGavock, who entered the lineup after USC's loss to LSU. McGavock posted an 8-2 record overall at the No. 6 singles position and was 4-1 in SEC matches.
