WELCOME TO WHEELER BEACH

Wheeler Beach opened for the beach volleyball program's inaugural season in 2014. It is located between Carolina Softball Stadium and Carolina Tennis Center. The facility was dedicated at the team's home opener against Oregon on March 21, 2014, a dual that the Gamecocks went on to win, 4-1.

The complex is the first collegiate beach volleyball facility of its kind and the first ever in the SEC. It features five courts with lights and electronic scoreboards on each court, the first collegiate beach volleyball facility to have this feature. At the end of the complex is a master scoreboard that keeps fans informed with the latest scores on each of the five courts and the overall dual.

It's the first electronic scoreboard specifically for beach volleyball in the world. Palmetto trees have been placed throughout the facility, and fans can bring lawn chairs and blankets to sit on the turf and enjoy the matches. The facility also features a sound system which has music playing throughout the duals.

The facility is named Wheeler Beach in honor of the generosity of Jon and Kim Wheeler. The relationship began thanks in part to the on-court contributions of Paige Wheeler, who started her Gamecock career with the indoor volleyball program and moved to the beach in its first season of existence in 2014.

A wrought-iron gate spanning the entrances to Wheeler Beach now bears the family's name.

Tickets are not required to attend matches at Wheeler Beach and admission is free.

Fans should park in the Heyward Street parking garage on levels three, four and five. Parking in the garage is free and Wheeler Beach is just a short walk along a paved path from the garage.
