MATCH PREVIEW

2020 WOMEN'S SOCCER FALL RECAP

South Carolina women's soccer (7-3-0, 6-2-0 SEC) concluded the fall portion of its 2020-21 season in the semifinals of the SEC Tournament with a loss to No. 6 Arkansas, 2-1. Despite being the No. 4 seed in the conference tournament, the Gamecocks were within one goal of two different opportunities to raise another SEC title. The team's loss to Tennessee in the conference finale cost a share of the regular season title and the 2-1 loss to Arkansas cost the team a chance at repeating as tournament champions in Orange Beach.

Carolina's offense found its footing in the fall after an opening loss to Georgia on the road by scoring multiple goals in six of its remaining nine matches including four against Mizzou (Sept. 27), Florida (Oct. 25) and three against Mizzou (Nov. 17).

Defensively Carolina adjusted to a new goalkeeper for the first time since 2015. Freshman Taylor Fox started the first two matches of the season before sophomore Heather Hinz took over for the remainder of the fall. Hinz finished with two shutouts, including a four-save performance against Mississippi State that earned her an SEC Defensive POW honor.

Despite the Gamecocks turning over a lot of talent from their 2019 SEC title, the Gamecocks still managed to pick up two huge wins in the fall. Including the second-highest ranked win in program history over No. 3 Arkansas on the road, shutting out the eventual SEC regular season champions 1-0 in Fayetteville. The Gamecocks also defeated eventual SEC Tournament champs Vanderbilt on the road in a 2-1 double overtime thriller.

QUICK NOTES: SC vs. COL. OF CHARLESTON

- Sunday's matchup is just the second between the two programs since 2009 with the last meeting coming in 2018 when Carolina won 2-0
- Carolina and Charlotte have gone to overtime twice in their series history with the last overtime meeting coming in 2002
- Since 2014 the Gamecocks have won every match against non-conference opponents at home during the regular season, a streak that has reached 22 matches in that span with the last loss coming on Sept. 5, 2014

SAM CHANG MAKES CANADIAN DEBUT

Redshirt sophomore Samantha Chang made her Senior National Team debut with Canada at the 2021 She Believes Cup on Feb. 21, against Argentina. After earning the roster spot in camp the Mississauga, Ontario, native helped the Canadians win their match over Argentina. Chang entered the match in the second half with the score locked at 0-0 and helped keep Argentina out of goal and eventually Canada found the back of the net in extra time.

SCOUTING COLLEGE OF CHARLESTON

After not competing during the fall portion of the 2020-21 season the College of Charleston has started their spring slate 0-4-0 with three of their matches against Power 5 opponents. Most recently the Cougars faced Coastal Carolina on March 4, and fell by a score of 1-0 at home. The Cougars have scored three goals in their four matches, with two of those goals coming from junior Kacey Smekrud against Florida and Clemson. Meredith Holton has started all four matches in goal for the Cougars with Lindsay Stravolo coming off the bench in two matches. In total the College of Charleston return 22 student-athletes with the addition of 10 newcomers from their 2019 team that finished 8-10-0 (2-7-0 CAA).

SEC ANNOUNCES ALL-SEC TEAMS, CONFERENCE AWARDS

With conference play concluding in the fall, the Southeastern Conference announced the 2020 All-SEC teams along with the conference awards with four Gamecocks being named. Senior Anna Patten and junior Jylissa Harris were both named to the All-SEC First Team for the first time in their careers while senior Lauren Chang was named to the Second Team for the third time in her career.

Catherine Barry was named to the All-Freshman team after an impressive start to her rookie campaign. Chang also was named the Co-Scholar Athlete of the Year, marking just the second time a Gamecock has earned the honor in program history - the last being Blakely Mattern in 2009. The Gamecocks have now had at least four named on All-SEC teams for five straight seasons.

ANNA PATTEN GOES PRO

Shortly after graduating from the University of South Carolina, senior defender Anna Patten struck a professional deal with Arsenal of the Women's Super League in England. Patten, who started 32 matches for Carolina, signed the deal with the Gunners, bringing her back to the club she spent most of her youth career with. Patten joins former Gamecock Grace Fisk (West Ham United) in the ranks of English professionals. Patten left Carolina with one SEC Championship and multiple All-SEC honors, including a First Team nod in the fall of 2020. Patten immediately made an impact, making multiple starts for Arsenal since joining the program.

THE SPRING GAMECOCKS

On top of Patten leaving the Gamecocks for the professional ranks the Gamecocks will look different for multiple other reasons. Defenders Sarah Eskew and Caitlyn Leffler both will not be available in the spring due to injury while four additional Gamecocks have moved on from collegiate soccer to pursue internships, graduate or other professional development opportunities. In total Carolina begins the spring season with 20 healthy student-athletes.

YOUNG AND TALENTED

The Gamecocks have had an influx of young talent this season with eight of the 18 goals scored this season coming from true freshmen. Three Carolina freshmen scored multiple goals in the fall with Catherine Barry leading the way with four while Rylee Forster, Ranya Senhaji and Corinna Zullo all scored two. Of the Gamecocks 54 points in the fall, 46.3 percent of that have come from freshmen, the second highest percent in the SEC behind just Texas A&M.

25 SEASONS OF WOMEN'S SOCCER

The 2020-21 season marks the 25th season of South Carolina women's soccer. With 20 of those seasons coming under the leadership of Shelley Smith. The program has won 316 matches in history, winning five SEC Championships along the way. The Gamecocks have been an academic leader throughout its history as well, being named a United Soccer Coaches All-Academic team 17 times since 2002.

Throughout the spring the Gamecocks will continue to honor iconic players, moments and more.

THE FIRST SPRING RANKINGS

The first United Soccer Coaches rankings of the spring portion of the 2020-21 season dropped on March 2 with South Carolina sitting at No. 12 in the country. South Carolina ended the fall season at No. 11, in then the smaller top 15 poll. Carolina entered the top 15 on Oct. 13 and haven't looked back. Carolina reached as high as No. 9.

Three other SEC teams are inside the top 15 with Vanderbilt sitting at No. 6 followed by Texas A&M at No. 11 and then Arkansas at No. 15.

'MATTER' IS THE MINIMUM PATCH

As of July 30, 2020, the NCAA Playing Rules Oversight Panel approved rules to allow student-athletes in all sports to wear patches on their uniforms for commemorative and memorial purposes, as well as to support social justice issues. Student-athletes of the South Carolina women's soccer program chose to wear patches that read "Matter is the Minimum" on their right sleeve.

The Gamecocks chose to wear these patches because they want to use their platform as student-athletes to take a stand against systemic racism and social injustice. The team does not tolerate any form of racism and injustice and wants to do its part to make a change. Although these patches are small, they stand for a movement that is bigger than any game.

UP NEXT

South Carolina will host three more home matches after the College of Charleston match with the next matchup with Coastal Carolina on March 21, at 2 p.m. All home matches this spring season will be streamed on SEC Network + via a one-camera stream.

FEATURED GAMECOCKS

ZULLO SISTERS UNITE IN COLUMBIA

Luciana and Corinna Zullo didn't initially plan to compete on the same collegiate soccer team, but sometimes things just work out. The senior and freshman sisters on South Carolina's women's soccer team may be competing at the same position, but don't call it a sibling rivalry.

"It's really fun being on the same team again," said freshman Corinna Zullo. "It was fun being on the same team in high school. We play the same position, so it's good to look up to her, see how she's doing and try to improve myself."

"We have not raced in a while, which is something I think she wants to do," said senior Luciana Zullo. "We've always been very competitive, but we've always been very supportive of each other. We played a year together of high school soccer in New Jersey, and that was so much fun being on the field at the same time. Here, it might be a little bit different. It's interesting competing with your sister for playing time."

The year-long family reunion fits in well with the family atmosphere within the program, but each was recruited to play for the Gamecocks based on her own individual merits.

"Recruiting wise, I might have been in her ear a little bit," Luciana said. "I've had such a great experience here, and I knew that she would be able to thrive and grow here, not only as a player, but as a person. When she was being recruited, (associate head coach) Jamie (Smith) didn't know that she was my sister. He was actually at her game watching another player, and he looked at the roster and was like, 'you're kidding me?' It's good to know that she was looked at as her own person and not just as my little sister when she was being recruited."

SMITHS IN 20TH YEAR AT SOUTH CAROLINA

Now in their 20th year leading the South Carolina women's soccer program, head coach Shelley Smith and husband and associate head coach Jamie Smith have seen it all. After building a championship program, the Smiths are ready to see a lot more.

"We're enjoying it, and we're still young enough to do this and to want to do this," Shelley Smith said. "We have good relationships with players, and we enjoy the grind and the work that we do. We'll keep going as long as they'll have us."

The package turned out to be gift that keeps on giving. The program is now a perennial SEC championship contender and has been to the NCAA Tournament in 12 of the last 13 years, including three NCAA quarterfinals and the 2017 national semifinals at the College Cup. The Smiths have led the Gamecocks to three SEC Regular SEC Championships and a pair of SEC Tournament titles as well. It wasn't easy to bring the program up to that level.

"It was at the bottom of the SEC when we took over," Shelley Smith said. "They were 4-16 (1-8 in the SEC) the year before. I came from Rhode Island, and I thought the team here should be a lot stronger than what I had there, and it really wasn't the jump I was hoping for. There was some very good talent, but overall, it wasn't a collective group yet. They had to learn how to get along. They had to learn how to work for each other and push each other because there were definitely some talented kids, they just needed to come together as a team."

HINZ FAMILY TRADITION

In competing to be the one to fill the void left by the graduation of an All-American goalkeeper, Heather Hinz has big shoes to fill. The South Carolina sophomore is no stranger in trying to follow in the footsteps of an accomplished net-minder, as her older sister, Megan, played for four years at Michigan (2014-2017) and is now playing professionally for the NWSL's Sky Blue FC.

"When I was younger, I looked up to all of my sisters in different aspects," said Heather Hinz, who is the youngest of four sisters. "With sports, Megan seemed to be very serious about it, and I always admired how every time she puts her mind to something, she goes 100 percent."

"Seeing her go through the recruiting process, going through college, and even her pro experience has helped me a ton. It has brought us a lot closer because we can talk about a lot of these things that other people wouldn't understand. The fact that I have that kind of mentor is really lucky."

"Heather and I have always been super close," said Morgan Hinz, who is 24. "Our relationship has also changed a lot. I remember when she was first training in goal, I would coach her. I went off to college and then played overseas, and I come back, and she has figured out who she is. I always looked at her as my baby sister, but now we're really good friends. I talk to her every single day. Now we can lean on each other, like peers."

Heather Hinz is battling with freshman Taylor Fox for the starting job as South Carolina's goalkeeper after four-year-starter Mikayla Krzeczowski graduated last year. Fox started the first two games for the Gamecocks this year, but Hinz earned her first career start last Sunday against Kentucky and posted a clean sheet in South Carolina's 1-0 victory.

CHANG FULFILLS DREAM WITH CANADA

South Carolina midfielder Samantha Chang is living the dream, but the ability to do that has come through hard work, while overcoming some adversity along the way. The redshirt sophomore midfielder from Mississauga, Ontario, was called up to the Canadian National Team for the SheBelieves Cup in Orlando, Fla., last month and earned her first international cap, playing alongside some of her childhood heroes. After overcoming a torn ACL at the outset of her collegiate career, she serves as an inspiration to other young players.

"It really meant everything to me," Chang said of representing her country. "I've been dreaming about playing for the national team ever since I was a little kid. To get that call that I was coming to camp was pretty unexpected. I was super excited to get in there and train with some of my heroes growing up."

Chang previously played in the Canadian youth programs before she came to South Carolina. She represented Canada at the U20 level and participated in the U17 FIFA World Cup in Jordan in 2016 and won medals at the 2016 Concacaf U-17 championship and the 2014 Concacaf U-15 Championship. Having the opportunity to come to camp with the senior national team meant she would be along side some of the players she looked up to.

"Inspiring the next generation is something that I'm really passionate about. A huge thing for me is that I'm half white, half Asian, and my last name is Chang, so growing up, I never had an Asian role model on the women's national team. Asian people can make it at this level!"
