MATCH PREVIEW

LAST TIME OUT - COASTAL CAROLINA

South Carolina women's soccer (9-3-0, 6-2-0 SEC) cruised past Coastal Carolina (7-8-0, 7-6-0 Sun Belt) 3-0 on Sunday afternoon at Stone Stadium. The trio of Ryan Gareis, Jyllissa Harris and Catherine Barry scored in the victory with Heather Hinz and Taylor Fox both contributing to the shutout over the Chanticleers.

"To limit teams to what we have so far this spring is just special," South Carolina head coach Shelley Smith said. "Our team has done a great job to stay organized on the defensive end and communicate well with a different back line with Jyllissa [Harris] leading the way back there. Offensively, we knew coming off the fall that we were getting opportunities but were not capitalizing on those as much as we would of liked. To see that improvement here in the spring has been great, we obviously want to put more away if we are going to create this many opportunities but saying that it is just a positive to see what we've been able to do so far."

It took just 46 seconds for the Gamecocks to get on the board against Coastal Carolina with Gareis notching the score. The senior received a perfect long pass from Lauren Chang and delivered a pinpoint shot on frame to score the eventual game-winning goal. The opening-minute goal goes down as the second-fastest goal in school history just edging out the previous mark of 48 seconds held by Paige Bendell back in 2016.

QUICK NOTES: SC AT ELON

- The Gamecocks matchup with the Phoenix is the first between the two programs in history
- The trip to Elon, N.C. for the Gamecocks is roughly 200 miles from Columbia, S.C.
- The road matchup for Carolina is the first of such kind during the spring portion of the season, the Gamecocks will also travel to Chapel Hill for a match with UNC in April
- Now former South Carolina women's soccer player Meredith Christopher started her career at Elon before transferring into the Gamecocks' soccer program in 2018

SCOUTING ELON

Elon (2-1-0, 1-1-0 CAA) is fresh off a 1-0 overtime win over James Madison on Sunday with Kayla Hodges earning the CAA Defensive Player of the Week honor for the Phoenix. Senior Carson Jones is the lone student-athlete to have multiple goals this season for Elon with her goal against Mount Olive being the gamewinner in the fifth minute of the match. Freshman McKenna Dalfonso has played every minute in goal for the Phoenix this spring making five shots while facing a total of 25 shots in three matches.

BARRY EARNS SECOND FRESHMAN OF THE WEEK HONOR

South Carolina women's soccer freshman forward Catherine Barry was named the SEC Freshman of the Week for the second time this season after her performance against Coastal Carolina, the conference office announced March 22.

The Hingham, Mass., native scored her team-leading fifth goal of the season in the 3-0 dominant win over Coastal Carolina on Sunday. The rookie also assisted on an insurance goal for the Gamecocks, adding to her team-leading 13 points this year. Her multi-point performance is the third of the season and ties her for the most among active Carolina student-athletes in a career. South Carolina has now earned a total of six weekly SEC honors this season and has won each of the three weekly honors twice including Barry's two Freshman of the Week nods.

THE SPRING GAMECOCKS

On top of Anna Patten leaving the Gamecocks for the professional ranks the Gamecocks will look different for multiple other reasons. Defenders Sarah Eskew and Caitlyn Leffler both will not be available in the spring due to injury while four additional Gamecocks have moved on from collegiate soccer to pursue internships, graduate or other professional development opportunities. In total Carolina begins the spring season with 20 healthy student-athletes.

YOUNG AND TALENTED

The Gamecocks have had an influx of young talent this season with nine of the 20 goals scored this season coming from true freshmen. Four Carolina freshmen have scored multiple goals this season with Catherine Barry leading the way with five while Corinna Zullo has scored three of her own. Of the Gamecocks 69 points this season, 43.5 percent of that have come from freshmen, the second highest percent in the SEC behind just Texas A&M.

CONFERENCE RANKINGS

Despite the turnover on South Carolina's roster this season the Gamecocks have remained near the top of many conference rankings this season. The Garnet and Black average the most corner kicks in the SEC this season with an average of 6.5 per match. The defense also ranks near the top of the conference with a goals against average of 0.90 this season, good enough for the No. 2 spot. Carolina also is third in the SEC this season with an average of 15.5 shots per match.

STILL WINNING, STILL RANKED

The latest United Soccer Coaches top-25 rankings dropped the Gamecocks down to No. 13 in the country despite the dominant victory against Coastal Carolina. South Carolina has been ranked in the last 10 national polls that have now returned to the top 25 format after only have the top 15 during the fall portion of the season. Carolina has been in the last 54 United Soccer Coaches Polls that have used the top 25 format.

Three other SEC teams are inside the top 25 with Vanderbilt sitting at No. 6 followed by Arkansas at No. 15 and then Texas A&M at No. 23.

ANNA PATTEN GOES PRO

Shortly after graduating from the University of South Carolina, senior defender Anna Patten struck a professional deal with her young program, Arsenal, of the Women's Super League in England. Patten joins former Gamecock Grace Fisk (West Ham United) in the ranks of English professionals. Patten left Carolina with one SEC Championship and multiple All-SEC honors, including a First Team nod in the fall of 2020.

SAM CHANG MAKES CANADIAN DEBUT

Redshirt sophomore Samantha Chang made her Senior National Team debut with Canada at the 2021 She Believes Cup on Feb. 21, against Argentina. After earning the roster spot in camp, the Mississauga, Ontario, native helped the Canadians win their match over Argentina. Chang entered the match in the second half with the score locked at 0-0 and helped keep Argentina out of goal and eventually Canada found the back of the net in extra time.

'MATTER' IS THE MINIMUM PATCH

As of July 30, 2020, the NCAA Playing Rules Oversight Panel approved rules to allow student-athletes in all sports to wear patches on their uniforms for commemorative and memorial purposes, as well as to support social justice issues. Student-athletes of the South Carolina women's soccer program chose to wear patches that read "Matter is the Minimum" on their right sleeve.

The Gamecocks chose to wear these patches because they want to use their platform as student-athletes to take a stand against systemic racism and social injustice. The team does not tolerate any form of racism and injustice and wants to do its part to make a change. Although these patches are small, they stand for a movement that is bigger than any game.

UP NEXT

South Carolina has a long wait before its next match due to the cancellation of its match with Appalachian State. The Gamecocks host in-state rival Clemson on April 10, at 6 p.m. The matchup will be limited to fans with only Gamecock Club members, Familia FC members and past season ticket holders eligible for tickets. Additional instructions have already been emailed to those qualified fans.

FEATURED GAMECOCKS

ZULLO SISTERS UNITE IN COLUMBIA

Luciana and Corinna Zullo didn't initially plan to compete on the same collegiate soccer team, but sometimes things just work out. The senior and freshman sisters on South Carolina's women's soccer team may be competing at the same position, but don't call it a sibling rivalry.

"It's really fun being on the same team again," said freshman Corinna Zullo. "It was fun being on the same team in high school. We play the same position, so it's good to look up to her, see how she's doing and try to improve myself."

"We have not raced in a while, which is something I think she wants to do," said senior Luciana Zullo. "We've always been very competitive, but we've always been very supportive of each other. We played a year together of high school soccer in New Jersey, and that was so much fun being on the field at the same time. Here, it might be a little bit different. It's interesting competing with your sister for playing time."

The year-long family reunion fits in well with the family atmosphere within the program, but each was recruited to play for the Gamecocks based on her own individual merits.

"Recruiting wise, I might have been in her ear a little bit," Luciana said. "I've had such a great experience here, and I knew that she would be able to thrive and grow here, not only as a player, but as a person. When she was being recruited, (associate head coach) Jamie (Smith) didn't know that she was my sister. He was actually at her game watching another player, and he looked at the roster and was like, 'you're kidding me?' It's good to know that she was looked at as her own person and not just as my little sister when she was being recruited."

SMITHS IN 20TH YEAR AT SOUTH CAROLINA

Now in their 20th year leading the South Carolina women's soccer program, head coach Shelley Smith and husband and associate head coach Jamie Smith have seen it all. After building a championship program, the Smiths are ready to see a lot more.

"We're enjoying it, and we're still young enough to do this and to want to do this," Shelley Smith said. "We have good relationships with players, and we enjoy the grind and the work that we do. We'll keep going as long as they'll have us."

The package turned out to be gift that keeps on giving. The program is now a perennial SEC championship contender and has been to the NCAA Tournament in 12 of the last 13 years, including three NCAA quarterfinals and the 2017 national semifinals at the College Cup. The Smiths have led the Gamecocks to three SEC Regular SEC Championships and a pair of SEC Tournament titles as well. It wasn't easy to bring the program up to that level.

"It was at the bottom of the SEC when we took over," Shelley Smith said. "They were 4-16 (1-8 in the SEC) the year before. I came from Rhode Island, and I thought the team here should be a lot stronger than what I had there, and it really wasn't the jump I was hoping for. There was some very good talent, but overall, it wasn't a collective group yet. They had to learn how to get along. They had to learn how to work for each other and push each other because there were definitely some talented kids, they just needed to come together as a team."

28

South Carolina finished with a total of 28 shots against Coastal Carolina, the most for the team since August 28, 2019, when Carolina fired off 30 shots against Jacksonville, with 17 on goal, in a 6-0 win.

25

The 2020-21 season marks the 25th season of South Carolina women's soccer. The program has won 318 matches in history, winning five SEC Championships along the way.

10

The Gamecocks have a total of 10 current professionals around the world that have come through the women's soccer program. The latest being Anna Patten who signed with Arsenal after the 2020 fall campaign.

HINZ FAMILY TRADITION

In competing to be the one to fill the void left by the graduation of an All-American goalkeeper, Heather Hinz has big shoes to fill. The South Carolina sophomore is no stranger in trying to follow in the footsteps of an accomplished net-minder, as her older sister, Megan, played for four years at Michigan (2014-2017) and is now playing professionally for the NWSL's Sky Blue FC.

"When I was younger, I looked up to all of my sisters in different aspects," said Heather Hinz, who is the youngest of four sisters. "With sports, Megan seemed to be very serious about it, and I always admired how every time she puts her mind to something, she goes 100 percent."

"Seeing her go through the recruiting process, going through college, and even her pro experience has helped me a ton. It has brought us a lot closer because we can talk about a lot of these things that other people wouldn't understand. The fact that I have that kind of mentor is really lucky."

"Heather and I have always been super close," said Morgan Hinz, who is 24. "Our relationship has also changed a lot. I remember when she was first training in goal, I would coach her. I went off to college and then played overseas, and I come back, and she has figured out who she is. I always looked at her as my baby sister, but now we're really good friends. I talk to her every single day. Now we can lean on each other, like peers."

Heather Hinz is battling with freshman Taylor Fox for the starting job as South Carolina's goalkeeper after four-year-starter Mikayla Krzeczowski graduated last year. Fox started the first two games for the Gamecocks this year, but Hinz earned her first career start last Sunday against Kentucky and posted a clean sheet in South Carolina's 1-0 victory.

CHANG FULFILLS DREAM WITH CANADA

South Carolina midfielder Samantha Chang is living the dream, but the ability to do that has come through hard work, while overcoming some adversity along the way. The redshirt sophomore midfielder from Mississauga, Ontario, was called up to the Canadian National Team for the SheBelieves Cup in Orlando, Fla., last month and earned her first international cap, playing alongside some of her childhood heroes. After overcoming a torn ACL at the outset of her collegiate career, she serves as an inspiration to other young players.

"It really meant everything to me," Chang said of representing her country. "I've been dreaming about playing for the national team ever since I was a little kid. To get that call that I was coming to camp was pretty unexpected. I was super excited to get in there and train with some of my heroes growing up."

Chang previously played in the Canadian youth programs before she came to South Carolina. She represented Canada at the U20 level and participated in the U17 FIFA World Cup in Jordan in 2016 and won medals at the 2016 Concacaf U-17 championship and the 2014 Concacaf U-15 Championship. Having the opportunity to come to camp with the senior national team meant she would be along side some of the players she looked up to.

"Inspiring the next generation is something that I'm really passionate about. A huge thing for me is that I'm half white, half Asian, and my last name is Chang, so growing up, I never had an Asian role model on the women's national team. Asian people can make it at this level!"
