Unquestionably, the most impressive team of the program's first decade is the 2018 squad. The Gamecocks earned the No. 6 seed in the NCAA tournament after winning a program-record 24 duals - including 12 against ranked opponents. No other Carolina team has more than five wins over ranked teams.

HEAD COACH MORITZ MORITZ

The first head coach in South Carolina beach volleyball history, Moritz Moritz, has led the program since its inception in 2014.

The team rebounded after a lost 2020 spring with a 23-9 record in 2021. Included in that total were 12 wins against conference opponents, a new program record. In the postseason, the program celebrated its first All-Americans, when Skylar Allen and Katie Smith made the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) second team, one of 16 teams in the country to be recognized.

The program experienced unusual circumstances in 2020, seeing its season cut short due to the outbreak of the Corona Virus. The Gamecocks finished the abbreviated season with a 5-7 record in a strenuous schedule that featured 10 ranked opponents in the 12 total duals played. Highlighting the season were wins over No. 4 Southern Cal, No. 14 Long Beach State and No. 10 Stetson.

Moritz reached a personal milestone in 2019, cracking 100 career wins as the leader of the program. The team finished at 20-11, the fourth 20-win season in a row, and recorded historic wins over No. 2 Southern Cal and No. 4 LSU - the first two wins over top-five-ranked opponents in program history. Individually, Lydia Dimke and Katie Smith earned AVCA Top Flight honors, and Cadie Bates and Shannon Williams became the first Gamecock pair to ever earn CCSA All-Conference postseason honors.

The Gamecocks set the program record with 24 wins in 2018, and earned the number six overall seed in the NCAA tournament. Twelve of those victories came against teams ranked in the top-20 during the season, and South Carolina ended the year ranked 9th in the country. Individually, eight Gamecocks won 20 or more matches and Moritz earned the conference coach of the year award. In the postseason, three pairs were recognized by the AVCA as Top Flight honorees, and two pairs earned a spot at the USA Volleyball Collegiate Championship.

The program broke on to the national scene in 2017, winning 23 duals and making its first-ever appearance at the NCAA tournament. The Gamecocks won five matches against teams ranked in the AVCA top-15 during the season, and ended the year ranked eighth in the country. All ten starters finished the year with 20 or more individual wins, also shattering the school record. Macie Tendrich broke the school record for wins by an individual, after finishing with 27 victories in 2017. Freshmen Ali Denney and Katie Smith made the Coastal Collegiate Sports Association's all-freshman team for Carolina, and Katie Zimmerman and Julia Mannisto were named the all-academic team in the postseason. After the season ended, two pairs represented South Carolina at the USA Volleyball Collegiate Championship at Hermosa Beach, another program first.

The 2016 season marked the sport's first as a NCAA-sponsored championship sport, and the program also enjoyed its first season as a member of the CCSA. The team also won their first-ever matchup with a top-10 team, after the Gamecocks upset 10th-ranked Florida International in the semifinal round of the inaugural CCSA tournament. Individually, Tendrich and Katie Reilly set the school record for overall and dual wins in a season (26-10) and made the conference's All-Tournament team.

During the 2015 season, Moritz guided Carolina to a 14-7 record and a No. 17 ranking in the final DiG Magazine Poll. South Carolina's pairs combined for an 83-58 overall record, including a 65-40 mark in dual play.

In Carolina's inaugural season in 2014, Moritz led the Gamecocks to five wins. In the second match of the season, Moritz guided the Gamecocks to the program's first victory on March 8, a 3-2 win over Jacksonville at the UNF Sand Invitational in St. Augustine Beach, Fla. In the program's first home dual, the Gamecocks defeated Oregon 4-1 on March 21 in front of 1,102 fans at Wheeler Beach.

From 2011-12, Moritz worked with the Gamecock indoor team, concentrating his on-court work with middle blockers and all defenders. He also assisted in scheduling, scouting, recruiting, video breakdown, game and practice planning and work with the Gamecock academic program.

Moritz spent five seasons at Idaho, where he worked as the defensive coordinator as well as film breakdown, academics and the Vandals' community service efforts. Idaho never finished below .500 in Western Athletic Conference play during Moritz's time with the team.

Prior to moving to Moscow, Moritz spent eight years in the Fort Collins, Colo., area. He worked at Colorado State as a volunteer assistant coach for five years and as an interim assistant coach for another while also working with the Norco Junior Volleyball Club and as an assistant coach for a season at Fort Collins High. His first coaching job came in California as an assistant coach with Pacific Palisades High School and with the Island Juniors club.

Along with his wife, Kevann, Moritz has two children, son Curren and daughter Gracyr. Moritz earned his bachelors from Colorado State in 2006.

The first South Carolina beach volleyball team was organized in the winter of 2013, and the first season of competition was in 2014. South Carolina had no conference affiliation until fall of 2015, when it became a member of the Coastal Collegiate Sports Association (CCSA). The 2016 season was the first year that beach volleyball was recognized as a championship sport by the NCAA.

Cadie Bates and Shannon Williams (right) were the first Gamecocks to earn a spot on the CCSA All-Conference team, making the cut in 2019. The pair had a 17-13 record at number one, setting a program record for most wins in the top spot for a single season. The duo that surpassed that record, Skylar Allen and Simone Priebe (left) also would be recognized on the all-conference team, coming in 2023.

Pairs must play at least 15 matches with a .750 winning percentage at a set position in order to be honored.

WELCOME TO WHEELER BEACH

Wheeler Beach opened for the beach volleyball program's inaugural season in 2014. It is located between Carolina Softball Stadium and Carolina Tennis Center. The facility was dedicated at the team's home opener against Oregon on March 21, 2014, a dual that the Gamecocks went on to win, 4-1.

The complex is the first collegiate beach volleyball facility of its kind and the first ever in the SEC. It features five courts with lights and electronic scoreboards on each court, the first collegiate beach volleyball facility to have this feature. At the end of the complex is a master scoreboard that keeps fans informed with the latest scores on each of the five courts and the overall dual.

It's the first electronic scoreboard specifically for beach volleyball in the world. Palmetto trees have been placed throughout the facility, and fans can bring lawn chairs and blankets to sit on the turf and enjoy the matches. The facility also features a sound system which has music playing throughout the duals.

The facility is named Wheeler Beach in honor of the generosity of Jon and Kim Wheeler. The relationship began thanks in part to the on-court contributions of Paige Wheeler, who started her Gamecock career with the indoor volleyball program and moved to the beach in its first season of existence in 2014.

A wrought-iron gate spanning the entrances to Wheeler Beach now bears the family's name.

Tickets are not required to attend matches at Wheeler Beach and admission is free.
