CLUB MEETING

MONDAY FEBRUARY 11, 2019 @ 6 P.M. @ CROSS AMERICA
N REED ROAD., KOKOMO, (ACROSS FROM GFS & MENARDS)
SOCIAL HOUR @ 5P.M. SOFT DRINKS WILL BE PROVIDED
Dear CKRR members,

I will be working on updating the CKRR running and walking records. It has been several years since they were last updated. If you see any of these records that have been broken, please let me know. You can email or text them to me. You must provide the person’s name, the date and title of the race they set the record in and the record time. Records are only valid if the person was an active paid member at the time they set the record. Any and all help would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you,
Don Andrews

Marathon: Why 26.2 miles not 26 miles?*

It may seem petty—arrogant, even—to point out to the ill-informed that a marathon is not just 26 miles. There’s that pesky point-freaking-two—385 yards with inestimable importance. In those final moments, races are won and lost, Boston-qualifying dreams come true (or die). The realization that you did it happens, but you still have .2 to go.

“It hurts everywhere if you’ve done it right,” says Des Linden. “And if you’ve done it wrong, you’re suffering. Either way, it hurts.”

In the 1908 London Olympics, the marathon started at Windsor Castle and finished in the White City Stadium, measuring 26 miles. Until that point, the marathon distance was roughly 24 miles, inspired by the ancient rout run by Pheidippides. But the royal family wanted the runners to finish directly in front of their viewing box, which added on 385 yards. For years, the marathon distance varied from 24 to 26.2 miles but in 1921, for no recorded reason, 26.2 miles became official.

Member Profile

Name: Mary Miller

How long have you been running/walking?
I have been walking in races for about 21 years. First, I started as a casual walker and talker with my other race buddies. After a while, I became curious on how fast I could walk. That is when I took walking to the next level.

What made you start running/walking?
I have always loved walking and enjoying the outdoors along the way. Wanting to lose some weight that I had carried for several years was motivation to make walking on a regular basis a habit.

Best athletic accomplishment and why?
Winning the 2013 5K Valparaiso Popcorn Panic race as the Overall Female Walker out of 352 walkers was very exciting. Clocking in at 30:53 on this hilly and scenic route was just about 30 seconds off my PR (on a flat course). I was very happy with my performance and accomplishment.

If you like to race, what is your favorite race distance? Why?
I like the 5K races. Many 5K races loop around enough so I can see all my racing buddies and cheer them on.

Favorite local running route?
Highland Park is my favorite training route. There always seems to be someone in the park who is running or walking. The change of the seasons presents an interesting and sometimes energetic atmosphere.

Favorite club race? Why?
Haynes Apperson is my favorite race still taking place because you just feel the energy and vibe in the air. I have competed and volunteered at this race many times and there is so much hype and energy everywhere. The old Bee Bumble with RDs Jeff Saylor and Don Hurd was a super favorite race as well. Everyone came away with a bag full of goodies (like you just went trick or treating), a nice spread for breakfast, awards that were plentiful for all ages and categories and the town was full of many vendors and garage sales.

Favorite non-club race? Why?
I like any USATF race that has race walking judges, where I am judged during the race. Sometimes these judges look you up after the race and provide feedback tips.

Favorite post run/walk treat?
I have such a sweet tooth so I am heading for some cookies as my treat after a race.

What is your favorite piece of running/walking gear?
My running watch. It is a cheap, no frills Timex watch but I rely on it to show me how I am racing and performing.

Favorite running/walking related book or movie?
My favorite book is "Race Walk Like a Champion" by Jeff Salvage. My favorite movie is "Prefontaine".

Do you have a running/walking superstition?
I feel like if I do not eat my Panda Chicken Lo Mein the night before a race, then I will not have a fast race time.

If you could run/walk with anyone, who would it be?
If it wasn't for the people who got me started in race walking, I would not be here today. Jerry Lambert introduced me to the sport, then Rick Spencer and Tim Taflinger shared more tips and advice so they need to be in my group. Then there is my wonderful, encouraging and supportive training partner and good friend, Vince Lorenz, who must be in my walking group. I would also have to add Greg Wall as we work well encouraging each other during races. This is a tough question because I do not like to leave anyone out. There are many people I love to walk with.

Why did you join CKRR?
My daughter, Stephanie, joined Club Kokomo when she was in elementary school. I always watched her race and cheered her on. Jerry Lambert approached me and invited me to join Club Kokomo as a walker since I was already at the races with Stephanie. I can't run but I can walk so I thought I would give it a try. Walking was much harder than I thought it would be. In my first race at Delco Park, I was dead last. So last that the timer left the course and went into the club house!

Anything else you'd like the CKRR members to know about you?
Injuries can be devastating and mess with your mind. I have had minor sports injuries in the past, but when I completely tore my hamstring away from my bone, I thought my race walking days were over. I had to have surgery to reattach my hamstring. The prayers, encouragement and support from my CK friends helped me through the many months of rehabilitation and strength to recover. Club Kokomo is like my 2nd family. I am so thankful that God has connected me to my CK family. God has blessed me with the ability to walk fast and continue to walk with my friends. Through this gift given ability, I hope to let Jesus shine through me and to spread His Word with anyone I meet on and off the road.
