EXPRESSION OF INTREST

UNESCO is currently recruiting for five senior strategic positions, Assistant Directors- General, to lead the five mandates of the Organization. As a specialized agency of the UN system, UNESCO contributes to the building of peace, the alleviation of poverty, sustainable development and intercultural dialogue through education, the sciences, culture, communication and information. The strategic priorities are Africa and gender equality.

MAIN RESPONSIBILITIES

Under the authority of the Director-General, the Assistant Directors-General are responsible for providing intellectual leadership and strategic vision both in the field of their respective Sector and Field Offices. The Assistant Directors-General are also responsible for the overall management, formulation, planning and coordination of UNESCO's programs and plans of action in their Sector.

1. Assistant Director – General for Education
(VA “ED-001”)

The Education Sector's mission is to provide international leadership to create learning societies with educational opportunities for all populations; provide expertise and foster partnership to strengthen national educational leadership and the capacity of countries to offer quality education for all; and work as an intellectual leader, an honest broker and clearing house for ideas, propelling both countries and the international community to accelerate progress towards these goals and facilitate the development of partnerships and monitor progress. Moreover, UNESCO plays a lead role for the global Educational for All movement, aiming to meet the learning needs of all children, youth and adults by 2015, and has been mandated to coordinate the international efforts to reach EFA's goals.

2. Assistant Director – General for Natural Sciences
(VA “SC-001”)

The Natural Sciences Sector's mission is to use sciences to build peace, to eradicate poverty and to promote sustainable development through leveraging scientific knowledge for the benefit of the environment and the management of natural resources, foster policies and capacity- building in science, technology and innovation and contribute to disaster preparedness and mitigation.

3. Assistant Director – General for Social and human Sciences (VA “SHS-001”)

The Social and Human Science Sector's mission is to advance knowledge, standards and intellectual cooperation in order to facilitate social transformations conducive to the universal values of justice, freedom and human dignity by determining what should be – ethics and human rights; anticipating what could be – philosophy; and studying what is – empirical social science research.

4. Assistant Director – General for culture
(VA “CLT-001”)

The Culture Sector's mission is to preserve and encourage cultural diversity by increasing endogenous capacities for the safeguarding and preservation of the cultural and natural tangible and intangible heritage , within the framework of the international conventions adopted to that end and of national development strategies; and to encourage creativity and development of cultural industries by stimulating reflection and exchanges of experience on cultural policies for development and helping to create conditions for understanding and intercultural dialogue between and with in nations.

5. Assistant Director – General for Communication and Information (VA “CI-001”)

The Communication and Information Sector's mission is to promote freedom of the press, media independence and pluralism while fostering the use of communication and information for governance and development; to stimulate global reflection on the challenges of the information society; to strengthen capacities, in the fields of communication, information and informatics; and to reinforce the role of libraries, archives and information services.
