

IBAMA

Let us all play a role in the prevention of violence and protection of vulnerable groups in our communities.

IBAMA

IBAMA is a multi-sectoral platform at the community level, providing support to vulnerable families for prevention and protection from violence against children, women and men, persons with disabilities, and the elderly.

IBAMA

IBAMA works for the promotion, protection, and fulfilment of human rights, including children's rights, with a focus on the most vulnerable.

WHAT WE DO FOR PROTECTION

IBAMA groups identify vulnerable children and at-risk families

Refer them to social services

Preventing and responding to stop violence

WHAT WE DO FOR PREVENTION

IBAĀMA

Through multi-sectoral collaboration, programs are implemented to minimize emerging social issues

This includes raising awareness on positive behaviours and practices.

The aim is to contribute to the individual, family and community well-being.

WHAT WE DO FOR PROMOTION

IBAMA promotes the concept of 'caring island communities'

The social service sectors collaborate, work together, and engage with the whole community.

The main objective is to protect vulnerable children and families.

IBAMA is a multi-sectoral platform which ensures, that the most vulnerable and at-risk individuals and families are identified, assisted, and provided with comprehensive and decentralized services.
