Issues identified for follow-up in the previous concluding observations

1. In its previous concluding observations,¹ the Committee requested the State party to provide information on the follow-up to the Committee’s recommendations on establishing an impartial and effective transitional justice mechanism, on dealing with impunity for acts of torture, on enacting a moratorium on flogging and other corporal punishment with a view to prohibiting them, and on urgently undertaking the prison reform and measures to improve the material conditions of detention (paras. 8 (a), 10 (a), 32 and 36 (a) and (b), respectively). Noting that replies concerning the information sought by the Committee were provided on 25 October 2019,² and with reference to the letter dated 18 December 2019 from the Committee’s Rapporteur for follow-up to concluding observations,³ the Committee considers that the recommendations included in paragraphs 8 (a), 10 (a) and 36 (a) and (b) of the previous concluding observations have been partially implemented. The recommendation in paragraph 32 has not yet been implemented.

With reference to the Committee’s previous concluding observations,⁴ and the State party’s follow-up replies,⁵ please indicate whether the relevant sections of the Anti-Torture Act, including section 23 (f), have been amended to ensure that the absolute prohibition of torture is enshrined in legislation and that all acts of torture, as defined in article 1 of the Convention, are punishable by appropriate penalties that take into account their grave nature, in accordance with article 4 (2) of the Convention. Please indicate the steps taken to prevent acts amounting to torture from being subject to any statute of limitations, pardon, amnesty or any other similar measures leading to impunity.⁶ Please provide updated information on any changes made to the Penal Code to allow for civil liability of the perpetrator in favour of the victim, even if the perpetrator has not been prosecuted or convicted.⁷

3. With reference to the Committee's previous concluding observations⁹ and in the light of the State party's follow-up replies,¹⁰ please provide information on any new measures taken by the State party to ensure that all persons arrested or detained are afforded, in law and in practice, all fundamental legal safeguards from the very outset of their deprivation of liberty, in particular the rights to be informed of the reasons for their arrest and the nature of the charges against them, to be registered at the place of detention, to have prompt access to a lawyer or to free legal aid during all proceedings, to have the free assistance of an interpreter, to notify a relative or any other person of their choice of their arrest, to request and receive a medical examination by an independent doctor, free of charge, or by a doctor of their choice upon request, and to be brought promptly before a judge. Please also indicate the number of complaints received regarding the failure to respect fundamental legal safeguards and provide information about the outcome of such complaints, including any disciplinary measures against law enforcement officials who did not immediately allow persons deprived of their liberty to benefit from these safeguards. Please provide updated information on the development and implementation of a uniform record-keeping system of detention to register all stages of deprivation of liberty.¹¹ Please inform the Committee of the percentage of places of deprivation of liberty and of interrogation rooms that include a video monitoring system, as well as the efforts undertaken to include them in all such places.¹² Please provide information on the implementation and impact of the Maldives Police Service Strategic Plan 2019–2024¹³ and on the status of the Legal Aid Bill.¹⁴

4. In view of its previous concluding observations¹⁵ and the State party's follow-up replies,¹⁶ please provide updated information on the measures taken by the State party to combat all forms of violence against women, particularly with regard to cases involving the actions and the omissions of State authorities or other entities that engage the State party's international responsibility under the Convention. Has the State party amended its legislation in order to remove discriminatory provisions governing evidentiary burdens in cases in which men are accused of rape? Please also provide information on the protection and support services, as well as on the provision of redress for victims of gender-based violence, including domestic violence. Please include statistical data on the number of complaints of gender-based violence and on the investigations, prosecutions, convictions and sentences resulting from those complaints since the consideration of the State party's initial report. Please provide up-to-date information on the measures taken to strengthen training programmes on the investigation and prosecution of gender-based violence by law enforcement officers and justice officials. Furthermore, please provide information on the resources allocated for the implementation of the Maldives Domestic Violence Prevention Strategic Plan 2017–2021 and the Maldives Domestic Violence Prevention National Action Plan 2018–2023.¹⁷

Please also provide information on the provision of redress to victims of trafficking

⁸ The issues raised under article 2 could also touch on issues raised under other articles of the Convention, including article 16. As stated in paragraph 3 of the Committee's general comment No. 2 (2007) on the implementation of article 2, the obligation to prevent torture in article 2 is wide-ranging. The obligations to prevent torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment under article 16 (1) are indivisible, interdependent and interrelated. The obligation to prevent such ill-treatment in practice overlaps with and is largely congruent with the obligation to prevent torture. In practice, the definitional threshold between ill-treatment and torture is often not clear. See also chapter V of the same general comment.
