$$\text{Technical score (St)} = A/50*[20] + B/200*[50] + C/50*[30]$$

Note: Only the proposals that will obtain a minimum of 60% out of 100 obtainable points will be qualified for the financial evaluation.

Financial Score:

The formula for determining the financial scores is the following:

$S_f = 100 * F_m / F$, in which S_f is the financial score, F_m is the lowest price and F is the price of the proposal under consideration.

The weights given to the Technical and Financial Proposals are:

$$T = [0.6], \text{ and } F = [0.4]$$

Introduction and Background

The CATENATE project is aimed at safeguarding nationally and globally significant coral reef biodiversity and associated ecosystems by establishing, governing, and sustaining a resilient network of equitably and effectively managed Protected Areas in the Maldives. The project focuses on the 15 protected areas of Boduthiladhunmathi Atoll, in the northernmost part of the Maldives.

The overarching goal of CATENATE is to safeguard nationally and globally significant coral reef biodiversity and associated ecosystems through a resilient network of equitably and effectively managed protected and conserved areas in the Maldives.

The project operates across three outcomes:

- (1) Improved Protected Area network governance mechanisms;
- (2) Sustainable financing demonstrated for Protected Area management and associated communities; and
- (3) Knowledge Management and Communication.

Shaviyani Farukolhu is the focal project Protected Area (PA) and the primary demonstration site of the CATENATE project. Located in Shaviyani Atoll, Farukolhu was declared a PA on 7th October 2018 under the Environment Protection and Preservation Act (EPPA). The PA encompasses a total area of approximately 509.93 ha, with a core area characterized by exceptional ecological diversity.

The Farukolhu PA harbours a rich mosaic of coastal ecosystems, including:

- Island forest and dense native vegetation
- Fresh and brackish-water wetlands supporting bird populations
- Mangrove forests — among the largest and most ecologically significant in Shaviyani Atoll
- Sandy beaches with active sea turtle nesting sites (turtle zone)
- Fringing coral reef with high coral recruit density (~5 per m²) and recorded fish family richness
- Seagrass beds and inter-tidal flats

The PA is classified as a Protected Area with Sustainable Use. Farukolhu holds significant socio-economic importance for communities in Shaviyani Atoll, particularly Sh. Funadhoo. Sh Farukolhu PA has also been identified as a priority site for community-based ecotourism development to generate sustainable revenues for PA management.

The development of a nature park at Shaviyani Farukolhu PA has been identified as a flagship output under Outcome 2 of the CATENATE project, specifically linked to Output 2.2: Sustainable financing demonstrated for the Protected Area management and associated communities, through investment for fair and equitable income generation. The nature park is conceived as a low-impact, eco-sensitive tourism facility that generates revenue for PA management while enhancing visitor appreciation of Farukolhu's biodiversity.

A detailed Ecotourism Concept Development and Masterplan (hereinafter 'the Concept Plan') has been prepared by MTDC with MoTE and provides the design basis for this assignment. The Concept Plan identifies the following eight infrastructure components within the nature park:

No.	Component	Description
1	Arrival Jetty	Floating pontoon (12 m × 6 m) with gangway, eco-mooring, and navigational buoys; no dredging; turtle-friendly lighting
2	Visitor Center	Circular open-courtyard pavilion (~2,290 sq ft); thatched roof; coconut timber; biophilic design; passive cooling; rainwater harvesting
3	Rest Nodes (×multiple)	Thatched timber pavilions (20 ft × 20 ft) with open sides and central seating; beach-side and wetland deck options
4	Storage Hut - Water Sport	Elevated beach hut (~17.5 ft × 15 ft) for water sport equipment storage; thatched conical roof; rainwater harvesting integrated
5	Bird Watch Tower	11.5 m tall two-level observation tower (Ø 7.5 m lower, Ø 3.75 m upper); spiral stair; bamboo/timber; screw pile foundation
6	Paddle Boat Storage	Thatched open-front pavilion (~17.5 ft × 15 ft) for kayaks, paddle boards, and kayak rack storage
7	Picnic Area	5 thatched beach huts, BBQ stands (5 units), and outdoor shower/hand-pump well stations distributed along natural openings

Additionally, the Concept Plan incorporates: (a) a Mangrove/Plant Nursery facility (~50 m × 80 m) for native species propagation and restoration; (b) a sustainable sewerage management system based on clustered sealed holding tanks with vacuum pump-out; and (c) a rainwater harvesting mechanism applicable to all relevant structures. The masterplan designates specific zones: a Restricted Zone, a Turtle Zone, and Ideal Zones for snorkeling, as well as a water sports area for non-motorized activities.

All structures are guided by three core design principles:

- (i) Openness to Nature - seamless indoor-outdoor connectivity;
- (ii) Cultural Continuity reinterpretation - of traditional Maldivian vernacular architecture using coconut timber, pandanus thatch, and coral-stone-inspired materials; and
- (iii) Environmental Responsibility - passive cooling, minimal excavation, reversible construction, and zero harmful discharge.

Precedents for this type of nature park exist in the Maldives; nature parks were successfully established at Addu and Fuvahmulah PAs and have since been handed over to City Councils for ongoing management.

Objective

The primary objective of this consultancy is to prepare comprehensive, procurement-ready bidding documents for the civil works, supply, and installation of all infrastructure components of the Shaviyani Farukolhu Nature Park, as described in the approved Concept Plan. The bidding documents shall enable the CATENATE Project Management Unit (PMU) to conduct a competitive, transparent, and compliant procurement process.

The assignment shall produce documents of sufficient technical depth and legal completeness to attract qualified contractors, minimize ambiguity during construction, and ensure that the completed works conform to the ecotourism design principles, environmental standards, and sustainability requirements embedded in the Concept Plan.

Scope of Assignment

The consultant shall undertake the following tasks, organized into five phases:

Phase 1: Review, Inception, and Site Assessment

1. Review and thoroughly analyze all available project documentation, including: the Ecotourism Concept; CATENATE Project Document; relevant Maldivian construction and environmental regulations;
2. Conduct a site visit to Shaviyani Farukolhu PA to verify site conditions, assess ground bearing capacity, confirm access constraints, document vegetation and sensitive zones, verify the proposed jetty location, and validate the indicative positions of all structures shown in the Masterplan.
3. Engage with key stakeholders, including MoTE, ERA, Shaviyani Funadhoo Island Council, and the CATENATE PMU, to confirm design priorities, environmental constraints, and any updated regulatory requirements.
4. Prepare and submit an Inception Report outlining: (a) gaps identified in existing design documentation; (b) recommended adjustments to structural specifications or positioning based on site findings; (c) proposed schedule for completion of the full assignment; and (d) procurement packaging strategy.

Phase 2: Detailed Technical Specifications and Drawings with Environment Impact Assessment Report

5. Based on the Concept Plan and site findings, prepare detailed technical specifications for each infrastructure component, covering: materials and grades; structural system details; foundations and substructure; roofing systems and thatch specifications; flooring, wall panels, doors, and windows; furniture, fixtures, and fittings; rainwater harvesting systems; sewerage holding and pump-out system; jetty mooring and navigation buoy system; landscaping, pathways, and signage; and marine works where applicable.
6. Prepare detailed design drawings (plans, elevations, sections, details) at a level of detail sufficient for tendering and construction, including: site plan showing all components and zoning; architectural drawings for each structure; structural drawings including foundation layouts; MEP schematics (rainwater, sewage, limited solar-ready electrical provisions); and marine/coastal works drawings for the jetty.
7. Ensure all specifications and drawings are consistent with: the Concept Plan; Environmental and Social Management Plan of the CATENATE Project, Protected Area regulations and environmental protection requirements; Maldivian building standards; and applicable IUCN Green List (GL) sustainability standards.
8. Prepare a Bill of Quantities (BOQ) for each component and for the overall works, using internationally recognized measurement methods, with full item descriptions, units, estimated quantities, and unit rate columns for contractor completion.
9. Prepare and submit Environmental Impact Assessment Report to Environmental Regulatory Authority

Phase 3: Procurement Packaging and Contracting Strategy

10. Advise the PMU on the optimal procurement packaging strategy, considering: logical grouping of components by trade or location; capacity of local and national contractors; phasing of construction to minimize environmental impact during sensitive wildlife periods (e.g., turtle nesting season); Government procurement thresholds and required methods; and the project completion timeline
11. Recommend and justify a recommended number of contract packages (e.g., whether to procure as a single contract or split into marine works, civil/structural works, and fittings/landscaping packages).

Phase 4: Preparation of Bidding Documents
