Fee

- The competition is free to enter.

Notification of Award-winning Photographers

- Award-winning photographers will be contacted directly via email in late December or January.
- Only award-winning photographers will be notified. We do not respond to inquiries about the results.
- The award-winning images are announced in The Asahi Shimbun newspapers, in the "Photo Asahi" newsletter, and on the AJAPS website.
- * There are cases where we cannot contact award winners after they have received their awards. Please make sure to apply with an e-mail address that we can contact.

Exhibition

- The prize-winning works will be displayed at several venues across Japan.
- * Please note that, due to space limitations, only some works may be displayed at certain venues.

Catalogue

- All winners will be presented with a commemorative catalogue.
- * We will send a commemorative catalogue to your address by the end of April or May.

Notice

- When the copyright for anything depicted in an image, such as a portrait or creative work, is held by a third party, you must obtain consent for use in advance. If a third party holding such a copyright should make a complaint, demand, or objection regarding a copyright violation or damage compensation, the applicant must personally handle all related issues, without causing any trouble to the sponsors.
- When the sponsors determine that entry rules have been violated, the sponsors may invalidate the award even after the awards have been announced.

Handling Personal Information

- Personal information provided by an applicant is used for contacting and communicating with the applicant, as well as for sending the catalogue and providing information about other events and contests that sponsors and participating corporations hold. Furthermore, the name and address (country) of the award-winning photographer are displayed when an award-winning image is published and exhibited.

Award-winning Image Use

- Although the copyright for an award-winning image is held by the applicant, without obtaining permission from the award-winning photographer, the sponsors and other related corporations shall be allowed to use the images free of charge for newspapers, websites, the catalogue and other media and venues that publicize, handle and manage exhibitions and displays. In addition, the sponsors and other related corporations shall be allowed to re-grant a third party permission to use the image for exhibit and display in any event and to duplicate it for web browsing when promoting and publicizing this contest.

About International Mail

- When receiving goods from Japan, depending on the value and quantity of the goods, customs duties and consumption taxes may be imposed, and customs clearance fees may also be charged by the postal entity of the country to which the goods are addressed. Please note that these customs duties and taxes are the responsibility of the recipient.
- Due to international circumstances and other factors, delivery of mail to some countries and regions may be delayed or may not be available.

Other notes

- * Due to domestic circumstances, disasters, or other factors, the judging process, announcement of results, exhibitions, and other events may proceed differently than scheduled.
- * There will be no awards ceremony.
