TERMS OF REFERENCE

BACKGROUND

The Minamata Convention on Mercury is a global legally binding instrument to protect human health and the environment from the adverse effects of mercury. Maldives is in the process of ratifying this Convention, and has completed a Minamata Initial Assessment (MIA) Report in 2019 in order to facilitate this process. The main agreed actions of the Minamata Convention include the phase-out of mercury-added products, among others.

To transit to a mercury-free society, there is a pressing need for education and awareness on the risks of mercury, and its uses. We also need to focus on the availability of mercury-free alternatives and strengthen our capacity to better monitor and manage the use of mercury.

The MIA Report identifies key priority areas that need to be focused in the implementation of Minamata Convention in the Maldives. One key priority was a need for education, awareness and capacity building particularly among key technical institutions and the public.

Training of key stakeholders of mercury include the Ministry of Environment, Climate Change and Technology and other front line agencies, such as the Health Protection Agency, Maldives Food and Drug Authority, Maldives Customs Service, Ministry of Fisheries, Marine Resources and Agriculture, healthcare centres, media personnel, fish processing and export facilities, waste management personnel and etc.

The health sector has played a crucial role for many years in addressing the health impacts of mercury, starting from identification of the health effects and sources of exposure and the assessment of the disease burden.

The health sector will continue to play a leading role in the implementation of Article 16 of the Convention and other relevant articles, such as Article 4 and annexes on mercury-added products. In relation to Article 4, action taken by the health sector will focus in particular on phasing out the manufacture, import and export of mercury-containing skin lightening products and antiseptics as well as mercury sphygmomanometers and thermometers used in health care. The health sector will also be strongly involved in activities related to the exchange of information about health, public awareness-raising, research regarding health and monitoring, as reflected in Articles 17, 18 and 19 of the Convention.

OBJECTIVES

The two main objectives of the project are to:

- Raise public awareness about the Minamata Convention on Mercury and impending national requirements after ratification.
