Our Brew

Kelani Valley Plantations has always been intricately connected to the roots and nature that makes our business grow and flourish. With fortitude, commitment and teamwork we persevered and was able to look at what makes us who we are. Lauded and recognised in the year under review, our team rallied together and remained strong as we worked together to lay the foundation that would springboard us to bigger and better things in the future. We journeyed on, relentless, and with a prestigious 25 years in our stead, we will continue to work unceasingly in becoming the best in the industry.

Aggressive measures to offset revenue losses saw a strong emphasis on quality across all levels of the value chain.

Innovation of our products, processes and systems will continue to be our priorities for the medium to long-term value creation. KVPL continued to make progress in its journey towards automation of production and administration, to shift from a traditional labour intensive model to a technology driven one.

EXPLORING OUR HISTORY

Kelani Valley Plantations' Pedro Estate Tea graces the Queen's Platinum Jubilee

Ceylon Tea from Kelani Valley Plantations' Pedro Estate was on display at the joyous occasion of the Queen of England's Platinum Jubilee, marking a sixty-eight-year legacy and evolution of one of Sri Lanka's most celebrated and significant global exports.

The tea selected for the Platinum Jubilee was harvested from the Pedro Estate in Nuwara Eliya, amongst the very tea bushes that H.R.H The Duke of Edinburgh planted back in 1954, when he, alongside the Queen, paid a royal visit.

Today, this historic action symbolises not only the long-standing bond between the two countries, but also depicts the origins of one of the most sought after teas in the world, now a staple amongst the most discerning tea consumers. The range has expanded, but the philosophy behind the product and its commitment to sustainability and world-class quality remain intact.

Kelani Valley Plantations PLC is a member of Hayleys Plantations, the world's most awarded and certified sustainable plantations on environmental friendliness, community welfare, people empowerment and ethical business standards.

"As a pioneer in sustainable and ethical plantations management, we are honoured by the global recognition of our KVPL Pedro Estate tea. It is the result of decades of our unmatched expertise in plantations management to harvest export-quality tea to the world in support of one of Sri Lanka's most important export categories," Hayleys Plantations Managing Director, Dr. Roshan Rajadurai said.

"Serving the teas grown at the KVPL Pedro Estate at the Queen's Diamond Jubilee reiterates our status as a globally respected pioneer and helps position Sri Lankan RPCs amongst the best in the world."

Director/ CEO of Kelani Valley Plantations PLC, Anura Weerakoon stated, "Our achievements are built on the remarkable efforts of our teams, who take the utmost care when crafting every cup of tea, from the estate workers to our employees in manufacturing. Our sustainable business practices generate value creation for our employees, wider estate communities and the rich environment around us, serving as the blueprint for the success and respect we have garnered around the world."

Pedro Estate is the source of some of the world's best teas under the Mahagastota and Lovers Leap marks.
