ABOUT ALEA

We are an Argentinian agribusiness export company located in Quequén, one of the main Export ports of the country.

Alea y Cía is part of Lartirigoyen Group,
a company partnered to Viterro Argentina.

We produce and commercialize commodities such as wheat, rapeseed, corn, sunflower, soybean and barley.

This last crop started a brand new chapter in our development by opening doors to explore other markets as well as position our company among the top three malting barley exporters.

#SUSTAINABILITY

We seek for constant innovation by following current food trends and by promoting sustainable production practices that strengthens regional economies.
