

ECUADOR FIRST CLASS SHRIMP

Ecuador First Class Shrimp is more than a reflection of Ecuador's high standards worldwide, it is the pride of a committed industry that sets the example to follow, where excellence is the hallmark of every process.

More than 1.2 million metric tons of Ecuadorian shrimp crossed borders in the last year, bringing to more than 60 countries a First Class product.

Each Ecuadorian shrimp tells the story of generations who have dedicated their lives to perfecting a unique, world-class product: a First Class Shrimp.

More than shrimp, we are the example of how a united nation can transform a resource into a legacy that connects Ecuador with the tables of the world.

Each Ecuadorian shrimp is born from rich, natural waters and cultivated with care by producers who have been perfecting their craft for decades.

Ecuador's P. Vannamei Shrimp leads the global market, setting the standard for premium shrimp production.

It is the world's most widely farmed shrimp species due to its adaptability, fast growth, and high yield.

It thrives in Ecuador's warm waters, where optimal conditions allow for healthy and robust shrimp growth.
