Materna fruit purees and desserts

As babies grow, their diets diversify. Providing them with a greater diversity of foods is essential for developing their sense of taste and helping them to grow. Desserts and fruit purees help them develop an awareness of sweet tastes, introduce them to different fruits, and provide them with new dairy products, while meeting their nutritional needs.

That's why we develop desserts in order to comply with:

Nutritional quality

- Products formulated to meet babies' nutritional needs
 - Recipes approved by pediatric experts
- Compliance with the sector's regulatory requirements

Taste

- Products with a balanced sweet taste

Food safety

- Numerous quality and safety checks during production
