

The MOKATE Group is indeed
a company with a rich and multi-generational tradition.

The global presence and reach of the MOKATE Group is impressive. We're operating in multiple countries such as Poland, Czech Republic, United Kingdom, Slovakia, Hungary and Dubai, and exporting our products to nearly all countries worldwide, demonstrating the company's international success. This extensive distribution network reflects MOKATE's adaptability and competitiveness in the global market. It's clear that we have effectively expanded our brands internationally.

Maintaining a family-owned status can have several advantages, including a strong sense of tradition, shared values, and a longterm perspective. It's a testament to MOKATE's commitment to our heritage and the continued pursuit of our mission and vision.
