LONGAN JUICE WITH HOARY BASIL SEED

Thailand is one of the four countries in the world that plants longan. The uniqueness of Thai's weather makes us have unique longan species. Longan grown in Thailand is different from in other countries in terms of aroma, sweetness, and taste. One of the benefits of longan is it makes you have a good sleep at night.

We fill hoary basil seed into the juice to help your gut health and cleaning your intestine. The mucous of this herb will help improving your excretory system.

"How we compose our ideas"

The variety of tropical fruits and plants in Thailand inspires us to deliver these various flavors to people around the world. Let's be a part to keep you refreshed and felt tropical. We not only make tropical ambient to the world, but we create value for farmers and their families and pull them up for the better future.

"Our feeling and sharing"

We all have a tough day and confront with stress, anxiety, depression, fatigue and many more feeling. There are many ways to motivate us to go through those moments and one way we find it work is sitting back and having finest drinks aside. This can cheer you up and reduce stress after a long day. We, then, do crafted tropical drinks to be a part of your relaxation moment.

"Partners"

Our partners source the finest raw material from trusted farms. This is the key to make our drinks look fascinated, colorful, tasty, intense and more. With a lot of hard work in pipeline including seeking matched farms to ensure that every bottle contains the best ingredients. Finally, we are ready to serve one of the most refreshing drinks to your hands.

"Give an opportunity and restore environment"

Every bottle of our drinks, you will be one of the givers to create an opportunity to societies, religion, patient, poverty, wild animal and restore world environment. Sharing and being generous are common among the Thais. Charitable organizations have a heart of volunteer for bringing bond of the givers to the communities.
