Why You Should Try Instant Coffee

You may be one of those people who prefer freshly brewed coffee from ground coffee beans to another type of coffee. However, in this article, we will review some of the things that will make you reconsider trying instant coffee and perhaps make it your daily choice instead of other options.

6 Reasons Why You Should Try Instant Coffee

1. When we say instant coffee, we mean instant coffee

In our modern life, even a couple of minutes can be a lot of time. So you can't always afford the time that it takes to prepare a cup of coffee from ground coffee beans. Alicafe's instant coffee only requires you to have a sachet of instant 3in1 or 5in1 coffee, a cup and hot water, and there's your coffee ready!

2. Hassle-free preparation

Coffee isn't just a drink, it's the burst of energy you need to kick start in the morning and recharge throughout the day. And it's the warm drink that you can pamper yourself with, whatever you're doing. The advantage of instant coffee is that it gives you all this without the hassle of preparation and cleaning.

3. Same delicious taste every time

Instant coffee is made to give you the same tasty flavor every time you prepare it conveniently. All you have to do is follow the directions on the packaging to know how much water to add, so your cup of coffee will be rich in flavor every time.

4. Coffee on-the-go

Alicafe's range of instant coffee is made for all coffee lovers, whether you enjoy being out in nature, on-the-go doing your favourite activities or have a busy schedule. While your backpack may be stuffed with only the necessary things, it does not mean that you should deprive yourself of your daily cup(s) of coffee. No experience is perfect without a warm cup of coffee to recharge your energy to continue the journey. That's why you need instant coffee with you, but don't forget to take your thermos!

5. Longer life, better taste

Coffee is an essential ingredient in any home. For many, the entire day would not be the same if they ran out of coffee and couldn't have their morning cup of warm coffee. The problem with storing roast and ground coffee, however, is that it oxidizes quickly and loses its flavour easily when exposed to air.

6. Goes well with dessert recipes

You can have coffee with anything you eat, it would only make it better. Moreover, you can put instant coffee in many dishes, adding an instant boost of flavour to your dish, especially with desserts and snacks like cookies, cakes and jellies.
