AFLA TUNA

Canned Tuna Fish Types & Cuts

- five species of tuna that make up most of the commercial market: skipjack (Katsuwonus pelamis), albacore (Thunnus alalunga), yellowfin (Thunnus albacares), bigeye (Thunnus obesus), and bluefin (Thunnus thynnus).
- Of these five species, skipjack and albacore make up the majority of canned tuna, while bigeye, bluefin, and yellowfin are primarily used in sushi and sashimi
- Canned tuna is usually classified into two categories: light meat tuna, which is mostly skipjack and sometimes yellowfin, and white meat tuna, which is usually albacore.
- Canned Tuna comes in different cuts: Solid which is the most premium followed by Chunks & Flakes
