

Nature provides.
We deliver.

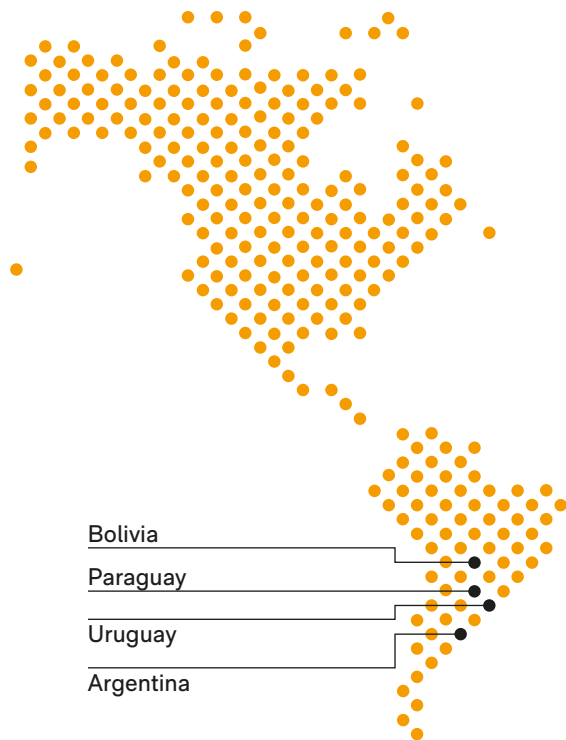

TGL FORESTRY

Production. Trading. Logistics.

We combine our experience as producers with our trading passion and our knowledge of logistics. Besides, we share the benefits of this synergy with our wide range of clients' scales, cooperatives and agricultural producers we partner with, to take the world what nature has to give.

FEED
FOOD
FORESTRY

We partner with nature and progress. From beginning to end of the agri-forestry chain.

In 2010, we started to plant the seed of our vision in South America in some of the most fertile soils of the planet. That was the kick off of a fast-growing venture thanks to alliances we built with local producers and commercial relationships we forged in the region and around the world. First, we did it in order to supply the Uruguayan market, where we hold a leadership position, and then so as to expand internationally.

Betting on this global scope led us to seek the most effective means to make transporting our production and our partners' happen, no matter the distance. We had the drive to diversify our portfolio once and again, to meet our clients' demand of agricultural and forestry raw materials in every continent and key know-how to provide comprehensive solutions every step of the way in every value chain we took part in.

Forestry products

Noble, renewable, essential: wood has always been a key product for mankind’s development. Managing forestry resources patiently and responsibly is vital to strike the critical balance between environmental care and the provision of volume and quality to meet paper and construction industries’ demand that have a global reach. As a matter of fact, we have become experts in spotting the woods’ economic potential and carefully plan their exploitation at TGL, to achieve an optimum exploitation of available wood and the lowest possible impact to the environment. As a consequence, we have been the main forestry exporter and operator in Uruguay since 2016, delivering product all around the world, hitting records of dispatch volumes.

We have a position of privilege in the South-American forestry production chain; origin of our exports of industrialized woods -to different levels and degrees-, to some of the biggest economies of the planet.

A responsible management of forestry resources in the South Cone and an accurate operation in terms of storage, dusting and sorting allows us to systematically supply the main markets, from Europe to Asia.

- Products
- Hard woods
 - Woods
 - Eucalyptus
 - Pine
 - Forestry derivatives

Our commitment

TGL and the planet

We have an unparalleled position to make our business activity impact be positive and lasting on our key partner: nature.

TGL and the community

We understand that environmental care should go alongside human development and those communities where we are present, in order to make our business both profitable and sustainable.

tglsa.com

Uruguay

+598 2603 9047

Av de las Americas 8200, Piso 5, Canelones

info@tglsa.com

forestry@tglsa.com

Paraguay

+595 21 333 055 / 056

Boqueron c/Avda Paseo del Fatima Mariano
Roque Alonso Mariano Roque Alonso, 2040