I don't really believe in neutrality. Our experiences, our histories, our values are in everything we do. We should make sure they're in harmony with what we want to bring to the world.

Ksenya Samarskaya, Type Designer
