Scenario: Coach's team is currently out of season, so when they return to campus, they are not in their 20 hours. Coach wants to hold 6 mandatory 1.25 hour practice sessions and one 30 minute meeting between Monday through Saturday during their 8 hour week. The athletes would have Sunday off. Does this practice schedule work?

Answer: No, this schedule does not work, because out-of-season student athletes are required to have two mandatory days off each week. Only one mandatory day off is required when the team is in-season.

17.1.7.5 Required Days Off -- Outside of the Playing Season. Outside of the playing season during the academic year, all countable athletically related activities (per Bylaw 17.02.1) are prohibited during two calendar days per week. (Adopted: 4/29/04 effective 8/1/04)

TENNESSEE FOOTBALL RECRUITING SCANDAL

On Friday July 22, the NCAA gave University of Tennessee a list of 18 violations and findings of almost $60,000 of cash or gifts provided to players and their families.

- The NCAA found these violations occurred from 2018-2021 during former Head Coach Jeremy Pruitt's tenure
- The allegations accuse Pruitt, his wife, numerous coaches, recruiting staff, and at least one booster
- Each of the 18 violations are level 1 which is the most severe level the NCAA has
 - Tennessee has 90 days to respond to the findings with their self-sanctioned penalties and after that the NCAA has 60 days to add additional penalties
