STUDENT-ATHLETES OF THE MONTH

COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Cincinnati Bearcats take pride in their athletic and academic accomplishments. They also hold a unique place for their Cincinnati community and express that through engaging outside of sport. Each of our 19 teams does their part each year to give back to the community that supports them.

During the 2015-2016 academic year, UC student-athletes completed over 4,300 hours of community service, visiting over 25 separate sites. Some partnerships that were made include Cincinnati Reds Urban Youth Academy, Cincinnati Children's Hospital, Boys & Girls Club of Greater Cincinnati, Ronald McDonald House, Special Olympics, American Cancer Society, Habitat for Humanity, Free Store Food Bank, Girls on the Run, Making Strides Against Breast Cancer, American Red Cross and Relay for Life. Within the athletic department we have two annual community engagement initiatives that are organized by UC student-athletes.

» During the 2015-2016 academic year, UC student-athletes completed over 4,300 hours of community service.

One of the major events sponsored by UC student-athletes is Gatorade Pong. Put on annually by the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (SAAC), the tournament style event includes raffles, prizes and food. All of the proceeds go to Mother's Against Drunk Driving to promote education and safe driving. The event includes representation from all of our teams as well as faculty, staff and the Cincinnati community.

The Bearcats partnered with the Ronald McDonald House this year with both athletes and members of the Athletic Department staff held a gift drive to benefit the children and their families.

Members of SAAC and other student-athletes also partnered with campus and Greek Life to host a Special Olympics day at Sheackly Athletics Center. This events builds on the relationship the women's volleyball program has fostered with the Special Olympics program.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Strength and conditioning is one of the most important ingredients of any successful college athletic department. To help the Bearcats' student-athletes maximize their athletic potential, UC combines a modern, comprehensive facility with the latest techniques in sports performance.

The goal of the strength and conditioning program is to develop the total athlete. The strength and conditioning staff works with UC student-athletes in the following areas: strength/power, agility/skill development, nutrition, mental toughness, speed, flexibility, conditioning and injury prevention to lead to total athlete development.

No area is given greater attention and emphasis than strength and conditioning.

With the opening of the Richard E. Lindner Athletics Center, the Bearcats utilize a 22,000-square-foot strength training facility, one of the largest in the nation. The facility includes state-of-the-art equipment and an artificial turf warm-up area, trimmed in the same surface UC plays on at Nippert Stadium, Gettler Stadium and Marge Schott Stadium.

In 2013, the mirror-covered space received an overhaul, including painting, new Olympic weights, 36 racks, a new top-of-the-line flooring system.

Space within the weight room was also redistributed in a more efficient manner, allowing multiple teams and groups to work out at the same time.

In the summer of 2014, a nutrition bar was added; ensuring UC student-athletes will have access to pre- and post-workout nutritional shakes and NCAA-regulated supplements.

Director of Olympic Sports Performance Orlando Smith, who was a standout running back for the Bearcats, oversees the baseball program.

UNDER ARMOUR APPAREL

The University of Cincinnati department of athletics officially welcomed Under Armour to the family Wednesday, as the global performance brand began its tenure as the official outfitter for UC's intercollegiate athletics program starting July 1, 2015.

The long-term partnership was originally announced on April 2, 2015.

As part of the multi-year agreement, Under Armour will exclusively design and supply the footwear, apparel and equipment for training and gameday uniforms for each of UC's 19 men's and women's varsity athletic teams beginning in the 2015-16 season.

In addition to outfitting the Bearcats, the brand plans to integrate the University into its wide-ranging storytelling efforts, including global marketing campaigns, social media initiatives, in-store promotions and grassroots activations.

"Our talented players, coaches and staff are excited to share this new relationship with our dedicated fans and demonstrate how two hot brands will take the Bearcats to new heights," Director of Athletics Mike Bohn said. "Under Armour has made a significant commitment to UC which will allow us to strive for even more significant achievements. We share a passion to provide our student-athletes with all the cutting edge tools to compete at the highest level."

This new affiliation further expands Under Armour's leadership in providing proven performance benefits to college athletes on all playing fields. Cincinnati is the brand's fifteenth Division 1 all-school partnership.

SPORTS MEDICINE

The University of Cincinnati's sports medicine program is responsible not only for helping student-athletes make speedy recoveries from injuries, but in preventing injuries from occurring.

UC's sports medicine program is a comprehensive approach to the injury care and the wellness of the University's over 500 student-athletes, utilizing state-of-the-art diagnostic and treatment equipment with the latest methods in the care and prevention of injuries.

Its objectives are simple: to prevent injuries, to rehabilitate injuries, to adjust to the stress following injuries and to educate student-athletes about various wellness issues. Athletic trainers are present at every practice and event to monitor the health of the student-athletes and respond to injuries.

The goal is to get UC's athletes back in the classroom and on the playing field functioning at 100 percent capacity. New student-athletes are carefully examined before they participate to detect potential problems. All student-athletes are afforded state-of-the-art therapeutic care.

During the summer of 2011 and following an extensive departmental review, UC made the decision to outsource its sports medicine operation to Select Medical, the parent company of NovaCare Rehabilitation, which is UC's longtime provider of rehabilitation services.

Under the direction of Associate AD/Sports Medicine Bob Mangine, UC's athletic trainers are the backbone of the sports medicine program. Mangine, drawing on more than three decades in the sports medicine and physical therapy fields, supervises a staff of six assistant athletic trainers, four intern athletic trainers and two physical therapists.

UC has some of the top doctors in the country on staff, led by Head Team Physician Dr. Jon Divine and Director of Orthopedic Services Dr. Angelo Colosimo.

Cincinnati is on the forefront of concussion prevention and management thanks to Dynavision Training. In 2010, wanting to address the prevention and management of concussions in its own athletes, UC called on medical researchers at UC to develop a Concussion Prevention Program. What resulted is a training program that helps athletes improve their peripheral vision and neurovisual performance to protect themselves from potentially violent collisions. Since the introduction, UC athletics has seen an 80% drop in concussions.

UC's state-of-the-art sports medicine facility caters to the needs of UC's student-athletes. Features of the training room include over 4,000 square feet of space for treatment and taping, spacious office suites for training staff and physicians, hydrotherapy areas, a physicians' exam area and x-ray facilities.

UC Health provides nationally-recognized specialists who are immediately accessible. University of Cincinnati Medical Center, a nationally recognized medical center, is immediately adjacent to UC's campus, providing Bearcats student-athletes the absolute best in health and medical care. UC Health Imaging Centers has an MRI diagnostic center within the Richard E. Lindner Varsity Village complex.

Marge Schott Stadium has been the home of the Cincinnati Bearcats baseball team since the end of the 2004 season.

The first game played at the 3,085-seat, on-campus facility occurred on May, 20, 2004, when the Bearcats hosted UAB in the final series of 2004. The opening game was played on a Thursday night, before a crowd of 2,200.

Since its opening, the stadium has seen two Cincinnati greats recognized within the facility. In May 2005, UC coaching legend Glenn Sample was honored with the walkway outside the field being named Glenn Sample Way. The facility was named Marge Schott Stadium in the spring of 2006 after the Marge and Charles J. Schott Foundation made a $2 million gift to the Richard E. Lindner Varsity Village. Marge Schott was a well-known Cincinnati philanthropist who held controlling interest of the Cincinnati Reds from 1985 to 1999. She passed away in March, 2004, leaving the majority of her estate to the foundation.

The stadium, which was voted the favorite road stadium in the BIG EAST Conference to visit, is located directly east of the spot where Johnny Bench Field, the Bearcats' previous home, sat for a number of years.

UC ballplayers enjoy a spacious home clubhouse and lounge located behind the left-field line. The Fred Braun Lounge, named after the long-time Bearcats baseball supporter, provides space for the UC staff to meet with players and recruits in an intimate setting. The lounge features couches and chairs for players to relax before and after games and practices. The Bearcats are served pre- and postgame meals in the clubhouse, which also houses a coaches' locker room, a training room, equipment room, restrooms and shower facilities.

Another luxury the UC baseball team enjoys is a climate-controlled indoor batting cage adjacent to the clubhouse. The hitting facility, which the Bearcats players have access to 24 hours a day, features two state-of-the-art home plate programmable pitching machines.

There is also a full-functioning visiting team clubhouse located down the right-field line.

Prior to the 2013 season, a RightView Pro four-camera stadium kit was installed for video coaching and the dugouts were outfitted with safety fencing.

Following the 2014 season, Marge Schott Stadium underwent a full field renovation with local builder The Motz Group. A state-of-the-art TriplePlay HP turf surface was installed over the entire field, including warning track, batter's box and pitching mound.

Neville Pinto was appointed by the University of Cincinnati Board of Trustees to serve as the university's 30th President on Dec. 17, 2016. He will take office in February 2017.

President-Elect Pinto is currently acting president and professor of chemical engineering at the University of Louisville. He has spent his entire career as a university teacher, researcher and administrator.

Pinto spent 26 years as a faculty member and dean at the University of Cincinnati, has been appointed the University of Cincinnati's next president. UC's Board of Trustees voted to select Pinto as UC's 30th president at a special meeting on Dec. 17.

Pinto is expected to start his new post at UC in February. He will lead one of the nation's top public research universities with a record-breaking enrollment of more than 44,300 students, more than $390 million in research funding annually, top-ranked academic programs, a $1.2 billion endowment and record-level fundraising of $259 million in FY2016.

As the acting president of UofL, Pinto led a metropolitan research university with an enrollment of 22,000 students in 11 colleges and schools on three campuses and a downtown Health Sciences Center. As its engineering school dean, Pinto expanded enrollment, initiated the development of a 39-acre research park near the engineering college and built stronger ties to GE. He also led efforts to encourage GE to bring its FirstBuild microfactory to the UofL campus. First-Build is a new-product accelerator that rapidly transforms ideas for new products into prototypes for testing. In effect, the center throws open the doors of innovation to anyone with good ideas and gets those good ideas out to market quickly. One of its recent successes is the Opal countertop ice maker.

"Neville Pinto returns to UC with a remarkable record in research, innovation, the development of industry partnerships, academic excellence and diversity. He has established a stellar record as a collaborator who can work with community and corporate partners. He will be a great asset as UC launches our new 1819 Innovation Hub," said Robert E. Richardson Jr., chairman of UC's Board of Trustees and chairman of the university's Presidential Search Committee. "We are also thrilled to bring him home to the university and the city that he and his family have loved for so long."

At UC, Pinto served from 1985 to 2011 as a faculty member in chemical engineering and established the Adsorption and Ion Exchange Laboratory, which attracted over $6 million in external research funding for research in biochemical and environmental engineering. In addition to his accomplishments as a researcher, he established himself as a rising academic administrator, first as department head of chemical engineering from 1993 to 1997 and as assistant dean for Graduate Studies in the College of Engineering and Applied Science from 2002 to 2006. He was then tapped as the vice provost and dean of The Graduate School, playing a leadership role in attracting external awards of over $10 million to support graduate and STEM (science, technology, engineering and mathematics) education. In 2011, he left UC for the opportunity to become dean of engineering at Louisville.

He remained dean of the J.B. Speed School of Engineering at Louisville for four years and was named UofL's interim executive vice president and provost in May 2015. He was chosen to serve as provost permanently in June 2016. During his time as provost, he finalized the 21st Century University Plan and launched major initiatives to strengthen educational excellence, student success and access, research and community engagement. In late July 2016, he was tapped as Louisville's acting president.

"From the outset, it was remarkably clear that Neville Pinto is a leader's leader - grounded in integrity and compassion and capable of bringing out the very best in those around him," said Thomas D. Cassidy, UC Board of Trustees chairman-elect. "As a former department head, vice provost, dean, provost and acting president, the breadth and depth of his expertise and experience rank second to none. Our board is delighted and excited to partner with him to elevate UC to even greater heights."

Student Government President Mitchell Phelps, who served on the Presidential Search Committee, also applauded Pinto's selection. "Neville Pinto is a great match to the profile our committee had developed for the ideal candidate for this job. From a student perspective, his credentials show me that he recognizes that the university must put students first," he said.

Pinto was elected to the National Academy of Inventors in 2010 in recognition of U.S. patents awarded. He also is a lifetime Fellow of the Graduate School at UC and has won awards as an educator, including the BP Outstanding Teaching Award, the Engineering Tribunal Professor of the Year Award (UC), the Neal Wandmacher Teaching Award (UC College of Engineering and Applied Science) and the Outstanding Chemical Engineering Professor Award (UC).

Pinto was born in Mumbai, India. He earned all of his academic degrees in chemical engineering - including his bachelor's in 1980 at the Indian Institute of Technology in New Delhi, India, and his MS and PhD at Pennsylvania State University in 1982 and 1985, respectively. As a researcher, he has focused on purification of genetically engineered drugs, the study of bio-membranes, and air and water purification.

MIKE BOHN

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Mike Bohn was named the director of athletics at the University of Cincinnati on Feb. 6, 2014

Bohn's career spans thirty years and includes record-setting achievements at multiple institutions.

"We are beyond excited to join the UC community -- with its rich history and remarkable momentum," Bohn said.

As director of athletics at the University of Colorado from 2005 to 2013, Bohn successfully led their transition to the Pac-12 Conference. CU won four conference championship titles within two years, including the first for men's basketball in over 43 years. Meanwhile, Bohn enhanced academic support for scholar-athletes, resulting in departmental highs for APR and GPA.

He oversaw several multi-million dollar capital projects and facility upgrades, as well as secured the largest corporate sponsorship in school history. In 2008, CU garnered national attention for launching the first zero-waste stadium initiative at the college or professional level. In 2013, CU was named the most economically efficient athletics department in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics at Texas A&M.

Prior to the University of Colorado, Bohn served as director of athletics at San Diego State University. Under his watch, SDSU football increased season ticket sales by 27% and game-day attendance by 59%, in addition to setting a SDSU single-game attendance record of 57,000 against Idaho State. The SDSU baseball team set a NCAA single-game attendance record of 40,000.

As director of athletics at the University of Idaho from 1999 to 2003, Bohn successfully led their transition to the Division I-A ranks from the Big Sky Conference. Under Bohn, UI began construction on the Vandal Athletics Center, the first athletic facilities improvement in two decades. Additionally, he spearheaded a 20% increase in the Vandal Scholarship Fund and a $350,000 surge in annual corporate support.

Bohn spent three years at Colorado State University as associate director of athletics. At CSU, he was responsible for all external revenue-producing operations, including: ticket sales; fundraising through the Greater Ram Club; licensing; corporate sales; signage; capital campaigns; broadcasting rights fees; and special events.

Prior to CSU, Bohn served as Director of Marketing for the College Football Association. The CFA, the precursor to the current Bowl Championship Series, consisted of six major football conferences encompassing 67 universities. Bohn assisted with the CFA's administration of a $67 million television package involving ABC, ESPN and ESPN2.

He began his athletic administrative career at the Air Force Academy, where he played a major role in increasing football season ticket sales from 6,000 to 20,000 and in implementing a fundraising campaign that generated $16 million for stadium improvements.

Bohn received a bachelor's degree from the University of Kansas, where he was recruited as a quarterback and also played baseball, and a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University.

He is married to the former Kim Zeren, and they have a son, Brandon, and a daughter, Michaelyn Tynan, along with a son-in-law, John Tynan, and a grandson, Chase Tynan.

Southwest Ohio native Ty Neal was named the University of Cincinnati's 27th baseball head coach on June 7, 2013. He was previously an assistant for the Bearcats in 2004 and both played and coached at Miami (Ohio). Neal, who was regarded as one of the top assistant coaches in college baseball, joined the Bearcats after spending eight seasons at Indiana University. He was the program's top assistant and recruiting coordinator and helped direct the Hoosiers to their first appearance at the College World Series in 2013. Neal has averaged 21 wins a year during his three seasons at the helm of the program. The 2016 Bearcats nearly doubled their win total from 2015, closing out the season with 26 victories, UC's most since 2011. During that time, he has changed the culture of the program, developing talent, encouraging engagement in the local community and focusing on academics. The results have shown in improved win totals and a team GPA which is consistently near the top of schools in the American Athletic Conference. The Bearcats finished fourth in the American Athletic Conference in 2016 with a 13-10-1 league record and finished 26-30-1 overall, During his first two seasons at Cincinnati, Neal guided outfielder Ian Happ, arguably one of the best players in UC baseball history. After the 2015 season, Happ was drafted as the ninth-overall selection in the MLB draft by the Chicago Cubs, making him the highest draft pick in Cincinnati history. He was a seven-time All-America recipient as well as a Capital One First Team Academic All-American. Happ was named the 2015 American Athletic Conference Player of the Year, the first UC player to earn the honor since 2008. In 2015, the Bearcats upset No. 6 UCF twice, winning the series 2-1 on April 2-4, 2015 at Marge Schott Stadium. It marked the highest-ranked opponent UC has beaten on record and was the first series victory over a ranked opponent in program history.

The Bearcats finished with a 22-31 overall record in Neal's first season at the helm of the Bearcats, including a 13-9 mark in games played at Marge Schott Stadium. He coached the Bearcats to a championship victory at the sixth annual Joe Nuxhall Classic, the first for UC since 2010. During his first year, he coached three All-Conference selections, including first team All-American Athletic Conference pick Ian Happ and two third team picks in Justin Glass and Matt Williams. Neal also tutored RHP Connor Walsh who was selected in the 12th round of the 2014 Major League Baseball first-year player draft by the Chicago White Sox. In addition to the accomplishments on the field, the team earned high academic praise under Neal's tutelage. The Bearcats won the 2014 and 2015 American Athletic Conference Team Excellence Awards as the league team with the highest GPA, making UC the only school to ever win the honor. Prior to Cincinnati, during Neal's eight seasons with the Hoosiers, he became known as one of the best teachers and recruiters in the game. He spent two years as the team's infield and third-base coach and oversaw all development of position players from 2009-10. In 2011, he returned to his duties as the team's pitching coach, a position he held from 2006-08. He was also IU's recruiting coordinator, and helped recruit 16 undrafted players out of high school that turned into Major League Baseball Draft Picks from 2008-10. During his time at IU, the Hoosiers won a pair of Big Ten Conference Tournament titles, IU's first regular-season conference championship since 1949 and the first outright league title in 81 years. During Neal's tenure, Indiana advanced to a pair of NCAA Regionals, one NCAA Super Regional and a College World Series in 2013, the first in program history. Fifteen players earned First-Team All-Big Ten honors, eight were All-America selections, eight were freshmen All-America honorees, two were named league player of the year and one earned Big Ten Pitcher of the Year accolades.

During his coaching career at Indiana, Neal mentored 18 pitchers who were drafted in the first 10 rounds of the Major League Baseball Draft. Neal joined the Hoosiers after serving as the pitching coach under IU head coach Tracy Smith at Miami in 2005. That season, Neal guided Miami's staff to a 3.33 ERA, the 16th-best mark in the nation, as the team earned a trip to the NCAA Tournament and matched a school record with 45 victories (45-18 overall). The team's top three starters compiled a 26-3 mark, including a sparkling 2.77 ERA. Prior to his stint at UC in 2004, Neal coached at Southern Illinois from 2001-03 and started his coaching career at Miami in 2000, when the RedHawks went 40-23 and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. At Southern Illinois, Neal helped guide the Salukis to a pair of 30-win seasons in 2001 and 2002. The 2001 campaign marked the first time SIU had won 30 or more in a single season since 1990. He also helped the Salukis improve from eighth in the Missouri Valley Conference in 2001 to third in 2003, including a runner-up finish in the MVC Tournament. During the summer of 2002, Neal served as pitching coach for the Yarmouth-Dennis Red Sox of the Cape Cod Baseball League. Neal wrapped up his playing career at Miami as a four-year letterwinner, earning 19 career victories. As a senior, he served as a team captain and was presented with the RedHawk Award. He was also named an All-American by the National Strength and Conditioning Association. Neal, a native of West Elkton, Ohio, graduated from Miami in 1999 with a bachelor's degree in health and sport studies. He and his wife, Christine, have two sons, Silas and Beckett and one daughter Paisley.
