COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Cincinnati Bearcats take pride in their athletic and academic accomplishments. They also hold a unique place for their Cincinnati community and express that through engaging outside of sport. Each of our 19 teams does their part each year to give back to the community that supports them.

During the 2014-15 academic year, UC student-athletes completed over 2,968 hours of community service, visiting over 50 separate sites.

Within the athletic department we have two annual community engagement initiatives that are organized by UC student-athletes.

Playdate with the Bearcats grew out of the relationship between the Cincinnati football team and Mitch Stone, a young cancer patient who was adopted by the team during their 2009 record-breaking season. Today, Mitch is healthy and cancer-free. With help from the team, Mitch's family started Mitch's Mission so that they could continue helping kids facing similar health challenges.

Each February, Mitch's Mission and UC partner to host Playdate with the Bearcats. The fundraiser benefits pediatric cancer and blood disease patients at Cincinnati Children's Hospital. The event is designed as a carnival-like, family-fun event, featuring UC student-athletes from the football team and other varsity sports along with the Bearcat mascot. The day also offers cornhole, kid-friendly drills put together by UC coaches, swimming, rock-climbing, face painting, food and music.

The second major event sponsored by UC student-athletes is Gatorade Pong which. Put on annually by the Student-

Athlete Advisory Committee, it is a tournament style event with raffles, prizes and food. All of the proceeds go to Mother's Against Drunk Driving to promote education and safe driving. The event includes representation from all of our teams as well as faculty, staff and the Cincinnati community.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Strength and conditioning is one of the most important ingredients of any successful college athletic department. To help the Bearcats' student-athletes maximize their athletic potential, UC combines a modern, comprehensive facility with the latest techniques in sports performance.

The goal of the strength and conditioning program is to develop the total athlete. The strength and conditioning staff works with UC student-athletes in the following areas: strength/power, agility/skill development, nutrition, mental toughness, speed, flexibility, conditioning and injury prevention to lead to total athlete development.

No area is given greater attention and emphasis than strength and conditioning.

With the opening of the Richard E. Lindner Athletics Center, the Bearcats utilize a 22,000-square-foot strength training facility, one of the largest in the nation. The facility includes state-of-the-art equipment and an artificial turf warm-up area, trimmed in the same surface UC plays on at Nippert Stadium, Gettler Stadium and Marge Schott Stadium.

In 2013, the mirror-covered space received an overhaul, including painting, new Olympic weights, 36 racks, a new top-of-the-line flooring system

Space within the weight room was also redistributed in a more efficient manner, allowing multiple teams and groups to work out at the same time.

In the summer of 2014, a nutrition bar was added; ensuring UC student-athletes will have access to pre- and post-workout nutritional shakes and NCAA-regulated supplements.

Joe Walker heads up the football strength and conditioning staff and is assisted by former UC standout running back Orlando Smith, David Neill and graduate assistants Reid Kagy.

Mike Rehfeldt oversees the men's basketball program while Kelly Powers leads the women's basketball and Olympic sports effort along with the help of Lauren Kelly.

UNDER ARMOUR APPAREL

UNDER ARMOUR

The University of Cincinnati department of athletics officially welcomed Under Armour to the family Wednesday, as the global performance brand began its tenure as the official outfitter for UC's intercollegiate athletics program starting July 1, 2015.

The long-term partnership was originally announced on April 2, 2015.

As part of the multi-year agreement, Under Armour will exclusively design and supply the footwear, apparel and equipment for training and gameday uniforms for each of UC's 19 men's and women's varsity athletic teams beginning in the 2015-16 season.

In addition to outfitting the Bearcats, the brand plans to integrate the University into its wide-ranging storytelling efforts, including global marketing campaigns, social media initiatives, in-store promotions and grassroots activations.

"Our talented players, coaches and staff are excited to share this new relationship with our dedicated fans and demonstrate how two hot brands will take the Bearcats to new heights," Director of Athletics Mike Bohn said. "Under Armour has made a significant commitment to UC which will allow us to strive for even more significant achievements. We share a passion to provide our student-athletes with all the cutting edge tools to compete at the highest level."

This new affiliation further expands Under Armour's leadership in providing proven performance benefits to college athletes on all playing fields. Cincinnati is the brand's fifteenth Division 1 all-school partnership.

SPORTS MEDICINE

The University of Cincinnati's sports medicine program is responsible not only for helping student-athletes make speedy recoveries from injuries, but in preventing injuries from occurring.

UC's sports medicine program is a comprehensive approach to the injury care and the wellness of the University's over 500 student-athletes, utilizing state-of-the-art diagnostic and treatment equipment with the latest methods in the care and prevention of injuries.

Its objectives are simple: to prevent injuries, to rehabilitate injuries, to adjust to the stress following injuries and to educate student-athletes about various wellness issues. Trainers are present at every practice and event to monitor the health of the student-athletes and respond to injuries.

The goal is to get UC's athletes back in the classroom and on the playing field functioning at 100 percent capacity. New student-athletes are carefully examined before they participate to detect potential problems. All student-athletes are afforded state-of-the-art therapeutic care.

During the summer of 2011 and following an extensive departmental review, UC made the decision to outsource its sports medicine operation to Select Medical, the parent company of NovaCare Rehabilitation, which is UC's longtime provider of rehabilitation services.

Under the direction of Associate AD/Sports Medicine Bob Mangine, UC's athletic trainers are the backbone of the sports medicine program. Mangine, drawing on more than three decades in the sports medicine and physical therapy fields, supervises a staff of six assistant athletic trainers, four intern athletic trainers and two physical therapists.

Mangine leads the football sports medicine team while Head Athletic Trainer Robb Williams is in his second season with the men's basketball squads at UC while overseeing the day-to-day operations of the training room.

Associate Head Football Trainer Daniel Springer starts his second full-time season with the program. Springer is a UC graduate who was a student trainer with the 2008 Bearcats team which traveled to the Orange Bowl.

Emi Matsuno, who previously worked at the University of Illinois, enters her seventh season at UC and her second with the women's basketball squad, after spending the previous six years with the football program.

Kris Chalk is in his third year at UC and works with the men's soccer and men's and women's swimming & diving.

Samantha Loughlin is also in her third year with the Bearcats and works with the lacrosse program and men's and women's swimming and diving.

Interns for the 2105-16 season are Phil Montano (football), Haley McDaniel (volleyball), Michele Galvin (Track & Field), Stephanie Medina (tennis, cheer and dance).

Matt Donlin and Lydia Wright will serve as physical therapists.

UC has some of the top doctors in the country on staff, led by Head Team Physician Dr. Jon Divine, and Director of Orthopedic Services Dr. Angelo Colosimo.

UC's state-of-the-art sports medicine facility caters to the needs of UC's student-athletes. Features of the training room include over 4,000 square feet of space for treatment and taping, spacious office suites for training staff and physicians, hydrotherapy areas, a physicians' exam area and x-ray facilities.

UC Health provides nationally-recognized specialists who are immediately accessible. University of Cincinnati Medical Center, a nationally recognized medical center, is immediately adjacent to UC's campus, providing Bearcats student-athletes the absolute best in health and medical care. UC Health Imaging Centers has an MRI diagnostic center within the Richard E. Lindner Varsity Village complex.

TRABERT-TALBERT TENNIS CENTER

The UC Trabert-Talbert Tennis Center opened in May 2006. It features six courts in three different sections with lighting and grandstand seating for 500. Located between Marge Schott Stadium and Nippert Stadium and across Corry Street from Gettler Stadium, the center is just steps away from the Richard E. Lindner Athletics Center, which houses the entire athletics department.

Concessions and restrooms were added near the tennis courts in conjunction with the Nippert Stadium Renovation and Expansion project in the fall of 2015 and provide fans and student-athletes with first-class amenities during all home matches.

WESTERN TENNIS & FITNESS CLUB

Western Tennis and Fitness Club proudly hosts several home matches for the Bearcats. All matches take place on the main front courts where fans can sit upstairs to cheer on Cincinnati. All matches are free and open to the public.

Western Tennis & Fitness Club is a 79,000 square-foot family owned and operated sports complex offering fitness, tennis, swimming and social activities. The club was purchased by Jim and Bobbie Farley in September, 2004. It has since undergone many renovations and continues to grow everyday. The Club is located in Green Township in western Hamilton County on a beautifully landscaped 4 1/2-acre site.

MIKE BOHN

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Mike Bohn was named the director of athletics at the University of Cincinnati on Feb. 6, 2014

Bohn's career spans thirty years and includes record-setting achievements at multiple institutions.

"We are beyond excited to join the UC community--with its rich history and remarkable momentum," Bohn said. I am eager to partner with a highly energized President who understands the collaborative role that athletics can play in advancing the University's vision and values. Go Bearcats!"

"To recruit a leader of Mike's caliber and national standing only reaffirms the strength, promise and pride of UC Athletics. Mike has successfully moved multiple high profile programs to greater heights, and I am confident that he will help us do the same," Ono said. "I invite all of you to join me in welcoming Mike and his family to the Bearcat family."

As director of athletics at the University of Colorado from 2005 to 2013, Bohn successfully led their transition to the Pac-12 Conference. CU won four conference championship titles within two years, including the first for men's basketball in over 43 years. Meanwhile, Bohn enhanced academic support for scholar-athletes, resulting in departmental highs for APR and GPA.

He oversaw several multi-million dollar capital projects and facility upgrades, as well as secured the largest corporate sponsorship in school history. In 2008, CU garnered national attention for launching the first zero-waste stadium initiative at the college or professional level. In 2013, CU was named the most economically efficient athletics department in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics at Texas A&M.

Prior to the University of Colorado, Bohn served as director of athletics at San Diego State University. Under his watch, SDSU football increased season ticket sales by 27% and game-day attendance by 59%, in addition to setting a SDSU single-game attendance record of 57,000 against Idaho State. The SDSU baseball team set a NCAA single-game attendance record of 40,000.

As director of athletics at the University of Idaho from 1999 to 2003, Bohn successfully led their transition to the Division I-A ranks from the Big Sky Conference. Under Bohn, UI began construction on the Vandal Athletics Center, the first athletic facilities improvement in two decades. Additionally, he spearheaded a 20% increase in the Vandal Scholarship Fund and a $350,000 surge in annual corporate support.

Bohn spent three years at Colorado State University as associate director of athletics. At CSU, he was responsible for all external revenue-producing operations, including: ticket sales; fundraising through the Greater Ram Club; licensing; corporate sales; signage; capital campaigns; broadcasting rights fees; and special events.

Prior to CSU, Bohn served as Director of Marketing for the College Football Association. The CFA, the precursor to the current Bowl Championship Series, consisted of six major football conferences encompassing 67 universities. Bohn assisted with the CFA's administration of a $67 million television package involving ABC, ESPN and ESPN2.

He began his athletic administrative career at the Air Force Academy, where he played a major role in increasing football season ticket sales from 6,000 to 20,000 and in implementing a fundraising campaign that generated $16 million for stadium improvements.

Bohn received a bachelor's degree from the University of Kansas, where he was recruited as a quarterback and also played baseball, and a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University.

He is married to the former Kim Zeren, and they have a son, Brandon, and a daughter, Michaelyn Tynan, along with a son-in-law, John Tynan, and a grandson, Chase Tynan.
