Post-game Notes:

- Saturday's game marks the first time the Lobos have swept the series against New Mexico State since the 2015-16 season.
- The Lobos are now 7-0 at home on the season and are on a five-win streak.
 - The last time the Lobos were 7-0 at home was the 2016-17 season.
- All eight Lobos who saw action on the court scored in Saturday's game.
- Two Lobos finished in double figures: redshirt-senior Carlton Bragg Jr. (17) and redshirt-senior JaQuan Lyle (16).
 - Bragg and Lyle have now both scored in double digits 10 times this season.
- Bragg posted his fourth double-double of the season with 17 points and 17 rebounds.
 - This double-double also marks his sixth career double-double at UNM.
 - The double-double is his third in the last four games.
 - Bragg's 17 rebounds marks the fifth time this season he has posted double-digit rebounds.
 - His 17 boards marks the 13th time he has pulled down double figures as a Lobo.
 - Bragg went 4-5 from the floor and 9-10 from the line to contribute to his 17 points.
- UNM outscored the NM State in points in the paint (32-28) and off the fast break (17-6).
 - Saturday's game marks the tenth game this season that the Lobos have outscored an opponent in the paint.
- There were a total of eight lead changes in Saturday's game with the Lobos holding the lead for 19:42 and the Aggies holding it for 16:48.
- The Lobos held their largest lead of nine points twice in the game, the first at 1:01 (63-54), the second with 0:14 left (68-59).
 - The second nine-point lead came following a 13-5 UNM run lasting four minutes and 10 seconds from 4:24 to 0:14.
- New Mexico registered its best free throw percentage of the season as it went 23-28, good for 82.1 percent.
 - The Lobos have now shot above 80 percent from the line in their past two games and above 75 percent in their last three.
- UNM recorded 14 steals on the night compared to NMSU's 10.
- The halftime score of 33-31 marked the same two-point advantage held by NMSU as in the first half of the team's first meeting of the season on Nov. 21 (39-37).
