ABOUT THE MATCHUP

- New Mexico enters Tuesday's contest on a two-game skid after kicking off Mountain West play 2-0, including a 27-point win over then-No. 5/6 Nevada.
- SDSU is 1-2 in Mountain West play and enters Tuesday night coming off of a loss on Saturday at Air Force.
- The last time the Lobos and the Aztecs met was on March 10, 2018 in the Mountain West Championship. UNM fell by just seven points in the final six minutes to the No. 5 seed as the No. 3 seed.
- New Mexico leads the series with SDSU 47-39 but is just 13-25 on the road.
- The Lobos faced the now-defending MW Champions twice last season including a 79-75 victory at home on Jan. 20.
- UNM is 3-1 in the last four meetings with the Aztecs.
- San Diego State is led by sophomore Jalen McDaniels (15.4 ppg), senior Devin Watson (15.3 ppg) and sophomore Matt Mitchell (12.3 ppg). McDaniels is also SDSU's leading rebounder (7.8 rpg).
- The Lobos are led by a pair of players averaging scoring in double figures including senior Anthony Mathis (15.9) and redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (12.4). Leading UNM on the boards is redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg (7.8 rpg) and Jackson (7.2 rpg).

SCOUTING SAN DIEGO STATE

The Aztecs kicked off the regular season 2-0 before falling to then-No. 1/1 Duke on Nov. 19 by a score of 90-64. Excluding conference opponents, SDSU and UNM have had just one common opponent so far this season in CSUN. The Lobos topped the Matadors by three, 87-84 to open the season on the road while SDSU earned a five-point victory on New Year's Day at home over the squad.

The Aztec defense allows just 69.9 points per game and posts a +4.8 scoring margin. SDSU allows opponents to shoot just 32.2 percent from behind the arc.

LAST TIME OUT

Despite having four players score in double figures and redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson register his third double-double of the season, the Lobos fell to Colorado State by a score of 91-76 on Saturday afternoon on the road.

Jackson led the Lobos with 18 points, 12 rebounds and four steals, followed by senior Anthony Mathis who, after scoring just five points in the first half (2-for-2, 1-for-1 from three), racked up 11 in the second half en route to 16 points.

The 91 points scored by CSU was the third-highest total the Lobos have allowed so far this season after a pair of high-scoring losses to NMSU.

LOBOS AFTER DARK

Last Tuesday's loss to UNLV marked the first of five games this season that UNM will take on an opponent at 9 p.m. MT - some 9 p.m. (PT) times will actually be at 10 p.m. in Albuquerque. In addition, the Lobo schedule features four upcoming 8 p.m. games.

MOUNTAIN WEST PLAYER OF THE WEEK

For his efforts against then-ranked No. 5/6 Nevada on Jan. 5 and against Air Force on Jan. 2, senior Anthony Mathis earned his first Mountain West Player of the Week honor. Mathis averaged 22.0 points per game going 12-for-31 (.387) from the field including 8-for-23 (.348) from behind the arc. He also went 12-for-14 from the free throw line.

ASSIST ARTISAN

Freshman Drue Drinnon has led the Lobos in assists in six games out of 15 despite sitting out the first game to injury and seeing just two minutes in game two. He has seen a total of 192 minutes on the court and leads the Lobos with 41 assists.

Drinnon collected 12 assists against the University of the Southwest on Dec. 30, finishing just one away from cracking the top 10 in program history in single-game assists.

EMERGING MALUACH

After a stellar freshman season, sophomore Makuach Maluach started the season out strong, and then inconsistent. In his first 12 games of the season, he registered double figures just four times. In the last four games, since Mountain West play began, Maluach has registered 12 points or more in each contest and has started the last seven games.

WELL-ROUNDED VANCE

Redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson leads the Lobos with the most double-doubles (3) and the most 10+ rebounding games of the season (3). He has scored in double figures in the last seven games and has collected 19 assists in the last six games, including seven against Nevada.

IT'S RAINING THREES

The Lobos are averaging 9.7 3-pointers per game and have racked up 10 or more in 11-of-16 games this season.

DUNK TRACKER

Speaking of dunks, redshirt-sophomore Keith McGee dazzled Lobo fans with a steal and a coast-to-coast dunk with the assist of senior Dane Kuiper on Saturday at Colorado State.

BRAGG IS BACK

Redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg finally earned his debut as a Lobo on Sunday, Dec. 16 after a year and a half off the court. Bragg posted 16 points on 7-for-12 from the floor and tallied seven rebounds in his debut against Central Arkansas. He followed it up with a six-point, seven-rebound performance against North Texas to go along with three steals.

In the Lobos' win over then-No. 5/6 Nevada on Jan. 5, he tallied a season-high 12 rebounds. In his first four games, the rebound machine registered exactly seven in each and notched a new season high of nine

STERLING LOBOS - 1ST IN THE MW

The Lobos currently lead the Mountain West on the season in steals per game with 7.4. UNM is led in the category by redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (17), followed by seniors Anthony Mathis (16) and Dane Kuiper (16).

20-POINT FEVER

Senior Anthony Mathis has posted five 20+ point games so far this season and has done so just eight times in his career. Mathis had three 20-point games in three seasons, and in the first 16 games of his senior year has already surpassed it.

He has also led the Lobos in scoring in half of UNM's games so far this season (8).

LONG DECEMBER

It was a long December for the Lobos as UNM went 3-5 over the last month of 2018 after starting the season 3-1 in November. With the beginning of the Mountain West season, the Lobos have kicked off January 2019 2-2.

MIXING IT UP ...

All eligible Lobos except one (walk-on transfer Clay Patterson, who saw action in his first game Dec. 30 vs Southwest) have started at least two games this season.

Though UNM has featured just two duplicate lineups throughout the first 16 games of the season, the last five games have featured four of the same Lobos including senior Anthony Mathis, senior Dane Kuiper, redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg and sophomore Makuach Maluach. The four other players that have shuffled through include sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk, redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson and juniors Karim Ezzeddine and Corey Manigault. The Lobos have gone 3-2 in their last five contests.

MATHIS COUNTDOWN TO 1,000

Senior Anthony Mathis has accumulated 773

points in his career. With 227 points to go to reach the 1,000-point mark, it may seem premature to begin the countdown but consider this: Mathis has already netted 254 points this season and tallied 433 last season after essentially sitting the bench his first two as a Lobo (86 points total).

Mathis has scored in double figures in 13-of-16 games this season including five 20+ point games. With an average of 15.9 points per game and at least 15 games left this season he could make it before his career at UNM ends.

MATHIS 9TH IN THE NATION

Lobo senior Anthony Mathis is ranked 9th in the nation in 3-point field goals per game (3.69) and 14th in total 3-point field goals made (59).

Mathis hit a career-high 11-of-11 free throws against (RV) North Texas on Dec. 18 and went 20-for-20 from the stripe until he missed a pair against Nevada. He currently ranks 28th in the country in free-throw percentage (87.2).

LOBOS IN THE NATION

TEAM:
-36th - 3-Point FG/G (9.7)

INDIVIDUALS:
-9th - Anthony Mathis - 3-Point FG/G (3.69)
-14th - Anthony Mathis - Total 3-Point FG (59)
-28th - Anthony Mathis - Free throw % (88.2)
-36th - Anthony Mathis - 3-Point FG% (43.4)

27TH IN ATTENDANCE

The Lobos are currently ranked 27th in the country in average attendance. Approximately 11,166 fans fill Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit to watch their Lobos per game so far this season. The Lobos also lead the conference in attendance this season:

The Lobos also ranked 15th out of 351 NCAA Division I teams in turnover percentage last season.

RECORDS ARE MEANT TO BE BROKEN

En route to their first appearance in the league championship since 2014, the Lobos broke the program records for 3-pointers in a season (367), most 3-point field goals attempted (979) and highest free throw percentage (77.7%). For reference, the previous records were 301, 782 and 75.7%, respectively.

As a team, the Lobos also broke the record for most points in a game (147 vs Northern New Mexico), most points in a conference game (119 at Wyoming) and most points in a conference season (1,507). Old records for the above: 136, 113 and 1,373, respectively.

STELLAR SCHEDULE

The Lobos are taking on a field of top-notch teams this season including five squads that advanced to the 2018 NCAA Tournament. Last season's Big Dance squads include New Mexico State, Iona, Penn, San Diego State and Nevada. With UNM facing NMSU, SDSU and Nevada twice apiece, that makes for eight games against NCAA post-season opponents, not to mention a matchup with last season's CBI tourney winner, North Texas.

UNDER THE RADAR

This offseason, the Lobos were ranked by the NCAA's Andy Katz as one of five "under the radar" teams to watch this season.

SHARP SHOOTER

Senior Anthony Mathis blew expectations out of the water last season after more than fiftuple his career point production as a junior - that's right, in two seasons at UNM, Mathis scored just 86 points in 228 minutes, and multiplied that total by five in his junior season. In 2017-18, Mathis took the term "breakout" to a whole new level, dropping 433 points in 760 minutes on the floor. His shot from 3-point range couldn't be stopped as he finished the season with a program-record 66 3-pointers in conference play. He also fired from behind the arc at a clip of 47.3%, ranking fourth in the nation among

ABOUT THE 2018-19 LOBOS

The 2018-19 Lobos have just four returning letterwinners from the 2017-18 squad, including leading-scorer Anthony Mathis (12.7 ppg) who finished fourth in the nation in 3-point percentage and broke the UNM record for most 3-point field goals in a conference season (66) as a junior. The squad also adds nine newcomers and returns a pair of sitting transfers to the team that finished third in Mountain West regular-season play last season.

In addition to Mathis, UNM's returners include senior Dane Kuiper, who is the lone returning starter, and sophomores Makuach Maluach and Vladimir Pinchuk. Maluach finished his inaugural season averaging 9.6 points per game and ranks fourth all-time on the Lobo freshman single-season scoring list.

BY THE NUMBERS

Here is what is returning and missing for the 2018-19 Lobos.

Stat	Returning	Lost	% Returning
Points	1,075	1,720	38%
Rebounds	345	728	32%
Assists	124	415	23%

3-Pointers	167	200	46%
Free Throws	194	356	35%

REMEMBERING LAST SEASON

The 2017-18 Lobos were picked to finish ninth in league play, but shocked everyone when they pulled off a third-place finish in regular-season play, earned the MW Tournament bye and took on San Diego State in the Championship game, falling by just seven points.

THE STUDENT BECOMES THE MASTER

After posting a breakout inaugural season of his own last year, sophomore Makuach Maluach is expected to be a high-profile returner for the Lobos this year. He's been ranked on several preseason lists and even made the cover of Lindy's Sports Magazine in August. Most recently, the soft-spoken sophomore was ranked 19th on the Mountain West Wire's Top 25.

CONSISTENCY IS OVERRATED

Last season, the Lobos debuted the most starting lineups in NCAA Division I with 21. Coach Weir made it clear in his first season that starting lineups would be determined by the numbers of deflections a player accumulated in the previous game, hence the sky-high number of lineup combos.

MW PRESEASON NEWCOMER OF THE YEAR

Redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson was named 2018 Mountain West Preseason Newcomer of the Year following the league's media poll in October. Jackson transferred from UCONN where he shot 40.9 percent from the field, 39.7 from behind the arc as a freshman in 2016-17. He reached double figures in 13 games and led the team twice in scoring in his inaugural collegiate season.

WE'RE NOT IN KANSAS ANYMORE ...

The Lobos return a pair of transfers that sat out last year and also welcome five more, including the highly-anticipated Carlton Bragg (Kansas/ASU transfer) who is currently eligible for conference play. Joining Bragg will be Juco transfers Corey Manigault, Keith McGee and Karim Ezzeddine who are all set to play at the start of the season.

Redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (UCONN) will finally get his chance to don the Cherry and Silver this season and was named 2018 MW Newcomer of the Year. Jackson's fellow bench-warmer last season, Ohio State transfer JaQuan Lyle, suffered an Achilles injury during practice in September and is expected to miss the 2018-19 season. Two more transfers of note include Towson's Zane Martin, who will be sitting out in 2018-19 due to NCAA transfer rules, and redshirt-freshman Clay Patterson. A native of Rio Rancho, N.M., Patterson transferred back home from NCAA DII Fort Lewis. He is eligible to compete in 2018-19.

BRINGING PEOPLE TOGETHER

The Lobo squad is as varied as it gets when it comes to hometown pride. Each player on the team is from not only a different town, but a different state or country entirely! With the late addition of walk-on Clay Patterson, the only exception is a pair of native New Mexicans. States and countries represented include: Pennsylvania, Maryland, California, New York, Florida, Australia, Indiana, Alaska,

Germany, Georgia, France, Oregon, New Mexico and Ohio.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME

The famous home of Lobo basketball enters its second year under the name "Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit" as part of an exciting renaming of both of UNM's largest-capacity athletic venues.

This July, "The Pit" was tabbed #17 on the top-30 list of best arena atmospheres in college hoops by the NCAA.

"The Pit" has also been consistently recognized nationally as one of the nation's top basketball venues. Sports Illustrated has ranked it as one of the top 20 sporting venues, of any sport, in the world for the 20th century. The Pit is truly a special place, and it has created an unparalleled environment for the New Mexico men's basketball program. Since the Mountain West conference began in 1999-2000, New Mexico has ranked in the top two in home attendance among MW teams in every year except one, including 12 seasons as the top-ranked MW team in overall attendance.

WHAT'S THAT SOUND?

The new name for The Pit instated in 2017 is not the only change to come for Dreamstyle Arena in the Paul Weir era. This season, after popular fan demand, the sound system in the historic arena has been updated to feature an entirely new fan experience for the 2018-19 season!

MORE NOTES ON COACH WEIR

- Weir’s 28-6 record as a first-year head coach in 2016-17 at NMSU tied for the 10th-most wins by a Division I head coach in NCAA history
- His 28 wins in 2016-17 were the most in Division I for first-year head coaches
- Among those 28 wins was an NMSU school record 20-game winning streak that was at the time the longest in the nation
- Has three master’s degrees in health and human performance, sports psychology and business administration. Currently working on his doctorate
- Played at York University and became starting point-guard for the Lions as a freshman
- Weir arrived at NM State in 2007 after two seasons as the director of basketball operations at Iowa, where he served under former Lobo head coach Steve Alford

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT PAUL WEIR

“New Mexico got a guy in Paul Weir that has paid his dues, and immediately showed he can get things done as the head coach. This hire makes sense because Weir knows the landscape and the expectations at UNM. He’s a guy who can coach, recruit and connect with players. That’s rare these days.” - Jeff Goodman, ESPN

“Paul Weir handled the transition from assistant coach to head coach about as smoothly as it can be handled -- winning 28 games in his first year after being promoted at New Mexico State. It was similar to what Brad Stevens did immediately after being promoted at Butler. So the Lobos have hired an accomplished coach with a great reputation.” - Gary Parrish, CBS Sports

Jackson Posts Double-Double; Lobos Fall at CSU

FORT COLLINS, Colo. --- Despite having four players score in double figures and redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson register his third double-double of the season, The University of New Mexico men's basketball team fell to Colorado State by a score of 91-76 on Saturday afternoon on the road.

With the loss, the Lobos fall to 8-8, 2-2 MW, while CSU improves to 7-10, 2-2 MW.

Jackson led the Lobos with 18 points, 12 rebounds and four steals, followed by senior Anthony Mathis who, after scoring just five points in the first half (2-for-2, 1-for-1 from three), racked up 11 in the second half en route to 16 points.

The other two Lobos to hit double figures included sophomore Makuach Maluach who went 3-for-7 from three, and senior Dane Kuiper, who netted all 10 of his points in the first half going 4-for-7 from the floor, 2-for-5 from behind the arc to open the contest. He shot just once more in the second 20 minutes.

Colorado State had five players score in double figures, led by redshirt-junior Hyron Edwards who racked up a season-high 20 points in a season-most 28 minutes. The last time UNM allowed five scorers in double figures was on Nov. 24 against UTEP.

Both teams were on point from the floor throughout the game as neither fired below 40 percent for the entirety of the contest. The Lobos shot 47.3 percent on the day and entered Saturday's game 6-2 when scoring between 40.0 and 49.9 percent (2-1 in MW play). The Lobos also went 12-for-29 from behind the arc for 41.4 percent.

Despite the lofty Lobo numbers, Colorado State ultimately outshot UNM at 56.1 percent from the field and 46.7 percent from three.

Turnovers again proved to be a problem for the Lobos as New Mexico turned the ball over 17 times to just nine for the Rams. Colorado State capitalized on UNM's miscues as it converted the 17 Lobo turnovers into 24 points in the eventual 15-point loss. The Rams also dominated in the paint, outscoring UNM 44-22 in the key.

"I thought they came out of the gate making a lot of really good shots," head coach Paul Weir said. "Toward the end of the first half and through most of the second half, I thought our defense was pretty good, unfortunately when you turn the ball over like that against a team with that kind of speed, you're not even giving yourselves a chance. Just to allow 24 points off of turnovers is hard for any defense."

The refs were quick to the whistle to kick off Saturday afternoon's matchup as Jackson registered his first point off of a free throw just 11 seconds into the game to put the Lobos on top 1-0. Three straight CSU 3-pointers however over a one-minute span quickly put the Rams up by eight at the 17:37 mark, 9-1.

A layup from Mathis and a successful and-1 for redshirt-sophomore Keith McGee cut the deficit back to three, 9-6, but the Rams pushed their lead to nine on a layup by their season's leading scorer Nico Carvacho. Mathis followed by hitting his first three of the night to cut it back to a six-point game, 19-13 with 13:36 left to play in the half.

The teams battled back and forth but Maluach hit a three at the 12:33 mark to make it a four-point game, 22-18, but CSU followed with a 12-5 run over the next 4:57 to get out to an 11-point advantage.

The Lobos cut the CSU lead back to single digits just twice more after the break, the last time at the 12:17 mark of the second half on a jumper by junior Corey Manigault, 57-49 Rams, before Colorado state went on a 7-0 run to make it a 16-point game, 65-49, and put the game out of reach. The Lobos would get no closer than 13, which came on the next play on a three from Jackson, 65-52.

Over the final 1:38, UNM cut a 25-point deficit down to 15 on a furious comeback rally attempt with threes from Mathis, Jackson and Maluach, along with a free throw from sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk, but it wasn't enough to overcome the Ram lead.

The Lobos were outscored by the Rams by a 10-point margin in the first half and a five-point margin in the second. On the day, the teams finished evenly matched on the glass, 31-30 in favor of the Rams. UNM shot 63.2 percent from the free-throw line (12-19) compared to 80.0 percent for CSU.

Other standouts on the day include McGee, who finished with eight points and a team-high five assists, along with Bragg who scored five points, registered six rebounds and posted one block.

The Lobos are set to return to action on Tuesday, Jan. 15 at San Diego State at 9 p.m. MT.

Exciting Lobo Run Ends in Championship Game

LAS VEGAS, Nev. --- After an exciting season that saw a new squad thrive under a new coaching staff, The University of New Mexico men's basketball team's seven-win streak came to a halt on Saturday in the 2018 Mountain West Championship match. The No. 3 seed Lobos fell to No. 5 seed San Diego State in the final six minutes by a score of 82-75 to earn MW runner-up status.

Five Lobos scored in double figures in the matchup, paced by senior Antino Jackson who posted 17. He was followed by junior Anthony Mathis (13), senior Joe Furstinger (12), as well as senior Sam Logwood (11) and junior Troy Simons (11).

Jackson shined on perhaps his final night in a Lobo uniform, racking up his 17 points in addition to four rebounds and seven assists while going a perfect 5-for-5 from the free throw line.

For their outstanding efforts on the week, Furstinger and Jackson were named to the 2018 Mountain West Championship All-Tournament Team.

On the night, despite keeping it a close matchup throughout the first 33 minutes, the Lobos were outshot 50.0 - 41.3 percent while both teams shot 33.3 percent from 3-point range. The Lobos were 8-for-24 from behind the arc and the Aztecs went 5-for-15.

Both teams turned the ball over 12 times and snagged six steals in the even matchup that saw the lead change 11 times.

"You have to tip your cap to San Diego State. It's a great team - They deserve to win the championship and they did," head coach Paul Weir said. "Unfortunately for me and for us, that means the end of an amazing run with a tremendous group of young men that I'll never forget. I wish I could give them a different ending because they worked so hard and they gave so much and you always -- like your kids, you want to reward them for things like that. Unfortunately I couldn't reward them tonight."

The Lobos came out on fire to start their first appearance in the MW Championship contest since 2014, jumping out to a quick eight-point lead at the 16:42 mark after a 10-4 run that included threes from Simons and Logwood as well as two-pointers from Jackson and Furstinger. SDSU came back fast however, going on a 9-0 run of its own to take a one-point lead, 13-12, at the 13:48 mark of the first half.

The teams knotted the contest five more times in the first half, the fifth on a clutch 3-pointer by Simons with 44 seconds left in the first half to make it 37-37. A jumper by SDSU and a Simons free throw made it a one-point game in favor of the Aztecs at the half. Heading into the game, the Lobos were 3-11 on the season when trailing at the half, 15-3 when leading.

The second half continued in similar fashion with neither team getting out to more than a six-point lead. UNM led by six with 7:39 on the clock in a moment that Lobo fans thought their championship dreams were minutes from reality, but SDSU surged back fast cutting the Lobo lead to just one in less than one minute, 63-62 Lobos.

San Diego State did not relinquish the lead from that point on, getting out to as much as a seven-point lead while holding off the Lobos for the 82-75 final.

UNM will wait to see if its season is officially complete. For the most up-to-date information, follow UNMLoboMBB on Twitter or follow GoLobos.com.

OPPONENT'S LAST TIME OUT

Aztec Rally Comes Up Short at Air Force

USAFAcademy, Colo. -- AJ Walker scored 19 points and Air Force closed with a 14-4 run to defeat San Diego State 62-48 on Saturday.

Ryan Swan had 15 points and 15 rebounds for the Falcons (6-10, 1/3 Mountain West) and Lavelle Scottie added 16 points with 11 rebounds.

Jalen McDaniels led San Diego State (9-7, 1-2) with 18 points and 11 rebounds. McDaniels, a sophomore forward, is averaging 18 points and 10 rebounds in his last four games.

After McDaniels made a layup to draw the Aztecs within 48-44, Walker scored seven points in an 11-0 run that left the Falcons ahead 59-44 with 2:42 remaining. A 3-pointer by Scottie matched the biggest lead for Air Force, 62-46, with 1:55 to go.

Scottie's jumper to open the second half also gave Air Force a 16-point lead. San Diego State trailed 28-14 at halftime after making only five field goals, missing all seven 3-point attempts, in the first half.

Air Force shot 30 percent in the first half; San Diego State 23 percent.

WELCOME TO THE PIT, A MILE HIGH AND LOUDER THAN...

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT THE PIT

"What a terrific atmosphere for college basketball. Great building... Great history... 18,000 screaming fans. It's big time college hoops, baby!"
- Dick Vitale, ESPN

"I consider the game we played in Albuquerque in 1978 one of the most exciting of my career. The Pit is the toughest place to play because of their tremendous atmosphere."
-Jim Boeheim, Syracuse head coach

"When you go into a place like The Pit, there will be challenge different from a regular road game. The crowd can dictate the tempo and momentum. The Pit crowd forces you to be patient."
-Lute Olsen, former Arizona head coach

"A mile high but 37 feet underground, the Pit in Albuquerque has been the site of many mind-blowing college basketball games, including North Carolina State's upset of Houston in '83 and just about any New Mexico home game. The noise created by fans, which has been measured at 125 decibels -- the pain threshold for the human ear is 130 -- is a palpable force."
-Sports Illustrated

- Voted one of "The Top Five Loudest, Most Intimidating Places to Play" by NCAA.com
- Ranked in the top 20 sporting venues of the 20th century by Sports Illustrated
- USA Today ranked The Pit in its "Ten Great Places to Get Pumped for NCAA Action"
- According to Fox Sports, it's one of the top ten "old school" college basketball arenas in the country

THE GREATEST GAME EVER PLAYED

The Pit was the site of one of the greatest college basketball games ever played. It hosted the 1983 national championship game that saw the NC State Wolfpack upset Hakeem Olajuwon, Clyde Drexler and the Houston Cougars. Coach Jimmy Valvano and the Wolfpack downed the Cougars on a last second put back by Lorenzo Charles. The iconic shot of the late Valvano running onto the court looking for a hug is one of the lasting images in college basketball history.

- Built in 1966 ($1.4 million)
- Capacity of 15,411 (previously 18,018)
- $60 million renovation was completed in 2010
- New floor installed before the 2017-18 season
- Seating includes 40 suites and a club area
- Officially named Dreamstyle Arena in 2017 after a $10 million agreement for naming rights by the local New Mexico business. It is still referred to as The Pit, its officially-recognized nickname. As part of the exciting Dreamstyle changes, University Stadium, UNM's football stadium, officially became Dreamstyle Arena on the same date.
- Less than 30 of 345 NCAA Division I basketball programs play in a college-only arena named after a business or organization founded or headquartered in its home state.
- The Lobos have averaged an astounding 15,410 fans the past 49 years, an amazing 95% of capacity
- The Pit has ranked in the top 25 in attendance nationally nearly every season since the 1966-67 season with 35 seasons in the top ten in the NCAA in attendance
- Led the Mountain West in attendance in 10 of the conference's 15 years of existence
- The floor is named Bob King Court in honor of the former head coach who led the Lobos from 1963 to 1972.

2018-19 BOX SCORES AND RECAPS

Game 1 - New Mexico 87, CSUN 84

Nov. 6, 2018 | The Matadome

Lobos Win Opener on Mathis 3-Point Buzzer-Beater

NORTHRIDGE, Calif. --- Senior Anthony Mathis of The University of New Mexico men's basketball team hit a buzzer-beating three to lift the Lobos over the CSUN Matadors on Tuesday night, officially opening the 2018-19 season with an exciting 87-84 victory. Four Lobos scored in double figures on the night that saw UNM's new squad shoot 50.9 percent from the floor and 42.3 percent from 3-point range.

The Lobos (1-0) and the Matadors (0-1) battled throughout 40 minutes with 13 lead changes and six ties.

Despite a shaky start full of first-game-of-the-season-nerves, UNM outshot CSUN in every category including from the floor (51.9 - 45.8 percent) from behind the arc (42.3 - 35.0 percent) and from the free throw line (75.9 - 52.4 percent).

In his first game as a Lobo, junior Corey Manigault led the squad on the night with 16 points going 4-for-6 from the floor and 8-for-9 from the charity stripe. Senior Dane Kuiper and sophomore Makuach Maluach followed with 15 points apiece. Kuiper went 4-for-5 from behind the arc, 5-for-8 from the floor and Maluach was 5-for-9 from the floor with three and four free throws.

Mathis was the fourth player to score in double figures, registering 12 points with a 4-for-7 performance from 3-point range.

CSUN freshman Lamine Diane led all players on the night with 34 points going 15-for-28 from the field. Diane scored 30 and 23 points in CSUN's exhibition matchups.

"Ball control was clearly an issue for us tonight," head coach Paul Weir said. "Our size was almost a problem tonight (because CSUN was so quick), but you've got to tip your hat to CSUN, they played their hearts out. Diane is a tremendous player, puts a lot of pressure on defenses, particularly on the glass, and they were able to go out and show that tonight."

The Lobos opened Tuesday night's contest with a 2:54 drought before sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk registered UNM's first points on a pair of free throws with 17:06 on the clock to make it 6-2 CSUN. A minute later, Manigault shot a pair of free throws to make it 6-4 but the Lobos did not score from the floor until 5:08 into the game when Kuiper hit a jumper to make it 8-6 Matadors.

Kuiper's jumper was followed by a three-pointer just 32 seconds later to spark a Lobo 10-0 run over 2:57, putting UNM on top 16-10.

Both teams continued to respond and with CSUN leading by one at the conclusion of the half, a foul was called at the buzzer that sent Maluach to the line. He hit the shot and tied it 42-42 heading into the locker room.

Over the first half, UNM was out-rebounded 21-15.

Once again it was Kuiper in the second half to give the Lobo offense life as he came out of the locker room with the first six points for UNM on a pair of three split by a jumper by Diane, 48-44.

The fifth tie of the game occurred at the 4:07 mark when redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson hit a free throw to tie it up 77-77. The Lobos built a four-point lead, 84-80 before a layup by CSUN's Cameron Gottfried made it 84-82 with just 30 seconds left on the clock.

The Lobos attempted to keep the ball and run down the clock but a UNM turnover allowed the Matadors to have one more possession that ended in another jumper by Diane to make it 84-84 with 6.1 seconds left.

The Lobos gained possession with the clock winding down and took about 4.5 seconds to cross half-court. Mathis looked up, saw the clock and took a long three from the right wing and sunk it for the win, 87-84.

On the night, CSUN dominated in the paint, 44-24 and registered 25 points off of turnovers compared to 22 for UNM. CSUN also tallied 13 second-chance points to just four for the Lobos and 12 on the fast break.

The Lobos are set to return to action on Saturday, Nov. 10 when they take on Northern New Mexico in exhibition competition as part of the second-annual New Mexico Classic tournament hosted by UNM.

Game 2 - New Mexico 90, Iona 83

Nov. 13, 2018 | Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit

Lobos Open 2-0 With 90-83 Win over Iona

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- Two Lobos racked up double-doubles on Tuesday night as The University of New Mexico men's basketball team earned a 90-83 win over the visiting Iona Gaels to start the 2018-19 season 2-0. Junior Corey Manigault and redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson led the Lobos with 20 and 18 points, respectively while collecting 10 and 12 boards apiece.

The victory marks the 16th straight season in which the Lobos came away with the win in their home opener.

After a slow start offensively, seniors Anthony Mathis and Dane Kuiper closed the game, combining for the thrilling final 10 points, including a pair of fast-break layups, to keep the Lobos on top throughout the final three minutes.

"The depth that we have, the way we spread our minutes and the style that we play allowed us to break away at the end and get a big win," head coach Paul Weir said. "It was a good basketball team that we beat, and we have come a long way in the last 12 months. We have not arrived and we have a lot of work to do the next few days in order to continue to get better, but just to get a win against a good basketball team early in the year shows our progression as a program."

The Lobos held the lead for 24:35 of the game that had nine lead changes and five ties. On the night, UNM outshot Iona from the floor 50.9 - 40.0 percent and 40.0 - 34.6 percent from behind the arc. Five Lobos scored in double figures including Manigault (20), Jackson (18), Mathis (14), redshirt-sophomore Keith McGee (13) and sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk (10).

Pinchuk's 10 points went along with seven rebounds, one steal, three assists and two blocks in a new career-high 30 minutes.

With just 7:05 left in the game and the Lobos down by one, 72-71, Manigault poked the ball out of the hands of Iona's Isaiah Still, raced to the other end of the court unguarded and slammed a crowd-pleasing dunk to put the Lobos back on top for the final time, 73-72.

When the Gaels reduced the Lobo lead back to one, 75-74, sophomore Makuach Maluach sunk a dagger of a three at 5:28 that put the Lobos back up by four, 78-74. Iona was able to take a five-point lead to just two, 80-78, at the 2:59 mark on a Still three before Mathis nailed his fourth 3-pointer of the night to put the Lobos back up by five, 83-78, and spark a Lobo offensive surge through the final minutes.

The Gaels would get no closer than three as Kuiper drilled his lone three of the night - a big one - with 1:52 left, 86-80, followed by a pair of fast-break layups from Mathis and Kuiper to keep the crowd of over 10,000 fans roaring through the end.

The Lobos forced 15 turnovers and posted five blocks, including two from Pinchuk. UNM also collected 19 assists to just 15 for Iona.

UNM went down by as much as five points in the back-and-forth first half that featured a 10-0 Iona run at the 13:43 mark. UNM battled back and responded with a 11-0 run with just 5:30 left in the first half to head into the locker room tied 39-39.

The Lobos came out of the halftime break with the first six points to take a commanding 45-39 lead before Iona whittled it back down to one with 16:20 on the clock.

Overall the teams finished relatively even in points off of turnovers (15-14 UNM), points in the paint (28 apiece), second-chance points (13-12 UNM), fast-break points (31-29 Iona) and bench points (29-20 UNM).

The Lobos return to action on Saturday, November 17 when they take on in-state rival New Mexico State for a 4 p.m. clash in Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit. The game will be the Lobos' Nike TV contest featuring the highly-anticipated turquoise uniforms and will be televised on AT&T SportsNet.

Game 3 - New Mexico 94, NM State 98

Nov. 17, 2018 | Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit

Late Comeback Falls Short, Three score 20+ Points

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- After falling behind by as much as 19 points with just 9:08 left to play, The University of New Mexico men's basketball team put on an impressive show in a comeback attempt that saw the Lobos rack up a 13-0 second-half run in front of over 14,000 fans inside Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit. The run fell short however, as NM eventually suffered a four-point loss, 98-94, to the Aggies in the Rio Grande Rivalry matchup.

A trio of Lobos racked up 20 points or more including redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (27), senior Anthony Mathis (22) and junior Corey Manigault (20). The game marks Manigault's second straight in which he has netted 20 points. The fourth Lobo to score in double figures was senior Dane Kuiper, who posted 10.

Jackson added a team-high six rebounds to his 27 points and drew nine fouls on the night. He was also one of six Lobos to accumulate four or more fouls.

The Lobos outshot NMSU in every category including 59.6 - 56.6 percent from the field, 55.0 - 52.2 percent from behind the arc and 70.0 - 66.7 percent from the foul line, but the Aggies' redshirt-junior AJ Harris went an unstopable 9-for-11 from the field, 6-for-6 from 3-point range and 7-for-10 from the free throw line to total 31 points, leading NMSU to victory. Game 7 - New Mexico 60, Saint Mary's 85
Dec. 7, 2018 | STAPLES Center

Lobos Fall to Saint Mary's in BHOFF Classic

LOS ANGELES, Calif. --- The University of New Mexico men's basketball team dropped a 25-point contest to Saint Mary's (CA) on Friday night, 80-65, at the STAPLES Center in Los Angeles, Calif. in the 2018 Basketball Hall of Fame Classic. The Lobos were led by redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson who scored 12 points and tallied eight rebounds.

"These last two games have been exposing to us in a lot of ways that we're not where we want to be," head coach Paul Weir said. "(Right now) we're 4-3, we've won some games that I was really really happy about, we've lost two games by incredibly wide margins, and we just have to keep pushing forward from here.

"Hopefully the reps that we're getting these guys, just like the reps for the guys last year, will allow us to grow as the season unfolds and make us a really good team as the season unfolds."

Just two Lobos scored in double figures on the night including Jackson and sophomore Makuach Maluach (10), followed by sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk (9). Saint Mary's (6-4) was led by a trio of double-digit scorers including Jordan Ford who went 10-for-15 from the floor en route to 28 points. Hunter was followed by Malik Fitts (15) and Tommy Kuhse (10).

The Lobos (4-3) were outshot 34.8 - 60.0 percent from the floor and 15.4 - 33.3 percent from 3-point range. Seniors Anthony Mathis and Dane Kuiper combined for 0-11 behind the arc, contributing to UNM's season-low four 3-pointers on the night. Friday night's game marks the first time this season the Lobos have failed to reach 10 or more threes.

Like the last couple of matchups, UNM got out to a slow start, getting behind by 15 points in the first 6:35 by a score of 19-4. Saint Mary's eventually pushed the lead to 17 with 7:41 left in the first half as the Lobos went on an 8-2 run that included four points by Pinchuk and layups from Maluach and redshirt-sophomore Keith McGee to make it an 11-point game, 35-24.

The Gaels hit a free throw but freshman Drue Drinnon followed with a three at the 3:02 mark to cut the Saint Mary's lead back to single digits, 36-27. The comeback was short lived however, as the Gaels once again increased their lead and finished the half on top by 14, 43-29.

At halftime, UNM was shooting 38.7 percent from the floor and 20.0 percent from 3-point range compared to 53.8 and 20.0 percent for the Gaels. Mathis and Kuiper went scoreless throughout the first half including an 0-for-4 mark from behind the arc for Mathis. Kuiper registered three fouls early and saw action in just 15 minutes on the night.

The Lobos looked to capitalize on some carryover momentum from near the end of the first half, but Saint Mary's quickly dispelled that hope. The Gaels exploded for a 13-0 run, forcing Coach Weir to call a timeout, and converted it to a 17-1 run to make it a 30-point game, 60-30, just four minutes into the half.

It was then that Mathis registered his first (and only) points of the game on back-to-back jumpers. The Gaels held a 25+ lead for the remainder of the game.

UNM turned the ball over just 10 times on the night and turned over Saint Mary's 15 times. Ten turnovers marks the least of any game so far this season for the Lobos while the next lowest of the season was 11 against NM State on Tuesday night - two of UNM's largest losses.

The Lobos were missing junior Corey Manigault on Friday night, sitting out due to a pregame incident that occurred Tuesday night. Manigault averages 12.8 points per game.

UNM returns to action on Tuesday night (December 11) at home against Colorado. Tipoff is scheduled for 7 p.m. on ESPN2.

Game 8 - New Mexico 75, Colorado 78
Dec. 11, 2018 | Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit

Lobos Edged by Colorado in Last-Minute Thriller

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- The University of New Mexico men's basketball team trailed by just one point with seven seconds left on the clock against Pac-12 opponent Colorado on Tuesday night in Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit, but the Buffaloes closed the game with a pair of free throws to win it 78-75. Tuesday's game was featured on ESPN2 and played in front of nearly 11,000 fans.

UNM, which led for over 32 minutes on the night, was once again led by senior Anthony Mathis who registered his third 20-point game of the season with 23 before fouling out in the final seconds. He was followed offensively by senior Dane Kuiper (11) and redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (10).

Mathis was back in full force Tuesday night going 4-for-4 from deep and 4-for-5 from the floor in the first frame. He finished 7-for-10 from 3-point range on the night matching his career high.

The Lobos (4-4) jumped out to an early lead on the Buffaloes (8-1), getting ahead by as much as 17 points with 7:07 left in the first half before Colorado began to close the gap. UNM led by nine at the half after CU's Deleon Brown hit a long three at the buzzer to cut a 12-point Lobo lead down to single digits.

In the first half, the Lobos embarked on an 11-0 run and fired at a clip of 45.7 percent from the floor while holding the Buffaloes to 36.4 percent. From 3-point range, UNM shot 41.7 percent in the first half compared to 27.3 for the Bufts. The Lobos were explosive in the first half, racking up 43 points while causing 12 turnovers for 25 points at head coach Paul Weir's targeted break-neck speed. The Lobo energy faded in the second half however, as UNM forced just one more turnover through the final 20 minutes.

"We had 10 deflections in the second half and forced one turnover. We got out to an early lead which is unusual for us. Early leads don't mean anything," Weir said. "The first half was a good 20 minutes, they might have been 20 of our better minutes of basketball on the season but when you have 10 deflections in a half you're never going to win a game.

"Our energy dropped as if we didn't know how to play with a lead and we missed some 50/50 balls that could have gotten us a few more (deflections). Hopefully we will be able to fix this going forward."

In the second half, UNM built a 14-point lead at the 15:54 mark with a 7-0 run that included layups from freshman Drue Drinnon and junior Karim Ezzeddine, as well as a three for Mathis to make it 52-38 Lobos.

Colorado whittled UNM's lead down to four over the ensuing 4:58 to make it a 52-48 game with 10:56 left. The game remained a single-digit game.

The Buffaloes continued the comeback and made it a one-point game with 8:53 left before Mathis and Jackson hit threes on a 6-2 Lobo run to push the Lobo lead back to five. Colorado responded with the next five to tie the game at 64-64 on a pair of free throws by CU's Namon Wright. The Buffaloes added two more points on a layup from McKinley Wright to take the lead, 66-64, with 4:33 left. Colorado never relinquished the advantage.

Colorado extended its lead to six for its largest lead of the game with 1:35 left but the Lobos cut it back to one, 76-75, with seven seconds left on another pair of back-to-back threes from Mathis and Jackson along with a jumper from sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk.

With the clock winding down, Mathis committed his fifth foul to stop the clock with five seconds left. The Lobos attempted to overtake a narrow one-point deficit, but CU's Lucas Siwert hit both free throws to make it a three-point game.

The Lobos fired off one last shot, a long, contested three by Jackson at the buzzer, but it didn't fall and Colorado escaped with the 78-75 win.

On the night, UNM shot 41.4 percent from the floor compared to 41.9 percent for Colorado while the Lobos outshot the Buffaloes from 3-point range 40.0 - 26.3 percent. For the seventh game out of eight this season, UNM racked up at least 10 3-pointers (10-25). UNM was outrebounded 51-38 and capitalized on turnovers for 25 points compared to 13 for Colorado.

The Lobos are set to return to action on Sunday, Dec. 16 when they host Central Arkansas at 2 p.m. The game marks the first that highly-anticipated transfer Carlton Bragg will be eligible to compete.

Game 9 - New Mexico 82, Central Arkansas 70
Dec. 16, 2018 | Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit

Maluach, Bragg Lead Lobos Past Central Arkansas

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- Sophomore Makuach Maluach scored a season-high 22 points while redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg tallied 16 in his first game on the floor as a Lobo to power UNM to an 82-70 victory over the visiting Central Arkansas Bears inside Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit on Sunday afternoon.

Over 10,000 fans roared at the 14:58 mark of the first half when Bragg touched the court for the first time in a year and a half coming off of sitting as an NCAA Division I transfer. Bragg scored just four points in the first half as he was getting acclimated to competition, but finished with a career-high 16 points and seven rebounds (he posted 15 points twice while at Kansas).

"When (Carlton) made his first two free throws right out of the gate, I felt good," head coach Paul Weir said of Bragg's performance. "I felt like he's not too excited... he calmly stepped up, made two free throws. That first layup or two, I think he was a little off, but as the game went on, he was able to turn and finish around the rim. I thought he did a pretty good job tonight."

With the win, the Lobos improve to 5-4 on the season while UCA falls to 4-6.

Maluach completed his breakout afternoon with his 22 points on four threes and 8-for-11 from the field along with a career-high seven rebounds. Junior Karim Ezz

Game 10 - New Mexico 65, North Texas 74
Dec. 18, 2018 | Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit

Mathis Scores 20, Lobos Fall to (RV) North Texas

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- The University of New Mexico men's basketball team dropped a nine-point contest to (RV) North Texas on Tuesday night, 74-65, inside Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit. Senior Anthony Mathis led the Lobos in scoring for the fourth time this season with 20 points, also marking the fourth time this season he has scored 20 or more.

The Mean Green (11-1) is currently receiving votes in the Top 25 USA Today Poll and jumped out to an early lead over the Lobos (5-5), putting UNM at a nine-point disadvantage within the first six minutes. UNM made its first five points off of free throws, but failed to score from the floor until sophomore Makuach Maluach hit a three at the 12:53 mark to make it 12-8 UNT.

Mathis went 4-for-8 from the floor, 1-for-5 from three and went a perfect 11-for-11 from the foul line for a new career-high. Tuesday night marks his fourth game this season shooting perfect from the stripe.

Redshirt-sophomore Keith McGee finished second on the squad with 11 points including a 3-for-5 showing from behind the arc. At the half, he was 3-for-3 in just 12:11 on the court. He was one of three Lobos to score in double figures including redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson who posted 10 on 4-for-6 from the floor and 2-for-4 from 3-point range.

Defensively, UNM was outrebounded 31-29, led by redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg with seven in his second game of the season. He was followed by junior Corey Manigault (6) and Jackson (5). Bragg also collected three steals on the night en route to UNM's season-high nine.

"I thought for parts of the game we did really well. Unfortunately, offensively we couldn't get going in the first half, and we couldn't get any momentum behind us," head coach Paul Weir said. "The turnovers really hurt us and gave them a lot of break opportunities ... (With) a team of that caliber, it's hard to overcome."

After North Texas built the early lead, the Lobos surged back to close a nine-point deficit in just 1:13 in the middle of the first half. Mathis was fouled on a three and hit all three from the stripe to make it 17-11 before McGee hit a fast-break three to close it to three points, 17-14.

A Mathis steal led to yet another three from Jackson to tie it 17-17, capping the 9-0 run. North Texas responded with a 10-0 run over 2:51 however, reclaiming the lead 27-17 with 5:41 left in the half. UNM went on a 10-2 run to close it back to a two-point game, 29-27, before UNT took off for a six-point differential at the half, 35-29.

UNM was held shooting at just 28.6 percent from the floor in the first frame but fired 41.7 percent from three and 92.3 percent from the free throw line. North Texas shot 46.7 from the floor in the first half but just 30.0 percent behind the arc and 57.1 percent from the stripe.

In the second half, the Lobo defense held UNT without a bucket for nearly three minutes before allowing the Mean Green to increase a five-point lead to 12 at the 15:37 mark (42-30). The Lobos would get no closer than four of the rest of the way as North Texas posted its largest lead of 13 with 5:41 left on the clock.

While UNM posted its second-lowest point total on the season in the contest (65), North Texas' defensive unit entered Tuesday's game allowing just 58.7 points per game. UNM finished shooting 36.4 percent from the floor, 30.4 percent from three and 83.9 percent from the free throw line.

UNM was outrebounded in the paint 44-18 and in second-chance points 16-9. The Lobos forced 17 turnovers but committed 21.

New Mexico returns to action on Saturday night as it faces 2018 NCAA Tournament team Penn, continuing the competitive holiday home stand at Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit at 2 p.m.

Game 11 - New Mexico 65, Penn 75
Dec. 22, 2018 | Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit

Lobo Comeback Not Enough, Penn Prevails 75-65

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- After going down by as many as 15 points early in the first half, The University of New Mexico men's basketball team tied it up, took the lead and threatened Penn until the final minutes on Saturday afternoon in Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit, but the Quakers ultimately broke a 61-61 tie with six minutes left to win it 75-65.

The Lobos were outshot 47.5 percent to 39.3 percent from the floor while finishing a season-low 43.5 percent (10-23) from the free-throw line. Despite its offensive struggles on Saturday, UNM debuted a new zone defense that helped even out points in the paint as Penn outscored the Lobos down low just 38-30.

"(The zone) was great in the first half, at almost double the success rate of our man (defense), but early in the second half they were scoring against our man (defense)," head coach Paul Weir said. "We probably stayed in the zone a little too long, and I thought Penn got into a little bit of a rhythm there towards the end of the second half."

"I really believe in this team ... We have enough. We did some things today that hinted at what I need to work on to piece the team together further."

For the fifth time this season, UNM had four Lobos score in double figures led by senior Anthony Mathis, redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg, and redshirt-sophomore Keith McGee, who each posted 13 points. Redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson scored 10 and finished two rounds short of a double-double with eight rebounds.

Jackson and Manigault led in rebounds with eight apiece followed by Bragg who collected seven for his third-straight game. The Lobos and the Quakers each emerged with 41 rebounds on the night while UNM posted 13 offensive boards to just nine for Penn.

Penn jumped out to an early 10-point lead (12-2) in the first 6:18 and extended the lead to 15 points at the 12:24 mark (19-4) for the largest Quaker lead of the game.

The Lobos responded with a 20-5 run over 6:43 to tie the game at 24-24 with 5:41 left in the half. The run included 10-straight points by Mathis on a pair of free throws, a pair of threes and a jumper to make it a seven-point game 21-14.

The run continued with a pair of free throws by Manigault, a Jackson 3-pointer, a Mathis fast-break three and was capped by a layup from sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk, assisted by Jackson.

The Quakers went up by two on a jump shot by the game's second-leading scorer Michael Wang (19 points) before a three from Jackson gave the Lobos their first lead of the game, 27-26 with 5:28 to go in the half.

The teams went back and forth throughout the remainder of the half and the Quakers reclaimed the lead and extended it to six points before Jackson made it a four-point game with 47 seconds left for the 42-38 halftime score.

UNM came out of the break with a fast-break layup from Bragg to make it a two-point game, 42-40 Penn, and UNM kept the Quaker offense in check, allowing just a six-point advantage through the first 4:26.

Penn made it an eight-point game at the 14:37 mark before UNM embarked on another comeback run, going 9-0 to take a one-point lead on back-to-back threes from McGee and freshman Dru Drinnon at the 11:06 mark.

UNM went down by three with 10:08 left but powered back for another one-point advantage on a Bragg layup, 57-56, for the Lobos' last lead of the game.

The squads tied twice more at 59-59 and 61-61 before the Lobo steam ran out and Penn closed on a 14-4 run for the 10-point win.

"Our coaches are putting us in the right position to be successful," Mathis said. "We need to get a little bit more disciplined and we need to get better at finishing out games. That will come with experience and we'll learn how to finish some basketball games."

The Lobos are set to return to action on Sunday, Dec. 30 as they travel to Hobbs, N.M. to take on the University of the Southwest at Ralph Tasker Arena. Tipoff is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Lobos Take Down Southwest in Historic Hobbs Game

HOBBS, N.M. --- The University of New Mexico men's basketball team used a 31-point halftime lead to earn an eventual 103-47 victory over the University of the Southwest on Sunday afternoon in Hobbs at the historic Ralph Tasker Arena. The victory marks the first regular-season game of 2018-19 that the Lobos have amassed 100 points.

With the win, the Lobos improve to 6-6 on the season while USW falls to 3-9.

UNM was led by senior Anthony Mathis who dropped a game-high 18 points on six 3-pointers, followed by redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson who tallied 16 that included three 3-pointers and a 6-for-10 mark from the field.

Mathis and Jackson were two of four Lobos to score in double figures including redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg (12) and freshman Tavian Percy (10). Percy's 10 points and six rebounds marked career highs in a career-most 22 minutes on the floor.

All 12 players that suited up on Sunday entered the contest, including all four freshmen. Freshman Dru Drinnon tallied a career-high 12 assists with no turnovers to go along with seven points. Twelve assists in a single game is just one short of cracking the top 10 for most assists in a single game in program history. Classmate Jordan Arroyo netted a career-best six points. Redshirt-freshman and transfer Clay Patterson also saw the court marking his first appearance of the season.

The contest in Hobbs was an exciting one for Lobo fans as the night was full of history - along with a plethora of dunks, alley oops and even a behind-the-back pass down low from Drinnon to Arroyo. The Lobos rebounded from the Dec. 22 game against Penn in which they shot just 43.5 percent from the free throw line and demonstrated their proficiency from the stripe at a more-regular 77.8 percent (14-18).

On the defensive end, junior Karim Ezzeddine racked up a game-high 10 rebounds and nearly grabbed a double-double with eight points. UNM came down with the most boards of the season at 55.

"The reason we created this game was to merge our two basketball communities ... there's a lot of similarities," head coach Paul Weir said. "I'm hoping this can be the start of a lot of good things, not only basketball-wise but community-wise, enrollment-wise ... just good feelings between these two basketball communities."

"We've been making some schematic changes and this became a really good game for us to go out and continue to practice things that are new to us and almost give us an exhibition game kind of like it would be in the beginning of the season."

The Lobos got out to a swift start, jumping out to a 10-point lead in just the first three minutes (12-2). The Mustangs netted their first four points of the game off of free throws but it wasn't until the 12:53 mark that they registered their first field goal on a jumper in the paint by Chamar Morgan.

UNM made it a 20-point game on the first of two straight Dane Kuiper free throws at the 6:15 mark (33-13) and nearly made it a 30-point game on back-to-back threes from Mathis fueled by a Percy steal, 42-13 at the 4:34 mark.

A Drinnon three with 2:12 left in the first half finally put the Lobos ahead by 30 en route to a 31-point advantage at the break, 50-19.

Sunday's game marks the first time the Lobos have scored 50 points in the first half since scoring 58 at Colorado State on Feb. 28, 2018. USW put up just 19 points in the first half, marking the first time since Dec. 27, 2017 that UNM has limited an opponent to 20 points or less in the first game.

The Lobos continued the offensive dominance in the second half and went on a game-best 21-point run from the 14:02 mark to the 7:16 mark (86-31). The run lasted 21 points and the USW scoring drought lasted 6:46.

The Mustangs never overcame the 50+ point deficit and UNM finished with a final score of 103-47, allowing the final jumper by USW with just 37 seconds left on the clock.

On the day, the Lobos shot 48.1 percent from the floor, 36.1 percent from three, while Southwest shot at a rate of 30.4 percent from the floor and 36.4 from 3-point range.

UNM returns to action on Wednesday, Jan. 2 when it kicks off conference play on the road at Air Force at 7 p.m. MT.

Lobos Open MW Play 1-0, Top Air Force 65-58

USAF ACADEMY, COLO. --- The University of New Mexico men's basketball team extended its Mountain West opener win streak to eight on Wednesday night with a 65-58 victory over Air Force on the road. After being held scoreless throughout the first half, senior Anthony Mathis led the Lobos with 17 second-half points.

With the win, UNM improves to 7-6, 1-0 MW, while Air Force slips to 5-8, 0-1 MW.

The Lobos had four players register double figures on the night including Mathis, who scored 13 straight points, redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (14), sophomore Makuach Maluach (12) and senior Dane Kuiper (10). Redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg finished with a season-high nine rebounds while Maluach was second on the squad with seven.

Air Force junior Lavelle Scottie led the Falcons with 20 points.

In a strong defensive showing, the Lobos and the Falcons kept it close at the onset, tying the game three times over the first 10:34, the final time at just 15-15 with 9:26 left in the first half. During that stretch, the Falcons got out to a five-point lead, 13-8, on a 9-0 run that included a trio of jumpers from Lavelle.

Kuiper tied it up with a jumper at 15 apiece before a Falcon layup gave the home team a one-point advantage. Kuiper followed it up with a three to put UNM back up by one, a lead the Lobos would not relinquish. Kuiper went right back at it on the other end of the floor with a steal and a couple of quick passes up the court which allowed junior Corey Manigault a slam dunk for a three-point lead.

The Lobos continued on an 11-0 run to extend the lead to nine with 6:20 left. UNM got out in front by as much as 11 points during the remainder of the half but went into the locker room on top by nine, 29-38.

At the break, the Lobos were outshooting Air Force 46.7 - 35.3 percent from the floor and 35.3 - 16.7 percent from behind the arc. Jackson led UNM with 13 points in the first half, followed by Maluach who posted 10, each with a pair of threes.

The Lobos added 27 points in the second half, 17 of which were from Mathis who exploded in the second frame. The senior went 3-for-7 from behind the arc and 5-for-10 from the floor. The nationally-ranked free-throw shooter also went a perfect 4-for-4 from the stripe. Bragg racked up six of his rebounds in the second half while collecting a pair of blocks.

After getting ahead by 13 points with 13:20 left to play, UNM's lead was overcome by another Air Force run as they cut the Lobos' lead to just four with 5:47 left and then to three 1:05 left on the clock (61-58).

A foul by Air Force's Ryan Swan with 23 seconds left forced Mathis to take a pair of clutch free throws, increasing the Lobos lead to five, 63-58. Mathis then turned Air Force's Sid Tomes over with 12 seconds left on the wing and held on for the foul. He netted two more points from the stripe to clinch the 65-58 victory.

The Lobos turned the ball over 19 times while forcing 14. Air Force held an advantage in points in the paint (38-18), points off of turnovers (20-14) and fast-break points (8-2).

On the night, UNM outshot the Falcons 43.4 - 38.1 percent while holding Air Force to just 13.3 percent from behind the arc (2-for-15) and shooting 34.6 from 3-point range (9-for-26).

The Lobos are back in action on Saturday when they host No. 5/6 Nevada at Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit at 6 p.m. on ESPN2.

Game 14 - New Mexico 85, Nevada 58 Jan. 19, 2019 | Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit

Lobos Rout Undefeated No. 5/6 Nevada, 85-58

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- The University of New Mexico men's basketball team handed No. 5/6 Nevada its first loss of the season on Saturday evening at home in Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit. The 27-point win breaks the UNM record for largest victory margin over a top-10 ranked team, surpassing the previous record of 20 points set on Jan. 29, 1974 against No. 8 New Mexico State (88-68).

The game also marks the first time the Lobos topped a ranked team since Jan. 3, 2015 when UNM claimed a 66-53 win over No. 24 Colorado State in Albuquerque and snaps Nevada's four-game win streak in the series.

"This was about players. These guys played their butts off and bought into what I'm selling," head coach Paul Weir said. "I am happy for them. I am happy that they get to enjoy this moment."

The Lobos (8-6, 2-0 MW) were powered by a career-high 27 points from senior Anthony Mathis and a near triple-double for redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson who tallied 18 points, 10 rebounds and seven assists. Jackson was one of two Lobos to register double-figures on the boards including redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg who racked up 12 rebounds and nine points along with a pair of blocks.

Nevada (14-1, 1-1 MW) entered the contest as one of just four undefeated teams in NCAA DI and allowed just 66.1 points per game of opponents so far this season. Nevada also entered the game averaging just 5.7 turnovers per game and the Lobos turned them over 14 times while committing just nine, tying the season low.

The Lobos held Wolf Pack leading scorer, Preseason MW Player of the Year and Preseason All-American Caleb Martin to just eight points on the night (2-for-14).

Sporting brand new, gold, "We Are New Mexico" jerseys, the Lobos got out to a strong start defensively and did not let up. Nevada scored its first basket 1:23 into the contest but did not score again until the 16:29 mark to make the score 3-2 just 3:31 into the game.

The Lobos then embarked on a 20-6 run over 7:52 to take a 13-point lead, 22-9, over the historically-comeback-prone Wolf Pack. Nevada cut it back to single digits at 24-16, but UNM pushed the lead back to 15 on four points by senior Dane Kuiper, a layup by sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk and a three from Mathis, 33-18 with 2:27 left.

The teams went back and forth for the rest of the half and with UNM up 15 (38-23), Nevada's Jazz Johnson hit a three at the buzzer to make it a 12-point Lobo advantage at the break.

UNM fired at a clip of 45.9 percent from the field in the first half and 30.8 percent from 3-point range while holding Nevada to 37.9 from the field, 30.0 percent from behind the arc.

The second half kicked off much like the first in a strong defensive showing by both squads as the first bucket was a Wolf Pack alley-oop at the 18:27 mark. Nevada scored three straight points to cut UNM's lead back to single digits (38-29, 17:57) but a Jackson jumper outside the paint, a pair of Nevada's Jordan Caroline free throws and a pair of Mathis free throws put UNM back up by 11, 42-31, and UNM did not again relinquish the double-digit lead.

The teams kept the game within 16 points until sophomore Makuach Maluach hit a three at the 7:48 mark to make it a 19-point game, 64-45. The basket marked the beginning of a 10-3 run that included another pair of threes from Maluach and Jackson, 74-48, 5:40 left.

UNM continued to pile on the points building almost a 30-point lead with 2:35 remaining on a Mathis three, and again at 1:44 on a Mathis free throw, 85-56.

Nevada's Cody Martin hit one last fast-break layup for the 85-58 final with 1:36 left on the clock.

On the night, UNM outshot the Wolf Pack 45.6 percent to 33.3 percent. The Lobos also scored 20 points off of Nevada turnovers compared to just five points for the Wolf Pack.

The Lobos are set to return to action on Tuesday, Jan. 8, when they host UNLV at 9 p.m. on ESPN2.

Game 15 - New Mexico 69, UNLV 80 Jan. 8, 2019 | Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit

Lobos Fall to UNLV in Final Minutes Tuesday

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- Following a historic victory over top-10 ranked Nevada on Saturday, The University of New Mexico men's basketball team was outscored in the final minutes by UNLV on Tuesday night, tallying its first conference loss of the season, 80-69. The Lobos are now 2-1 in Mountain West play.

The Lobos (8-7, 2-1 MW) led for 19:40 in the contest that saw 17 lead changes. The Runnin' Rebels (9-6, 3-0 MW) led for 15:57 including the final 9:04. UNM led by as much as nine in the first half with a seven-point advantage at the break before UNLV outscored the Lobos by 18 in the second half for the eventual 11-point victory.

"I thought UNLV played terrific tonight and unfortunately, we did not play anywhere near the level that we need to play to win a game like this against a good team," head coach Paul Weir said.

"I thought the pace was good, but their pressure bothered us, particularly on the perimeter. We unfortunately couldn't get anything consistent at the defensive end to get through an off night."

New Mexico was led by four players scoring in double figures including redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (14), junior Corey Manigault (13), redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg (12) and sophomore Makuach Maluach (12) marking the eighth time this season that UNM has had four or more Lobos score in double figures.

Bragg led the team on the glass with a team-high seven rebounds while Manigault added five boards and three steals.

Lobo leading scorer Anthony Mathis was held to just nine points including 2-for-10 from behind the arc, but he racked up four assists and pulled down three boards.

UNLV was led by senior and leading scorer Kris Clyburn who managed 25 points against the Lobo zone defense. He went 8-for-13 from the floor including 2-for-2 from three and 7-for-7 from the free throw line.

The Lobos came out with a fast start, winning the tip and racing down the court where Maluach drained a three just 16 seconds into the matchup. UNLV did not match it until a minute later, at the 18:45 mark and the teams were off.

At the 9:47 mark, the teams tied it up for the sixth time at 23 apiece and UNLV got out to a three-point advantage on a fast-break layup by Bryce Hamilton and a free throw by Joel Ntambwe. It was then that Bragg went off, scoring eight straight points on a trio of long hook shots and a pair of free throws for an 8-0 Lobo run to put UNM back on top by five, 31-26 with 6:13 left in the half. He finished the first half with eight points in just four minutes due to early foul trouble.

The Lobos got ahead by as much as nine with 56 seconds left on the clock with an 8-2 run to make it 42-33 before a pair of UNLV free throws made it a seven-point halftime score, 42-35 Lobos.

The Lobos outshot UNLV 56.7 percent to 42.9 percent from the floor in the first half, but finished getting outshot 50.0 percent to 41.8 including 46.2 - 22.2 from 3-point range. The last time the Lobos shot less than 30 percent from behind the arc was on Dec. 7 against Saint Mary's in the STAPLES Center.

Bragg came out of the break with a fast layup to push the UNM lead back to nine before UNLV embarked on an 8-0 run to make it a one-point game with 17:20 left, 44-43.

The teams tied the score three more times until UNLV started to take command of the game, using a 7-2 run to get on top by five with 8:39 left, 64-59.

Manigault scored four points as the teams went back and forth and a pair of Maluach free throws made it a one-point game with 5:11 left 66-65 UNLV.

Over the next 2:36, the teams combined for just seven points and the Runnin' Rebels took off. UNLV was sparked by a three from Clyburn with 56 seconds left to make it a seven-point game and hit four straight free throws for an 11-point lead. Mathis hit one last layup before two more free throws for UNLV clinched the 11-point victory.

The Lobos are headed on the road for a pair of conference matchups at Colorado State on Saturday and at San Diego State on Tuesday.

Jackson Posts Double-Double; Lobos Fall at CSU

FORT COLLINS, Colo. --- Despite having four players score in double figures and redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson register his third double-double of the season, The University of New Mexico men's basketball team fell to Colorado State by a score of 91-76 on Saturday afternoon on the road.

With the loss, the Lobos fall to 8-8, 2-2 MW, while CSU improves to 7-10, 2-2 MW.

Jackson led the Lobos with 18 points, 12 rebounds and four steals, followed by senior Anthony Mathis who, after scoring just five points in the first half (2-for-2, 1-for-1 from three), racked up 11 in the second half en route to 16 points.

The other two Lobos to hit double figures included sophomore Makuach Maluach who went 3-for-7 from three, and senior Dane Kuiper, who netted all 10 of his points in the first half going 4-for-7 from the floor, 2-for-5 from behind the arc to open the contest. He shot just once more in the second 20 minutes.

Colorado State had five players score in double figures, led by redshirt-junior Hyron Edwards who racked up a season-high 20 points in a season-most 28 minutes. The last time UNM allowed five scorers in double figures was on Nov. 24 against UTEP.

Both teams were on point from the floor throughout the game as neither fired below 40 percent for the entirety of the contest. The Lobos shot 47.3 percent on the day and entered Saturday's game 6-2 when scoring between 40.0 and 49.9 percent (2-1 in MW play). The Lobos also went 12-for-29 from behind the arc for 41.4 percent.

Despite the lofty Lobo numbers, Colorado State ultimately outshot UNM at 56.1 percent from the field and 46.7 percent from three.

Turnovers again proved to be a problem for the Lobos as New Mexico turned the ball over 17 times to just nine for the Rams. Colorado State capitalized on UNM's miscues as it converted the 17 Lobo turnovers into 24 points in the eventual 15-point loss. The Rams also dominated in the paint, outscoring UNM 44-22 in the key.

"I thought they came out of the gate making a lot of really good shots," head coach Paul Weir said. "Toward the end of the first half and through most of the second half, I thought our defense was pretty good, unfortunately when you turn the ball over like that against a team with that kind of speed, you're not even giving yourselves a chance. Just to allow 24 points off of turnovers is hard for any defense."

The refs were quick to the whistle to kick off Saturday afternoon's matchup as Jackson registered his first point off of a free throw just 11 seconds into the game to put the Lobos on top 1-0. Three straight CSU 3-pointers however over a one-minute span quickly put the Rams up by eight at the 17:37 mark, 9-1.

A layup from Mathis and a successful and-1 for redshirt-sophomore Keith McGee cut the deficit back to three, 9-6, but the Rams pushed their lead to nine on a layup by their season's leading scorer Nico Carvacho. Mathis followed by hitting his first three of the night to cut it back to a six-point game, 19-13 with 13:36 left to play in the half.

The teams battled back and forth but Maluach hit a three at the 12:33 mark to make it a four-point game, 22-18, but CSU followed with a 12-5 run over the next 4:57 to get out to an 11-point advantage.

Despite an and-one from redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg with 21 seconds left, the Rams pushed the lead back to double figures, 48-38, at the half.

The Lobos cut the CSU lead back to single digits just twice more after the break, the last time at the 12:17 mark of the second half on a jumper by junior Corey Manigault, 57-49 Rams, before Colorado state went on a 7-0 run to make it a 16-point game, 65-49, and put the game out of reach. The Lobos would get no closer than 13, which came on the next play on a three from Jackson, 65-52.

Over the final 1:38, UNM cut a 25-point deficit down to 15 on a furious comeback rally attempt with threes from Mathis, Jackson and Maluach, along with a free throw from sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk, but it wasn't enough to overcome the Ram lead.

The Lobos were outscored by the Rams by a 10-point margin in the first half and a five-point margin in the second. On the day, the teams finished evenly matched on the glass, 31-30 in favor of the Rams. UNM shot 63.2 percent from the free-throw line (12-19) compared to 80.0 percent for CSU.

Other standouts on the day include McGee, who finished with eight points and a team-high five assists, along with Bragg who scored five points, registered six rebounds and posted one block.

The Lobos are set to return to action on Tuesday, Jan. 15 at San Diego State at 9 p.m. MT.
