Post-Game Quotes – 10/27 vs BYU

Coach Weir:

"I think, outside of the three-point shooting percentage, we played a pretty good basketball game. We won the turnover battle and we had more offensive rebounds than they did. We did a lot of things that we wanted to do, we just couldn't make shots. And I thought we had some really good looks as well. Our quality of shot wasn't bad, (but) we're going to have to make those to win games."

I thought the atmosphere was terrific, I thought it was awesome. I thought their volume was great and I felt it for sure. I hope the players did as well. It was a really neat game and I'm really thankful for all the people that gave us a chance."

On Logwood's performance: "Sam's been great. He really wants this badly right now and I know he's trying to maybe make up for things all at one time. I think you can feel his aggression, his commitment, his energy. As long as we can keep using him in the right way offensively and spreading the floor, I think he'll keep having games like that. Him buying into what we're doing has really allowed our team to, I think, be better than a lot of people think that we're going to be this year."

Sam Logwood:

"I honestly just felt a lot more comfortable. The new system that we're in is just more my style of play. It allows me to be myself out there. We made a lot of mental errors, a lot of errors within the offense, but I feel like we got them out early, which will help us in the long run."

"With Coach Weir, we do a lot more running and a lot more that's physically demanding on our bodies. After practice we run, we condition. It's something we take pride in, our conditioning and our shape. I personally feel like I'm in the best shape of my life, and I know a lot of the guys do as well."

Joe Furstinger:

"Everyone (on the team) is really close and it's really special this year. We've got all the pieces, and I feel really confident with this team."

"We're never satisfied. Obviously we would have liked to get the win, but it doesn't count on the record, so November 11th is when it really starts."
