LOBOS SET TO HOST NEW MEXICO TEAM INVITE

New Mexico track & field will vie with a challenging early-season test as it hosts the New Mexico Team Invitational this Saturday at the Albuquerque Convention Center.

With most of the team's top athletes expected to see action this weekend, the Lobos will be aiming for wins as they invite Grand Canyon, New Mexico State, San Diego State, TCU, Texas State, Utah State and Washington State for a team-scored meet.

Although a number of Lobos kicked off their 2018 campaigns last week at the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Invitational, more of New Mexico's standouts will make their season debuts this Saturday, including the team's vaunted group of distance runners.

2017 cross country All-Americans Weini Kelati and Charlotte Prouse are among eight runners entered in the mile run. Joining them will be Alondra Negron Texidor, Kieran Casey, Emily Martin, Elizabeth Reyes, Samantha Dicker and Kaitlin Franklin.

Additionally, Casey and Mackenzie Everett will compete in the 800-meter run, with Kendall Kelly, Sophie Eckel and Johanna Briscoe entered in the 3000.

On the men's side, UNM will counter the field with a bevy of athletes in the distance events, led by Ian Crowe-Wright in the 800 and mile.

Crowe-Wright, the MW leader in the 3000, will run alongside Kristian Uldbjerg Hansen and Michael Wilson in the 800 and mile, with Iolo Hughes and Chris Graham both running just the 800 and Taylor Potter taking aim in just the mile.

Jacob Simonsen and Jonny Glen will both compete in the mile and 3000.

The men will also look their burgeoning crew of sprinters, led by Carlos Salcido (200) and Mark

Haywood (600). Isaac Gonzales (400), Bryan Cutler (200, 400) and Ben Parmoon (600) will also compete in the sprint events.

For the women, it will be Shalom Keller and Nakala Watson in the 200, Mariah Gordon and Elisabetta Mackin in the 400 and Larimar Rodriguez and Steffi Jones in the 600.

In the field events, the Lobo men will compete Tanner Battikha (long jump), Omari Gregory (triple jump) and Miles Brinson (long jump), Jason Atencio (pole vault) and Brent Dionisio (high jump), with Daniel Lam, Camillo Dunninger and Beau Clifton competing in individual events before opening up in the heptathlon next week.

The women's field events will consist of Ada'ora Chigbo, Shannon Fritz and Kyra Mohns in the high jump; Sarah McKeever and Fritz in the pole vault; Mohns in the long jump and Allison Mady in the shot put and weight throw.

KURCAT RACES TO NCAA LEAD, 2ND IN UNM HISTORY IN MILE RUN

New Mexico junior Ednah Kurgat kicked off her track season back before the holidays, running a superb 5000-meter race on December 2 at the Boston University Season Opener.

The Eldoret, Kenya, native broke the New Mexico and Mountain West records with her time of 15:19.03, which also ranks No. 2 in the NCAA for the 2018 season.

With a date with the 3000 at the prestigious Millrose Games on tap for February 3, Kurgat wanted to continue her preparations for the rest of the season, looking toward the mile run at the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Invitational as the answer.

And Kurgat definitely got what she need out of the race at the Albuquerque Convention Center, clocking a time of 4:35.29. That time moves her to No. 2 all-time at New Mexico in the event and places her at No. 1 in the NCAA in the event so far this season.

She is also the only athlete in the NCAA to be ranked top two in two different events.

KERR OPENS SEASON WITH QUICK 800, RANKS 2ND IN UNM HISTORY

Ednah Kurgat wasn't the only Lobo to earn an invitation to the Millrose Games, as New Mexico sophomore Josh Kerr received a berth to race in the Wanamaker Mile at the Millrose Games in New York City.

To make sure he was ready to race against a world-class field, the 2017 NCAA champ in the mile run needed to sharpen his racing skills. So, Kerr kicked off his 2018 campaign at the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Invitational, competing in the 800-meter run.

And, just like Kurgat, Kerr accomplished his pre-race goal, zooming to a stellar time of 1:48.26. That time easily eclipsed his indoor personal record (his all-conditions PR is 1:47.51), and moved him to No. 3 in the NCAA this season.

Additionally, Kerr just missed the UNM indoor record of 1:48.13, which has stood since 1977.

LOBO WOMEN RANKED 26TH IN FIRST REGULAR-SEASON RANKINGS

The New Mexico women's track & field team fell one spot to No. 25 in the first regular-season edition of the USTFCCA National Team Computer Rankings that were released Monday, January 22.

After debuting at No. 25 in the preseason rankings — the women's team highest ranking all-time in the USTFCCA's preseason rankings for indoor track & field — the women dropped a single spot after the opening weeks of action.

The rankings, which credit the Lobos with 33.92 points, are based on athletes' performances in events from the beginning of the 2018 indoor season (which officially started December 1, 2017) and the 2017 indoor season.

The distance trio of Ednah Kurgat, Weini Kelati and Alice Wright has contributed all of the Lobos' points, with all three posting tremendous marks in the 5,000-meter run at the BU Season Opener on December 2.

Kurgat set the UNM and Mountain West records in the 5,000 with a time of 15 minutes, 19.03 seconds, while Kelati finished with a time of 15:37.03 and Wright a time of 15:46.85.

All three broke the previous UNM 5K standard of 15:54.29 set by Natalie Gray in 2011, while Kurgat both set the Mountain West and ranks sixth in the NCAA history.

Kurgat's time contributes 20.46 points to the Lobos' tally of 31.33 points, with Kelati's mark adding 8.98 and Wright's 1.89.

Kurgat also logged a nation-leading time of 4:35.29 in the mile run at the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Invitational on January 20, which added 2.58 points to the team's total.

HAYWOOD TAKES DOWN NEW MEXICO RECORD IN 600

Last year, on opening weekend of the season, Mark Haywood just missed the New Mexico record in the 600-meter run when he clocked a time of 1:19.31 at the Cherry & Silver Invitational.

But this season, the senior from Alamogordo, New Mexico, took another crack at Olympian Jarrin Solomon's 10-year-old record of 1:19.18.

From the gun, Haywood controlled the pace, coming through the first 200 meters in 24.1, just about the same as last year. He continued at the lead, hitting the 400-meter point in 51.4, which was actually slower than last year when he split 50.5 through 400 meters.

But he finished much stronger in 2018, logging a final 200-meter lap of 27.6 (compared to last year's split of 28.8) to finish the three-lap race in 1:19.02.

SALCIDO THREATENS NEW MEXICO RECORD IN 200

New Mexico sophomore Carlos Salcido entered the 2018 season already ranked as the seventh fastest 200-meter runner in school history when he ran 21.70 at last year's Mountain West Championship.

This year, with another year of development under his belt, Salcido took aim at improvement in 2018 season.

He made sure he got off to a good start at the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Invitational on January 19, blasting a sensational time of 21.47.

Salcido just missed the New Mexico school record of 21.43, held by former MW champion Ridge Jones.

Salcido's performance also him in the top 50 in the NCAA and currently ranks him at the top of the Mountain West's leaderboard in the 200.

THE LIFESPAN OF A 4X400 RECORD JUST ISN'T THE SAME ANYMORE...

Twice during the 2017 season — on February 11 at the Don Kirby Invitational and again on February 25 at the Mountain West Championships — the quartet of Cheyenne Dorsey, Isaac Gonzales, Carlos Salcido and Mark Haywood soared to the New Mexico record in the 4x400 meter relay.

The quartet's first time was a time of 3:12.10, while its second was a 3:10.78. All told, those performances broke the old 34-year-old UNM record of 3:12.27 set by Mike Servizio, Pete Serna, Jeff Wood and Ibrahim Hussein at Northern Arizona on February 12, 1983.

Turn the calendar to 2018 and the Lobos' 4x400 team was back at it.

To open the 2018 season, three of the runners from last year's record-setting relay (Salcido, Haywood and Gonzales) were back, with

And, in their first action of the season, the foursome rocketed to the fourth-best 4x400 time in UNM history, combining to run 3:12.62.

Salcido anchored the team to the tune of a 45.8 split, the fastest relay split in the last decade at UNM.

KERR NAMED TO THE BOWERMAN MEN'S PRESEASON WATCH LIST

New Mexico redshirt sophomore Josh Kerr earned a spot on The Bowerman Men's Preseason Watch List, the USTFCCCA announced Tuesday, January 9.

Kerr, a two-time NCAA champion, is one of 10 men selected to the watch list. The Edinburgh, Scotland, native was a semifinalist for The Bowerman, the highest individual honor in collegiate track & field, in 2017.

During his outstanding 2017 track campaign, Kerr won a pair of national titles for New Mexico, sweeping both the mile run and the 1,500-meter run at the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor championships.

At the NCAA Indoor Championships last March at Gilliam Indoor Track in College Station, Texas, Kerr defeated 17-time national champion Edward Cheserek of Oregon in the mile to claim his first NCAA crown.

Last June, at the NCAA Outdoor Championships at Hayward Field in Eugene, Oregon, Kerr seized his second national title, holding off the field to win the 1,500.

He is just the 11th athlete in NCAA history — and the first since 2008 — to accomplish the indoor/outdoor sweep.

Kerr also ran the sixth-fastest 1,500-meter time in NCAA history at the Bryan Clay Invitational in April 2017, clocking in at 3:35.99. His time sits just .69 seconds off Sydney Maree's 36-year-old NCAA record in the 1,500 and also doubles as the New Mexico and Mountain West records in the event.

Kerr also met the qualifying standard for the 2017 IAAF World Championships in London, and subsequently qualified to the World Championships in July.

On top of that, he earned wins in the mile and the distance medley relay at the MW Indoor Championships in February and the 800 and 1,500 at the MW Outdoor Championships in May.

Along with his selection as a semifinalist for The Bowerman, Kerr was also named Mountain West Male Athlete of the Year and MW Men's Outdoor Track & Field Student-Athlete of the Year last year.

The Bowerman, which debuted in 2009, is presented annually by the USTFCCCA to the most outstanding male and female collegiate track & field athletes in the nation. Performances during the indoor track & field and outdoor track & field seasons count for the award; performances achieved in cross country are not considered.

The other nine Preseason Watch List member for the men's Bowerman are Nathan Allen (Auburn), KeAndre Bates (Florida), Cameron Burrell (Houston), Isaiah Harris (Penn State), Grant Holloway (Florida), Justyn Knight (Syracuse), John Kyriazis (Texas A&M), Kemar Mowatt (Arkansas) and Chris Nilsen (South Dakota).

Kerr is the first Lobo to appear on the Preseason Watch List. On Monday, teammate Ednah Kurgat was receiving votes on The Bowerman Women's Preseason Watch List.

KERR DOUBLES DOWN IN NCAA TITLES, FIRST SINCE 2008

At the beginning of March 2017, Josh Kerr was a talented runner for New Mexico, but probably wasn't a household name in NCAA track & field.

However, all of that changed on March 11, when Kerr defeated 17-time national champion Edward Cheserek of Oregon in the mile to claim his first NCAA crown at the NCAA Indoor Championships at Gilliam Indoor Track in College Station, Texas.

He followed that up with a tremendous outdoor campaign — including the No. 6 1,500-meter time in NCAA history at 3:35.99 — and an NCAA title in the 1,500-meter run.

Kerr is the first person to sweep the mile and the 1500 at the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor championships since Texas' Leo Manzano in 2008.

Colorado State's Bryan Berryhill was the last Mountain West athlete to accomplish the mile/1500 sweep, doing it in 2001. Berryhill is also the only other athlete in conference history to win the 1500.

MEN'S TRACK POSTS HIGHEST GPA, EARNS USTFCCCA HONOR

The New Mexico track & field team earned a number of academic accolades to on July 27 as the USTFCCCA announced its All-Academic Honors.

Under head coach Joe Franklin, both the men's and women's track & field teams were recognized as All-Academic Teams, a distinction bestowed to teams that register a cumulative team GPA of 3.00 or higher during the academic year.

10 Lobos, five men and five women, were also named All-Academic Individuals by the USTFCCCA.

For the team awards, the New Mexico men set a new program record with a team GPA of 3.53, the best among the 142 teams honored as All-Academic. Last season, the Lobo men held the second-best GPA among the honorees.

The men were also just one of four Mountain West men's teams to be selected, and have maintained at least a 3.2 for 10 straight semesters.

The UNM women, with a team GPA of 3.52, were one of seven schools in the MW to earn the honor. The women rank 23rd out of the 218 Division I institutions that were recognized.

The Lobo women have logged at least a 3.3 GPA for 20 straight semesters.

Individually, the Lobos also produced strong academic results, with 10 student-athletes earning All-Academic honors for their combined efforts in competition and in the classroom.

The individual award is awarded to student-athlete who attain a 3.25 GPA and either finished the regular season indoors ranked in the national top 96 in an individual event (as per the official NCAA proof-of-performance list) or participated in any round of the NCAA Division I Outdoor Championships.

On the men's side, five student-athletes were recognized, including Tanner Battikha and Kristian Uldbjerg Hansen.

For the New Mexico women, CoSIDA Academic All-American Alice Wright met the criteria along with Kieran Casey and Sophie Eckel.
