

2019 AIR FORCE RESERVE MW WOMEN'S BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP QUARTERFINAL #3 (March 11, 2019)

GAME NOTES

Final Score: No. 7 Seed San Diego State 70, No. 2 Seed New Mexico 61 (OT)

- With the win, San Diego State becomes the third consecutive No. 7 seed to make the semifinals of the MW Women's Basketball Championship, and fourth overall. The Aztecs are now 16-17 all-time in the tournament's history, while New Mexico falls to 29-15.
- This is also the second consecutive year that the No. 2 vs. No. 7 game has gone into overtime. Last year, No. 7 Nevada knocked off No. 2 UNLV, 77-73.
- The Aztecs trailed by as many as 13 points, and 10 points with 7:55 left in the game. After sending the game to OT, SDSU scored the first 10 points of the period to seal the victory.
- SDSU was led in its comeback effort by freshman guard Sophia Ramos, who finished with 20 points and five assists. Ramos saved her best for last, however, scoring 15 of SDSU's 20 points in the fourth quarter, including the game-tying basket with just 2.2 seconds left.
- The Aztecs also got a record-breaking performance from sophomore guard Najé Murray, who poured in 22 points and knocked down 6-of-11 from 3-point range. Her six made 3-pointers break the tournament's sophomore record, and are also tied for the fourth-most single-game 3-pointers in MW Women's Basketball Championship history.
- Murray's six made 3-pointers brings her season total to 79 3-pointers this season, breaking the previous single-season school record of 77 3-pointers set by Jamey Cox (2002-03) and Courtney Clements (2012-13).
- SDSU's freshman forward Mallory Adams had a career-high 16 rebounds, surpassing Ellen Nystrom's mark of 15 boards vs. Fresno State on March 15, 2014 for the most rebounds ever by a freshman in the MW Women's Basketball Championship history.
- As a team, San Diego State pulled down 59 rebounds, tying the MW Women's Basketball Championship history set by New Mexico vs. San José State on March 5, 2018.

- New Mexico, meanwhile, was led by the 2018-19 Mountain West Player of the Year, Jaisa Nunn, who tallied 24 points and 19 rebounds. The 19 rebounds are a career high, surpassing her previous high of 18 vs. UC-Irvine on Nov. 25, 2017.
- Additionally, Nunn's 19 rebounds are the second most all-time in the tournament's history. It is only the second time ever in the MW Women's Basketball Championship history that a player has tallied at least 20 points and at least 18 rebounds. Wyoming's Hillary Carlson had 25 points and 18 rebounds against SDSU on March 10, 2010.
- It was the 10th game this season that Nunn registered at least 20 points and 10 rebounds, and her 15th double-double overall this year.
- San Diego State will play the winner of No. 3 Wyoming vs. No. 6 Utah State on March 12, 2019 at 8:30 p.m. PT.
