SEASON RECAP (BY RICHARD STEVENS - SENIOR WRITER, GOLOBOS.COM)

The magic of the 2009-10 season might not have been repeated in dramatic and show-stopping fashion, but it's impossible to say Coach Steve Alford and his staff didn't pull a few rabbits -- and a lot of wins -- out of their hat this past season.

The Lobos of 2010-11 simply were too young, too inexperienced, to throw out another 20-win season, but they did it anyway. As Alford said once during New Mexico's 22-13 run: "That's the good thing about youth. Sometimes they just don't know."

The Lobos did know two things this past season. They knew they had the talent to play with anyone, if they could just play consistent at both ends of the court and make a few shots.

The young Lobos also knew they had one of the best Lobos ever to lean on in during crunch time and that leadership, that will to win, had few equals coast-to-coast.

One of the obvious highlights of the 2010-11 season was the play of Dairese Gary in his final season at the University of New Mexico. This young man was tremendous. He willingly placed a team on his broad shoulders and tried to carry them to a third straight Mountain West title in a league that featured two of the top teams in the nation.

One of the saddest moments in Lobo history was the day Gary went down and didn't get back up. It was really an impossible, unbelievable sight. Gary had been splashed across courts for years. He had been hammered to the floor numerous by the huge behemoths of the paint in their futile efforts to stop this Lobos' power drives to the hoop.

Heck, a runaway train couldn't stop Gary, but on a cruel court in Las Vegas, Nev., a pop in Gary's right knee sent him crashing to the floor and you knew that something was really wrong. Gary didn't get back up.

"All Dairese kept saying on the bench was, 'I'm sorry,'" said Craig Neal, UNM's associate head coach.

It was a cruel ending to Gary's career as a Lobo and it also doomed UNM's shot at a third consecutive win over Brigham Young and Jimmer Fredette, the National Player of The Year. Gary went down two minutes into the second half and UNM was eliminated from the 2011 Mountain West Conference Tournament by the loss to BYU.

For sure, any reflections back on the 2010-11 season have to linger on what Gary gave his Lobos this past season and in the previous three. The senior point guard led one of the youngest teams in the nation to 22 wins, back into postseason play, and was named to the All-MWC First Team and the MWC All-Defense Team. Gary also ended his career at UNM as the Mountain West's career assist leader with 564.

Had Gary not hurt his knee, he would have ended his career tied for the most games played (137) as a Lobo. His run stopped at 135.

The Lobos failed in their bid to defend their two-year reign on the MWC throne, but in a season of youth and reloading, the Lobos did post another 20-win season and did return to postseason play.

The Lobos opened National Invitation Tournament play against a very good UTEP team and posted a solid 69-57 Pit win. The NIT rewarded the Lobos with a trip to Alabama where the Crimson Tide was riding a 17-game home win streak in Tuscaloosa. Alabama, the eventual NIT runners-up and a team that probably should have been included in the NCAA bracket, ended UNM's season 74-67 by holding off a Gary-less Lobo rally.

The end of the season did give Lobo fans a glimpse of what's to come in 2011-12 and there were really no surprises. If 2010-11 could be called a "reloading" year, then the ammunition the Lobos carry forward is potent and exciting.

The Lobos return 6-foot-9 Drew Gordon, who was named to the 2011 All-MWC Second Team and also named the league's Newcomer of The Year. UNM also brings back Kendall Williams, the 2011 MWC Freshman of The Year and All-MWC honorable mention.

These first-year Lobos had dynamic seasons in 2010-11. Gordon, a transfer from UCLA, had to sit out UNM's first seven games due to NCAA transfer rules, but Williams was a rookie sensation from the opening tip.

The 6-foot-3 off-guard didn't wait long to show his D-I talent as he scored 15 points against Arizona State and had 12 points at Cal-Berkeley. He ended the season as UNM's No. 3 scorer with an 11.6 average while shooting .454 from the field. His assist-to-turnover ratio was No. 4 in the MWC and 63rd in the nation. He scored 18 at Alabama, nine points in the final 40 seconds.

Gordon gave UNM an immediate go-to player in the paint, as he became one of the more consistent inside threats in the MWC. He ended up as UNM's No. 2 scorer at 13.0, just behind Gary's 14.1 average. Gordon was one of the top board men in the league and UNM's No. 1 rebounder with a 10.5 average, to give him a double-double average for the season.

The combination of Gordon and A.J. Hardeman inside often was too much for the opposing defenses to handle. Those two juniors had solid years and UNM had streaks of brilliance from these other Lobos, too: Emmanuel Negedu, Chad Adams, Jamal Fenton,

*denotes a four-point play

Tony Snell, Phillip McDonald, Cameron Bairstow and Alex Kirk.

The Lobos took a major blow inside when Negedu was lost for the season due to a heart issue. The muscular, 6-7 forward showed his inside potential by leading UNM in rebounds in back-to-back games (18 total), but played in only 10 games this season and missed the entire MWC season.

That slack was picked up nicely by 6-11 freshman Alex Kirk and 6-9 freshman Cameron Bairstow. Bairstow came up with several key baskets for UNM during the season with his fundamentally sound post moves. Kirk's potential was dramatically displayed on Jan. 6 when he set a Lobo freshman record with 31 points in a 102-62 beat down of Cal State Bakersfield.

"I'm not the easiest guy to impress, but that was impressive," said Alford after Kirk's performance.

Tony Snell, another freshman, reached double figures four times during the season, including 16 against BYU, 19 against Wyoming and 14 against San Diego State.

Sophomore Jamal Fenton got invaluable playing time at the point after Gary went down and Fenton's immediate impact off the bench sparked several key UNM runs during the season. Fenton reached double figures in two of UNM's final three games against MWC opponents including 14 in the MWC tourney loss vs. BYU. UNM got similar spark off the bench from sophomore Chad Adams, who scored 15 vs. Longwood and had 10 points in a crucial UNM win at Air Force.

The Lobos two returning juniors -- A.J. Hardeman and Phillip McDonald -- had critical baskets and huge games throughout the season. Hardeman's intensity under the glass was a nice complement to Gordon's smoothness. Hardman had 14 points and 10 boards at TCU and 10 points and nine boards at Colorado State. He scored 11 points in UNM's MWC tourney loss to BYU.

McDonald averaged 10.9 points for the Lobos. His best game probably was the 26 points he scored in UNM's 82-64 romp at Brigham Young. He also had 18 points at NMSU, 27 points vs. Colorado State, and 20 vs. TCU. This quiet Lobo probably has to step up as a leader in 2011-12 when UNM actually will take to the court with three seniors -- McDonald, Hardeman and Gordon.

That will be a big change for the Lobos, who went into the 2010-11 season as a question mark because of all that youth. It turned out to be a big year for UNM's freshmen, sophomore and first-year Lobos. "I can't thank these young players enough for what they did for us this year," said Coach Alford.

The season of 2010-11 will be remember for Gary, for postseason play, for two wins over Brigham Young, and for the unveiling of the renovated Pit which gives UNM one of the finest basketball facilities in the nation. The Lobos drew an average of 14,570 fans for 17 Pit games.

However, it also is a season that should be marked for revealing the deep consistency of Steve Alford's program at UNM. This was a season that could have easily gone sour because of the youth. Instead, Alford threw out his fourth consecutive 20-win season as a Lobo after inheriting a program that had lost the previous year in the MWC tourney's play-in game.

In his fourth season as a Lobo, Alford has more wins, a higher winning percentage and more regular-season league titles than any previous Lobo coach during a four-year span. UNM also continues to show toughness on the road as Alford's program picked up its 30th road win at Brigham Young. UNM won 28 road games in the 10 seasons prior to Alford's arrival.

HUSTLE BOARD

Hustle points are figured out by adding the good stuff (assists, blocks, and steals), subtracting the bad stuff (turnovers), and dividing by games played. Here's how the Lobos stack up for the 2010-11 season.

PLAYER	G	HUSTLE PTS.	PER GAME
Gary	33	134	4.06
Williams	35	125	3.57
Fenton	32	48	1.50

Hardeman	34	12	0.35
Adams	34	10	0.29
Bairstow	32	7	0.22
Perez	5	0	0.00
Gordon	26	0	0.00
TEAM	35	391	11.17

The Lobos picked up wins away from The Pit this season vs. Southern Illinois, New Mexico State, Colorado (neutral court), Texas Tech, Air Force, TCU, BYU and Colorado State (MWC tourney).

"I think it's critical with a program that you don't have a season of slippage," said Alford. "We avoided that this season, got 22 wins and returned to the postseason."

For that, you thank Dairese Gary and you thank a lot of young and first-year Lobos, who stepped it up big time. You also thank Alford, who went to the court in 2010-11 with not only a team -- but with a program.

I GUESS TAXES SHOULD BE ENDING NOW, ALONG WITH DEATH

On November 21, 2007 against Hawai'i, head coach Steve Alford had one of his assistants circle the #5 in the official scorebook, signifying that Dairese Gary would make his first career start. The Lobo guard was a mainstay through the rest of his career, until he suffered a torn ACL in his right knee against BYU in the Mountain West Conference semifinals.

Gary had started 130 consecutive games for the Lobos, and that mark the longest current active streak in the nation. Richmond's Kevin Anderson eventually went on to start 131 consecutive games before his team lost in the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament.

GARY ADDS ALL-DEFENSE AND FIRST TEAM HONORS TO HIS RESUME

Dairese Gary will go down as one of the greatest players in Lobo history, and certainly one of the most respected by opponents as well. A 3.0 student, an all-conference performer, and a nationally recognized player, Gary's career is winding down at New Mexico, but he's not done yet.

The senior point guard, leading the youngest team in the Mountain West, added to his Mountain West all-time career lead in assists, moving up to 564 after a seven-assist night at BYU. Gary is the top assist man in conference history, the game with BYU on February 2 marked the first meeting between the top two set-up men in the history of the Mountain West Conference since 2009. With the season over, Gary held off Jimmer for the title of Mountain West assist king, as here is the list:

AST Players, School, Years

- 564 Dairese Gary, UNM, 2007-present
- 515 Jimmer Fredette, BYU, 2007-present
- 479 Richie Williams, SDSU, 2005-09
- 471 Brandon Ewing, Wyoming, 2005-09
- 453 Jay Straight, Wyoming, 2001-05

Gary was honored by the league as a First Team All-MWC member, as well as one of five players on the league All-Defense team. It's the second straight year he has earned both honors, and he is the first Lobo since Danny Granger in 2004 and 2005 to earn back-to-back First Team accolades.

Gary also earned back-to-back All-Defensive Team honors, joining Kenny Thomas, David Gibson, Khari Jaxon, and Willie Banks as other back-to-back Lobo honorees for All-Defense. Gary was also to the U.S. Basketball Writers Association First Team All-District 8 squad, and he was also named Second Team All-District 17.

Dairese owns the career assist record, and he has a few others. He is the Mountain West Conference career leader in games started with 130. On February 26th he surpassed Wyoming's Brandon Heath, who started 125 from 2005-09.

Gary also is the all-time assist leader in conference games only with 256. Brandon Heath had 227 for Wyoming in conference play.

Gary also finished third in Mountain West history in games played with 135, behind D.J. Gay (140) and Jimmer Fredette (139). Dairese finished second in games started at UNM with 130. Rob Robbins started 133 for the Lobos. Gary also finished second in games played at UNM with 135 games. He finished two short of catching Darrell McGee for most games played (137) at UNM.

TWO STRAIGHT NEWCOMER OF THE YEAR AWARDS FOR THE LOBOS

Last year it was Darington Hobson winning the Mountain West Newcomer of the Year Award. Make it two-for-two, as Drew Gordon has picked up the honor this year. Gordon was also honored by the league as a Second Team All-MWC member as well as Second Team All-District 17.

Gordon finished second in the conference in rebounding with an 11.8 average (one board behind the leader, Kawhi Leonard. He also finished ninth in scoring (13.9), first in offensive rebounding (3.94), second in defensive rebounding (7.88), second in field goal percentage (.556) and fourth in blocks (1.38).

Gordon's 189 rebounds was the second-most ever by a Lobo in conference play, one behind the 190 pulled down by Lewis LaMar in 1993-94, but he had the benefit of an 18-game conference season. His 189 is one behind new single-season record-holder Kawhi Leonard, as the old record was held by Andrew Bogut, who had 175 for Utah in 2005. Gordon owns the MWC junior class record with his 189, as Marcus Slaughter of San Diego State had 174 in 2006. Also, his 11.8 scoring average is good for the class record.

Oh, and lest anyone think Drew is doing it against inferior competition, Gordon has faced a top 10 team five times, and his stat line is awesome. He is averaging 16.8 points per game and 13.2 rebounds per game, both numbers above his overall and conference averages. He also is shooting .535 from the field, .714 from the free throw line, and he has nine blocks as well.

Gordon's 10.5 rebounds per game would have been good for second in the Mountain West had he played one more game, which would have given him the requisite 75% needed to be ranked. That rebounding average would have also been good for a tie for 12th place nationally.

SEE, WE COMPARE HIM TO KENNY THOMAS ALL YEAR, AND HE PULLS A KENNY THOMAS AS WILLIAMS GETS FRESHMAN OF THE YEAR HONORS

Of all the great players in the New Mexico Lobo men's basketball program that have come and gone, Kenny Thomas was always able to say that he was the only player in school history to earn a conference Freshman of the Year honor. Kenny, please make room for one more. Kendall Williams capped off a fabulous freshman year by earning the conference's Freshman of the Year Award, the first in the Mountain West era for the Lobos. Williams also earned Honorable Mention honors as well.

Williams was one of the top freshmen in the nation, let alone the league. Williams finished third on the team in scoring at 11.6 points per game, he shot .454 from the field and he was fourth in the league in assist-to-turnover ratio at 1.99-to-1, and 63rd in the nation. Earlier this season, Williams was honored by being named the #7 freshman in the country according to www.basketballprospectus.com. Williams was the top ranking freshman in the west (Texas is NOT the western United States) as behind him was UCLA's Joshua Smith at #10, Here is what Basketball Prospectus had to say about the rookie.

"Williams has teamed with senior Dairese Gary in Albuquerque to form a backcourt that has two of everything: two point guards, two penetrators, and two proven scorers inside the arc. The 6-3 Williams is making half his twos and 57 percent of his threes. He draws almost six fouls for every 40 minutes he plays, yet takes very good care of the ball. Basically Williams is a junior point guard trapped in a freshman's body."

Williams poured in 18 points against Alabama, nine in the final 40 seconds, to give him 406 points on the season, and he finished second on the Lobo freshmen scoring list, ahead of John Robinson II. He was only behind Kenny Thomas, who scored 484 points as a rookie.

Williams also became the sixth Mountain West rookie to break 400 points, and he finished sixth on the all-time rookie scoring chart. Here is the MWC top 10 list for rookie scoring...

EFFECTIVE FIELD GOAL PERCENTAGE

Effective field goal percentage (eFG%) measures the importance of the three-point shot in a shooting percentage, leading truth to the adage that hitting a third of your three-pointers is as good as half your two-pointers, and it uses this formula: eFG% = (FGM + (0.5 x 3PM))/FGA.

SATURDAY NIGHT ALL RIGHT FOR FIGHTING...

The Lobos were 6-7 on Saturdays in 2010-11, and 15-6 on the other six days of the week.

A GOOD FOUR YEAR STRETCH...NOW ONTO A FIFTH!

The Lobos won 98 games over the last four years, the second-most wins over any four-year period in Lobo history. Here are the best four-year spans, and where the current four-year span sits, based on wins:

Years	Record	.Pct
1995-99	102-30	.772
2007-present	98-39	.715
1994-98	92-36	.719
1996-00	92-39	.697
2006-07	91-43	.679
1993-97	91-36	.717
1992-96	90-35	.720
1986-90	89-49	.645

Dairese Gary has 98 wins in his career, and he needs four more to equal Marcos White, who won 102 in his career from 1995-99. White was a walk-on who played in just 38 career games, dressing for all of them. Gary would tie the record with a run through the NIT and a championship, as he would get credit for the wins despite being injured.

Gary did however top the great Kenny Thomas, who formerly held the record for scholarship players at New Mexico. Kenny Thomas played the same four seasons and was a part of 96 career wins. He was credited as such because he was mandated by the NCAA to sit out the first six games of his senior year, and those were all wins.

Of course, now we get to look ahead to the best five-year stretches and what the Lobos need to do to land amongst that company.

WE GOT FRESHMEN YES WE DO WE GOT FRESHMEN HOW 'BOUT YOU? (PART I)

When someone goes to the Mountain West Conference web site and hits the little button that showcases the conference statistics that are compiled, there is a major shortage in the 13 individual categories that are listed...freshmen. If you can find any freshmen on the list however, they are almost assuredly going to be Lobos.

Of the 13 categories, here are all the freshmen listed in the rankings:

3-POINT STREAK IN A CT

UNM has made at least one 3-pointer in 658 straight games...the last time it didn't was Jan. 3, 1991, missing on eight attempts against Colorado State...since the 3-point shot became part of college basketball in 1986-87, the Lobos have made 10 or more 125 times...the record in those games is 98-27:

SHOW ME THE TWENTY!

When the Lobos swept their final three games (two on the road) of the regular season, it gave head coach Steve Alford his fourth consecutive 20-win season at New Mexico. He is the first coach to accomplish that feat in his first four seasons at the helm since Dave Bliss, who did it in each of his first six seasons, completing an 8-year run of 20 win seasons. It should be noted that while Bliss inherited a back-to-back 20-win program, Alford inherited a team that went just 15-17 and lost in the MWC play-in game that year before.

In Alford's 20 years of coaching, he now has coached 12 20-game winners, three at Manchester (in his only three full seasons), two at Missouri State (out of four), three at Iowa (out of eight), and now a perfect four-for-four at UNM.

It is also his sixth 20-win season in the last seven years, and he is now averaging 24.5 wins per year at New Mexico.

KIRK NEARING AMONG TOP 10 IN FRESHMAN REBOUNDING

Alex Kirk, who set a UNM freshman scoring record with 31 points in a game earlier in the year, was one of two freshmen ranked in the conference rebounding charts throughout the season. The Lobo rookie from Los Alamos ended up cracking the top 10 in rebounding all-time among freshman in school history. He finished in seventh place in the list with 126 rebounds, nine boards away from Lamont Long, who sits in sixth place.

SOME FINAL TRENDS

Trends are trends, and there are some trends associated with the Lobos.

- *The Lobos went 16-3 when outshooting their opponent and 6-10 when getting outshot.
- *In New Mexico's 22 wins, they shot 50% or better 10 times.
- *UNM has gone 7-0 when grabbing nine or more steals.
- *When New Mexico held their opponents to five or less three-pointers, they went 16-1, but they were just 6-12 when their opponent hits six or more.
- *UNM shot 70% or more from the line in 19 of the last 26 games after doing so just twice in the first eight, but five of the seven under 70% in that season-ending streak were losses.
- *Three times in Steve Alford's tenure at New Mexico, the Lobos have allowed an opponent to take 74 shots, and both times it happened this year it came in overtime games where the opponent didn't shoot better than 34%.
- *New Mexico is 46-10 in the last 56 when outrebounding their opponents.
- *The Lobos went 15-4 this season when Phillip McDonald scores in double-figures, and 7-9 when he either didn't score 10 or doesn't play.
- *The Lobos went 13-3 this season and are 41-7 in three years when McDonald hits two threes in a game.
- *New Mexico went a perfect 9-0 when it holds opponents to 20 field goals or less.
- *The Lobos went a perfect 5-0 when Kendall Williams records seven or more assists.
- *When A.J. Hardeman scores in double-figures in his career the Lobos are now 21-4.
- *New Mexico's 38 made field goals against Cal State Bakersfield was the most since 11/14/08 against Southeast Missouri State, when they went 39-for-71.

BOREDOM? NO... BOARD DOM...

New Mexico had outrebounded each of its last 15 opponents until Alabama finally outrebounded New Mexico.

OUCH!

The injury bug was a running storyline throughout the 2010-11 season. When it was determined that Dairese Gary would miss the rest of the season with a torn ACL, and it really goes to show how special the 2009-10 season was. In that year, the Lobos used the same starting lineup in every game and had no missed games due to injury. This year? Not quite the same case.

Steve Alford has trotted out nine different starting lineups and the Lobos saw countless

Not only did all the injuries wreak havoc with the starting lineups, but only one player managed to play in every single one of New Mexico's 35 games. That player was Kendall Williams, who started 34 and played in 35. Williams started the final 22 games of the season after entering the Texas Tech game after the second media timeout after missing the team bus prior to the trip to Lubbock.

FANS FLOCKED TO THE PIT

This season the Lobos averaged 14,570 fans for their 17 games in The Pit this season, and that is the best attendance since the Lobos averaged 15,186 during the 2002-03 season. The Lobos have had two full sellouts of 15,411 (BYU and San Diego State), and six lower bowl sellouts (Detroit, Arizona State, New Mexico State, Utah, UNLV, and Air Force).

The Lobos, who have been in the top 25 nationally in attendance for the past 44 seasons, will be making it 45 as they rank 16th unofficially after scouring every single conference website. Here are the current top attendance averages in the nation as of Monday, March 7, 2011.

STATS FOR NERDS

Last season, the Lobos excelled in some of the more esoteric stats that you can use to judge a team. While of course the whole 30-5 thing shows how great UNM played last year, some other stats show it wasn't a fluke.

Perhaps the best stat is the turnover percentage, in which UNM had a turnover percentage of 16.2%, the 10th best mark in the NCAA last season.

For the 2010-11 season UNM's adjusted offensive efficiency score was a 111.8, currently 43rd in the nation. For comparison's sake, last year the team clocked in at 113.1, good for 27th in the nation. Basically adjusted offensive efficiency takes in a variety of factors and figures the amount of points a team would score in 100 possessions. Ohio State this year led the nation with a 125.6 mark, and Southern was last at 79.8. UNM's defensive efficiency score is currently a 95.9, 66th in the nation.

The Lobos have assisted on 60.8% of their baskets, placing them 30th nationally. While last year the UNM turnover percentage with 16.2%, this year it ballooned a bit to 20.0%, which ranks 165th in the nation, as opposed to 10th last year.

New Mexico finished the year as the 289th youngest team in the nation, and easily the youngest in the Mountain West Conference.

(among coaches who coached more than 15 games) and more regular-season conference titles than any previous Lobo coach in four years. Most of the year was gravy as his win over New Mexico State on Dec. 11th gave him 83 wins, surpassing Dave Bliss:

ROAD WARRIORS

The Lobos are 30-23 in true road games under Alford with the win against #3 BYU being No. 30. To put his road success in perspective, UNM won just 28 road games in the previous 10 season prior to Alford's arrival (105 games). The comparison:

Total	28-77	(10 seasons)

In his first two seasons at New Mexico, Alford's teams set a school record for road wins in consecutive seasons (14), and then they trumped that with 16 over the last two. The previous mark before the two set by Alford's teams was 13 in 1972-73 and 1973-74, and this year's squad also had 16 road wins, equaling the school record set last year.

However, the road stuff is better than just that...as you can't do anything about the conference road games, but in four seasons, Alford has proven he will go play tough road games, and he tends to win those as well.

The following chart covers the entire conference era, and breaks down the overall road record, conference road record, non-conference road record, total non-conference road games, and the average non-conference road games played by a coach each season ... it's a very telling little chart.

The 11 non-conference road wins under Alford equals the number of non-conference road wins over the previous 14 years (11-29).

60/80 = WIN

The New Mexico Lobos are 43-0 under Steve Alford when holding opponents to under 60 points. For New Mexico, they are now 49-0 in their last 49 games when holding opponents under 60 points. The last loss was on February 22, 2006 when the Lobos lost to Air Force 51-46.

The Lobos also are 41-1 under Steve Alford when scoring 80 points or more, including 13-0 in MWC play.

New Mexico has allowed fewer than 60 points nine times this season. The season prior to Alford, the Lobos held opponents under 60 just five times, as opposed to the nearly 11 times per season average under the current regime.

NEAL LOSES IN SEMIFINALS OF SKIP PROSSER SHOTS FROM THE HEART

CollegiateInsider.com is a leading web site dedicated to college basketball, and they sponsor one of the postseason tournaments. The site also actively promotes for various causes, including a new contest for collegiate coaches this season, entitled "Shots From the Heart." The contest is being held in Skip Prosser's name and is being done to raise awareness for heart disease, and the premise is simple. Sixty-four college head coaches will compete against each other shooting 25 free throws over the course of the season in an NCAA-style bracket. Assistant coaches will also have a bracket as well.

Craig Neal lost in the Final Four to eventual champion Brooks Jennings, formerly of Texas Tech, 31-30, as Neal missed one shot. Amazingly, Alford shot .993 for the tournament and didn't make the semifinals, as he ended up in a death-match of sorts with Fred Hoiberg. Both coaches entered their Elite 8 match a perfect 75-for-75, and then both tied in their matchup, going 25-for-25 each. The tiebreaker called for coaches to shoot until they miss, and Alford hit 52 straight before a miss, and Hoiberg hit 102 in a row to advance.

That both Alford and Neal have done well isn't a big surprise. Craig Neal was a .763 free throw shooter at Georgia Tech, twice shooting better than 82% for the season. Steve Alford of course is one of the greatest shooters in NCAA history, and his 89.9% career free throw percentage ranks ninth in NCAA history.

For Neal, the Sweet Sixteen matchup was tougher, as he and Konkol each went 23-for-25, and each scored 29 points. The tiebreaker was consecutive free throws in the round, and Neal hit his first 12 shots, while Konkol only strung together 11. Neal defeated Creighton's Steve Merfield 30-27 in the opening round and Stephen F. Austin's Kellen Sampson 31-30 in the second round. Neal will now face off with a Lobo name from the past, as he will battle former Lobo head coach Ritchie McKay, who is an assistant at Virginia.

Each of the first 20 free throws were worth one point, free throws 21-24 worth two, and the 25th is worth three points. There were tiebreakers in place for the event as well.

SEASON NOTES*SEASON NO. 108 IN THE BOOKS

The University of New Mexico men's basketball program completed in their 108th season in 2010-11. The Lobos first laced up the hightops on Feb. 2, 1900, when they lost 8-6 to the Albuquerque Guards. While this season was actually the 111th anniversary of that inaugural year, UNM did not field a team for various reasons in 1900-01, 1903-04, 1917-18 and 1920-21.

The Lobos have been playing continuously since 1921-22 and have compiled an all-time record of 1,359-1,034 (.567).

New Mexico was 418-495 (.458) from 1900-62, but has gone 941-539 (.636) over the past 48+ seasons, an average of more than 19 wins per year. The Lobos have made 30 trips to the postseason during that span, including 11 appearances in the NCAA Tournament and 19 showings in the NIT.

LOBOS PREDICTED FOR THIRD PLACE FINISH IN MOUNTAIN WEST

The University of New Mexico Lobos, the back-to-back defending Mountain West Conference champions, were selected third in the preseason media poll released by the league on Oct. 12. Along with the poll, the conference released its preseason all-conference teams and honorees. Dairese Gary was named to the preseason all-conference team, along with Drew Gordon who picked up Newcomer of the Year honors.

The Lobos garnered three first-place votes and 214 points from a panel of 30 media members. Last year, despite being picked fifth in the preseason poll, the Lobos won their second consecutive Mountain West title with a 14-2 league record, winning their final 14 conference games. The team went on to post a school record 30 wins, going 30-5 for the season and winning an NCAA Tournament game for the first time in 11 years.

DID DISNEY EVER HAVE A TURKEY FOR A CHARACTER?

The answer to that is no, although Pluto did star in a short called Cold Turkey in 1951. However, Turkey, Mickey, Disney, and a whole lot of hoops will be the order of the day next Thanksgiving, as the field for The 76 Classic has been mostly set, with seven of eight teams confirmed.

The tournament will be held over Thanksgiving weekend, Thursday, Friday and Sunday, Nov. 24, 25 & 27, at the Anaheim (Calif.) Convention Center adjacent to Disneyland. The eighth team will be announced at a later date.

The fifth annual early season multi-team 76 Classic includes Boston College, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Saint Louis, Santa Clara, Washington State and Villanova, currently ranked No. 6 in the preseason ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll.

Three of the seven teams reached the 2010 postseason: New Mexico and Villanova earned berths into NCAA Championship, while Saint Louis reached the finals of the College Basketball Invitational.

The 2011 76 Classic, a bracket-format tournament, will feature 12 games over the three days. Each team will compete in one game per day, advancing through a bracket-tournament format. The two teams that remain undefeated throughout will face off in a championship match Sunday, Nov. 27.

The Big West Conference will again serve as the host conference for the 76 Classic at the 7,500-seat Anaheim Convention Center, which has been the home of the conference's postseason tournament for the past 10 years.

West Virginia won the 76 Classic last season, part of the Mountaineers' run to the NCAA Final Four. Wake Forest was crowned the 2008 champion of the 76 Classic.

The family-friendly tournament hosts the teams for three days of tournament play, practices, events and Disneyland park experiences. Additional information, including travel packages, can be found on the 76 Classic Web site at www.76classic.com.

The 76 Classic is owned and operated by ESPN Regional Television, Inc (ERT), a subsidiary of ESPN.

HEAD COACH STEVE ALFORD

Steve Alford has completed four seasons as the head coach at the University of New Mexico. He was named UNM's 19th head coach on March 23, 2007, after spending the previous eight seasons as the head coach at the University of Iowa.

Alford, 46, has a 406-222 (65%) career record in 20 seasons as a collegiate head coach. His teams have qualified for postseason play 15 times, produced 17 winning seasons and reached 20 wins on 12 occasions.

In eight seasons at Iowa, Alford compiled a 152-106 record with a school-record seven consecutive winning seasons, and six postseason appearances. The Hawkeyes won two Big Ten Conference tournament titles (2001 and '06). Iowa was 17-14 in 2006-07. It was 9-7 in the Big Ten, tied with NCAA teams Illinois and Purdue for fourth place.

Prior to Iowa, Alford posted a 78-29 record in four seasons (1992-95) at NCAA Division III Manchester (Ind.) College and a four-year (1996-99) record of 78-48 at Southwest Missouri State (now Missouri State). The Bears defeated Wisconsin and Tennessee to advance to the Sweet 16 of the 1999 NCAA Tournament before losing to top-ranked Duke in the regional semifinals. In 1997 Alford led the Bears to a 24-9 record (second in the Missouri Valley Conference) and a trip to the National Invitation Tournament.

The Bears were 16-12 in Alford's first season at the Division I level in 1995-96. In 1997-98 Southwest Missouri won 12 of its final 18 games, posting a final record of 16-16 while advancing to the title game of the MVC postseason tournament for the second straight season. Alford joined the collegiate coaching ranks at Manchester College in 1992, taking over a team that had lost its first eight games. After winning four of 20 games that season, Alford led Manchester to a 20-8 mark in his first full year of 1992-93.

The following season Manchester was 23-4 followed by a 31-1 mark in his fourth and final season. Manchester won three straight conference tournament titles from 1993-95, advancing to the NCAA Division III Tournament all three seasons.

Manchester advanced to the 1995 NCAA Division III championship game before suffering its first defeat in 32 games to place second in the nation. Alford was named Indiana Collegiate Conference coach of the year in 1993, 1994 and 1995 and his record was 74-13 over his final three seasons.

A native of New Castle, Ind., Alford was a prep standout for his father, Sam Alford, at New Castle Chrysler High School. He earned Indiana's Mr. Basketball Award in 1983 after averaging 37.7 points per game as a senior.

During his collegiate career at Indiana, Alford started all but five of 125 games, helping the Hoosiers post a four-year mark of 92-35. Alford served as head coach Bob Knight's team captain in 1987 when Indiana posted a 30-4 overall record and won the national championship.

Alford concluded his college career as Indiana's all-time scoring leader with 2,438 points and he became the first player to win the Indiana MVP award four times. He is also Indiana's career leader in steals and three-point field goal percentage. Alford was a consensus first team all-America selection and the Big Ten MVP as a senior.

Alford earned first team all-Big Ten honors in each of his final three seasons and also earned all-America honors as a junior. He was named to the NIT all-tourney team as a sophomore when the Hoosiers finished second to UCLA. His career free throw percentage of .897 (535-596) ranked fourth best in NCAA history and he led the nation in free throw percentage as a freshman.

Alford was named to the all-tournament team at the 1987 NCAA Final Four and to the NCAA tournament all-decade team for the 1980s. He set an NCAA Final Four record when he made 7 of 10 3-point baskets in the 1987 championship game victory over Syracuse. In 1997, Alford was inducted into the Indiana University Athletics Hall of Fame and in 2001 he was one of 15 players selected to Indiana's all-Century team. He was one of five players named to ESPN's Big Ten Conference Silver Anniversary team in 2004. The Sporting News recently published Legends of College Basketball, a publication that recalled the careers of the 100 greatest Division I college basketball players. Alford was No. 35 on the list.

Following his freshman season at Indiana, Alford was selected to play for the United States basketball team at the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles. Alford shot 64.4% percent from the field, averaged 10.3 points per game and was second on the team in assists as the U.S. collegians won the gold medal.

Alford was inducted into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame in 2009. If you are wondering what took so long for Alford's induction, there is a 26-year waiting period after high school graduation so he was a first ballot selection. In fact, Alford was just the eighth honoree to be selected in his first year of eligibility. Joining Alford in the 2009 class were NBA coaches Gregg Popovich (Merrillville) and Scott Skiles (Plymouth).

Alford was born Nov. 23, 1964, in Franklin, Ind. He holds a bachelor's degree in business from Indiana University. Alford is married to the former Tanya Frost, whom he has known since the two were schoolmates in grade school in New Castle. The Alford's have three children: Kory, Bryce and Kayla.

ALFORD'S CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

- Had more wins (98), a higher winning percentage (.721) and more regular-season conference titles (2) than any previous Lobo coach after four seasons
- In 2010-11, Lobos won 22 games for the fourth consecutive season, and tied the school record for road wins in back-to-back years with 16, the third time in three years his squad either tied or broke that record.
- In 2009-10, the Lobos set school records for wins (30), road wins (10), wins away from home (13), consecutive conference wins (14), conference road wins (7), consecutive conference road wins (7) and wins over top-25 opponents (6)
- In 2009-10, UNM broke into the national rankings for the first time in 11 seasons...the Lobos finished the season No. 8 in the AP poll and 16th in the coaches rankings
- In 2009-10, UNM won its first NCAA Tournament game since 1999
- UNM has finished 3rd (2008), tied for a conference title (2009) and won an outright league championship (2010), and fifth (2011).
- Two-time Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year (2008-09 and 2009-10)
- Overall road record of 30-23 at UNM, 19-13 in MWC games...the Lobos won 22 road games in nine seasons before Alford arrived
- Has taken 15 teams to postseason play in 20 seasons, including an appearance in the NCAA Sweet 16 in 1999
- Led Iowa to the 2001 Big Ten Tournament title...Iowa became just the seventh Division I team to win a conference postseason tournament with four wins in four days
- In 2006, Alford led Iowa to its second Big Ten Conference tournament championship with three straight wins over Minnesota, Michigan State and Ohio State

YEAH, WE WILL KEEP HIM...AND YEAH, FOR NINE MORE YEARS TOO!

On April 3, 2010, University of New Mexico Vice President for Athletics Paul Krebs announced the University and head coach Steve Alford had agreed on a two-year contract extension that will keep him through the 2019-20 season.

Alford has guided the Lobos to postseason play every year. Alford had more wins, a higher winning percentage and more regular-season conference titles (two) than any previous Lobo coach after three seasons.

"In three years, Steve has not only raised the profile of the New Mexico basketball program within the Mountain West Conference, but also on the national stage," said Krebs. "Lobo basketball has made dramatic improvement competitively and academically under Steve's watch. Steve has been a tremendous ambassador for the University of New Mexico, the city of Albuquerque and the state of New Mexico. We hope he and his family will be here a long time."

Despite having just one senior in 2009-10, New Mexico finished 30-5 while setting a school record for wins and playing in the NCAA Tournament for the first time in five years. UNM was a No. 3 seed in the East Region and advanced to the second round of the tournament for the first time since 1999. The Lobos were ranked in the top-25 for 12 weeks and finished No. 8 in the final AP poll, the second-highest in school history.

"I feel very blessed that the administration wanted to sign me to an extension," said Alford. "I couldn't be more pleased with being with the Lobos for a long time. I think we are building something very special. For the administration to show loyalty to our program and what we are trying to accomplish both in the classroom and on the basketball floor means a great deal to me, my staff and our families. I am very appreciative that this team and this relationship will continue for a long time."

"The success of this year's team brought an unprecedented amount of national coverage and positive attention to our University," said Krebs. "While it's nearly impossible to calculate the financial impact of all the articles and interviews that were conducted on New Mexico basketball, I think it is fair to say it would be in the millions of dollars. All that publicity places the University of New Mexico in a very positive light."

GENERAL INFO/CAREER

Returning starter who moved to power forward after spending his first two seasons in the post • Originally signed with Texas Tech out of high school in 2007 • did not play basketball during the 2007-08 academic year • UNM is 20-4 in Hardeeman's career when he scores in double figures

2010-11 • JUNIOR

• Has played in 101 career games at UNM

• Started the past 6 games - UNM is 5-1 - after starting just 2 of his first 12 MWC affairs

• Averaging 9.8 ppg the past 7 games, making a surprising 18-24 FTs (he shoots around 50%), and 7.5 rebounds the past 6 games...encouraging numbers since he averaged only 5.4 ppg and 2.8 rpg his first 11 MWC games

• Fouled out 9 times this season, 1 short of the school season record held by 4 players, the last being Andre Logan in 1979

• Combined 21 points (9-13 FGs) and 14 rebounds against Colorado State and BYU in the MWC Tournament... big game vs. CSU with 10 points and 9 boards, plus he had a career-high 4 steals and tied a career mark with 3 assists in 31 minutes

• First start in 10 games Feb. 26 at TCU and he responded with his 2nd career double-double: 14 points and a season-high 10 rebounds... made 5-7 FGs and 4-5 FTs

• A career FT shooter at less than 50%, he was a perfect 7-7 at the line against UNLV Feb. 23, and finished with 11 points

• 12 points and 5 rebounds at Air Force Feb. 1...made 4-4 FGs and 4-4 FTs in 18 minutes

• Started 51 straight games before coming off the bench against Colorado State Jan. 12

• Season-high 16 points vs. Northern Iowa, setting career-highs with 8 FGs made and 15 FG attempts...added 7 rebounds, 5 coming on the offensive glass

• 12 points and five rebounds vs. Arizona State...had 10 points and three rebounds in the second half

2009-10 • SOPHOMORE

Arguably the most improved player on the team • Averaged 7.0 ppg, 5.5 rpg and 23 minutes compared to 2.1 ppg, 2.2 rpg and nine minutes/game in 2008-09 • 12 points, nine rebounds and three blocks vs. San Diego State in the MWC Tournament • His thunderous one-handed dunk against Dayton on Jan. 1 made ESPN's Top-10 plays • MWC Player of the Week Jan. 18 after leading UNM to wins over Utah and Wyoming...averaged 14.5 ppg and six rebounds in the two games • Best game of Lobo career at Wyoming with a career-high 18 points on 7-10 FGs... also seven rebounds, two blocks, two steals and he drew two charges • Five points and seven rebounds in the win vs. #16/18 Texas A&M...hit two crucial FTs with 16.9 seconds remaining to push the Lobo lead to four points • 12 points, eight rebounds, two blocks and two steals vs. New Mexico State Dec. 5 • Notched first career double-double with 10 points and 10 rebounds (6 offensive) at Hawai'i

2008-09 • FRESHMAN

Reserve who played the four or five spot, subbing for Daniel Faris or Roman Martinez • Averaged 2.2 points, 2.1 rebounds and 9 minutes in 33 games with two starts (Cal State Northridge and VCU) • 13 points and five boards against Southeast Missouri

HIGH SCHOOL

A 2007 graduate of Del Valle (Texas) HS • Three-star recruit by Scout.com • Rated 26th best recruit out of Texas in 2007 by Rivals.com • Averaged 24 points, 10 rebounds and five blocks at Del Valle his senior season

5-9 • 170

Houston, Texas (Cesar E. Chavez HS)

GENERAL INFO/CAREER

Diminutive guard who can play the point or on the wing...solid defender who brings a ton of energy to the floor

2010-11 • SOPHOMORE

• Made his 1st career start (in his 66th career game), subbing for injured Dairese Gary Tuesday against UTEP...responded with 8 points, a career-high-tying 6 assists and 2 steals in 26 minutes... also tied career highs with 5 FTs made at 6 FTs attempted

• Played in 31 games, missing 3 (Colorado State, San Diego State, Utah) in mid-January with a deep right calf bruise suffered in practice Jan. 11

• 39 points the past 4 games (9.8 ppg) on 8-18 shooting from 3-point...also 50 points the past 7 games (7.1 ppg) on 10-22 from 3-point...those numbers are significant based on what he did in his first 9 MWC games: 18 points (2 ppg) on 5-25 FGs and 2-16 from 3-point

• 20 points in 2 MWC Tournament games, including 14 against BYU last Friday when he was 3-6 from 3 and 3-4 from the FT line

• Best MWC game of the season March 5 vs. Air Force with 11 points (a team-leading 10 in the 1st half) and 26 minutes... also pulled down a career-high 5 rebounds and made a number of key plays at both ends of the floor

• 5 assists in 18 minutes Feb. 26 at TCU

• Only 2 points against Wyoming Feb. 9, but he had a huge steal and assist that led to a Dairese Gary layup, then 2 FTs to increase UNM's lead to 7 at 52-45 midway through the 2nd half... had 2 assists and 2 steals in only 10 minutes

• 6 points (4-4 FTs) in 16 minutes at Air Force Feb. 1...also had a season-high 4 steals

• 11 points, 3 rebounds, 3 assists and 3 steals in 19 minutes against Longwood

• Career-high 16 points coming on a career-best four 3s in just 21 minutes against San Diego...scored 14 points in the second half, including 11 straight during one stretch... added 4 assists and 2 steals

• 14 points on three 3s in a career-high 29 minutes at Cal

• A 23-point, 4-assist, 5-steal performance in 19 minutes off the bench against Manchester College in an exhibition...made 7-9 FGs and 8-8 FTs

2009-10 • FRESHMAN

Played in every game except San Diego State in the MWC Tournament • Averaged 3.5 points and 11.6 minutes a game • Shot 38% from the field and 32% from three-point • Just three points the last five games and 13 the final 12 • Six points, three rebounds and a career-high six assists against Wyoming, including two passes that led to dunks for Will Brown and Darington Hobson • Five points and two rebounds

2010-11 • JUNIOR

• The Alabama game will be his 100th at New Mexico

• Missed the first 3 games of the season with a right elbow injury suffered in the exhibition against Manchester on Nov. 6, and it still bothers him

• 12 points aganst UTEP, making all 3 of his 3-pointers in the 2nd half...the treys came consecutively during a 9-2 UNM run as the lead grew from 45-41 to 54-43...also had a very impressive block, rejecting a Miner layup from behind

• Had three 20-point games (CSU, TCU, at BYU) in MWC

• UNM is 15-3 when he scores in double figures and 6-0 when he leads the team in scoring

• Led UNM in rebounding 4 times in the first 5 games after doing so just three times in 68 games his first two seasons

• No. 2 in the league in FT% (87%) in MWC games

• Brilliant 26-point effort March 2 in the win at No. 3 BYU with 9-14 FGs and 5-8 from 3-point

• Did not start for the first time in his career Jan. 12 against Colorado State, but came off the bench to tie a career-high with 27 points on 9-18 FGs and 7-8 FTs...hit a huge 3 with 49 seconds left that gave UNM a 63-59 lead then had a big rebound and a pair of FTs to increase the margin to 65-59 with 29 ticks left...the 27 points ties for the 4th-highest single-game total by a Lobo reserve

• 11 points and 8 rebounds in a career-high 40 minutes in the OT loss to UNLV Feb. 23

• Team-high 20 points vs. TCU Jan. 26 on 6-9 from 3, and 6 rebounds

• A team-high 12 points at Texas Tech with 10 coming in the second half...nailed consecutive 3s that gave UNM a 52-45 lead

• Game-highs for points (17) and rebounds (6) against The Citadel

• Second career double-double in the win at New Mexico State Dec. 4 with 18 points and a career-high-tying 10 rebounds... scored 8 of UNM's 11 points

San Jose, Calif. (UCLA)

GORDON CAPSULE

• MWC Newcomer of the Year and 2nd team all-MWC...Darington Hobson was Newcomer of the Year in 2010

• Doesn't appear in MWC or NCAA all-games stats because he has not played in the required 75% of the team's games...UNM would have to play 36 games for him to reach 75%...would be leading the MWC in rebounding at 10.8 - and 8th nationally - if he qualified

• 13 double-doubles in 25 games, including 6 of the past 8, and 10 in 16 MWC contests

• At 13.0 ppg and 10.8 rpg, he is attempting to become the 1st Lobo in 35 years to average a double-double for a season...the last to do so was Larry Gray in 1975-76: 14.3 ppg and 10.4 rpg

• Current rebound avg., of 10.8 is the highest by a Lobo in 36 years, since Bill Hagins averaged 11.6 in 1975

• MWC record 23 rebounds Feb. 19 vs. Utah...the total tied a Pit mark first set by UCLA's Lew Alcindor in an NCAA Tournament game against New Mexico State on March 15, 1968...it ties for most by an NCAA Div. I player in 2010-11, for 4th by a Lobo, and is the most by a UNM player in 39 years...also 17 points and 2 blocks against the Utes

• 1 rebound short of equaling a UNM record for rebounds in a conference season...the mark is 190 by Lewis LaMar in 18 games in 1993-94...Gordon had 189, but in 16 games

• Gordon in the MWC Rankings (MWC games only)

GENERAL INFO/CAREER

Transfer from UCLA who enrolled at UNM prior to the 2010 spring semester • Per NCAA transfer rules, Gordon had to sit out two full semesters) so he became eligible to play Dec. 19 when UNM hosted The Citadel • Eligible through the 2011-12 season • Had successful surgery Oct. 25 to repair a torn meniscus (cartilage) in his right knee

2010-11 • JUNIOR

• Started the past 18 games after coming off the bench the first 7

• Averaging 13.9 rebounds a game the past 8 games

• Scored in double figures 21 times, including 12 in a row from Jan. 12-Feb. 23

• Averaging 13.0 points and a team-high 10.8 rebounds overall, and 13.9 ppg and 11.8 rpg in MWC contests

• 18 points and 9 rebounds - both team highs - in the win over UTEP

• Team-high 30 points and 28 rebounds in 2 MWC Tournament games, including 17 and 13 in the semifinals against BYU...set career highs with 7 FTs made and 4 assists, and tied a career mark with 3 blocks, against Colorado State

• In MWC games only, Gordon had 1 less rebound than San Diego State's Kawhi Leonard: 189 for Gordon, 190 for Leonard
