ABOUT THE MATCHUP

- New Mexico enters Saturday's contest 2-1 in conference play after topping then-No. 5/6 Nevada on Saturday, handing them their first loss of the season and improving to 2-0 in MW play, before falling to UNLV at home on Tuesday night.
- Colorado State kicked off conference play 0-2 before claiming a 23-point win over Air Force for its first MW win of the season on Tuesday in Fort Collins.
- The Lobos lead the series with the Rams 77-46 but are 25-32 on the road at Moby Arena.
- The last time UNM visited Fort Collins, on Feb. 28, 2018, the Lobos came away with a 108-87 victory breaking the program record for largest victory margin over the Rams in Fort Collins (21). The previous high was 19 in 2008.
- The 108 points in Moby Arena was the second of back-to-back 100+ point road games for UNM for the first time in program history (first was at Wyoming, 119-114, Feb. 20) and also marked the fourth win of UNM's 7-1 streak to finish the 2017-18 season.
- Saturday's contest will mark the first time Coach Paul Weir has faced CSU under new head coach Niko Medved.
- CSU is led by three players averaging scoring in double figures including redshirt-junior Nico Carvacho (16.2), redshirt-senior J.D. Paige (15.0) and redshirt-junior Anthony Masinton-Bonner (12.9). Carvacho also leads the Rams with 12.7 rebounds per game.
- The Lobos are also led by three players averaging scoring in double figures including senior Anthony Mathis (15.9), redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (12.0) and redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg (10.4). Bragg is also UNM's leading rebounder (8.0 rpg).

SCOUTING COLORADO STATE

Colorado State kicked off the 2018-19 season 4-1 before going on a four-loss streak against South Dakota State (78-65), Southern Illinois (82-67), Colorado (86-80) and Arkansas (98-74). The Rams broke the streak with a 71-65 victory over Sam Houston State before falling in five more straight, including their first two MW contests at UNLV (78-76) and at Fresno State (78-67).

CSU earned its first MW win over Air Force on Tuesday night, 87-64, in its conference home opener that snapped the five-loss streak.

LAST TIME OUT

The Lobos were outscored in the final minutes by UNLV on Tuesday night, tallying their first conference loss of the season, 80-69.

UNM led for 19:40 in the contest that saw 17 lead changes. The Runnin' Rebels led for 15:57 including the final 9:04. UNM led by as much as nine in the first half with a seven-point advantage at the break before UNLV outscored the Lobos by 18 in the second half for the eventual 11-point victory.

The contest marked the first time since Dec. 7 against Saint Mary's that UNM allowed 80+ points.

UNM's leading scorer, senior Anthony Mathis, was held to just nine points on the night as the Lobos made just four 3-pointers for 22.2 percent from behind the arc (4-18).

LOBOS AFTER DARK

Tuesday's loss to UNLV marked the first of five games this season that UNM will take on an opponent at 9 p.m. local time - some 9 p.m. (PT) times will actually be at 10 p.m. in Albuquerque. In addition, the Lobo schedule features four upcoming 8 p.m. games.

MOUNTAIN WEST PLAYER OF THE WEEK

For his efforts against then-ranked No. 5/6 Nevada on Saturday and against Air Force on Jan. 2, senior Anthony Mathis earned his first Mountain West Player of the Week honor. Mathis averaged 22.0 points per game going 12-for-31 (.387) from the field including 8-for-23 (.348) from behind the arc. He also went 12-for-14 from the free throw line.

ASSIST ARTISAN

Freshman Drue Drinnon has led the Lobos in assists in six games out of 15 despite sitting out the first game to injury and seeing just two minutes in game two. He has seen a total of 182 minutes on the court and leads the Lobos with 40 assists.

Drinnon collected 12 assists against the University of the Southwest on Dec. 30, finishing just one away from cracking the top 10 in program history in single-game assists.

WHEN THE LOBOS OUTREBOUND

After outrebounding Nevada 47-37 on Saturday night, UNM is 5-0 when outrebounding its opponent this season. Additionally, the 10-rebound margin marked the largest deficit for the Wolf Pack this season.

THAT MW DEFENSE THOUGH!

On the season, UNM is allowing opponents to shoot 44.9 percent from the field and 33.7 percent from behind the arc. The Lobos held their first two MW opponents to less than 40 percent from the floor (AF-38.1/NV-33.3) and less than 20 percent from 3-point range (AF-13.3/NV-18.2).

Despite allowing an average of 76.2 points per game of opponents so far this season, UNM held both of its first two MW opponents under 60 - at exactly 58 points apiece.

Tuesday evening against UNLV however, the Lobo defense slipped, allowing the Runnin' Rebels to shoot 50.0 percent from the floor (28-56) and 46.2 percent from three (6-13).

IT'S RAINING THREES

The Lobos are averaging 9.5 3-pointers per game and have racked up 10 or more in 10-of-15 games this season.

BRAGG IS BACK

Redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg finally earned his debut as a Lobo on Sunday, Dec. 16 after a year and a half off the court. Bragg posted 16 points on 7-for-12 from the floor and tallied seven rebounds in his debut against Central Arkansas. He followed it up with a six-point, seven-rebound performance against North Texas to go along with three steals.

In the Lobos' win over then-No. 5/6 Nevada on Saturday, he tallied a season-high 12 rebounds. In his first four games, the rebound machine registered exactly seven in each and notched a new season high of nine at Air Force before racking up 12 Saturday.

Bragg has not posted less than seven rebounds in any of his seven games so far this season and leads the Lobos with 8.0 per game.

STEALING LOBOS - 1ST IN THE MW

The Lobos currently lead the Mountain West on the season in steals per game with 7.7. UNM is led in the category by redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (17), followed by senior Anthony Mathis (16).

20-POINT FEVER

Senior Anthony Mathis has posted five 20+ point games so far this season and has done so just eight times in his career. Mathis had three 20-point games in three seasons, and in the first 15 games of his senior year has already surpassed it.

He has also led the Lobos in scoring in over half of UNM's games so far this season (8).

LONG DECEMBER

It was a long December for the Lobos as UNM went 3-5 over the last month of 2018 after starting the season 3-1 in November. With the beginning of the Mountain West season, the Lobos have kicked off January 2019 2-1.

AND THEN THERE WERE NONE ...

Sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk started the first four games for the Lobos and was the only consistent starter - until Dec. 1 against Bradley. That lineup featured three freshmen, senior Dane Kuiper and sophomore Makuach Maluach. The Lobos officially no longer have a single player that has started in all of their games in Coach Weir's system of starters determined by deflections.

All eligible Lobos except one (walk-on transfer Clay Patterson, who saw action in his first game Dec. 30 vs Southwest) have started at least two games this season.

REPEATED STARTERS

Through the first eight games of the season, the Lobos sported a new starting lineup in each game. For the first time this season, on Dec. 16, UNM had a repeat lineup. It matched UNM's lineup on Dec. 11 against Colorado in Drinnon, Mathis, Kuiper, Jackson and Pinchuk.

The lineup remained the only duplicate of the season until Tuesday night against UNLV when the Lobos posted their second back-to-back lineup combo of Mathis, Kuiper, Maluach, Manigault and Bragg, which was featured in the Lobos' win over Nevada.

4-FOR-4 - 3-1

Though UNM has featured just two duplicate lineups throughout the first 15 games of the season, the last four games have featured four of the same Lobos including senior Anthony Mathis, senior Dane Kuiper, redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg and sophomore Makuach Maluach. The three other players that have shuffled through the 4/5 spots include sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk and juniors Karim Ezzeddine and Corey Manigault. The Lobos have gone 3-1 in their last four contests.

MATHIS COUNTDOWN TO 1,000

Senior Anthony Mathis has accumulated 757 points in his career. With 243 points to go to reach the 1,000-point mark, it may seem premature to begin the countdown but consider this: Mathis has already netted 238 points this season and tallied 433 last season after essentially sitting the bench his first two as a Lobo (86 points total).

Mathis has scored in double figures in 12-of-15 games this season including five 20+ point games. With an average of 15.9 points per game and at least 16 games left this season he could make it before his career at UNM ends.

MATHIS 11TH IN THE NATION

Lobo senior Anthony Mathis is ranked 11th

ABOUT THE 2018-19 LOBOS

The 2018-19 Lobos have just four returning letterwinners from the 2017-18 squad, including leading-scorer Anthony Mathis (12.7 ppg) who finished fourth in the nation in 3-point percentage and broke the UNM record for most 3-point field goals in a conference season (66) as a junior. The squad also adds nine newcomers and returns a pair of sitting transfers to the team that finished third in Mountain West regular-season play last season.

In addition to Mathis, UNM's returners include senior Dane Kuiper, who is the lone returning starter, and sophomores Makuach Maluach and Vladimir Pinchuk. Maluach finished his inaugural season averaging 9.6 points per game and ranks fourth all-time on the Lobo freshman single-season scoring list.

BY THE NUMBERS

Here is what is returning and missing for the 2018-19 Lobos.

Stat	Returning	Lost	% Returning
Points	1,075	1,720	38%
Rebounds	345	728	32%
Assists	124	415	23%
Blocks	31	65	32%
Steals	72	179	29%
3-Pointers	167	200	46%
Free Throws	194	356	35%

REMEMBERING LAST SEASON

The 2017-18 Lobos were picked to finish ninth in league play, but shocked everyone when they pulled off a third-place finish in regular-season play, earned the MW Tournament bye and took on San Diego State in the Championship game, falling by just seven points.

The Lobos also ranked 15th out of 351 NCAA Division I teams in turnover percentage last season.

RECORDS ARE MEANT TO BE BROKEN

En route to their first appearance in the league championship since 2014, the Lobos broke the program records for 3-pointers in a season (367), most 3-point field goals attempted (979) and highest free throw percentage (77.7%). For reference, the previous records were 301, 782 and 75.7%, respectively.

As a team, the Lobos also broke the record for most points in a game (147 vs Northern New Mexico), most points in a conference game (119 at Wyoming) and most points in a conference season (1,507). Old records for the above: 136, 113 and 1,373, respectively.

teams this season including five squads that advanced to the 2018 NCAA Tournament. Last season's Big Dance squads include New Mexico State, Iona, Penn, San Diego State and Nevada. With UNM facing NMSU, SDSU and Nevada twice apiece, that makes for eight games against NCAA post-season opponents, not to mention a matchup with last season's CBI tourney winner, North Texas.

UNDER THE RADAR

This offseason, the Lobos were ranked by the NCAA's Andy Katz as one of five "under the radar" teams to watch this season.

SHARP SHOOTER

Senior Anthony Mathis blew expectations out of the water last season after more than fiftupleing his career point production as a junior - that's right, in two seasons at UNM, Mathis scored just 86 points in 228 minutes, and multiplied that total by five in his junior season. In 2017-18, Mathis took the term "breakout" to a whole new level, dropping 433 points in 760 minutes on the floor. His shot from 3-point range couldn't be stopped as he finished the season with a program-record 66 3-pointers in conference play. He also fired from behind the arc at a clip of 47.3%, ranking fourth in the nation among other NCAA DI players.

THE STUDENT BECOMES THE MASTER

After posting a breakout inaugural season of his own last year, sophomore Makuach Maluach is expected to be a high-profile returner for the Lobos this year. He's been ranked on several preseason lists and even made the cover of Lindy's Sports Magazine in August. Most recently, the soft-spoken sophomore was ranked 19th on the Mountain West Wire's Top 25.

CONSISTENCY IS OVERRATED

Last season, the Lobos debuted the most starting lineups in NCAA Division I with 21. Coach Weir made it clear in his first season that starting lineups would be determined by the numbers of deflections a player accumulated in the previous game, hence the sky-high number of lineup combos.

MW PRESEASON NEWCOMER OF THE YEAR

Redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson was named 2018 Mountain West Preseason Newcomer of the Year following the league's media poll in October. Jackson transferred from UCONN where he shot 40.9 percent from the field, 39.7 from behind the arc as a freshman in 2016-17. He reached double figures in 13 games and led the team twice in scoring in his inaugural collegiate season.

WE'RE NOT IN KANSAS ANYMORE ...

The Lobos return a pair of transfers that sat out last year and also welcome five more, including the highly-anticipated Carlton Bragg (Kansas/ASU transfer) who is currently eligible for conference play. Joining Bragg will be Juco transfers Corey Manigault, Keith McGee and Karim Ezzeddine who are all set to play at the start of the season.

Redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (UCONN) will finally get his chance to don the Cherry and Silver this season and was named 2018 MW Newcomer of the Year. Jackson's fellow bench-warmer last season, Ohio State transfer JaQuan Lyle, suffered an Achilles injury during practice in September and is expected to miss the 2018-19 season. Two more transfers of note include Towson's Zane Martin, who will be sitting out in 2018-19 due to NCAA transfer rules, and redshirt-freshman Clay Patterson. A native of Rio Rancho, N.M., Patterson transferred back home from NCAA DII Fort Lewis. He is eligible to compete in 2018-19.

BRINGING PEOPLE TOGETHER

The Lobo squad is as varied as it gets when it comes to hometown pride. Each player on the team is from not only a different town, but a different state or country entirely! With the late addition of walk-on Clay Patterson, the only exception is a pair of native New Mexicans. States and countries represented include: Pennsylvania, Maryland, California, New York, Florida, Australia, Indiana, Alaska, Germany, Georgia, France, Oregon, New Mexico and Ohio.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME

The famous home of Lobo basketball enters its second year under the name "Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit" as part of an exciting renaming of both of UNM's largest-capacity athletic venues.

This July, "The Pit" was tabbed #17 on the top-30 list of best arena atmospheres in college hoops by the NCAA.

"The Pit" has also been consistently recognized nationally as one of the nation's top basketball venues. Sports Illustrated has ranked it as one of the top 20 sporting venues, of any sport, in the world for the 20th century. The Pit is truly a special place, and it has created an unparalleled environment for the New Mexico men's basketball program. Since the Mountain West conference began in 1999-2000, New Mexico has ranked in the top two in home attendance among MW teams in every year except one, including 12 seasons as the top-ranked MW team in overall attendance.

WHAT'S THAT SOUND?

The new name for The Pit instated in 2017 is not the only change to come for Dreamstyle Arena in the Paul Weir era. This season, after popular fan demand, the sound system in the historic arena has been updated to feature an entirely new fan experience for the 2018-19 season!

MORE NOTES ON COACH WEIR

- Weir’s 28-6 record as a first-year head coach in 2016-17 at NMSU tied for the 10th-most wins by a Division I head coach in NCAA history
- His 28 wins in 2016-17 were the most in Division I for first-year head coaches
- Among those 28 wins was an NMSU school record 20-game winning streak that was at the time the longest in the nation
- Has three master’s degrees in health and human performance, sports psychology and business administration. Currently working on his doctorate
- Played at York University and became starting point-guard for the Lions as a freshman
- Weir arrived at NM State in 2007 after two seasons as the director of basketball operations at Iowa, where he served under former Lobo head coach Steve Alford

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT PAUL WEIR

“New Mexico got a guy in Paul Weir that has paid his dues, and immediately showed he can get things done as the head coach. This hire makes sense because Weir knows the landscape and the expectations at UNM. He’s a guy who can coach, recruit and connect with players. That’s rare these days.” - Jeff Goodman, ESPN

“Paul Weir handled the transition from assistant coach to head coach about as smoothly as it can be handled -- winning 28 games in his first year after being promoted at New Mexico State. It was similar to what Brad Stevens did immediately after being promoted at Butler. So the Lobos have hired an accomplished coach with a great reputation.” - Gary Parrish, CBS Sports

JAN. 8, 2019 - NEW MEXICO 69, UNLV 80 - Albuquerque, N.M.

Lobos Fall to UNLV in Final Minutes Tuesday

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- Following a historic victory over top-10 ranked Nevada on Saturday, The University of New Mexico men's basketball team was outscored in the final minutes by UNLV on Tuesday night, tallying its first conference loss of the season, 80-69. The Lobos are now 2-1 in Mountain West play.

The Lobos (8-7, 2-1 MW) led for 19:40 in the contest that saw 17 lead changes. The Runnin' Rebels (9-6, 3-0 MW) led for 15:57 including the final 9:04. UNM led by as much as nine in the first half with a seven-point advantage at the break before UNLV outscored the Lobos by 18 in the second half for the eventual 11-point victory.

"I thought UNLV played terrific tonight and unfortunately, we did not play anywhere near the level that we need to play to win a game like this against a good team," head coach Paul Weir said.

"I thought the pace was good, but their pressure bothered us, particularly on the perimeter. We unfortunately couldn't get anything consistent at the defensive end to get through an off night."

New Mexico was led by four players scoring in double figures including redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (14), junior Corey Manigault (13), redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg (12) and sophomore Makuach Maluach (12) marking the eighth time this season that UNM has had four or more Lobos score in double figures.

Bragg led the team on the glass with a team-high seven rebounds while Manigault added five boards and three steals.

Lobo leading scorer Anthony Mathis was held to just nine points including 2-for-10 from behind the arc, but he racked up four assists and pulled down three boards.

UNLV was led by senior and leading scorer Kris Clyburn who managed 25 points against the Lobo zone defense. He went 8-for-13 from the floor including 2-for-2 from three and 7-for-7 from the free throw line.

The Lobos came out with a fast start, winning the tip and racing down the court where Maluach drained a three just 16 seconds into the matchup. UNLV did not match it until a minute later, at the 18:45 mark and the teams were off.

At the 9:47 mark, the teams tied it up for the sixth time at 23 apiece and UNLV got out to a three-point advantage on a fast-break layup by Bryce Hamilton and a free throw by Joel Ntambwe. It was then that Bragg went off, scoring eight straight points on a trio of low hook shots and a pair of free throws for an 8-0 Lobo run to put UNM back on top by five, 31-26 with 6:13 left in the half. He finished the first half with eight points in just four minutes due to early foul trouble.

The Lobos got ahead by as much as nine with 56 seconds left on the clock with an 8-2 run to make it 42-33 before a pair of UNLV free throws made it a seven-point halftime score, 42-35 Lobos.

The Lobos outshot UNLV 56.7 percent to 42.9 percent from the floor in the first half, but finished getting outshot 50.0 percent to 41.8 including 46.2 - 22.2 from 3-point range. The last time the Lobos shot less than 30 percent from behind the arc was on Dec. 7 against Saint Mary's in the STAPLES Center.

Bragg came out of the break with a fast layup to push the UNM lead back to nine before UNLV embarked on an 8-0 run to make it a one point game with 17:20 left, 44-43.

The teams tied the score three more times until UNLV started to take command of the game, using a 7-2 run to get on top by five with 8:39 left, 64-59.

Manigault scored four points as the teams went back and forth and a pair of Maluach free throws made it a one point game with 5:11 left 66-65 UNLV.

Over the next 2:36, the teams combined for just seven points and the Runnin' Rebels took off. UNLV was sparked by a three from Clyburn with 56 seconds left to make it a seven-point game and hit four straight free throws for an 11-point lead. Mathis hit one last layup before two more free throws for UNLV clinched the 11-point victory.

The Lobos are headed on the road for a pair of conference matchups at Colorado State on Saturday and at San Diego State on Tuesday.

Lobos Make History, Top CSU 108-87 on the Road

FORT COLLINS, COLO. --- The University of New Mexico men's basketball team broke more records in its 108-87 victory on Wednesday night at Colorado State, clinching a first-round bye in the 2018 Mountain West Tournament. UNM's 21-point victory margin marks the most ever over the Rams in Fort Collins, the previous high was 19 in 2008.

If that stat isn't enough, the victory also marks the first time in program history that the Lobos have notched back-to-back 100-point games on the road. UNM has only scored 100+ points on the road eight times in program history.

The victory extends UNM's win streak to a season-best four and moves the Lobos to 16-14 overall, 11-6 in Mountain West play. Eleven conference wins marks the most since UNM went to the NCAA Tournament in 2014. Colorado State falls to 11-20, 4-14 MW.

"Our offense is in a really good rhythm right now. I think we've got a great balance of transition, some inside scorers, some outside scorers and getting to the free throw line," head coach Paul Weir said. "Turnovers are still an issue ... I didn't think we were as sharp as I would have liked throughout the entire 40 minutes.

"I'm glad to be a favorite on the road and actually go out and handle our business. We've had some games where we didn't do that ... but I thought tonight we showed a bit of growth there. You've got to give Colorado State credit, I thought they played well in the second half."

The Lobos were led by seven players in double figures, the most in a conference game this season, paced by senior Joe Furstinger who collected a career-high 22 points on a near-perfect performance. He went 6-of-7 from the floor and a perfect 10-for-10 from the free throw line while adding a pair of blocks. He also led the Lobos with seven rebounds on the night.

The next-leading scorer was senior Sam Logwood (15) followed by junior Anthony Mathis (14), senior Antino Jackson (13), freshman Makuach Maluach (12) and juniors Chris McNeal and Troy Simons with 10 apiece. Jackson also added nine assists, nearly reaching a rare point-assist double-double.

The Lobos jumped out to an early start on Wednesday and didn't let up en route to the sweep of the Rams.

UNM quickly got a ahead by six, 11-5 before exploding on a 10-0 run to jump out to a 16-point lead, 21-5, just 5:39 into the contest. The Lobos extended the lead to 20 at the 10:03 mark on a 3-pointer from McNeal, 32-12 before making it a 30-point game with 5:01 left on a jumper by Simons. CSU chipped but couldn't shave more than four points off of the deficit before the end of the half.

The halftime score was 58-32 in favor of the Lobos for a 26-point advantage.

At the break, UNM was firing at a blistering clip of 71.4 percent from the floor (20-28), marking the highest shooting percentage in the first half this season.

In the second half, Colorado State went on an 8-0 run over 1:03 to make it a 21-point game, 63-42, with 17:49 on the clock, forcing Coach Weir to call a timeout. The Lobo lead fluctuated between 25 and 17 for the next 7:41 until Colorado State got the game to 16 points on a 6-0 run that include a pair of jumpers and a layup.

Coach Weir called his final timeout and junior Dane Kuiper hit a jumper before three straight free throws from CSU made it a 15-point game, 98-83. The Lobos went on an 8-2 run on layups by Mathis and Maluach and a pair of free throws from both Furstinger and Logwood to put the margin back in the twenties, 106-85 with 2:11 left.

It was Simons who hit the final bucket of the game, a jumper with 1:09 left, for the 108-87 final.

UNM outscored CSU in the paint 48-40, off of turnovers 34-22 and off the bench 54-24. The Lobos also finished shooting 60.7 percent on the night compared to 50 percent for the Rams. In the first half, UNM shot 71.4 percent to CSU's 37.9 percent, but in the second half the Rams outshot the Lobos 60.6 percent to 51.5 percent.

In addition, UNM finished 27-of-31 from two-point range for 87.1 percent, marking the best two-point percentage for the Lobos since at least the 2001-02 season.

CSU was led by four players scoring in double figures including junior Prentiss Nixon who led all players with 27 points.

The Lobos have clinched the first-round bye, but will battle Fresno State for third place in the Mountain West standings on Saturday, March 3 at 7 p.m. at home in Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit to close the regular season. The game will mark Senior Night for the Lobos, honoring Furstinger, Logwood and Jackson.

Rams get first Mountain West win with 87-64 victory over visiting Air Force

FORT COLLINS, Colo. – Colorado State used several runs and an up-tempo game to pull away from visiting Air Force for an 87-64 victory Tuesday night in Moby Arena, snapping a five-game losing streak for CSU. With their first victory in conference play this year, the Rams improved to 6-10 and 1-2, while the Falcons slipped to 5-10 and 0-2 in league action.

Air Force got out to an 8-4 lead in the early going, but CSU grabbed the lead with an early inside-outside mix heavy in redshirt-junior center Nico Carvacho and freshman guard Kendle Moore that sparked a 10-0 run over the next 4:04 for a 14-8 Ram lead. CSU never relented the remainder of the half though Air Force cut it to a one-possession game on two instances, the last at 21-18, before CSU went on another surge, this one a 19-6 run to make it a 40-24 game with just under four minutes left in the first half. The teams then traded buckets late before the Rams went into the break with a 12-point lead, 44-32.

The visiting Falcons cut the margin to eight at the first media timeout, 52-44, but CSU answered with a 10-0 run over the next three minutes to take control of the game at 62-44 with 12:56 to play. The lead grew to as many as 25 down the stretch before the Rams finished with the 23-point win.

Both teams shot better than 50 percent in the game, but the extra possessions were the difference as CSU had 10 more shots from the floor from a plus-nine turnover differential, connecting on 35-of-62 field goal attempts (56.5 percent). The Rams also had a 52-38 advantage on points in the paint for the night.

Carvacho and Moore led CSU with 27 and 23 points, respectively, with the pair combining for nine assists and five steals to one turnover. Two other Rams tallied double figures as redshirt-junior Kris Martin chipped in 12 points and four assists and redshirt-senior J.D. Paige added 10 points and five assists. Air Force was led by Lavelle Scottie with 20 points, while Ryan Swan was the only other Falcon in double figures with 10.

STAT OF THE GAME

The Rams outscored the Falcons 24-0 on fast break points, many of those coming on 16 forced turnovers that CSU converted into 27 points.

IN THEIR WORDS

Head Coach Niko Medved

His thoughts on overall game

I'm really proud of our guys. That was a really good performance on so many levels tonight and a really good response. You know whenever you play Air Force, they're going to test you in a lot of ways, and guys came out with a great mind set tonight, I thought, on both ends of the floor and really got some energy going, knocked some balls loose, attacked these guys in transition. I think I saw Mike (Schivone), our trainer, in time outs treating guys for floor burns and stuff like that, and you love to see that. That's kind of the way you have to play, so that's a good problem to have. I look at it and we had five guys with four assists or more, which is terrific as everyone was buying in to playing as a team and that's really what we talked about.

NOTES

- The Rams now lead the overall series, 79-33, including 54-22 in conference games in both schools' histories.
- CSU is now 43-11 at home against Air Force and snapped a two-game losing skid to the Falcons.
- The last time the Rams had a double-figure win over a Mountain West opponent was Feb. 10, 2018, vs. San Jose State, a 90-79 victory.
- CSU's 87 points were the third most in a game this year, while the Falcons' 64 points were the third fewest by a Rams' opponent in 2018-19.
- The 25 assists for CSU was a season high, while the 56.5 percent from the field is second on the season chart.
- Carvacho scored in double figures for the ninth straight game and 13th time this season
- Moore (5) and redshirt-junior Hyron Edwards (4) each posted season highs for assists

UP NEXT

- The Rams will play their second straight Mountain West home game, hosting rival New Mexico on Sat., Jan. 12 at 2 p.m. MT.
- The contest between will be broadcast on CBS Sports Network, with Rich Waltz on play-by-play and Dan Dickau the analyst.
- The game will air across the Colorado State Sports Network (along with online at CSURams.com), with Brian Roth and Adam Nigon on the call.
- CSU Sports Network broadcasts can be also accessed on mobile devices through the TuneIn app (free on all Apple, Android, Windows, Blackberry and Amazon Kindle devices) – once downloaded, search "Colorado St. Rams Sports Network" in the app for the games and coaches' show broadcasts.

WELCOME TO THE PIT, A MILE HIGH AND LOUDER THAN...

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT THE PIT

"What a terrific atmosphere for college basketball. Great building... Great history... 18,000 screaming fans. It's big time college hoops, baby!"
- Dick Vitale, ESPN

"I consider the game we played in Albuquerque in 1978 one of the most exciting of my career. The Pit is the toughest place to play because of their tremendous atmosphere."
-Jim Boeheim, Syracuse head coach

"When you go into a place like The Pit, there will be challenge different from a regular road game. The crowd can dictate the tempo and momentum. The Pit crowd forces you to be patient."
-Lute Olsen, former Arizona head coach

"A mile high but 37 feet underground, the Pit in Albuquerque has been the site of many mind-blowing college basketball games, including North Carolina State's upset of Houston in '83 and just about any New Mexico home game. The noise created by fans, which has been measured at 125 decibels -- the pain threshold for the human ear is 130 -- is a palpable force."
-Sports Illustrated

- Voted one of "The Top Five Loudest, Most Intimidating Places to Play" by NCAA.com
- Ranked in the top 20 sporting venues of the 20th century by Sports Illustrated
- USA Today ranked The Pit in its "Ten Great Places to Get Pumped for NCAA Action"
- According to Fox Sports, it's one of the top ten "old school" college basketball arenas in the country

THE GREATEST GAME EVER PLAYED

The Pit was the site of one of the greatest college basketball games ever played. It hosted the 1983 national championship game that saw the NC State Wolfpack upset Hakeem Olajuwon, Clyde Drexler and the Houston Cougars. Coach Jimmy Valvano and the Wolfpack downed the Cougars on a last second put back by Lorenzo Charles. The iconic shot of the late Valvano running onto the court looking for a hug is one of the lasting images in college basketball history.

- Built in 1966 ($1.4 million)
- Capacity of 15,411 (previously 18,018)
- $60 million renovation was completed in 2010
- New floor installed before the 2017-18 season
- Seating includes 40 suites and a club area
- Officially named Dreamstyle Arena in 2017 after a $10 million agreement for naming rights by the local New Mexico business. It is still referred to as The Pit, its officially-recognized nickname. As part of the exciting Dreamstyle changes, University Stadium, UNM's football stadium, officially became Dreamstyle Arena on the same date.
- Less than 30 of 345 NCAA Division I basketball programs play in a college-only arena named after a business or organization founded or headquartered in its home state.
- The Lobos have averaged an astounding 15,410 fans the past 49 years, an amazing 95% of capacity
- The Pit has ranked in the top 25 in attendance nationally nearly every season since the 1966-67 season with 35 seasons in the top ten in the NCAA in attendance
- Led the Mountain West in attendance in 10 of the conference's 15 years of existence
- The floor is named Bob King Court in honor of the former head coach who led the Lobos from 1963 to 1972.

Game 1 - New Mexico 87, CSUN 84 Nov. 6, 2018 | The Matadome

Lobos Win Opener on Mathis 3-Point Buzzer-Beater

NORTHRIDGE, Calif. --- Senior Anthony Mathis of The University of New Mexico men's basketball team hit a buzzer-beating three to lift the Lobos over the CSUN Matadors on Tuesday night, officially opening the 2018-19 season with an exciting 87-84 victory. Four Lobos scored in double figures on the night that saw UNM's new squad shoot 50.9 percent from the floor and 42.3 percent from 3-point range.

The Lobos (1-0) and the Matadors (0-1) battled throughout 40 minutes with 13 lead changes and six ties.

Despite a shaky start full of first-game-of-the-season-nerves, UNM outshot CSUN in every category including from the floor (51.9 - 45.8 percent) from behind the arc (42.3 - 35.0 percent) and from the free throw line (75.9 - 52.4 percent).

In his first game as a Lobo, junior Corey Manigault led the squad on the night with 16 points going 4-for-6 from the floor and 8-for-9 from the charity stripe. Senior Dane Kuiper and sophomore Makuach Maluach followed with 15 points apiece. Kuiper went 5-for-5 from behind the arc, 5-for-8 from the floor and Maluach was 5-for-9 from the floor with three and four free throws.

Mathis was the fourth player to score in double figures, registering 12 points with a 4-for-7 performance from 3-point range.

CSUN freshman Lamine Diane led all players on the night with 34 points going 15-for-28 from the field. Diane scored 30 and 23 points in CSUN's exhibition matchups.

"Ball control was clearly an issue for us tonight," head coach Paul Weir said. "Our size was almost a problem tonight (because CSUN was so quick), but you've got to tip your hat to CSUN, they played their hearts out. Diane is a tremendous player, puts a lot of pressure on defenses, particularly on the glass, and they were able to go out and show that tonight."

The Lobos opened Tuesday night's contest with a 2:54 drought before sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk registered UNM's first points on a pair of free throws with 17:06 on the clock to make it 6-2 CSUN. A minute later, Manigault shot a pair of free throws to make it 6-4 but the Lobos did not score from the floor until 5:08 into the game when Kuiper hit a jumper to make it 8-6 Matadors.

Kuiper's jumper was followed by a three-pointer just 32 seconds later to spark a Lobo 10-0 run over 2:57, putting UNM on top 16-10.

Both teams continued to respond and with CSUN leading by one at the conclusion of the half, a foul was called at the buzzer that sent Maluach to the line. He hit the shot and tied it 42-42 heading into the locker room.

Over the first half, UNM was out-rebounded 21-15.

Once again it was Kuiper in the second half to give the Lobo offense life as he came out of the locker room with the first six points for UNM on a pair of three split by a jumper by Diane, 48-44.

The fifth tie of the game occurred at the 4:07 mark when redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson hit a free throw to tie it up 77-77. The Lobos built a four-point lead, 84-80 before a layup by CSUN's Cameron Gottfried made it 84-82 with just 30 seconds left on the clock.

The Lobos attempted to keep the ball and run down the clock but a UNM turnover allowed the Matadors to have one more possession that ended in another jumper by Diane to make it 84-84 with 6.1 seconds left.

The Lobos gained possession with the clock winding down and took about 4.5 seconds to cross half-court. Mathis looked up, saw the clock and took a long three from the right wing and sunk it for the win, 87-84.

On the night, CSUN dominated in the paint, 44-24 and registered 25 points off of turnovers compared to 22 for UNM. CSUN also tallied 13 second-chance points to just four for the Lobos and 12 on the fast break.

The Lobos are set to return to action on Saturday, Nov. 10 when they take on Northern New Mexico in exhibition competition as part of the second-annual New Mexico Classic tournament hosted by UNM.

Game 2 - New Mexico 90, Iona 83 Nov. 13, 2018 | Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit

Lobos Open 2-0 With 90-83 Win over Iona

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- Two Lobos racked up double-doubles on Tuesday night as The University of New Mexico men's basketball team earned a 90-83 win over the visiting Iona Gaels to start the 2018-19 season 2-0. Junior Corey Manigault and redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson led the Lobos with 20 and 18 points, respectively while collecting 10 and 12 boards apiece.

The victory marks the 16th straight season in which the Lobos came away with the win in their home opener.

After a slow start offensively, seniors Anthony Mathis and Dane Kuiper closed the game, combining for the thrilling final 10 points, including a pair of fast-break layups, to keep the Lobos on top throughout the final three minutes.

"The depth that we have, the way we spread our minutes and the style that we play allowed us to break away at the end and get a big win," head coach Paul Weir said. "It was a good basketball team that we beat, and we have come a long way in the last 12 months. We have not arrived and we have a lot of work to do the next few days in order to continue to get better, but just to get a win against a good basketball team early in the year shows our progression as a program."

The Lobos held the lead for 24:35 of the game that had nine lead changes and five ties. On the night, UNM outshot Iona from the floor 50.9 - 40.0 percent and 40.0 - 34.6 percent from behind the arc. Five Lobos scored in double figures including Manigault (20), Jackson (18), Mathis (14), redshirt-sophomore Keith McGee (13) and sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk (10).

Pinchuk's 10 points went along with seven rebounds, one steal, three assists and two blocks in a new career-high 30 minutes.

With just 7:05 left in the game and the Lobos down by one, 72-71, Manigault poked the ball out of the hands of Iona's Isaiah Still, raced to the other end of the court unguarded and slammed a crowd-pleasing dunk to put the Lobos back on top for the final time, 73-72.

When the Gaels reduced the Lobo lead back to one, 75-74, sophomore Makuach Maluach sunk a dagger of a three at 5:28 that put the Lobos back up by four, 78-74. Iona was able to take a five-point lead to just two, 80-78, at the 2:59 mark on a Still three before Mathis nailed his fourth 3-pointer of the night to put the Lobos back up by five, 83-78, and spark a Lobo offensive surge through the final minutes.

The Gaels would get no closer than three as Kuiper drilled his lone three of the night - a big one - with 1:52 left, 86-80, followed by a pair of fast-break layups from Mathis and Kuiper to keep the crowd of over 10,000 fans roaring through the end.

The Lobos forced 15 turnovers and posted five blocks, including two from Pinchuk. UNM also collected 19 assists to just 15 for Iona.

UNM went down by as much as five points in the back-and-forth first half that featured a 10-0 Iona run at the 13:43 mark. UNM battled back and responded with a 11-0 run with just 5:30 left in the first half to head into the locker room tied 39-39.

The Lobos came out of the halftime break with the first six points to take a commanding 45-39 lead before Iona whittled it back down to one with 16:20 on the clock.

Overall the teams finished relatively even in points off of turnovers (15-14 UNM), points in the paint (28 apiece), second-chance points (13-12 UNM), fast-break points (31-29 Iona) and bench points (29-20 UNM).

The Lobos return to action on Saturday, November 17 when they take on in-state rival New Mexico State for a 4 p.m. clash in Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit. The game will be the Lobos' Nike TV contest featuring the highly-anticipated turquoise uniforms and will be televised on AT&T SportsNet.

Late Comeback Falls Short, Three score 20+ Points

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- After falling behind by as much as 19 points with just 9:08 left to play, The University of New Mexico men's basketball team put on an impressive show in a comeback attempt that saw the Lobos rack up a 13-0 second-half run in front of over 14,000 fans inside Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit. The run fell short however, as NM State eventually suffered a four-point loss, 98-94, to the Aggies in the Rio Grande Rivalry matchup.

A trio of Lobos racked up 20 points or more including redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (2

Game 13 - New Mexico 65, Air Force 58

Lobos Open MW Play 1-0, Top Air Force 65-58

USAF ACADEMY, COLO. --- The University of New Mexico men's basketball team extended its Mountain West opener win streak to eight on Wednesday night with a 65-58 victory over Air Force on the road. After being held scoreless throughout the first half, senior Anthony Mathis led the Lobos with 17 second-half points.

With the win, UNM improves to 7-6, 1-0 MW, while Air Force slips to 5-8, 0-1 MW.

The Lobos had four players register double figures on the night including Mathis, who scored 13 straight points, redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (14), sophomore Makuach Maluach (12) and senior Dane Kuiper (10). Redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg finished with a season-high nine rebounds while Maluach was second on the squad with seven.

Air Force junior Lavelle Scottie led the Falcons with 20 points.

In a strong defensive showing, the Lobos and the Falcons kept it close at the onset, tying the game three times over the first 10:34, the final time at just 15-15 with 9:26 left in the first half. During that stretch, the Falcons got out to a five-point lead, 13-8, on a 9-0 run that included a trio of jumpers from Lavelle.

Kuiper tied it up with a jumper at 15 apiece before a Falcon layup gave the home team a one-point advantage. Kuiper followed it up with a three to put UNM back up by one, a lead the Lobos would not relinquish. Kuiper went right back at it on the other end of the floor with a steal and a couple of quick passes up the court which allowed junior Corey Manigault a slam dunk for a three-point lead.

The Lobos continued on an 11-0 run to extend the lead to nine with 6:20 left. UNM got out in front by as much as 11 points during the remainder of the half but went into the locker room on top by nine, 29-38.

At the break, the Lobos were outshooting Air Force 46.7 - 35.3 percent from the floor and 35.3 - 16.7 percent from behind the arc. Jackson led UNM with 13 points in the first half, followed by Maluach who posted 10, each with a pair of threes.

The Lobos added 27 points in the second half, 17 of which were from Mathis who exploded in the second frame. The senior went 3-for-7 from behind the arc and 5-for-10 from the floor. The nationally-ranked free-throw shooter also went a perfect 4-for-4 from the stripe. Bragg racked up six of his rebounds in the second half while collecting a pair of blocks.

After getting ahead by 13 points with 13:20 left to play, UNM's lead was overcome by another Air Force run as they cut the Lobos' lead to just four with 5:47 left and then to three 1:05 left on the clock (61-58).

A foul by Air Force's Ryan Swan with 23 seconds left forced Mathis to take a pair of clutch free throws, increasing the Lobos lead to five, 63-58. Mathis then turned Air Force's Sid Tomes over with 12 seconds left on the wing and held on for the foul. He netted two more points from the stripe to clinch the 65-58 victory.

The Lobos turned the ball over 19 times while forcing 14. Air Force held an advantage in points in the paint (38-18), points off of turnovers (20-14) and fast-break points (8-2).

On the night, UNM outshot the Falcons 43.4 - 38.1 percent while holding Air Force to just 13.3 percent from behind the arc (2-for-15) and shooting 34.6 from 3-point range (9-for-26).

The Lobos are back in action on Saturday when they host No. 5/6 Nevada at Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit at 6 p.m. on ESPN2.

Lobos Rout Undefeated No. 5/6 Nevada, 85-58

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- The University of New Mexico men's basketball team handed No. 5/6 Nevada its first loss of the season on Saturday evening at home in Dreamstyle Arena - The Pit. The 27-point win breaks the UNM record for largest victory margin over a top-10 ranked team, surpassing the previous record of 20 points set on Jan. 29, 1974 against No. 8 New Mexico State (88-68).

The game also marks the first time the Lobos topped a ranked team since Jan. 3, 2015 when UNM claimed a 66-53 win over No. 20 Colorado State in Albuquerque and snaps Nevada's four-game win streak in the series.

"This was about players. These guys played their butts off and bought into what I'm selling," head coach Paul Weir said. "I am happy for them. I am happy that they get to enjoy this moment."

The Lobos (8-6, 2-0 MW) were powered by a career-high 27 points from senior Anthony Mathis and a near triple-double for redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson who tallied 18 points, 10 rebounds and seven assists. Jackson was one of two Lobos to register double-figures on the boards including redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg who racked up 12 rebounds and nine points along with a pair of blocks.

Nevada (14-1, 1-1 MW) entered the contest as one of just four undefeated teams in NCAA DI and allowed just 66.1 points per game of opponents so far this season. Nevada also entered the game averaging just 5.7 turnovers per game and the Lobos turned them over 14 times while committing just nine, tying the season low.

The Lobos held Wolf Pack leading scorer, Preseason MW Player of the Year and Preseason All-American Caleb Martin to just eight points on the night (2-for-14).

Sporting brand new, gold, "We Are New Mexico" jerseys, the Lobos got out to a strong start defensively and did not let up. Nevada scored its first basket 1:23 into the contest but did not score again until the 16:29 mark to make the score 3-2 just 3:31 into the game.

The Lobos then embarked on a 20-6 run over 7:52 to take a 13-point lead, 22-9, over the historically-comeback-proficient Wolf Pack. Nevada cut it back to single digits at 24-16, but UNM pushed the lead back to 15 on four points by senior Dane Kuiper, a layup by sophomore Vladimir Pinchuk and a three from Mathis, 33-18 with 2:27 left.

The teams went back and forth for the rest of the half and with UNM up 15 (38-23), Nevada's Jazz Johnson hit a three at the buzzer to make it a 12-point Lobo advantage at the break.

UNM fired at a clip of 45.9 percent from the field in the first half and 30.8 percent from 3-point range while holding Nevada to 37.9 from the field, 30.0 percent from behind the arc.

The second half kicked off much like the first in a strong defensive showing by both squads as the first bucket was a Wolf Pack alley-oop at the 18:27 mark. Nevada scored three straight points to cut UNM's lead back to single digits (38-29, 17:57) but a Jackson jumper outside the paint, a pair of Nevada's Jordan Caroline free throws and a pair of Mathis free throws put UNM back up by 11, 42-31, and UNM did not again relinquish the double-digit lead.

The teams kept the game within 16 points until sophomore Makuach Maluach hit a three at the 7:48 mark to make it a 19-point game, 64-45. The basket marked the beginning of a 10-3 run that included another pair of threes from Maluach and Jackson, 74-48, 5:40 left.

UNM continued to pile on the points building almost a 30-point lead with 2:35 remaining on a Mathis three, and again at 1:44 on a Mathis free throw, 85-56.

Nevada's Cody Martin hit one last fast-break layup for the 85-58 final with 1:36 left on the clock.

On the night, UNM outshot the Wolf Pack 45.6 percent to 33.3 percent. The Lobos also scored 20 points off of Nevada turnovers compared to just five points for the Wolf Pack.

The Lobos are set to return to action on Tuesday, Jan. 8, when they host UNLV at 9 p.m. on ESPN2.

Lobos Fall to UNLV in Final Minutes Tuesday

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. --- Following a historic victory over top-10 ranked Nevada on Saturday, The University of New Mexico men's basketball team was outscored in the final minutes by UNLV on Tuesday night, tallying its first conference loss of the season, 80-69. The Lobos are now 2-1 in Mountain West play.

The Lobos (8-7, 2-1 MW) led for 19:40 in the contest that saw 17 lead changes. The Runnin' Rebels (9-6, 3-0 MW) led for 15:57 including the final 9:04. UNM led by as much as nine in the first half with a seven-point advantage at the break before UNLV outscored the Lobos by 18 in the second half for the eventual 11-point victory.

"I thought UNLV played terrific tonight and unfortunately, we did not play anywhere near the level that we need to play to win a game like this against a good team," head coach Paul Weir said.

"I thought the pace was good, but their pressure bothered us, particularly on the perimeter. We unfortunately couldn't get anything consistent at the defensive end to get through an off night."

New Mexico was led by four players scoring in double figures including redshirt-sophomore Vance Jackson (14), junior Corey Manigault (13), redshirt-junior Carlton Bragg (12) and sophomore Makuach Maluach (12) marking the eighth time this season that UNM has had four or more Lobos score in double figures.

Bragg led the team on the glass with a team-high seven rebounds while Manigault added five boards and three steals.

Lobo leading scorer Anthony Mathis was held to just nine points including 2-for-10 from behind the arc, but he racked up four assists and pulled down three boards.

UNLV was led by senior and leading scorer Kris Clyburn who managed 25 points against the Lobo zone defense. He went 8-for-13 from the floor including 2-for-2 from three and 7-for-7 from the free throw line.

The Lobos came out with a fast start, winning the tip and racing down the court where Maluach drained a three just 16 seconds into the matchup. UNLV did not match it until a minute later, at the 18:45 mark and the teams were off.

At the 9:47 mark, the teams tied it up for the sixth time at 23 apiece and UNLV got out to a three-point advantage on a fast-break layup by Bryce Hamilton and a free throw by Joel Ntambwe. It was then that Bragg went off, scoring eight straight points on a trio of long hook shots and a pair of free throws for an 8-0 Lobo run to put UNM back on top by five, 31-26 with 6:13 left in the half. He finished the first half with eight points in just four minutes due to early foul trouble.

The Lobos got ahead by as much as nine with 56 seconds left on the clock with an 8-2 run to make it 42-33 before a pair of UNLV free throws made it a seven-point halftime score, 42-35 Lobos.

The Lobos outshot UNLV 56.7 percent to 42.9 percent from the floor in the first half, but finished getting outshot 50.0 percent to 41.8 including 46.2 - 22.2 from 3-point range. The last time the Lobos shot less than 30 percent from behind the arc was on Dec. 7 against Saint Mary's in the STAPLES Center.

Bragg came out of the break with a fast layup to push the UNM lead back to nine before UNLV embarked on an 8-0 run to make it a one point game with 17:20 left, 44-43.

The teams tied the score three more times until UNLV started to take command of the game, using a 7-2 run to get on top by five with 8:39 left, 64-59.

Manigault scored four points as the teams went back and forth and a pair of Maluach free throws made it a one point game with 5:11 left 66-65 UNLV.

Over the next 2:36, the teams combined for just seven points and the Runnin' Rebels took off. UNLV was sparked by a three from Clyburn with 56 seconds left to make it a seven-point game and hit four straight free throws for an 11-point lead. Mathis hit one last layup before two more free throws for UNLV clinched the 11-point victory.

The Lobos are headed on the road for a pair of conference matchups at Colorado State on Saturday and at San Diego State on Tuesday.
