NEW MEXICO OPENS 2018 SEASON AT ARIZONA INVITATIONAL

The University of New Mexico beach volleyball team opens its 2018 season with a sizable challenge this weekend as it travels to the Arizona Invitational to take on three nationally ranked teams in No. 10/10 Arizona, No. 17/20 Loyola Marymount and No. 20/19 Washington.

With six freshman, eight total underclassmen and tons of raw potential, the Lobos talented roster will be put to the test right away as they look for some early-season wins at Bear Down Beach in Tucson.

But, youth notwithstanding, head coach Jeff Nelson and assistants Pauline Manser and Daniel Foo have the pieces to convert all of the Lobos' potential into real success and build on the program's burgeoning pedigree.

For this first weekend, the Lobos will rely on their veterans for contributions across their projected starting lineup.

Senior Eastyn Baletto looks to spearhead New Mexico efforts this season after reaching 50 individual career wins last spring. The only Lobo in program history to reach that plateau, Baletto will likely team up with Lauren Twitty in Arizona, a rising sophomore who tallied a freshman-record 18 wins in 2017.

Senior Chloe Crappell, another four-year veteran of the team, will also be looked upon for strong results as she is slated to partner with freshman Yasmin Tan in the No. 2 slot.

Sophomore Emily Nenninger & junior Carly Beddingfield, another set of returners, will be also counted on as they team up in the No. 4 spot.

Bookending the team's projected lineup are two pairings of newcomers, with senior Maddie Irwin & freshman Erin Martin in the No. 1 position and freshmen Abbey Willison & Kayla Long in the No. 5 spot.

New Mexico's youth also translates into additional flexibility across the lineup. A number of the Lobos can switch partners and positions from match to match, giving Nelson and his staff some versatility that can pay dividends in the early part of the season.

Such versatility will be particularly important

THIS WEEK

10/10 ARIZONA (3-0)

Tucson, Ariz. • Bear Down Beach Friday, March 2 • 12 p.m. MT

17/20 LOYOLA MARYMOUNT (2-0)

20/19 WASHINGTON (0-0)

Tucson, Ariz. • Bear Down Beach Saturday, March 3 • 10 a.m. MT

this opening weekend as UNM vies with some teams that have already gotten their toes in the sand this season.

UNM opens its season vs. the host Wildcats Friday at noon, followed by the Lions at 5 p.m. on Friday and the Huskies at 10 a.m. on Saturday.

NEW MEXICO RECEIVING VOTES IN NATIONAL POLLS

New Mexico beach volleyball is receiving votes in the first regular-season editions of both the AVCA Collegiate Beach Coaches Poll and the DiG Magazine Beach Volleyball Poll that were released Monday, February 26.

Following up on its second straight season of 17 wins, New Mexico opens its 2018 season receiving votes in both major national beach volleyball polls, which list 20 teams each. Unofficially, the Lobos rank 24th in the DiG Magazine poll and 27th in the AVCA poll.

UNM was also receiving votes in the preseason editions of both polls.

In both polls, USC, the winners of the first two NCAA Beach Volleyball Championships, is No. 1, with Hawai'i ranked No. 2 in both polls.

Florida State, UCLA and Pepperdine rank 3-4-5 in the DiG Magazine poll. In the AVCA poll, UCLA is No. 3, with Florida State No. 4 and Pepperdine No. 5.

New Mexico will open its season this weekend against three ranked teams, facing off against No. 10/10 Arizona, No. 17/20 Loyola Marymount and No. 20/19 Washington at the Arizona Invitational in Tucson.

NIFTY 50

Through the first three years of the program, one Lobo has stood above the rest as the winningest player for UNM.

Eastyn Baleto, a senior from Seattle, enters her final year in the sand with 50 career wins in the sand, easily tops in the team's record books.

A three-year alum of the program, Julia Warren, is second with 47 wins, while Marisa Doran and Lise Rugland both have 41.

The next closest active player is Chloe Crappell with 11 career wins.

Baleto's career record is 50-16, which stands third-best in program history with a minimum of 20 matches played. Doran (41-10, .803) and Lauren Twitty (18-5, .783) are the only two Lobos ahead of Baleto.

SHE'S BEEN EVERYWHERE

Over the course of the three-year history of New Mexico beach volleyball, only one player has managed to play at least one match in every position. That player: Chloe Crappell.

During the 2017 season, she finally completed the feat with her debut at the No. 4 slot at the Wildcat Spring Challenge.

Crappell, a senior from Albuquerque, has seen action at the 1's, 2's, 3's, 4's and 5's positions for the Lobos.

She's played the bulk of her 26 career matches at the Nos. 2 and 3 courts, going 3-3 and 0-7, respectively. She is also 1-2 all-time at the 1's, and 4-2 at the 4's and 3-1 at the 5's.

The only other players who have come close to the platinum sombrero are alumnae Julia Warren and Lise Rugland, who played in four of the five positions during the first three years of the program.

SUCH NICE NEIGHBORS

New Mexico is a bit of an island in the world of NCAA beach volleyball. The Lobos are the only team in the state of New Mexico to sponsor beach volleyball as an NCAA varsity sport, so with the lack of in-state competition, UNM has to find nearby neighbors for games.

With multiple schools in Arizona sponsoring the sport, the Lobos can travel west for some matches, which means New Mexico has played its fair share of games against those schools.

In fact, of the 67 matches ever played in UNM history, 18 have come against Arizona schools. (That's just over 25 percent.)

The Lobos have played both Arizona and Arizona State six times, plus five matches against Grand Canyon. The 18th match came in the team's 2017 opener vs. Benedictine University at Mesa.

UNM will get one more opportunity to add to this list during the 2018 season as it plays Arizona twice and Arizona State, Grand Canyon and Benedictine once each.

HOME AWAY FROM HOME?

As noted above, the Lobos have played schools from Arizona a number of times, with 18 matches against Copper State schools through the first three seasons of the program.

However, New Mexico's affinity for the state of Arizona doesn't stop there.

Over the program's 67-match history, UNM has played 33 of its matches in the state of the Arizona, just a tick below half of its total number of matches (about 49.3 percent, in case you were wondering).

This season, UNM will again venture west as it's scheduled to play nine of its 22 matches in Arizona.

SCOUTING ARIZONA

Arizona heads into this weekend having already kicked off its 2018 campaign with the Cactus Classic in Tucson. There, the Wildcats swept three matches against Benedictine at Mesa, Abilene Christian and San Jose State.

As Arizona went undefeated in every position, all of its players enter March undefeated as well. In fact, UA only lost two sets the entire weekend, and the Wildcats allowed their opponents to score more than 15 points in just nine sets the entire tournament (with all coming vs. SJSU).

During the Cactus Classic, Arizona competed Olivia Hallaran/Kacey Nady in the No. 1 slot twice, with Natalie Anselmo/Olivia Macdonald seeing action in the No. 2 spot twice and the No. 1 position once.

An already familiar team to UNM, the upperclassmen-laden Wildcats also have a familiar face on the roster in New Mexico State transfer Jordan Abalos.

SCOUTING LOYOLA MARYMOUNT

Like Arizona, Loyola Marymount has also opened its season already, sweeping a pair of matches vs. CSU Bakersfield and Vanguard.

The Lions had little problem in both contests, dropping just a single set all weekend, with their opponents scoring at more than 15 points in just four sets.

McKayla Ferris/Savannah Slattery led the way in the No. 1 spot with two wins, while Maddie Leiphardt/Veronica Nederend finished with two wins in the No. 2 position.

LMU has an exceptionally large roster with 19 players, including four graduate transfers (including Ferris and Leiphardt) and four upperclassmen.

SCOUTING WASHINGTON

Washington comes into this weekend looking to open up its season like the Lobos. Ranked 19th in the AVCA Coaches Poll and 20th in the DiG Magazine poll, the Huskies are already commanding respect after an 11-7 campaign in 2017 that saw UW finish third at the Pac-12 Championships.

Led by new head coach Steve Whitaker, a former Washington volunteer assistant, the Huskies are balanced with six seniors and nine upperclassmen.

Indoor standouts Crissy Jones and Courtney Schwan give UW some experience in the sand, and the Huskies won't be lacking in size with nine players measure at six feet or taller.

BEACH VOLLEYBALL CONTINUES ACADEMIC SUCCESS IN FALL 2017

After posting another strong campaign in the sand last spring, the University of New Mexico beach volleyball team posted a superb semester in the classroom last fall.

The Lobos registered a team GPA of 3.84 for the Fall 2017 semester, the second-highest team GPA in the seven-semester history of the program. The Lobos' Fall 2017 GPA trails only their Spring 2017 GPA of 3.85.

This past semester was the sixth semester that the team registered a mark of at least 3.4.

The beach team combined with the rest of the women's sports at UNM for a 3.57 GPA. It's the 21st straight semester of at least a 3.3 GPA and the ninth straight semester with at least a 3.5 recorded by the combined women's teams, as well.

BEACH VOLLEYBALL EARNS AVCA TEAM ACADEMIC AWARD IN 2017

New Mexico beach volleyball was honored by the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) on Monday, July 24, as the Lobos earned the AVCA Team Academic Award for the 2016-17 academic year.

The team recorded team GPAs of 3.46 in both the Fall 2016 and Spring 2017 semesters.

The award, which was initiated in the 1992-93 academic year, honors collegiate and high school volleyball teams that displayed excellence in the classroom during the school year by maintaining at least a 3.30 cumulative team GPA on a 4.0 scale.

19 collegiate beach teams were recognized for the 2016-17 academic year.

This honor was the first such selection for the program, which wrapped up its third season of competition last spring. The Lobos logged back-to-back program records in GPA during the 2016-17 academic semesters.

A PRIMER ON BEACH VOLLEYBALL

Beach volleyball and court volleyball share many of the same basic rules. Each side gets three hits, there's rally scoring, and a team earns a points when the ball hits the ground or goes out of bounds. But there are some key difference between the two sports:

- Beach volleyball is a partner sport played during the spring. Court volleyball is a six-player sport played during the fall.
- Beach volleyball plays the best of three sets, with the first two sets played to 21 points, and a tiebreaker set played to 15 points, if necessary. A set must be won by at least two points.
- Open-handed tipping is prohibited in beach volleyball and the block touch counts as one of three permitted contacts.
- Coaches may only speak or give any kind of input to their players during timeouts or between sets.
- Beach volleyball players switch sides of the court every seven points during a 21-point set and every five points during a 15-point set.
- Beach volleyball is usually contested in dual matches, where the winning team is the school that wins three of five individual matches versus its opponent. Similar in format to tennis, each of those individual matches consist of a doubles — a pair of teammates ranked by ability — that are matched against their corresponding doubles from the opposing team.

BEACH VOLLEYBALL ENTERS 3RD SEASON AS 90TH NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP

Before the 2016 season, the NCAA approved beach volleyball as the 90th NCAA Championship at the 2015 NCAA Convention, which allowed the sport to advance from the emerging sports for women list to a full-fledged NCAA championship.

The NCAA Beach Volleyball Committee also determined the sport will be officially referred to as "beach volleyball". When the sport was placed on the list of emerging sports for women in 2009, it was called sand volleyball. But because the sport is known as beach volleyball at all other levels of play throughout the world, the committee made its decision to refer to the sport as beach volleyball.

The third-annual NCAA Beach Volleyball Championships will take place May 4-6, 2018 at the Beach at Gulf Shores in Gulf Shore, Alabama. The championship will have an eight-team bracket that will be played in a double-elimination format.

USC has won the first two NCAA National Championships, 3-0 over Florida State in 2016 and 3-2 over Pepperdine in 2017.

Beach volleyball is the fastest-growing NCAA sport with 55 Division I colleges and universities sponsoring. NCAA rules require 40 sponsoring schools to request an NCAA championship. Data shows that on average, 60 percent of participants at a sponsoring school participate only in beach volleyball instead of playing both beach and indoor volleyball.
