ON THE RANGE...

The 123rd Annual NCAA Golf Championships begin this week with 81 schools and 45 individuals from around the country competing in six regionals spread across the country ... The University of Colorado did not qualify as a team, but "super" senior Daniel O'Loughlin did as an individual (for the second time) after he was among the region's (and nation's) top competitors from the outset of the spring ("super" senior has been coined for those players who were seniors in 2019-20 but decided to return when the NCAA allowed an additional year of eligibility due to the pandemic) ... The tournament will be held May 17-19 at the University of New Mexico's Championship Golf Course in Albuquerque, it will have its usual 7,555-yard, par-72 configuration for the regional, the same for UNM's annual William H. Tucker Invitational every fall ... O'Loughlin is the No. 2 seeded individual of the five assigned to Albuquerque and will tee off at 9:53 a.m. off the No. 1 for the first round ... Though Colorado just missed qualifying as a team, in coach Roy Edwards' 15 years at the reins of the program, the full team has earned a berth nine times and an individual now on four other occasions, only being shutout from both once (2011; there was no postseason in 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic) ... O'Loughlin's participation will mark the sixth time a Buffalo has been invited as an individual since the regional format came into play in 1989; the late and former CU head coach Mark Simpson played a huge role in creating the regional when he was a member of the NCAA's golf committee.

DANIEL O'LOUGHLIN (oh-lock-lin)

6-3, 185, Sr-2., 4L, Nottingham, England (Beckett School/McNeese State)

Ranked as the No. 105 player in the nation by GolfStat and No. 106 by Golfweek ... The team leader in stroke average with a 71.23 mark, which ranks eighth-best in the Pac-12 Conference ... Is playing his best golf of the spring, as he is a combined 14-under par in his last two events ... In 42 career events, he has been under par 19 times and was even-par in two others ... He has played 120 rounds for the Buffaloes (2,160 holes), and has just 43 worse than bogey (40 doubles, three triples), with 82.3 percent of par or better ... This spring (22 rounds, 396 holes), he has just five holes worse than bogey (all doubles) ... Of those 120 rounds, he has shot higher than 76 just four times (78 twice, 77 and 79 once), and has shot 73 or better in 18 of 22 rounds this spring (high of 75) ... Coming off a tie for 13th in the Pac-12 Championships, where he was consistent with four subpar rounds (71-70-71-70—282, -6) ... Top finish this spring was a tie for seventh in Wyoming's Cowboy Classic in Chandler, Ariz. (67-73-68—208, -8), with two others where he tied for 11th O'Loughlin is the only player in school history with at least two seasons with sub-72.0 stroke averages, and he has recorded three: 71.54 as a sophomore (fourth-best overall), 71.90 as a junior (tied for ninth), 71.65 in first crack as a senior (fifth) and is looking to do it a fourth time this year (the 71.23 mark is sitting in the third spot on CU's all-time best list, so in the end, he will own four of CU's top 10 season averages) ... It has him in contention to become the school's all-time stroke average leader, as his 71.63 mark is currently ahead of Jeremy Paul, who is in the books with a 71.72 career mark from 2013-17 (O'Loughlin is just 3-over par in his entire career) ... Also in school annals, he is third in rounds in the 60s (35), subpar rounds (55) and in rounds of par or better (65); he's fourth in rounds counting toward CU's team score (109 of 113, or 96.5 percent) ... He has 20 top 20 finishes in his time as a Buffalo, which is tied for ninth in school history ... The 2020-21 team leader (or tied for the lead) in 15 categories: scoring average, first round average (71.14), middle round average (71.13), top 10 finishes (1), top 20 finishes (4), rounds in the sixties (6), subpar rounds (12), rounds of par or better (13), rounds counting toward team scoring (1.000, 22 of 22), eagles (4), pars (265), percentage of rounds par or better (84.6), jumbo percentage (.227, percentage of strokes over bogey/round), most consecutive holes of par or better (31) and most tournaments with the no holes worse than bogey (4); he is second in birdies (66) ... He transferred to CU after an outstanding freshman year at McNeese State, where he was the Southland Conference's Freshman of the Year as well a first-team All-Conference performer (Season & Career Stats on page 4).

NCAA Regional History—2017 (Fr./McNeese St.): t-38th/75-76-70—221 (+5); 2018 (Soph.): t-16th/73-69-71—213 (-3); 2019 (Jr.): t-47th/68-75-69—212 (+2)

CU COACH ROY EDWARDS ON O'LOUGHLIN

"The (UNM) South Course is a great setup for Daniel. He hits the ball high and has good results and experience on the course. (Assistant) Coach (Derek) Tolan will be invaluable as well as he played some of the best golf of his college career at UNM. Daniel has had an outstanding career at CU and has performed at a consistently high level all spring long. He has shown consistent improvement in his games. He has no weaknesses and I see him as a guy who will continue to get incrementally better as his professional career unfolds. He has a great chance to play golf for a living."

O'LOUGHLIN IN ALBUQUERQUE

O'Loughlin has played the UNM Championship Course (7,555-yards, par-72) three times as a Buff in UNM's William H. Tucker Invitational, where he has averaged 72.67 strokes for nine rounds, with his best finish a tie for ninth in 2019 (214, -2) when he recorded two 3-under 69's. He has one other subpar round (71) and one even round effort on the course (with no score higher than a 76).

HEAD COACH ROY EDWARDS

Roy Edwards is completing his 15th season as head coach of the Colorado men's golf team, as he was named to the position on July 14, 2006, following in the footsteps of the only two coaches the program had ever known over a span of six decades.

Edwards, 44, is just the third full-time men's golf coach in Buffalo history. He came to CU with an impressive pedigree, joining the Buffaloes from Kansas, his alma mater, where he had served as the men's and women's assistant for four years (2002-06). He held the same position at Vanderbilt for the 2001 season.

Edwards replaced the late Mark Simpson, who passed away in December 2005. Simpson had held the post since 1977, when he followed in the footsteps of his college head coach, Les Fowler. Fowler took over as player-coach in 1948 and remained on board until Simpson, his assistant, replaced him. Thus, Edwards is only the program's third full-time head coach since 1948.

Edwards has embraced the most daunting task in CU golf history: when the Buffaloes joined the Pac-12 Conference on July 1, 2011, they became a member of the most prestigious men's golf conference in the nation.

It took less than three years for Edwards to put his stamp on the CU golf program, first by completing the dream of his two predecessors. One of the few major golf programs without its own true home golf course and facilities, Edwards played an integral part in working with alum Steve Kerr in the latter's acquisition of Vista Ridge Golf Club in Erie in early 2009. The club was renamed Colorado National Golf Club and now serves as the official home for the university's men's and women's golf teams. In 2012, a state-of-the-art practice facility at the course was completed (it matches any in the nation). He also initiated the Colorado Partners program, a group who contribute financially to augment the school's golf budget, and established Colorado Golf Day which is an annual celebration and fundraiser for CU golf.

On the course, under Edwards the Buffaloes have re-established themselves as a top 50 program (over 300 play Division I golf). His teams have won 17 tournaments, the most under one coach in school history; Simpson's teams won 16.

A capsule look at some of Edwards' top CU teams:

The 2017-18 edition of the CU squad finished in the top 10 in 12 of 13 tournaments, including seven in the top six. The jewel performance of the year came in the Pac-12 Championships where Colorado finished second, its best conference finish in a decade, pushing eventual champion and host USC to the max in falling to the Trojans on their home turf by just four strokes. Senior Yannik Paul and sophomore Ross Macdonald, who both tied for second in the Pac-12 meet, earned first-team and honorable mention All-Pac-12 honors, respectively, while Paul earned honorable mention All-America honors. The team had five players with sub-73 averages, leading to a best-ever team mark of 72.51, slicing almost a stroke off its previous record. The Buffs finished ranked No. 43 by Golfweek and No. 46 in Golf Stat, despite coming up just short of advancing to the NCAA Finals with a seventh place finish in the West Regional.

The 2016-17 Buffaloes finished as the No. 32 team in the country as ranked by Golfweek, their highest final rank in any of the rankings in the Edwards Era. The team peaked at No. 18 (Golfweek & GolfStat) and cracked the top 25 of the GCAA coaches poll for the first time in three decades, ascending to No. 19 at the end of March. The team's nine top five finishes was also a school best as the Buffaloes matched their previous best with 16 single rounds in tournament play that were par or better. Colorado won two tournaments and in the spring's second event, the Wyoming Desert Intercollegiate, the Buffs recorded a school record 22-under 266 in the second round, which also was the low single round in the NCAA for the '16-17 season. However, the end of the year was disappointing, as CU finished seventh in the Pac-12 Championships (the first conference meet CU hosted since 1972) and 12th in the NCAA Central Regional at Purdue; the Buffs did have to compete in both without their scoring leader, Jeremy Paul, who turned pro just prior to the Pac-12s.

His 2013-14 Buffaloes set the mark for stroke average (73.76) at the time, as well as recording the most top five major tournament finishes (eight; all were actually in the top four), which included one win in CU's own Mark Simpson Invitational and three runner-up efforts. Over the course of four tournaments, the Buffs set two other impressive school marks: most consecutive rounds at or under par (12), and the most subpar in a row (6). According to GolfStat, CU had the nation's top performing freshman class, headlined by twin brothers Jeremy and Yannik Paul and Ethan Freeman. The Buffs finished fourth at the Pac-12 Championships, but over the last two rounds, CU was second (718) to only Washington (716), making an impressive climb from 10th at the midway point into fourth place.

His seventh team, the 2012-13 squad, returned to the NCAA's after a three-year absence, finishing eighth in the Central (Fayetteville) Regional. The Buffaloes captured two major tournaments, the Air Force Falcon and Bandon Dunes invitationals, marking the first time Colorado had won a major in both the fall and spring portions of the season (in the latter, CU was the first team in the four-year history of the event to finish under par as a team). The Buffs also finished second on three other occasions and posted nine top 10 finishes overall.

⚠ In 2011-12, his sixth season, the Buffs stormed out of the gate to win its first two fall tournaments, their own Mark Simpson Invitational and Air Force's Miranda Invitational; the victories propelled CU to an early No. 10 national ranking. The team successfully navigated its way through its first season in the ultra-competitive Pac-12 Conference, finishing eighth in a league championship that featured eight teams ranked in the top 30. The Buffs just missed qualifying for the NCAA championships but Derek Fribbs was selected to play as an individual.

His third Buffalo team (2008-09) sported one of the nation's dynamic duos in Patrick Grady and Derek Tolan, as each won two tournaments and combined for 14 top 10 finishes. But the team was also balanced as a whole, with 32 top 20 performances posted by seven different golfers. The Buffs posted 11 top 10 finishes in major tournaments, highlighted by a 34-stroke win in the DU-Ron Moore and three runner-up finishes in the USF Olympic Club, Western Intercollegiate and its own CU-Stevinson Ranch Invitational. In the Big 12 Championships, the Buffs posted their best conference finish in 28 years when they took second place; it tied for the largest improvement from one season to another in Big 12 history after finishing 10th in 2008. CU was in the hunt for the title and briefly took the lead on the back nine of the fourth and final round but eventually succumbed to No. 1 Oklahoma State, a team that featured Rickie Fowler, Peter Uihlein, Kevin Tway and Morgan Hoffman.

His second team, in 2007-08, became just the third in school history to win two major tournaments in the same season, as the Buffs won the Louisiana Classics and the Ohio State Kepler Intercollegiate. The Buffs finished 10th in the Big 12 meet, which moved to a 72-hole format for the first time, and was again invited to the NCAA's, placing 18th in the Central Regional. Junior Derek Tolan was one of two individuals to advance out of the regional into the finals, the first Buff to do so since 1993.

Edwards' first CU team (2006-07) had moderate success, his team did something that neither Fowler's or Simpson's initial ones did, and that was to qualify for the NCAA Championships (though in fairness, more teams are invited today than when they coached, but it still was an impressive accomplishment). The team placed 20th in the NCAA Central Regional.

A three-year member of the Kansas golf team, he lettered as a senior under legendary and long-time coach Ross Randall and earned his bachelors of science degree in business administration from Kansas in 2000. Simultaneously while finishing his degree, he worked as a volunteer assistant coach for the men's team.

In 2013, in a quest to create more competitive opportunities for collegiate golfers, Edwards founded the Saguaro Amateur, along with Wyoming coach Joe Jensen, at Ak-Chin Southern Dunes Golf Club in Maricopa, Arizona. The Saguaro Amateur eventually grew and became the Troon Saguaro Amateur Series in 2017. The series is a collection of world-amateur ranked tournaments that take place during college golf's off-season on some of the best courses in the United States and features many of the top amateur and college players in the country.

Born October 14, 1976 in Kansas City, Mo., but truly a native of Hutchinson, Kan., he was a four-year letterman in golf at Hutchinson (Kan.) High School and was an Eagle Scout. His hobbies include playing golf, cooking and traveling. Edwards is married to the former Shelly Bonfantine of Albuquerque, N.M., as they wed on July 7, 2007 (07-07-07); she is a former golfer at the University of New Mexico. They are the parents of two sons, Ashton Ross (10) and Luke Leo (7).

Three Buffaloes have advanced to the NCAA Championship Finals as individuals, though all did so with their teammates present; Bobby Kalinowski tied for ninth in the 1993 Central Regional (77-72-70—219,+3); Derek Tolan tied for seventh in the 2008 Central Regional (73-72-73—218), both doing so when the top two individuals without a team advanced; ironically, both advanced to the finals from regional play at the OSU Scarlet Course in Columbus, Ohio. In 2015, David Orace finished second in the NCAA Central Regional in Noblesville, Ind., when only one individual would advance; he shot a 68-70-71—209. O'Loughlin is looking to become the 16th Colorado player overall to play in the NCAA Championship Finals as an individual (12 did so prior to regionals commencing in 1989).

PAC-12 CONFERENCE STATISTICS

(compiled by CU Sports Information)

O'Loughlin currently owns the eighth-best stroke average in the Pac-12 Conference this season. Here's a look at the league's top 10 as of May 10, all of whom are competing in the postseason (1—denotes team's stroke average leader).
